FREE TO ALL HOUSEKEEPERS!

THE "1900" FAMILY WASHER FREE!

The "1900" Ball-Bearing Family Washing Machine is Absolutely Indispensable in Every Home Because it Makes Wash Day a Pleasant Instead of a Dreaded Duty.

It is a very Simple Invention, Based on an Entirely New Principle, which Saves Time, Labor and Expense of Washing Clothes.

No Rubbing, No Stooping, No Boiling and No Wearing Out of Clothes. Can Be Operated While Sitting on a Chair.

SENT ABSOLUTELY FREE!

Express Prepaid in Newark or Vicinity, and Freight Prepaid Both Ways to Any Point in the U. S. Without Advance Payment or Deposit, on 30 Days' Trial.

In order to prove to the most skeptical that the "1900" Ball-Bearing Family Washer is unquestionably the greatest Home Labor Saving Machine ever invented, we will send you one absolutely free, without deposit or advance payment of any kind, express prepaid in Newark or vicinity, and freight prepaid both ways to any point in the U. S. on 30 DAYS' TRIAL. If you like it you can pay for it, either in cash or on the instalment plan, at the end of the 30 days' trial. If you don't like it, all you have to do is to ship it back to us at our expense. You run no risk, no expense, no obligations whatever.

The "1900" Ball-Bearing Washer is unquestionably the greatest labor saving machine ever invented for family use. Entirely new principle. It is simplicity itself. There are no wheels, paddles, rockers, cranks or complicated machinery. It revolves on bicycle ball-bearings, making it by far the easiest running washer on the market. No strength required; a child can operate it.

No more stooping, rubbing, boiling of clothes. Hot water and soap all that are needed. It will wash large quantities of clothes (no matter how soiled) perfectly clean in six minutes. Impossible to injure the most delicate fabrics. Saving in wear and tear of clothes, to say nothing of the saving in soap and materials, pays for a machine in a short time.

The "1900" Washer forces the whole body of water back and forth through the fibres, the whole tub full at a time. Revolving as it does on ball-bearings, the labor is reduced to almost nothing, and the result obtained is far superior to anything that can be done by hand.

Other washers leave the wristbands, collars and the worst soiled places unfinished, but the "1900" Washer forces the water through every fabric. The principle upon which the machine operates is directly opposite to that of any other.

Other machines move the clothes through the water, but this machine forces the water through the clothes, and rubs them at the same time.

Carpets and Bed Spreads are heavy, and hard things to wash, but the "1900" Washer handles them as easily and cleans them as well as it does collars and cuffs and laces.

HOW IT OPERATES.

The operator turns it to the right and to the left about half way around each time. To make it work as nearly automatic as possible, it is provided with two oil-tempered coiled springs which engage at each extreme point and help to reverse the motion. The machine moves uninterruptedly until it reaches the point where it should be reversed, then it comes in contact with the force of these springs and like the action of a rubber ball, bounds back, meeting the spring force again at the other extremity.

ACTUAL PROOF.

Briggs Ave., Morris Park, N. Y., Feb. 19, 1902.

Inclosed please find bill for Washer, with cash for same. I can hardly express my satisfaction with the machine, and thoroughly agree with you that the first time you use it you like it, but the more you use it the better you like it. I did not believe it possibly could do what you claimed, but thought it must have some good points, or you would not venture to send on free trial. The free trial is a splendid idea, as I never should have been induced by any amount of advertisements to invest my money to find out if it was a good machine. I stood amazed as I lifted the articles from the washer on my first trial, articles that as I put them in were so soiled that I exclaimed: "Oh, yes, they'll come out clean and white—?" But they certainly did! I have three little ones and plenty of washing, and pretty much soiled generally, but my only regret is that I did not have the washer years ago, and thus have saved myself very much. Thanking you for being the means of robbing washday of its terrors, I am,

10 Greenleaf Ave., West New Brighton, March 1, 1902.

Inclosed find money order to pay for Washer as per agreement on thirty days' trial. The machine is satisfactory in every manner. I am very much pleased with it. I will try and induce some of my friends to invest. MRS. F. DEPPE.

Box 194, Oyster Bay, N. Y., April 23, 1902.

Inclosed please find money order. The Washer is all you claim it to be—satisfactory in every respect. Yours truly,
HENRY STAPLES.

592 Amsterdam Ave., New York, Feb. 24, 1902.

I herewith send you postal money order as payment for the Washing Machine. I am very satisfied with the machine. It works easy and cleans the clothes thoroughly. MRS. A.LUNDIN.

New Rochelle, N. Y., Feb. 14, 1902.

By an oversight due to the pressure of other matters I find that I have delayed beyond thirty days. I trust, however, that you will still be willing to accept the enclosed check and allow me the cash discount. The Washer has proved perfectly satisfactory, and I am told that we could not get along without it.
A. E. WALRADT.

REMEMBER, you take absolutely no risk, incur no expense or obligation whatever. The washer is sent by us on 30 days' trial, express prepaid in Newark or vicinity, and freight prepaid both ways to any point in the U. S. and positively without any advance or deposit of any kind.

Quiet In Omaha.

OMAHA, May 14.—Quiet prevailed in Omaha yesterday, and business was resumed by some proprietors who have been closed by the strike. The injunction issued by Judge Dickinson against the employers has caused excitement among business men. What steps they will take, if any, to carry the matter to higher courts has not been decided upon, but a meeting of the Business Men's association will be held tomorrow to consider the situation. The restraining order is acknowledged to be a precedent in the matter of injunctions and has put an entirely new factor into the strike situation.

PRESIDENT IN FRISCO

State Troops Under General MacArthur Reviewed.

GOLDEN BEAR HUNT SOUVENIR.

Mexican and Spanish War Veterans Presented to His Excellency, Who Praises Their Deeds For the Union.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 14.—President Roosevelt left the Palace hotel escorted by a squadron of cavalry. The streets were lined with people, who cheered as the president's carriage passed on the way to Native Sons' hall, where a reception in the president's honor was held. Mayor Schmitz and Secretary Loeb were seated with the chief executive, and Rear Admiral Bickford and his staff came directly behind, members of the executive committee following in carriages.

At the Native Sons' building was assembled a vast throng, which as the president came in sight manifested great enthusiasm. The hall itself was crowded with members of the California Society of Pioneers, the Native Sons of the Golden West, the Native Daughters and the Veterans of the Mexican War.

Ex-Mayor James D. Phelan delivered a brief address of welcome and introduced Henry B. Russ, president of the Society of California Pioneers, who spoke briefly, as also did General Stewart, president of the Society of Veterans of the Mexican War; H. R. McNoble, president of the Native Sons of the Golden West, and Miss Eliza R. Keith in behalf of the Native Daughters.

James D. Phelan then presented to the president a souvenir of the occasion, the work of a native sculptor, representing a bear hunt reproduced in gold. In accepting the gift President Roosevelt responded in a happy manner to all of the addresses of welcome which had been made. His remarks were punctuated by laughter and applause, and at the close he was escorted to his carriage by a joint committee of the assembled orders. The presidential party then proceeded to Van Ness avenue, where thousands of school children were assembled. The pupils of the many schools carried banners beautifully worked in silks and other fine fabrics. Others were headed by drummer boys.

Every child had a flag, which was waved as the president passed. An incident of the ride was the presentation to the president of a photograph by a little Chinese girl, who was lifted up so that he could shake her hands.

After the review of the children the president drove through the Presidio and had a glance at the buildings, the barracks of the different troops and the new fortifications which stand at the entrance to the harbor and command the bay. He continued the drive along the new road and finally reached the golf links, on which the military review was held. General MacArthur was in command. The men marched past with the tread of veterans—infantry, artillery and cavalry. Each arm of the service made a most imposing spectacle.

The president complimented General MacArthur and other high officers on the excellent showing of the men and the splendid appearance of the garrison.

The presidential party was then escorted through Golden Gate park to the Cliff House, where luncheon was had, with members of the executive committee, Governor Pardee, Admiral Bickford and other invited guests. The party halted at the Baker street park entrance, where a large crowd was in waiting to watch the president turn his shovelful of earth for the McKinley monument.

Many representatives of the Spanish-American war veterans, the Grand Army and the Pioneers were in attendance, and they were referred to in eulogistic terms by the president in his remarks.

The Manchurian Evacuation.

VICTORIA, B. C., May 14.—Mail advices from the orient state that when it was learned Russia was endeavoring to secure a secret treaty with China insuring Russian dominance in Manchuria the British and Japanese ministers addressed a joint note to Prince Ching to the effect that further delay by Russia in evacuating Manchuria would necessitate the two countries taking measures to expedite the evacuation. The joint note of the two ministers further stated that their governments would not approve of any agreement regarding the administration of Manchuria prejudicial to their interests.

Fatal Collision In Nebraska.

LINCOLN, Neb., May 14.—A passenger train on the Burlington bound for this city collided with a freight train about four miles from Lincoln last night. William Batten, the passenger conductor, was killed; Charles F. Brundage, the passenger engineer, was seriously, possibly fatally, injured, and a brakeman also was hurt. The passengers were shaken up, but none was injured. The passenger train, an hour behind time, was running rapidly and overtook the freight on a sharp curve.

Want of Rain Blights Crops.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., May 14.—Prolonged drought throughout Orange county is causing great damage. The pastures are failing, and growing crops are blighted. The streams are getting low. Farmers are much discouraged.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Acting Secretary Darling instructed the cruiser Olympia, which has been ordered to Santiago, Cuba, to proceed to Port au Prince to report on conditions in Haiti.

A FITTING TRIBUTE.

A Citizen of Plainfield Pays a Well-Earned Tribute.

The following public statement of a respected citizen adds one more emphatic endorsement of merit to the scores that have appeared before.

Mrs. R. Wortman, living with her daughter, Mrs. S. E. Cook, of 204 Somerset street, says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills with good results for severe pains across my back and hips, which no doubt was caused by the kidneys being out of order. It was painful for me to stoop or bend forward and I could not sit ten minutes in one position but had to be continually changing about. I used many different kinds of medicine recommended for kidney trouble but I could not see that any of them benefitted me. Doan's Kidney Pills were procured for me at L. W. Randolph's drug store and it is the only remedy I ever used that gave me any relief. I always keep a supply of them on hand and would not think of being without them."

AN IDEAL LOCATION

BEAUTIFUL AND ACCESSIBLE.
2 Miles from Elizabeth. 7 Miles from Newark
14 Miles from New York.
Linden, New Jersey.
ON MAIN LINE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

Largest Burial Parks IN THE State.

Transportation Facilities superior to those of any other cemetery, as to number of trains, railroad fare, time and distance.

These New Cemeteries, now being developed on the modern park plan, are attracting universal attention.

By Reason of Location Alone they are destined, in a very short time, to become the best-known Cemeteries in the country and, with their natural advantages, the most beautiful and desirable in which to purchase lots.

They are Accessible from every quarter and within easy reach of over 4,000,000 people, and, considering the steady and rapidly increasing growth of Greater New York and its tributary cities and towns, it is only the question of a short time before plots in Rosedale and Linden Park will equal in value those of our most noted cemeteries.

Popular Favor has already been shown to a marked degree in the sale of lots, several hundred having been sold to residents in Elizabeth, Linden, Rahway, Cranford, Jersey City, Orange, Paterson, Westfield, Newark and New York City, and a large number of interments have been made.

In the Days of Happiness we do not know what is to befall us or when the inevitable will occur; therefore, it is a wiser precaution to make provision for a final resting place during health and life than to force the painful duty on one's friends or relatives after death. A place of burial will be needed sooner or later by every one, and no one should neglect selecting a suitable and proper place until future postponement is impossible.

Linden Lodge is the largest, most modern and best equipped Cemetery Lodge in the country, and is provided with every requisite for the comfort and convenience of visitors who come to inspect the properties.

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That for the purpose of purchasing necessary land for school purposes and erecting a school house in said City, in conformity with the resolution of the Board of Education of the City of Plainfield, and the estimate of the Board of School Estimate of said City, in accordance with the certificate of the said Board of School Estimate, which has been delivered to the Common Council as required by law, the said sum of One Hundred and Twenty-Five Thousand Dollars be, and is, hereby appropriated for the purposes aforesaid, and that the said sum shall be raised and borrowed for said purposes by the issuing of bonds in the corporate name of the said City, which bonds shall be each of the denomination of One Thousand Dollars, and in the form annexed to, and approved by resolution of the Common Council before referred to, which form is now on file in the office of the City Clerk of the said City of Plainfield, the first sixty of which bonds shall bear date the first day of June, one thousand nine hundred and three, and the others the first day of March, one thousand nine hundred and four, all payable in gold coin of the United States of the present standard of weight and fineness, and which bonds shall bear interest at the rate of four per centum per annum. In order to equalize as nearly as may be, the annual assessment of taxes for payment of the principal of school bonds, regard being had to school bonds now outstanding, as well as those hereby authorized, the bonds hereby authorized shall be made to mature as follows: On September first, one thousand nine hundred and twelve, three bonds; on the first days of March of each year from one thousand nine hundred and thirteen to one thousand nine hundred and sixteen, both inclusive, five bonds; and the remaining bonds necessary to be issued to raise the balance of the sum of One Hundred and Twenty-Five Thousand Dollars, shall be made payable in such manner that an equal number, as nearly as may be, shall mature on the first days of March of each and every year from one thousand nine hundred and seventeen to one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, both inclusive.

Sec. 2. That the proceeds of the sale of said bonds shall be deposited with the custodian of school moneys of said school district, and shall be paid out only on the warrants or orders of the Board of Education of the City of Plainfield, as provided by law.

Sec. 3. That for the purpose of meeting the principal and interest on the bonds hereby authorized, as the same may mature, there shall be assessed and collected each year by taxation, as other taxes are assessed and collected, a sum sufficient to meet the principal and interest maturing during each year.

Adopted by the Common Council May 4, 1903 approved by the Mayor May 4, 1903.

MINTO SEES DETROIT

Canada's Governor General Visits the United States.

CITIZENS AND TROOPS HONOR HIM.

Lord and Lady Minto and Party Receive Ovation From Americans — Band Plays "God Save the King."

DETROIT, May 14.—For two hours last evening Lord Minto, governor general of Canada; Lady Minto and Lady Eileen Elliott, their daughter, accompanied by Major Maude and Captain Graham, the governor general's aids de camp, were the guests of the city of Detroit. Thousands of people enthusiastically cheered the governor general and his party as they drove through the streets from the ferry landing to the Russell House, where a reception was held, at the close of which the distinguished visitors were tendered a luncheon.

Lord Minto and his party, who arrived in Windsor yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, crossed the river on Colonel F. J. Hecker's yacht, the Vita. Mayor Maybury and a reception committee from Detroit met them as they stepped aboard the yacht at Windsor.

Four companies of the First United States infantry, which has just returned from the Philippines, under command of Captain George E. Bell; seven companies of the First regiment, Michigan national guard, and two divisions of the Michigan naval reserves were lined up on Woodward avenue to act as the governor general's escort on his drive through the city.

The party immediately entered carriages, and amid the cheers of thousands of American citizens the drive was begun. Hundreds of American and British flags decorated the buildings along the route traversed by Lord Minto, who was visibly pleased by the splendid reception given him.

At Grand River and Woodward avenues the military escort came to company front and stood at salute as Lord Minto drove by, reviewing them. The "Fighting First" made a magnificent appearance in their khaki uniforms as Canada's governor general drove slowly by them and saluted their torn flags. The bands played "God Save the King" during the review. The Twenty-first Canadian Essex fusileers accompanied Lord Minto from Windsor.

It was nearly 8:30 o'clock when the Canadian visitors again drove to the ferry and boarded the Vita for the return trip to Canada.

Lord Minto and Lady Minto, too, expressed themselves as very greatly pleased at the warmth of their reception, which, they said, had never been exceeded in a Canadian city.

E. H. Harriman Coming East.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 14.—E. H. Harriman, of the Southern Pacific, has left for the east. He was accompanied by General Manager Kruttschnitt, who will travel with him part of the way. It was said that Mr. Harriman will personally take a hand in the settlement of the boiler makers' strike on the Union Pacific and that a conference has been arranged between Harriman and National President McNeil of the Boiler Makers' union, to be held on Hagriman's train while he is proceeding east over the Union Pacific.

Naval Contract Revoked.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Acting Secretary of the Navy Darling ordered that the contract with the Trigg Shipbuilding company of Richmond, Va., for the building of the cruiser Galveston be revoked. The Galveston will be towed to the Norfolk navy yard for completion. This action has been contemplated for some time because of the financial embarrassment of the Trigg company, which is now in the hands of a receiver.

Strikes Are Settled.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., May 14.—The strike of the union painters is at an end. The painters will return to work, their demands for a shorter working day having been conceded by the employers. A settlement has been reached by the 200 striking carpenters and the contractors. It is understood, but the official announcement has not yet been made.

Kansas City Employers Organize.

KANSAS CITY, May 14.—The 6,000 employers of labor in this city have banded together to fight the members of labor unions who use the boycott to gain their ends and have organized the Employers' association. The association has decided to refuse to deliver goods to those places where nonunion men or nonunion made goods are discriminated against.

Mayor Low In Virginia.

NORFOLK, Va., May 14.—Mayor Seth Low and Mrs. Low of New York arrived here on his yacht Surprise, having come from Old Point. After spending an hour or two in the city he boarded his craft again and returned to Old Point. It was stated that the mayor will enjoy several days of fishing around Lynn Haven and near by points.

Auto Race a Pleasure Tour.

PARIS, May 14.—Reports received from points on the route show that the contestants in the tourist class are moving leisurely. The contest is merely a touring excursion for the purpose of testing the endurance and comfort of the machines rather than their speed.

CORNING, N. Y., May 14.—President E. S. Underhill of the New York State Press association announces that the annual meeting will be held at the Hotel Frontenac on the St. Lawrence river during the week beginning June 21.

THE BABY CAMP.

The City Union of King's Daughters has decided to continue the camp for sick babies on the mountain this summer. This worthy charity has accomplished much in past years. It has carried health and strength in many Plainfield homes and little lives have been enabled to pass through the dreaded heated periods.

Plainfield has a number of charities which look to it for support. No one expects any one to receive attention to the neglect of the others for there is ample room for all here. The baby camp has been well supported in the past. It should be well cared for this year. It takes money to run such an establishment. The more generous the contributions, the more successfully can it acomplish its work. It is hoped by those in charge to conduct it on such lines as to make it possible to keep the children there for several days at a time. This can only come about by an increase in the subscriptions.

Last year, The Daily Press received contributions for this work. It will continue to do so this year. Any money sent to this office will be forwarded without delay to the proper authorities. The city has a number of excellent charities and the members of the City Union of Kings' Daughters are desirous of not interfering with the support of any of them. They feel, however, that any movement which aims to work so directly for the benefit of the children of the city will not have to appeal in vain for support.

The basket ball season has closed. Altogether it was by far the most successful season Plainfield has ever enjoyed. The Plainfield Amateur Basket Ball League gave an impetus to the sport that could not have been secured otherwise. The contests between the local teams have naturally attracted more local interest than those with outside clubs. Several teams played the game for the first during the winter. When the league starts up again next fall, these teams will have the benefit of the season's experience and the contests may be expected to be much closer and more exciting.

The election of Dr. Daniel C. Adams to the highest office in the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar of New Jersey is a high honor bestowed upon one of Plainfield's worthiest citizens. Dr. Adams has long been a hearty supporter of all Masonic organizations and has taken a prominent part in that fraternal order in this city. His services in Trinity Commandery and subsequently in the Grand Comamndery have been most valuable and were well worthy of the recognition given them.

Despite the fact that it has been publicly stated that the Councilmanic streets committee was very anxious to hear opinions as to the application of the Central Jersey Telephone Company, but few communications have been received. If any citizen has any suggestion to offer on that subject, the street committee would like to hear it and The Daily Press will be glad to give it space.

The present session of the Union county courts has been important in more ways than one. To Plainfield it has been of particular importance owing to the number of suits against the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad as a result of the Westfield disaster. Several cases did not go to trial but were settled just on the eve of the hearing.

Many Plainfielders will remember George Weeks Sanford, the news of whose death was exclusively told in yesterday's Daily Press. He planned and started the commercial department in the City High School which has since proven one of the most valuable departments in the school. It is now under the direction of J. H. Macnab.

Local Epworth Leagues will observe the anniversary of the organization Sunday. It is interesting to know that Chapter 1, is located in Plainfield at the First M. E. church.

TEA TABLE TALK.

Short Sketches That Are Not Always News, But Just as Interesting.

It has been suggested that persons who have awnings erected in front of their place of business have the same placed at least seven feet from the walk. Many awnings about the city are now so low that pedestrians have some trouble in passing beneath them.

In its account of the Kanen trial, Tuesday, the Elizabeth Times says: "Mr. Marsh's summing up this morning was most eloquent and powerful, and tended to a large extent toward wiping out the unpleasant taste left in the mouths of all yesterday when Lawyer Lindaburey, who represented the company, severely arraigned Lawyer Marsh for having the injured and suffering boy brought into the court room to work upon the passions and sympathies of the jury by an exhibition of pain.

"Yesterday afternoon was one continual round of discharged ammunition between Marsh and Lindaburey. The session was one of the most amusing and brilliant that has been held and the witty shots exchanged kept court and jury in the best of good nature. The witnesses did not have much of a chance to exhibit their professional knowledge, while the war of words was in progress."

The Blue Book prepared by Herbert W. Bowen, the Venezuelan Plenipotentiary, is a most interesting story of the powers conferred upon him by President Castro in settling the claims in dispute between Venezuela and Great Britian, Germany and Italy. It shows how these three nations for the asking, could have obtained preferential treatment from Venezuela in the settlement of their claims, had they asked in time, and their appeal to the Hague with its consequent expense and delay would have been unnecessary. The text of Mr. Bowen's note of February 20 to Sir Michael Herbert, the British Ambassador, threatening to break off the negotiations, is made public for the first time. The closing sentence, "On this side of the water, we want peace, not alliances," gives the trend of the sentiments expressed. Mr. Bowen, who left Washington yesterday and will sail for Caracas Saturday, is a brother of Henry E. Bowen, of Watchung avenue.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. George Stryker and her mother, of Bound Brook, visited friends in Plainfield yesterday.

Ernest Packer, of West Front street, will leave town Saturday for a month's vacation at Long Branch.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fuller, of Union street, are rejoicing in a strapping baby boy born to them a week ago.

Arthur Caleen, of Orchard place, is detained at his home by illness. He is undergoing treatment for trouble with his eyes.

Mrs. Percy C. Ohl and her three children are spending a week at the Astor House, New York, in attendance of the will case of Mrs. Adele D. Townsend.

Enough to Pay.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—I can see no valid reason why our telephone company should monopolize the franchise thus charging exactly what they please. There are, as one of your writers said, places or towns where $15 is considered a fair price for the same, and surely this is enough, and all an ordinary family is able to pay. A.

SUBURBAN NEWS

A Department Devoted to the Minor Events in Greater Plainfield's Suburbs by Our Own Correspondents.

DUNELLEN.

The Dunellen Juniors played an unusually interesting game of baseball yesterday with the Underwood A. A., of Plainfield, one of the strongest junior teams in the vicinity. While the Juniors were defeated, they made a good showing and put up a good game. Lake went into the box for the Juniors and in the second inning the Underwoods landed on him for a total of seven runs. Conklin then went into the box and finished out the game in good fashion. The final score was 15 to 12. The batteries were for the Dunellen Juniors, Lake, Conklin and Giles and for the Underwood A. A., J. Douglass and W. Douglass.

While some laborers were digging, for the extra track which the Brunswick Traction Company is laying to Riverside Park, they dug up an old pipe. The pipe is dated 1779 and is very curiously carved. It is quite a valuable curio.

A spirited race was witnessed on North avenue early last evening in which two well known horsemen participated. The speed at which they passed through town was considerably beyond the limit.

Charles Lake has resigned the captaincy of the Watchung A. C. ball team and Lewis Churchill has been selected for the position.

Charles Doolittle spent yesterday afternoon attending the annual exhibition drill of the Rutgers cadet corps, at New Brunswick.

Miss Ethel Garretson attended the exhibition drill of the Rutgers cadet battalion at New Brunswick yesterday.

The Dunellen Juniors will play a game with the Whittier School team, of Plainfield, on Thursday afternoon.

NEW MARKET.

Edson Davis and John Nelson, of this place, participated in the annual exhibition drill of the Rutgers cadet corps held at New Brunswick, yesterday afternoon. Several from this place attended.

The old battery, Whittley and Hermann, will probably be seen on the points for the locals in the games the rest of the season.

Prayer meeting was held last evening in the First Baptist church under leadership of Rev. Frank Fletcher.

Principal Pittenger, of the local school, spent yesterday visiting at the Plainfield High School.

The cornet band will meet in the room over Rogers' coal office for practice this evening.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

The bleachers along the third base line are to be protected by a wire netting so as to afford protection to the women who attend the games. Twice this season spectators have been hurt by foul balls so the club decided to erect the netting on this side of the diamond. This will have the effect of changing the rooters line to the bleachers along first base, as rooters don't need any protection from stray foul balls, as they appear to bear charmed lives.

Manager Johnston, of the ball team, is very uncertain about holding pitcher Davis for the season. The New York State League has made him an offer, but for business reasons he has not accepted their contract yet. George will surely pitch Saturday's game against the Safe Works team, and is also able to give a decided answer to the club Saturday.

An interesting weekly meeting of the Boys' Chautauqua Club, of the Methodist church, was held in the church last night. The interest manifested in the meetings by the members will no doubt keep the club active all during the summer.

The teachers and pupils of the public school are arranging for their Decoration Day exercises which will be held in the assembly room of the school on Friday afternoon, May 29.

Miss Nancy Wade, who was obliged to give up teaching the past year on account of her health, has taken a position for the balance of the term at the school at Short Hills.

A full attendance is desired at the meeting of Twilight Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., as business of importance is to be transacted.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Layton, of Washington Valley, have moved into the Hunter house on Stanbury avenue.

Thomas Dobbins and family, of Kearney, have rented part of the Cleaver house for the summer.

The weekly meeting of the teachers of the Baptist Sunday-school will be held at "The Manse" tonight.

Falling Bolt Injured Arm.

William R. Hartpence, a machinist, employed at the Pond Machine Tool Works, met with a somewhat peculiar accident a few days ago. While at work a large bolt dropped from a hanger and struck him on the right forearm. The arm is very sore and Mr. Hartpence was troubled so much that he was obliged to get a long strap and have it placed tightly about the injured arm. In this way he hopes that the member will strengthen very soon.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning May 17—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Topic.—The lad with the loaves and fishes.—John vi, 5-12. (A meeting with the Juniors.)

At the close of a long day of service Christ and His disciples were on the eastern shore of the Galilean sea, surrounded by a vast multitude of people, who had made no provision for the evening meal. The disciples urged Him to send them away to provide for themselves, but the Master said, "Give ye them to eat." This seemed to them impossible because of their limited store, which consisted of five loaves and two fishes carried by a boy. But these Jesus miraculously multiplied, giving to the disciples and they giving to the people. This was continued until all were fed, and then it was found that twelve basketfuls of fragments remained.

In this incident a "lad with five barley loaves and two fishes" played an important part and in doing so illustrates the fact that even children can have a very important relationship to the Lord Jesus Christ. In years gone by the church accorded little place to the child in the courts of our God. God called Samuel to His service, accepted the praises of children and the Master took the children in His arms and blessed them, yet the church was slow to recognize the fact that children can have any place or part in religion or in the life of the church. Its attitude was rather that of the disciples of Christ than that of the Master Himself. But this attitude toward children has undergone a wonderful change. Scores of them are received into the church and lead sweet Christian lives. Thousands of them as Junior Endeavorers render faithful and loving service to the Master, whom they love, and are frequently the means of leading others to Him and into His service.

The possibility of such conditions is foreshadowed in the incident of the lad with the loaves and fishes. 1. He was personally attached to Christ and His disciples. Not only had the men and women followed Jesus, but this boy had also done so. Discipleship cannot be limited to age. Some of the most saintly of God's people have given themselves to Him very early in life and at the most advanced ages with all our experience and knowledge the most of us are spiritually but "babes in Christ." Children can love and trust the Saviour, and we may rejoice that this fact has such abundant recognition today. 2. He served Christ. It is supposed and not without reason that this lad carried the loaves and fishes for Jesus and the apostles. They may have had him with them for this very purpose. Children can serve Christ. Their little lives can be consecrated to Him, and in praise, in prayer, in study, in Christian living and in Christian deeds they can serve Him. 3. Christ used the boy with the fishes in the services of others. Under the blessing of Christ the boy's limited provisions were made capable of feeding thousands of people. So Christ today can take the possessions and talents even of the children and make them redound to the glory of God and the benefit of mankind. How thoroughly the Junior Endeavor society has demonstrated this fact! Therefore it should be our aim to increase its numbers and to enlarge its usefulness.

Giving God a Chance.

"Giving God a chance at you—that is the meaning of the Quiet Hour. Teachers, friends, books, newspapers, business, pleasure—all these have a chance at us. Day by day they are influencing us, and day by day they are molding our lives. Shall we not also give God a chance at us?"

This is the Spirit inspired message that was given us by our beloved leader, Dr. Clark, at the Troy convention. Friends, are we as a society putting the emphasis clearly in the right place? Are we as much concerned that each of our individual members shall be found daily in definite personal communion with God as that he shall be regular in his attendance at the prayer meeting? Are we giving Bible study and prayer the place in our lives that God would have us give them?

Friends, let us choose, let us select, the influence which shall dominate our lives. Let us morning by morning, before man is met, talk with God alone. Let us seek a great intimacy. Let us know His will before we go forth to do His work. Let us say as a society that daily, personal waiting on God in earnest searching of His word and in prayer is the first need, the first duty and the first privilege of every Christian Endeavorer. Let us give God a chance. —Herbert E. Baright.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Topic For the Week Beginning May 17, "Epworth League Anniversary Day"—Text, Rom. viii, 31.

The story of how the Epworth League originated has been often told, but will bear retelling many times. It is specially interesting, as the anniversary of its founding returns, to call to mind the incidents of its birth.

For a number of years societies of young people had been organized in many parts of the country for earnest work in the Methodist Episcopal church. In some localities these had been united in general societies until in 1889 there were five such having the same purposes in view. It was felt that a union in one general organization was greatly to be desired. To reach this end invitations were issued to all five of the several societies to appoint delegates to meet and arrange for such consolidation. The representatives were elected and met in Cleveland, O., May 14, 1889. After the fullest consideration of all interests involved the Epworth League was organized as a union of all the five existing bodies. This outcome was possible only as the result of the deepest conviction that a union was necessary, the most courteous and conciliatory conduct on the part of some and the spirit of earnest prayer and faith in the divine guidance on the part of all. The difficulties to be overcome were great, but were all fairly and fully met.

The new society started at once with a large membership composed of the local chapters which had been gathered under the Young People's Methodist alliance, the Oxford league, the Young People's Christian league, the Methodist Young People's union and the Young People's Methodist Episcopal alliance.

In these previous organizations some had placed special emphasis on the spiritual life, while others had combined literary work and Bible study with it and tried to develop usefulness in works of mercy and help as well. The new organization recognized the value of all these various lines of work and provided for them.

The aim of the Epworth League is to develop the highest type of New Testament piety in its membership. This is to be accomplished by attention to the devotional elements of Christian life and is in charge of the "spiritual department." The development of practical skill in mercy and help work is under the care of the second department. Literary work and social needs are all provided for under appropriate departments, as is also the matter of finance and correspondence.

The plan is admirably suited to meet the needs of the young people in a connectional denomination like that of the Methodist church. No undenominational or interdenominational society could do this so well.

The Epworth Herald, published at Chicago, is the organ of the society. It has secured a circulation the largest of any similar young people's paper in the world.

The next general convention of the Epworth League is to be held in Detroit in July of this year.

Faith.

"Without faith it is impossible to please Him." How inspiring to know that one has lived who perfectly pleased the Father! "Thou art My beloved Son in whom I am well pleased." Faith was the secret spring that caused such absolute approval. Following in His steps of faith, we, too, may please God. We will choose the single eye, the simple life, the faithful service and the abiding fellowship which will make faith possible, and then we will practice faith, persevere in faith, stand the tests of faith, grow in faith, rejoice and triumph till the leader and perfecter of faith shall come, and we shall see the King in His beauty and sit down with Him on His throne.—Christian Work.

Food First.

What would you think of a person who could not take time to eat and sleep? Surely you would tell him that the time given to that which is necessary to life is well spent, even as regards business itself. If health breaks down, what are you to do? And of what avail is all your work if you do not live to reap its fruits? It is just that I would say to you. If you let your soul grow faint and exhausted for want of nourishment, of what avail is all the religious talk, or even the fulfillment of urgent and indespensable duties?—Fenelon.

Prayer.

Prayer is the peace of our spirit, the stillness of our thoughts, the evenness of our recollection, the seat of our meditation, the rest of our cares and the calm of our tempest. Prayer is the issue of a quiet mind, of untroubled thoughts. It is the daughter of charity and the sister of meekness. He that prays to God with a troubled and discomposed spirit is like him that retires into a battle to meditate and sets up his closet in the outquarters of an army and chooses a frontier garrison to be wise in.—Jeremy Taylor.

Heavenly Messages.

Marconi sends a wireless message across the sea and all the world wonders. The children of God have been for ages sending them beyond the stars and have been rejoicing in daily answers, but the inconsistent world expresses neither amazement nor admiration.—United Presbyterian.

Real Glory.

Real glory
Springs from the quiet conquest of ourselves,
And without that the conqueror is naught
But the first slave.

—Thomson.

The Very Helpless Sort Of Woman

"NOW, there's one of them," remarked Successful Woman to her friend Old Bachelor.

He looked up from the depths of his comfortable armchair by the window. "Er—I thought so," he ventured as he watched their visitor departing down the street.

"She is a helpless woman—she'll never be anything but a helpless woman," remarked his friend. "Look at the way she walks. She shows it in that alone."

The girl was a plump, rather pretty blond, whose fair hair straggled quite untidily from under a hat pinned on crooked. Her skirt was held haphazard so that it was well up on the side and trailed in the back. She dragged her feet along listlessly, and one hand, thrust into an unbuttoned glove, swung aimlessly by her side.

"And she thinks she can go on the stage," sighed Successful Woman—"the stage, where not only neatness, but chic in personal appearance, is required; the stage, where one has to hustle from morning till night, where alertness is needed, if in no other profession. I tried to dissuade her from it," she went on. "I encouraged her drawing. She does that fairly well. But she said it was useless, there was so much competition nowadays. I asked her if she had ever tried to sell any of her sketches. And she actually said: 'No. How would you go about it? I would like to draw for the Fashion Frills Magazine, but I don't know the woman or man who accepts the drawings. Couldn't you give me a letter of introduction?' 'I don't know them, and I can't,' I answered. 'Anyway I wouldn't. Why, goodness alive! If your drawings are good, they'll take them, and if they're not no amount of letters of introduction will persuade them. Just walk in and leave your drawings there, and then if they refuse them try to find out what is the matter with them, and then go on and try again.'"

"Women are certainly fond of having some one else do their thinking for them," remarked Old Bachelor somewhat cynically. "I should think you would find that to be the case in that column of questions and answers you run in the Daily Screamer."

"Humph! Do I?" returned Successful Woman. "They are all the time asking me: 'How would you go about it to write a successful novel? What should I do in order to become a schoolteacher? Trained nurse?' Anything that can be answered immediately by applying to the school or the hospital or the proper place, even the spelling of words and historical facts which involve only the opening of a book on a shelf in the very room where they sit—a multitude of foolish, inane, perfectly obvious questions which they could answer themselves if they stopped to think two minutes!"

"I have always thought it one of the reasons why women do not progress more rapidly that they are forever wanting to lean on each other. They won't stand up straight and use the brains that God gave them."

"Oh, they'll improve after awhile," answered Successful Woman, "and after all it isn't the woman who asks questions who is the worst. The very fact that she asks questions shows that she is anxious to change her condition, to improve. The woman I simply can't stand is she who allows herself to be snowed under by circumstances, the woman who lets things stay just as they are because 'Oh, what's the use? They can't be changed!' The woman who when things go wrong takes refuge in those eternal tears—that woman drives me wild. Why, there isn't anything which can't be changed if a bright, persevering woman puts her mind to it."

"After all, the helpless women are a godsend," put in Old Bachelor with his little smile. "If they were all clever, what would you clever women do?"

"I'm not selfish enough to take your viewpoint," answered Successful Woman. "There's no woman I'm more sorry for. Put the self reliant woman in any position, in poverty, in disgrace even, and she will work her way out, but the helpless woman, she is a failure even with the best of starts, and she is lucky indeed if she does not transmit to her unfortunate children a heritage of weak wills and vacillating minds." MAUD ROBINSON.

MYSTERY OF THE BAYOU WOODS

By WALKER KENNEDY.

Copyright, 1903, by A. N. Kellogg Newspaper Co.

He then went on to give her an account of his operations in the snow, and then continued: "The police dismiss this circumstance with the clumsy explanation that the man with the arctics stumbled across the corpse by accident, examined it through curiosity, then rambled about the woods awhile, took the short way for town, met the company following the coroner's jury, and then went back with them to the inquest. I have made a number of inquiries and ascertained that this unknown person was not out hunting, because there was no hunter in the crowd that went to see the body. Now on a bitterly cold day no one would be apt to go rambling around in the Bayou Woods for pleasure; so this man must have had some clearly defined object in view. Coming upon the corpse, he either realizes his object or is diverted from it and goes back toward town by another route. If an innocent man should stumble on a corpse in the woods he would either go on his way or turn back immediately by the route he came and notify the authorities. But our unknown did neither. Take the hypothesis that he shot your father and left him for dead. The next day, drawn by some horrible fascination that frequently assails murderers, he revisits the scene of his crime, perhaps to assure himself that his victim is really dead. Possibly it was important that he should know this beyond the shadow of a doubt. Having satisfied himself and not wishing to be seen on that pathway, he crosses to the short cut and returns to the Devil's Den. There he falls in with the crowd going to the scene of the murder, and to throw suspicion completely off the track, he goes back with them to witness the proceedings."

Miriam's interest deepened visibly as Warde developed his hypothetical case.

"But," she said breathlessly, "my father's watch, knife and cuff buttons traced to Herbert—how can that be explained?"

"I can offer no solution as yet, but there is one thing in connection with that which requires explanation. The same afternoon that your brother pawned your father's watch he also pawned another watch at another shop. It could not have been his own, for in his destitute circumstances he would have pawned or sold that long ago. Whose watch, then, was it, and what part does it play in the tragedy? When that question is answered perhaps we shall have the key to unlock the mystery."

Miriam Wright was easily imbued with some of Warde's own belief in his theories, imperfect as they were. They went over the whole ground carefully together, and when at last he arose to take his departure she begged him earnestly to continue his task and help her brother. She had an idea that the police were in league against him, and Warde seemed to be the only friend they had.

When Irving Warde returned to the city he began to realize that he had shouldered a big job. Here was a case so plain as to stagger almost any one. The hand of fate seemed to be in it. By having in his possession those pawn tickets calling for the murdered man's articles, Wright's doom had apparently been sealed. How could they have come into the young man's hands unless he had taken them from his father? The old man had been murdered and robbed, and the articles of which he had been robbed and for which he had apparently been murdered had been traced to Herbert Wright.

As an offset to this he had as pegs on which to hang a theory:

1. The arctics.
2. The unidentified watch.

If he could find out who wore the arctics, it would enable him to determine what part the wearer played in the tragedy, if any; but he had little hope that he would be able to make any progress in this line of inquiry.

And the watch? Even suppose an owner were found for it, he might be some one who had been robbed, and another crime would be laid up to Wright's account without helping his case at all.

That afternoon Warde called at the jail and sought an interview with Wright. The latter was evidently very much bewildered over the drift of affairs, and he showed it in his face as well as his speech. Warde assured him that he believed in his innocence and that he would try to establish the fact; but Wright declined to say anything regarding the case that could help the reporter in his researches.

"I am entirely innocent of this crime. My father was killed with a pistol, and I have not had such a weapon in my hand for months.

"SAY, IRV," SAID HILLSMAN, FAMILIARLY, "THAT'S A HUMMING MURDER CASE, THAT WRIGHT BUSINESS, AIN'T IT?"

There is an old pistol in my house that has been lying there untouched for over a year. I can see that in order to clear myself, Mr. Warde, it will be necessary for me to establish the guilt of another man. That is a hard part, an injustice I may say, of circumstantial evidence. Without offering direct proof of a man's guilt, it weaves a network about him so plausible and so apparently convincing that it is almost impossible for him to establish his innocence. Circumstantial evidence assumes that I am guilty, and then challenges me to prove that I am not. It would be impossible for me to prove an alibi, because the time of the killing is not exactly located. I have a suspicion of my own about this case, but I do not feel warranted in telling what it is. You would declare it too wildly improbable to merit a moment's belief. I must think the whole thing over before I say anything to anybody."

At this moment all further conversation was interrupted by the appearance of Wright's wife. Warde saw that she was a pleasant-faced, rather good-looking young woman, who had evidently undergone a hard spell of sickness. He further saw that the meeting between husband and wife was of the tenderest character, and then he went away.

There was at least one person, he thought, who believed in Wright's innocence absolutely.

On his way back to his office, he stopped at the office of Col. Franklin.

"The colonel will be back at three," said his clerk, a young man by the name of Frank Hillsman. "You've only to wait 15 minutes. Better take a chair. Have a cigar?"

Hillsman was a knowing young man with a gay, dissipated look, not a bad-hearted fellow one would say, but with an unmistakable tendency to surrender very promptly to temptation. He wore jaunty clothes, smoked villianous cigars, played poker recklessly, and knew every saloonkeeper in town by his Christian name. He plumed himself on his wickedness, and had a vague idea that he was a man of the world.

Warde accepted his invitation to wait, but declined the cigar. He had suffered from Hillsman's cigars before. "Say, Irv," said Hillsman, familiarly, "that's a humming murder case, that Wright business, ain't it?"

"I should say so. It's a very mysterious affair," replied Warde.

"Mysterious? What are you giving me? Why, it's as plain as the nose on a man's face. The colonel heard all the testimony, and he says he can see no hope for Wright."

"Is the colonel satisfied of Wright's guilt?"

"Not a doubt of it."

"I'm sorry to hear that. Does he intend going into the prosecution?"

RELIANCE SAILS FOR NEW YORK.

Canvas Working Into Good Condition For Cup Contest.

NEWPORT, R. I., May 14.—The Reliance put in here on her way to New York after being for several days practically in the hands of her builders. She sailed down the bay under the critical eyes of Designer Herreshoff and C. Oliver Iselin, her manager, who followed her in a launch and closely inspected the cup yacht. From the appearance of her canvas it is evident that the Reliance is steadily improving in the set of her sails, as never before has she shown such a fine spread. Just off the harbor Mr. Iselin boarded the yacht, while Mr. Herreshoff returned to Bristol. After a few turns about the bay the Reliance picked up her moorings, and her tender anchored close by. Mr. Iselin stated that the yacht would leave for New London today, stopping there about a day on her way to New Rochelle.

SPORTING NEWS

ON THE DIAMOND.

Manager Albert D. Beers of the City High School baseball team tendered his resignation Monday. Overpressure of work in preparation for college examinations is the cause of the retirement. Francis K. Anderson, 1904, has been chosen to take the position.

The All-Plainfield baseball nine will play a game of ball next Wednesday afternoon against the Sacred Heart nine, of Elizabeth. It is stated by the leading members of the local nine that James Montross, the star twirler, will manipulate the "pill" for the local team.

The City High School baseball team will journey to New Brunswick Saturday to play the team of Rutgers College Preparatory School. Manager Francis K. Anderson has arranged for the chartering of a trolley car if enough members of the school go from here to the game.

The baseball game, scheduled by the City High School team with the freshman team of Rutgers College for yesterday afternoon, was postponed on account of the fact that the members of the team are obliged to take part in the exhibition drill of the college battalion held yesterday afternoon.

The first Wednesday game to be played by the All-Plainfield baseball team will be witnessed next week on Hope Common between the Plainfield team and the Sacred Heart Academy team. Mayor Jenkins and the Councilmen have been invited. The All-Plainfield team will line-up as follows: Moore, c; Montross, p; Hewitt, 1b; Martin, 2b; Shortman, ss; Doyle, 3b; Keefe, rf-p; Lederer, cf; Taylor, lf.

There is reason to believe that the Alis Club will come out victorious this week in their game with the Hope Y. M. A. The general idea seems to be that the Alis is the stronger team. The latter held the Star A. C., one of the best ball nines in the State, down to 16 to 10 Saturday and it seems evident, therefore that the Alis will "clean house." However, the Hope men are equally confident and as a result one of the liveliest games seen so far this season is promised at Crescent Oval.

The Excelsiors, a baseball team composed of members of the senior class of the City High School, met with their first defeat of the season yesterday afternoon at the hands of the High School "Scrubs." The game was played on Crescent Oval and the final score was 13 to 11. The playing of the new Excelsior fielder, Ralph Lane, was a feature of the game, and his stick work did much toward giving the Excelsiors the score they finally had. Manager Hill, of the Excelsiors, gave many of the substitutes chances for short periods of the game, and it was for this reason that their playing was ragged at times. The scrubs were kept in a continual state of nervous excitement throughout the game because of the heavy hitting of their opponents. The batteries were Hill and Conant for the Excelsiors and Tweedy and Anderson for the scrubs.

There will be a meeting of the captains and managers of the several baseball nines of the Junior department of the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock for the purpose of organizing a junior league among the teams. The teams which will have representatives present will be the Whittier School members of the class of '06 and the Y. M. C. A. Juniors.

The North Plainfield High School baseball nine was to have played a game of ball with the Jersey City High School yesterday but that team did not materialize. A game was arranged with the Warren Engine Company and the local school boys defeated them by a score of 8 to 4.

GOLF.

Walter J. Travis and F. O. Reinhart met yesterday on the Garden City Golf Club course. In the club's recent tournament Reinhart won by 3 up and 2 to play, but yesterday Travis was 1 up. The two led their teams in the scheduled match between Princeton and the home club. Garden City won the match by a score of 9 to 6. MacDonald, the former amateur champion, took the first three holes from J. Whitney Baker, but the latter maintained his reputation as a match player and had the score square at the turn.

WHIST.

It is expected that the Camera Club whist team will defend the Metropolitan challenge trophy, tomorrow evening, against the Knickerbocker Whist Club, challengers, of New York. The match will be played at the Camera Club rooms.

TENNIS.

The first play for the Mellick cup, women's competition, on the courts at the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, will be on Saturday. There is likely to be a number of entries.

GUARANTEED.

That word means something, when it is backed by the $5,000,000 capital and surplus of the

FIDELITY TRUST COMPANY.

It means for you an easy mind if you have one of those guarantees covering the title to your premises.
The man, who does business the way it was done a generation ago, is surely on the road to failure. This is an age of progress. There has been progress in methods of conveyancing as well as in other lines. Out of the need for something less uncertain than a lawyer's certificate and a lawyer's responsibility, has grown up the system of policies of insurance, or guarantees of title by companies with large capital and a force, specially trained in the work.
There is none better in this line than

THE FIDELITY TRUST COMPANY OF NEWARK, N. J.

It has an agency at Elizabeth for conducting Union County business. Rates will be given on application at its office, No. 215 Broad Street, and an investigation of its resources and methods is invited.

IN HUFF'S COURT.

A Bunch of Cases Soon to be Tried in That Court.

In Justice Huff's court papers have been issued in the landlord and tenant case of Hanrihan against Martin, returnable May 16; John Doe against Mrs. Leonard Bunn, on contract, returnable May 23; Clark against Jones, on contract, returnable May 22; Elmira Roberts against Elijah Giddis, in tort, returnable May 22; W. C. Chamberlin against the Rushmore Dynamo Works and W. C. Chamberlin against Samuel Rushmore, both on contract, returnable May 20. Execution papers have been issued in the case of George O. Baldwin against J. F. Callahan, et als and the case of the Domestic Engineering Companyy against D. Galbraith has been adjourned for one week.

Somerset Council's Smoker.

An enjoyable "smoker" was given last evening by Somerset Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., at which time the members of Franklin and Benevolent Councils, Jr. O. U. A. M., were present. The entertaining Council provided plenty of good cigars, pipes and tobacco and during the "smoker" interesting short talks were given by members from each of the Councils.

Friends Will Help.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Powlison, of Somerset street, are quietly celebrating their nineteenth wedding anniversary today. They intend to observe the occasion this afternoon and evening with the assistance of a few friends.

Will Visit Central Lodge.

TALK OF EQUAL SUFFRAGE

LAST MEETING OF EQUAL SUFFRAGE LEAGUE FOR SEASON.

The Equal Suffrage League of Plainfield and North Plainfield met yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Isaac L. Miller, the vice president, 744 Watchung avenue. All the officers were present with the exception of Mrs. Samuel Huntington, the treasurer, who is in recent mourning. The president, Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, was in the chair. The meeting was the last of the season, as the club is not to convene again until autumn.

Yesterday's meeting was one of the informal affairs that have proved so much more successful in adding to the interest of the organization than the formal public meetings of other seasons. It was announced that the year has been most interesting and instructive and that the gain in membership had been considerable. Among other subjects discussed was the effect of woman suffrage in Colorado and its relation to the problem of child labor. Colorado has woman's suffrage and a bill to prohibit the employment of children under the age of fourteen was passed last winter. In Pennsylvania, without woman's suffrage, a similar bill failed of enactment. Several other achievements of the Colorado Legislature were discussed in detail.

Following the discussion tea was served and a social hour enjoyed. The attendance was large. Besides the members, the following guests were present: Miss Mary Willard, Mrs. Olaf Saugstad, Mrs. Israel C. Pearson, Mrs. John Slauson and Mrs. Henry D. Haven.

ANOTHER HONOR.

Dr. D. C. Adams Elected Grand Scribe of Royal Arch Masons of New Jersey.

At the annual convocation of the Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons in Trenton, yesterday, Dr. D. C. Adams, of Plainfield, was honored by election to the office of grand scribe, and Jacob Kirkner, also of Plainfield, was chosen principal sojourner.

Other officers elected were Joseph Mason, of Paterson, grand high priest; Edgar L. Brown, of Jersey City, deputy grand high priest; Peter Mc Gill, of Leonardville, grand king; Frederick G. Weise, of Bordentown, grand treasurer; Charles Belcher, of Newark, grand secretary; Jesse G. Hammer, of Atlantic City, grand captain of hosts; Rev. Dr. George C. Maddock, of Trenton, grand chaplain; James S. Ware, of Bridgeton, grand royal arch captain; and Alfred T. Osborn, of Trenton, grand tyler.

Nelson Y. Dungan, of Somerville, the retiring grand high priest, delivered a notable address, mentioning among other important matters, the advisability of holding a field day at Atlantic City early in next October.

Lincoln-Pangborn Trial Ended at Elizabeth This Morning.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, May 14—The case of Miss Annie Lincoln against Wm. Pangborn, contractor and builder, of Plainfield, which occupied all of yesterday was concluded this morning with the summing up by the lawyers. S. S. Swackhamer represented Miss Lincoln, while W. A. Coddington appeared for the defendant. The plaintiff claimed that the contract for her building had been violated, while the defendant refuted the charge. The case was given to the jury about noon.

The jury came in at 1:30 o'clock with a verdict for Miss Lincoln for $900. She sued for $3,000.

MORE FIRES IN ADIRONDACKS.

Saranac Lake Region Has Fresh Fires.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., May 14.—Forest fires which have been burning intermittently for several days have broken out with renewed vigor around Colby pond, near Saranac lake; Paul Smith's, on St. Regis lake, and Ayers' hotel, on Lake Duane, in the Adirondacks.

A telegram from Paul Smith's states that the woods for ten miles in every direction seem to be on fire. The fire has approached within three miles of the hotel and is spreading fast. At Lake Duane William J. Ayers, proprietor of Ayers' hotel, who has been fighting the flames with a large force of men for four days, lost control of the flames and wired to Malone and Chasm Falls for help. The fires have reached within half a mile of the hotel.

It is reported that great damage has been done by forest fires on William Rockefeller's forest reserve. In many places in the Adirondacks no rain or snow has fallen since April 16, which is almost unprecedented for this time of the year.

Between Merrillsville and Onchiota fire destroyed the Postal Telegraph company's line for three miles. Hotel men and others all over the Adirondacks are praying for rain.

THE TURBULENT BALKANS.

Prince Ferdinand of Bulgaria Returns to Sofia.

VIENNA, May 14.—The request of Prince Ferdinand of Bulgaria for an audience with Emperor Francis Joseph has been refused, as Prince Ferdinand has passed through Vienna and Budapest and returned to Sofia. While here he had no communication with the Austrian foreign office.

Recent happenings in Macedonia have by no means strengthened the prince's position, and it is a question in official circles here whether the real authority at Sofia is not now lodged in the Macedonian committees.

The chief danger in the Balkans is now thought to lie in the turbulence of the Turkish population, whose fury against the Christians threatens to start a conflagration. The attitude of the Turkish government is viewed with much distrust by diplomats here. It is feared that Turkey will permit the massacre of Christians, thereby enabling the Moslems to expend their wrath.

Lee Exceeded His Authority.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—General Davis, commanding in the Philippines, has disapproved the findings in the court martial case which acquitted Lieutenant Joel R. Lee, Tenth infantry, tried for manslaughter. Lee had charge of a number of prisoners in Mindanao and, handing his revolver to a corporal, charged that soldier to shoot any prisoner who attempted to escape. Two natives were killed, and on trial Lee was justified by the court. General Davis in reviewing the case says that Lee exceeded his authority in ordering the prisoners shot.

Tribesmen Repulsed at Tetuan.

MADRID, May 14.—A dispatch from Ceuta, Morocco, announces that the tribesmen who attacked Tetuan were repulsed. They stubbornly fought their way through the suburbs to the foot of the walls, but the imperial troops eventually regained their lost positions and drove off the rebels, with heavy losses on both sides. The battle was suspended to allow the opposing forces to bury their dead, numbering 300. Many heads are displayed on the walls of Tetuan, which still has three days' supply of ammunition.

Exhibition of China at St. Louis.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Minister Conger reports that Prince Piu Lun, general imperial commissioner of the Chinese government to the Louisiana Purchase exposition, has directed the Chinese assistant commissioner, Mr. Huang Kai Chia, to go to Shanghai and prepare a collection for the exhibition. He is later to proceed to the United States with Chinese mechanics and erect a building in the world's fair grounds for the Chinese exhibit.

New American Countess at Home.

LONDON, May 14.—The Earl and Countess of Yarmouth (nee Miss Alice Thaw) were welcomed at Rigby Hall, Alcester, Warwick, by the tenants of the Hertford estates, who presented them with a number of wedding gifts, including handsome silver bowls, salvers and lamps. The earl addressed the tenants, expressing the appreciation of himself and wife and their thanks for the hearty welcome accorded them.

Lady Official at Manila.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—The war department states that Miss Floy Gilmore, at Manila, has been appointed assistant attorney general for the government in the Philippine Islands. She is the first woman appointed to such an important legal position. She went to the Philippines as a stenographer and gained her present position by good work in the office of the attorney general.

The Denver Strike.

DENVER, May 14.—Including the teamsters, who have been on strike for several days, the number of strikers is estimated at 2,200, most of them being butchers, meat handlers, bakers, cooks and waiters. After a conference with the fire and police board the general executive committee of organized labor agreed that there shall be no picketing.

Exiles Would Return to Haiti.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, May 14.—The Haitian refugees here have petitioned President Nord of Haiti for permission to return to Port au Prince. They promised loyalty, but their request was brusquely refused. A majority of the exiles are utterly destitute.

THEATRICAL.

Klaw & Erlanger's production of George V. Hobart and Edward E. Rose's new comedy, "John Henry," founded on the former's comic stories of the same title, will be the most important spring theatrical event in New York. After two weeks out of town it will be presented at the Herald Square Theatre for a run, beginning Monday evening, May 25. The story of "John Henry" is, in the main, comic, but underlying its humor there is a very pleasing sentimental interest carried by the hero, Clara J., "Bunch" Jefferson, his chum, the real estate agent, and Alice Gray. The complications in these love affairs involve "Uncle Peter" Grant, Clara J's uncle, and William Gray, Alice's uncle, a cottage in Ruraldone purchased by "Bunch" Jefferson for the Countess Veccio, an Italian noblewoman, which John Henry claims as his own to further his love affairs, and a large selection of delightfully contrasted funny characters. A "burglary," which represents John Henry and "Bunch" Jefferson as bungling amateur cracksmen, serves to introduce an original scenic effect and one of the most laughable incidents seen on the stage in a farce in many years.

FAST FREIGHT DEALS DEATH

Frank VanBergen Meets Instant Death in Rescuing a Transit Pole From Tracks.

NEAR CLINTON AVENUE

VanBergen on Central Engineer Corps, Working Near Clinton Ave. Station—Left His Transit Pole on Tracks — Steam Chest Strikes Him—Was Warned of Danger.

Frank VanBergen, aged twenty-one years, a student of civil engineering employed by the New Jersey Central, was instantly killed yesterday afternoon about 2:45 o'clock a hundred yards west of the Clinton Avenue station. He was struck by a fast westbound freight train before he could get out of its way. His neck was broken, the skull fractured and the body otherwise mangled.

For some time past, the civil engineering department of the company has been engaged in re-surveying the railroad property between Jersey City and Easton, Pa., there being several parties doing the work. VanBergen was with one of these doing the work in this city. Yesterday afternoon the men were in the vicinity of the Clinton Avenue station. VanBergen was used as what is known as a "pole man." The transit pole was standing on track four, while VanBergen was engaged in a conversation with Phillip L. McGuire, an agent representing the O'Halloran Publishing Company, 86 Walker street, New York. The two men were sitting near the station, when the fast freight was noticed.

According to the story told by Mr. McGuire, who saw the accident, he told VanBergen that he could not remove the pole before the train reached that point and to let it go. The latter thought he could get the pole and started after it. He had just taken up the pole and was stepping off the tracks, when the steam chest of the engine struck him in the back. The blow hurled the body at least seven feet into the air in a horizontal position. The next instant the cab of the engine struck VanBergen's head, causing the body to be tossed about like a pin-wheel. It afterward fell besides the tracks. Mr. McGuire signaled to a brakeman on the train and the train was stopped.

Mr. McGuire, in company with some employes of the road, went to where the body lay and carried it near the Pederick-Ayer works. It was learned by examination that the scalp of the dead man's head was taken off and blood was flowing profusely from the opening. There is no doubt but death was instant.

Mr. VanBergen's home was on Reed street, Elizabeth, where his parents reside. He intended to make civil engineering his life work. In an examination of the dead man's clothes there was found $9 in money, two tickets for the Lyceum Theatre, Elizabeth, Monday night, a watch, still running, and a railroad pass. The remains were taken to Cole's undertaking parlors, where they were viewed by County Physician Westcott. Later Undertaker Higgins, of Elizabeth, came to Plainfield and removed the remains to the home of the dead man's parents.

AFTER SLOT MACHINES.

Prosecutor Voorhees, of Middlesex, is Waging War Against Them.

A war is being waged in New Brunswick against the numerous slot machines now in use in many of the liquor stores in that city. Prosecutor John S. Voorhees has confiscated twenty-five and is still keeping at the work. Many of the saloons have recently installed machines where a nickel is dropped into the slot and if the wheel turns in the proper place 50 cents or a $1 will fall out. This is the only class of machine against which the war is being waged as the slot machines in which cigars are offered for prizes are not molested.

NURSES GRADUATE AT MUHLENBERG'S SCHOOL

Graduation Exercises Held at Chapel of Crescent Avenue Church Last Night.

TWO RECEIVE DIPLOMAS

PRINCIPAL ADDRESS OF EVENING MADE BY REV. E. V. STEVENSON.

Eighth Anniversary and Graduation Exercises of Training School at Muhlenberg Hospital—Diplomas and Class Pins for Graduates.

The eighth anniversary and graduation exercises under the auspices of the Muhlenberg Hospital Training School for nurses was held last evening in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue, church, where a large number of friends of the hospital gathered to enjoy the exercises.

The chapel was prettily decorated with flowers and flags, a unique and appropriate decoration being the draping of American and Canadian flags in honor of Miss Clara M. Rhoads, an American, and Miss Nina Kier, a Canadian, who were the two graduates. During the evening frequent reference was made to this fact and at the close of the exercises, W. R. Cock, who was in charge of the programme presented each graduate with a small flag of her country. The matron and assistant and pupil nurses occupied seats on the platform as usual.

There was great regret that Charles J. Fisk, president of the Board of Governors, could not be present owing to illness. This was alluded to in the opening words by Mr. Cock, who spoke after Rev. C. L. Goodrich offered prayer. Mr. Cock spoke of the growth of the new hospital and the desire to erect a home for the nurses near its present site. He said that it is now impossible to complete one of the wards planned for, but that the Woman's Auxiliary had been doing grand work in securing money for the home for the nurses and plans are now being prepared for the home. He incidentally paid the nurses high praise for their earnest and untiring zeal in their work, and mentioned the fact that including this year nineteen trained nurses have been graduated from the training school.

Mr. Cock then introduced Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, rector of Grace Episcopal church, who made one of the addresses of the evening. After speaking in a humorous vein for a few minutes, Mr. Stevenson referred eloquently to the excellent record made by the hospital in its twenty years' existence. He mentioned the fact that during the past year 405 cases had been cared for and of this number over 50 per cent. were surgical cases. In the clinic department 559 cases were treated and 2,147 visits were made to the hospital. He also referred to the night of January 27 last, when such valiant work was performed by those at the hospital and recalled the value of the hospital in an emergency.

Mr. Stevenson extended his best wishes to the graduates as they enter upon their life work. He asked the graduates to think highly of their profession, but not to allow professionalism ever to overshadow or lead them to forget that they are women in the truest sense and he urged them to use the power of woman's life for good.

Following the address, Mrs. Edward LeRoy Mack, accompanied by Miss Hyatt on the piano, sang two soprano solos, and after Dr. B. VanD. Hedges, as a member of the hospital staff, made a few pleasant remarks to the graduates in which he complimented them for their achievement, Mrs. Mack again favored the audience with two more solos.

George H. Goddard, a member of the Board of Governors, in presenting the diplomas to the graduates, continued the happy vein of thought. The exercises closed with the presentation of the class pins to the graduates. The presentation was made by Charles E. Brooks, secretary to the Board of Governors.

The graduates in addition to receiving diplomas and class pins, also received a great many choice flowers from their friends. After the exercises they were showered with congratulations at an informal reception held in the Sunday-school room of the chapel, where refreshments were served by members of the Woman's Auxiliary, assisted by F. H. Andrews and Dr. B. VanD. Hedges.

—At Hill & Shupp's sale of men's furnishing Saturday, they will sell good summer underwear at 13 cents.

FOUND COPPER AGAIN IN SMALLEY'S QUARRY

Another Vein of Good Ore Discovered in First Range of Watchung Mountain.

ASSAY SHOWS COPPER

COPPER HAS BEEN FOUND THERE SEVERAL TIMES BEFORE.

But Never in Paying Quantities—If Present Vein Continues to Increase in Richness, It Will be Worked Regularly.

Evidence of extensive deposits of copper have been discovered in the Watchung mountains in back of Smalley Brothers' stone crusher. The discovery was made by some laborers at work at the stone crusher several weeks ago but the fact that the discovery had been made was guarded until the assayist's report from New York came to hand when it was learned that the ore, while not of a superior quality, was assayed at $17 a ton.

Mayor Smalley was seen yesterday morning by a Daily Press reporter when he said that it was true that the discovery had been made but that he had not decided so far whether to mine for the ore. Copper, and even gold was said to have been discovered on the property years ago and at one time a company was organized to dig a tunnel into the hill to find out the true extent of the deposits. The result of the investigations was not encouraging and it was finally abandoned. Since that time Smalley Brothers have been digging rock from the hill and lately copper appeared again. During the past few weeks, after blasting had been going on, some rich veins of the ore have come to view and experts, who have been out here looking over the ground, have come to the conclusion that there are great deposits there.

Mayor Smalley will investigate still further before starting a smelting mill there but he said that if the reports of the investigations continue to be as encouraging as they have been in the past week or two he would start to work mining the ore at once.

It has been a tradition in these parts for some time that the Indians at one time dug copper from the hill and it has remained for people of the present day to reap the harvest of their discovery.

MUSIC AT SOCIAL.

Principal Feature of Sociable at First Presbyterian Church.

An attractive programme for the Ladies' Aid Society social at the First Presbyterian church last evening, called out a large attendance. A feature of the entertainment was a piano trio by the Misses Waterbury, Remsen and VanFleet. The three performed a difficult selection with excellent precision.

Mandolin solos by R. Wilson Derby were received with enthusiastic encores and selections by Mrs. Charlotte M. Ross were well sung. A piano duet by the Misses Waterbury and Remsen, and a recitation by Miss Gertrude Abbott completed the programme. The various numbers were announced by the pastor, Rev. Charles E. Herring.

Mrs. A. R. Bond was at the head of the committee in charge of the entertainment, and was assisted in presiding over the tea table by Mrs. Alvin E. Hoagland, Mrs. Harry Williams and Mrs. Charlotte M. Ross.

CONCLUDED SEASON.

Fortnightly Whist Club Held Last Meeting Until Fall.

The last meeting for the season of the Fortnightly Whist Club was held last evening, when Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hollingsworth, of West Fourth street, entertained. The full membership was present and all had a jolly good time. Miss Mary Griswold won the prize for the women, and H. H. Coward for the men. Frank H. Smith was presented with the third prize. After the play refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed.

Plainfielder Lost Money.

It is seldom that anything of importance occurs in any part of the world but that Plainfield is not represented in some manner. In the case of the sleeping car fire on the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad a few days ago, Herbert Landford, of West Front street, lost considerable money.

NOT TAXED FOR ELEVEN YEARS

Lehigh Valley Coal Yards at South Plainfield Overlooked by Township Assessor.

SUPPOSED STATE DID IT

Remarkable State of Affairs Alleged to Exist in Piscataway Township—Coal Plant Worth More Than All Rest of Township—Assessor Investigating.

A most peculiar state of affairs is said to have come to light in South Plainfield. The fact has developed recently that the extensive coal yards of the Lehigh Valley Coal and Navigation Company have escaped the eagle eye of the tax assessor for the past eleven years, an error of omission that has probably cost the tax payers of Piscataway township dear.

Enormous quantities of coal are stored in the yards of the company, and to state that the property is worth half a million dollars would probably not be an exaggeration of the fact. The yards are more valuable, it is said, than all the rest of the township combined, and, had they been properly assessed, the tax rate of the township for the last eleven years would have been cut in half.

The mistake occurred probably from the belief of the local assessor that the State Board of Assessors was levying upon the property, whereas it did nos come within the jurisdiction of the State board.

Tax Assessor Bunting, of Piscataway township, is investigating the matter. If he finds the conditions as stated, he will attempt to make the company pay up all arrears for the entire period concerned.

MARRIED A SENATOR.

Immediately after the ceremony had been performed Senator and Mrs. Drake left for New York where they will reside Mrs. Mack has been a widow for two years.

PRIZES AWARDED.

To Members of Junior Department of the Y. M. C. A.

Previous, to the lecture last evening prizes were awarded to the members of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A., who have shown superior skill in gymnastics and athletics. The first prize in the gymnastics was awarded Carl Steiner; second, Harry Gilmore. third, Martin Stutsman. The athletic prize winners were Frank Webster, first; Carl Steiner, second; and Martin Dewey, third. The prizes were a silver medal for the first honors and a silver and bronze button for the second and third prizes. The honors were conferred by Boys' Secretary Kenneth Robbie.

Largest Burial Parks IN THE State.

Transportation Facilities superior to those of any other cemetery, as to number of trains, railroad fare, time and distance.

These New Cemeteries, now being developed on the modern park plan, are attracting universal attention.

By Reason of Location Alone they are destined, in a very short time, to become the best-known Cemeteries in the country and, with their natural advantages, the most beautiful and desirable in which to purchase lots.

They are Accessible from every quarter and within easy reach of over 4,000,000 people, and, considering the steady and rapidly increasing growth of Greater New York and its tributary cities and towns, it is only the question of a short time before plots in Rosedale and Linden Park will equal in value those of our most noted cemeteries.

Popular Favor has already been shown to a marked degree in the sale of lots, several hundred having been sold to residents in Elizabeth, Linden, Rahway, Cranford, Jersey City, Orange, Paterson, Westfield, Newark and New York City, and a large number of interments have been made.

In the Days of Happiness we do not know what is to befall us or when the inevitable will occur; therefore, it is a wiser precaution to make provision for a final resting place during health and life than to force the painful duty on one's friends or relatives after death. A place of burial will be needed sooner or later by every one, and no one should neglect selecting a suitable and proper place until future postponement is impossible.

Linden Lodge is the largest, most modern and best equipped Cemetery Lodge in the country, and is provided with every requisite for the comfort and convenience of visitors who come to inspect the properties.

The Difference Between the Ordinary Shoulder and Our "CONCAVE" Shoulder

Our new "Concave" shoulder is the very perfection of tailoring. It is a shoulder with the broad, high effect modeled and tailored right into it, and not built out with wadding and padding. The ordinary padded shoulder will never look right nor hold its shape. Our "Concave" shoulder will keep its shape and form as long as the coat lasts. We have put our "Concave" Shoulder into all of our as well as into our lowest and highest priced ones.

SINGLE AND DOUBLE BREASTED SACK SUITS AT $15. Homespuns, Cheviots, Undressed Worsteds, Cassimeres, rough-faced Cheviots, Thibets in all the new spring effects, fancy patterns and plain grays, browns, blues and blacks.

CAME FROM CHICAGO

Russell Was Maker of Umbria Infernal Machine,

INNOCENT WORKMEN ARE FOOLED.

Work on the Device Was Done by Three Chicagoans Who Made a "Gambling Machine" For Suspect.

CHICAGO, May 15.—The Chicago police have discovered three men who, it is believed, unsuspectingly assisted the mysterious "G. Russell" in manufacturing his deadly device which was found on a New York pier and intended to blow up the Umbria. The men are J. W. Seymour, carpenter; J. W. Elsenberg, blacksmith, and John Clarke, machinist, whose shops are in the vicinity of the apartment occupied by Russell in Washington boulevard. "During the week Russell roomed across the street," said Seymour, "I planed down four strips of wood about twenty inches long for a man answering his description who said he had a patent of some kind. I believe he said it was a gambling device."

"Some time ago," said Clarke, "a man came to my shop and asked for assistance in making a gambling machine. He said it was something new in the way of a gambling device. We made him a cone with an inch base and a disk to fit it. He first said that he wanted only one pair of the iron pieces, but later asked for three more pairs. He never called for the additional pieces. The man answers the description of the mysterious stranger known at 287 Washington boulevard as 'G. C. Russell.'"

Chief of Detectives McClusky and Detective Sergeants Carey and Funston of New York arrived at Chicago yesterday and spent most of the afternoon following the trunk check clew. Inspector McClusky returned to New York at night, but left his two detectives here to assist the local police on the case. Before leaving for the east the inspector said:

"I believe the machine was made in Chicago and that the conspiracy, if any existed, was hatched here. We have the entire detective force of New York at work on the case, and we are looking for startling developments soon."

Lieutenant Rohan of the Chicago detective bureau, who has charge of the case, said:

"I believe that without any doubt this man Russell, who lived at the home of Mrs. Ehlen, is the man who made the bomb and who consigned it to the Umbria. We have discovered already how, when and where the infernal machine was made."

Lieutenant Rohan would not say whether he believed that the mysterious "G. Russell" or "Rousseau" is in Chicago, but the fact that the lieutenant kept his men on the run is taken as an indication that he had reason to believe the dynamiter is in Chicago.

Beat the Devils With Bible.

HONOLULU, May 15.—A native Hawaiian was beaten to death with a Bible in the hands of a Kuhuna, or native sorcerer, here. The victim was ill in bed and, after being treated by a regular physician, sent for a kuhuna, having more faith in the native "medicine man." The kuhuna declared that he was possessed by devils and proceeded to cast them out by beating him over the head with a Bible. The man died as a result of the beating.

Death Due to Ruptured Heart.

CLEVELAND, May 15.—An autopsy performed upon the body of Iona Mason, the thirteen-year-old girl who it was supposed had committed suicide Monday by drinking carbolic acid, showed that her death was due to a ruptured heart, a cause, according to the coroner, rare enough to be remarkable.

ELIMINATE CURVES.

Wednesday night's trolley accident near Cranford demonstrated again the need of altering the present arrangement of tracks at the bridge over the Cranford river. A previous accident happened at the same spot.

The trouble is that there is a reverse curve on either side of the bridge necessitated to get the trolley tracks, which are on one side of the roadway far enough over to cross the bridge. On the bridge, the tracks overlap in order not to occupy too much room. In approaching from the west, there is no trouble but a heavy grade leads to the bridge from the east. Wednesday night and one other occasion a car has gotten beyond the control of the motorman and run away down the hill. But for the sharp reverse curve, the car would have undoubtedly stayed on the track and the accident have been averted.

Some change should be made by the Board of Freeholders either in the bridge or the trolley tracks so that these curves can be eliminated. It will be to the advantage of both county and trolley company to do away with any such conditions that are liable to result seriously.

Beginning tomorrow, The Daily Press will resume its Saturday half-holidays to enable the employes in the mechanical departments to attend the baseball games. The Daily Press will go to press on Saturdays at 1 o'clock until further notice. "Want" ads must be in this office by 12 o'clock in order to ensure publication that day. Advertisers would do well to note the change and get their copy in early. On account of this change, it will be necessary for notices for the church column to reach this office by 9 instead of 10 o'clock. It would be a great convenience to the editor if those notices could be sent in the night before.

There's a meeting of the Common Council to be held Monday evening. There is no certainty that any report will be made on the application of the Central Jersey Telephone Company for a local franchise. The members of the street committee have had little to work on as there has been but little expression of opinion. If there is a demand for another telephone company, it should be made known.

The Jersey Central Railroad is doing more this season to boom the suburban cities and towns along its line than ever before. The Suburbanite made its initial appearance early in the spring and now a handsome pamphlet, "Within the Suburban Limits," is being distributed. Plainfield should co-operate with the Central in its efforts to bring strangers here.

Reinhart and Travis have met again and this time the veteran player vanquished his Plainfield rival. But Frank O. Reinhart is only at the beginning of his career and those who have watched his progress feel that the day is not so far distant when he will be at the head of the list in the royal and ancient game.

That crosswalk on Watchung avenue which leads to the entrance to the east-bound railway station still remains in its present state of uselessness. It is lower than the grade of the street and when the rains come it is going to serve as a canal instead of a cross-walk. It ought to be fixed without delay.

There's another baseball league to be started this afternoon. This time it is the smaller boys who are interested. A meeting will be held at the Y. M. C. A. when the new league will be organized. This will make the third baseball league in Plainfield. Decidedly leagues are popular.

So no reflection may be cast on any of the local newspaper men it may be well to say that no Plainfielder had aught to do with the mistake made by the New York Sun the other morning when it announced the death of Former Mayor Chas. J. Fisk.

Westfield has won its fight in the Republican county committee and its eight representatives were seated. It may have been according to law but it is certainly not according to common sense.

The straw hat is beginning to make its appearance as the days grow warmer.

The ball team will go to Millstone, Saturday and play the team from that place.

"Mayor Bill" Smith has recently purchased a new automobile.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

The celebrated automobile case of the township against Unger will probably be called in the Supreme Court during the coming month. The case has been hanging fire since last fall. An appeal from Judge Clark's fine of $25 carried the case to the Supreme Court. Several times it has been called but each time it was laid over by request. Now that the Legislature has passed a State law allowing twenty miles an hour for autos and thus repealing all township ordinances, there is no reason why the case should not be settled when called.

Another modern improvement that the village needs is the sprinkling of the streets. For the past two weeks the roads through the village have been so dusty that when an automobile goes through town all that one is able to see for sometime after is a heavy cloud of dust which those who use the antique horse and carriage have to swallow to help get rid of it. It is bound to come.

A very quiet wedding was solemnized at All Saints' Episcopal church Tuesday evening when Rev. Geo. Mulford, rector of the church, joined in wedlock Winfield Scott Stephenson and Miss Adelaide Louise Drysdale. The contracting parties are residents of Cranford and upon their return from a wedding trip to California will make that place their home.

Manager Johnston is preparing for a record breaking attendance at tomorrow's game with the Safe Works team. The visitors are playing fast ball so a good game with plenty of excitement is assured. Game will be called at 3:45.

Fire Chief Noble tested the water main on Bertie avenue last night. The ball team took advantage of the test and had the ball diamond wet down so that it could be rolled and put in first-class condition for Saturday's game.

News has reached town from Peddie Institute, Hightstown, that Miss Addie Johnston, one of the former valedictorians of the High School, has also taken the valedictory there.

The last session of the dancing class was held in the hall last night. Final arrangements were made by the class for the closing reception to be held Tuesday night of next week.

Briant Johnston, captain of the school team, is arranging for a game with the Westfield High School team for Wednesday afternoon of next week.

Jacob Cole, of Front street, for the past year a student at the Plainfield Business College, has taken a position in the office of the Scott Press Works.

Decoration Day excursions to Niagara Falls, Mauch Chunk and Ithica are announced by the Lehigh Valley Railroad for May 29 and 30.

Rev. J. A. Cubberley conducted religious services at the Third Street Baptist Mission, Plainfield, last night.

The Lehigh Valley Railroad Company announces a change of time for passenger trains to take effect Sunday.

A Little Early Riser

now and then, at bedtime will cure constipation, biliousness and liver troubles. DeWitt's Little Early Risers are the famous little pills that cure by arousing the secretions, moving the bowels gently, yet effectually, and giving such tone and strength to the glands of the stomach and liver that the cause of the trouble is removed entirely, and if their use is continued for a few days, there will be no return of the complaint. We are showing in the above illustration an Acme Bolster Roll on a fine Mahogany Bed (Napoleon style.)

There are many little details in the furnishing of a Bed Room which contribute to its attractiveness. There is nothing we know of which helps the decorative arrangements so much as the bed drapery, and the bolster roll will contribute as much as anything to the success of the room by taking the place of the unsightly pillows during the day.

WOMEN IN TURKEY.

Even There an Awakening Movement at Last.

The very last to swing into line in the onward march of the new woman have been the women of Mohammedan countries. Even the Chinese have been before them. By Christian nations this backwardness has been at once set down to Mohammedan theology and so dismissed from the mind. But now comes a Turkish lawyer, Kasem Ameen, and writes a book demanding complete emancipation for Mohammedan women and denying in toto that the Mussulman faith enslaves the sex. He does not deny that Mohammedan women are enslaved, ignorant, dwarfed mentally, fat, helpless and anaemic bodily. He even attributes the present degeneracy of the Turkish nation to the fact that the mothers of the race are of such sort. Corruption, lack of noble moral convictions, treachery, cunning and backwardness in the ways of modern civilization characterize the people and all owing to the besotted ignorance of Mohammedan mothers, declares Kasem Ameen, Esq. In the matter of the degradation of Mohammedan women he admits all that is claimed by the most radical come outer of the feminine sex in the occident. He says, "We have so low an opinion of woman that when we want to denounce a man for his rascality we say, 'He has been brought up by a woman.'"

But then— At this point the Turkish lawyer and woman champion shoots off in a line directly opposite the course of reasoning taken by Christian woman's rights people. Theology has nothing at all to do with the Christian woman's superior, nobler, freer development, quotha. The difference is merely one of mode of thought and of custom between oriental and western races. He waxes wroth that Christian nations should lay the lamentable condition of Turkish women to the only true theology, Mohammedanism. If religion really affected the customs of a people, quotha, further, then the Mussulman female would be the freest, the most developed, most enlightened woman of all the world. The Koran itself, says Kasem Ameen, Esq., elevates woman and provides for her as no other code of religious teaching does.

Then he proceeds to excuse by one of those explanations which accuse. Centuries ago, in the beginning of the makings of the Moslem empire, the followers of the true faith were intent only on conquest. The sword was to their seeming the best weapon to spread the faith. They overcame whole tribes of heathens and adopted them by force into the bosom of the true church. But these wild tribes had their revenge, like the races conquered by the Israelites of old. In time they corrupted the true believer with their unholy, heathen ways, and one of the chief of these was the degradation of woman.

Anyway, the Turkish ideal of womanhood is certainly heathenish enough, and we may let the argument stand with that admission. Now, not a woman, but a man, Turk of the Turks, believer of the believers, issues a trumpet call for the education and emancipation of Mohammedan women. It required a man, for Turkish women are too sunken in ignorance and slavery to demand better things. The book has aroused profound sensation in the Moslem realm. Women count for nothing, but it is among the men that the new woman awakening is taking place. The party of the Young Turks, especially those educated in western European schools, are welcoming the new woman book as a great illumination and demanding for themselves educated wives capable of being their intellectual companions and friends. They are tired of the fat, ignorant, silly child wife business.

Meantime in Constantinople itself a modest new woman work is progressing quietly, unobtrusively—that is, sending out year by year the very girls that young Turkey wants for its wives and intellectual comrades. This movement centers in the American College For Girls at the Turkish capital, a college founded and maintained by noble American women.

The students of the school comprise the strangest mixture of races ever drawn together by the common desire for an education. Fifteen different nationalities are represented, ranging from Persian to Greek and English. Every brand of theology known to man, except perhaps fetichism, is also represented among the girls, and, owing to the gentle influence of the teachers, all dwell together in loving harmony.

Many of the college students are from the troubled Balkan states, which is a bright sign for the future there.

MARY EDITH DAY.

By WALKER KENNEDY.

Copyright, 1903, by A. N. Kellogg Newspaper Co.

"I think not. It is scarcely intricate enough for him. His forte is digging truth out of a well, not picking it up on the ground. Besides, since the facts have come out so strong against Wright, he does not feel like having anything to do with it. He's always been a great friend to the family, you know; and he dislikes the idea of prosecuting the son for the murder of the father, who was his friend."

"Yes; I see."

"Between you and me, I believe Wright's family were blamed glad to get rid of him, and the colonel knows it."

"What makes you think so?"

"Why, I'll tell you. Old Wright was as hard a piece of cobblestone as you ever saw. He treated his wife as if she had been his nigger, and he never had a pleasant word for anybody at home. He kicked his son out, you know, and there's his daughter, Miriam, a perfectly scrumptious girl, that he didn't take any more notice of than if she had been a mummy. The only decent thing he ever did was to get himself killed, and he couldn't help that."

"What did he ever do to you, Frank?"

"Nothing at all; but didn't I know him? He used to drive up to this office every day, never looking to the right or left, or speaking to a soul. All day long it was cotton reports, sampling cotton, thinking cotton, and, for all I know, eating cotton. Every now and then he'd go off to one of his plantations and spend a few days cussin' out his manager and niggers. In fact, he was a perfect hog if there ever was one."

At this point Col. Franklin came in hurriedly and took Warde into his private office. "What can I do for you to-day?" he said, throwing off his cloak and dropping rather wearily into a chair.

"I wish to learn your views on the testimony brought out this morning."

"My dear boy," said the lawyer companionably, "I don't want to be quoted, you understand; but it was simply awful. It looked like the interposition of Providence. I have been so horrified at the revelations this morning that I have about determined to withdraw from the case. I could not very well prosecute for murder the son of the man who was my life-long friend."

"Do you know, colonel, I don't believe the young fellow did it," said Warde.

"In the face of that evidence this morning?"

"In spite of it; and I am going to discover the truth."

Col. Franklin looked seriously at Warde as if to see whether he were in jest or earnest, but detecting nothing humorous in the young man's face said: "It looks to me like a wild goose chase, but I hope that you will be able to establish Herbert Wright's innocence. It is a shocking case as it stands."

"I have just been up to see him."

"What does he say?"

"Claims to be innocent. He has some clew or other which I expect later on to add to those I already have, and with these threads I hope to get at the truth."

"Did he tell you what it was?" asked the lawyer with evident curiosity.

"No sir; I had hoped to get it from him, but he declined to tell me just yet. He intimated that what he had to say would be of such a startling character as to be considered at first absurd. Before I could induce him to change his mind and tell me his secret his wife came in and I left them together."

"It is the old story," said the colonel, smiling sadly. "The poor fellow is cornered, and he has not yet thought out what to say, and is putting up this bluff to gain time. A shrewd lawyer will probably take him in hand by to-morrow and tell him to shut his mouth. When a man is innocent of a crime, it can never hurt him or prejudice his case for him to speak the truth. I would advise you not to let Wright play upon you."

"But if he is seeking to establish a case on some one else he might place that person on his guard if he were to tell what he knows, and so injure his own chance. Besides, I am satisfied that whatever clew Wright has is only a partial one and that it will have to be joined with others to amount to anything like proof."

"Possibly. If I can be of any assistance I shall be glad to put my services at your disposal," said Franklin. "But I am against being led away by every wild theory that Wright may advance. A desperate man will stop short of nothing."

"I should be glad to have your advice at times, but I hardly think it would be proper for me to reveal anything I may learn unless you should become Wright's attorney."

"Certainly not," answered the colonel promptly. "I have no desire to pry, but I shall watch your investigation with interest, and shall be glad to learn from time to time that you are making progress. But—I have an engagement at the hotel at half past three, and I shall have to beg you to excuse me."

He rose to indicate that he could spare no more time, and Warde betook himself leisurely toward the office of the Gazette.

CHAPTER VII.

After supper Warde was busy in his office writing a resume of the facts brought out in the Wright case and was employing considerable skill in making prominent the unexplained side of the crime. He knew very well how the other morning paper, the Journal, would treat it; how it would be described as a perfect case of circumstantial evidence; and how the old proverb "murder will out" would be worked into its weary place again for the edification of those who like their crime mulled with a bit of moralizing. Warde was endeavoring in a really skillful way to emphasize the mystery in which the case was involved, and to create a doubt in young Wright's favor. It was while he was occupied thus that he realized fully how strong a chain of evidence had been wrought around the man he believed to be innocent. How was it possible for an innocent man to have got himself tangled up in this way?

While he was working away at his task, Detective Fenton entered the office and said he had secured some additional evidence in the case, which he had no objection to making public.

"What is it?" asked Warde, interested at once.

"Late this afternoon the chief instructed me to go to Wright's house and search it for weapons. I found Mrs. Wright at home and told her what I must do. She made no objection, and led me to the place where she said her husband kept his pistol. There I found this weapon," taking from his pocket a handsome ivory handled pistol, "which, as you see, has one empty cartridge in it."

"That looks ugly for Wright," said Warde, regretfully.

"Ordinarily it would, but there is something behind all this."

"What do you mean?"

"Why, when I took out this pistol Mrs. Wright was dumfounded for a moment. Then she declared that it was not her husband's pistol, and that when she had left the house this afternoon that weapon had not been there, for she had examined the one that was—an old affair—in order, she said, to see whether it had been fired or not. She asserted positively that some one had changed the pistols in her absence."

"By Jove!" cried Warde, "this grows exciting."

"I don't claim to be an extra good judge of human nature," said the detective, "but in my opinion the woman was telling the truth. She led me to the pistol without a particle of hesitation, and I never saw any person's face fall as hers did when I took out the shining revolver. I put it up this way, that the man who changed these revolvers must have taken a hand in the murder, or else is a bitter enemy of young Wright. At any rate, my idea of the case has changed considerably since this morning."

"I have an idea," said Warde, "and if you will help me perhaps we can hit on a solution of this riddle."

"I will do anything consistent with my official duty."

"I ask nothing more. It is your duty, as I conceive it not to bolster up any pet theory or anybody's hobby, but to get at the truth and unmask the real criminal."

"You are right. I agree with you thoroughly."

Poor Card at Worth.

CHICAGO, May 15.—Scratches practically ruined the Admiral stakes, the feature of the Worth card. Sanctum, Dick Bernard, I Must and William Wright were scratched, leaving only four horses to go. Two of the four, Patsy Brown and Jerry Lynch, were coupled as the F. T. Wood entry and were held odds on favorites. Jerry Lynch won the race, but he had to break the track record to do so. His time for the four and a half furlongs was 54 3-5 seconds. In the third race, a sprint at six furlongs, Autumn Leaves beat Burnie Bunton, the heavily backed favorite, by a good length, with plenty in reserve. Nellie Waddell was third, four lengths back.

Reliance to Have New Canvas.

NEWPORT, R. I., May 15.—The Reliance met with delay in getting off to New London on account of delay in obtaining sails and other racing equipment. Some sails were taken to the Herreshoff shops to be refitted. The weather was foggy and the sea rough off Point Judith, and Mr. Iselin decided that it would be better to wait for more favorable weather. The Reliance is completely stripped of sails as she lies at anchor off Goat island, but as a new mainsail is ready there is a probability of her having a sailing trial as soon as it is clear. It is believed that she will be fitted with an entire new suit of sails.

Five Favorites Won.

NEW YORK, May 15.—Five favorites won at Morris park, while the other event went to the third choice. Minotaur, favorite, won the Van Nest selling stakes by a head from the heavily played second choice Ingold. Blues, who was making his first appearance of the year, won the third race in a gallop by four lengths. St. Daniel, Mimosa, Royal and Hunter Raine were the other winners.

Baltimore's Horse Show.

BALTIMORE, May 15.—The fifth annual open air exhibition of the Baltimore Horse Show association has opened here and will continue all week. The entries are more numerous than ever before. Exhibitors from a number of distant points, including Philadelphia, Richmond and other points, bring large strings. Fashionable society is largely represented.

Mrs. Costello Ill In Jail.

BUFFALO, May 15.—The hearing of the case of Mrs. John H. Costello, charged with assault, first degree, with intent to kill her husband, was not continued, Mr. Costello not being able to leave the hospital. Mrs. Costello is quite ill at the county jail. The case will probably come up next Thursday.

Filipino Gives Hospital Site.

Howell, formerly left field on the Hope nine, has been released from the team.

Otto Mueck, North Plainfield High School, has signed to pitch with the Jersey City Club.

The North Plainfield High School nine plays the Underwood Athletic Association on the High School grounds today.

The North Plainfield High School has chartered a special car for the game with Rutgers' Preparatory School at New Brunswick, May 23.

The St. Mary baseball team will play a game of baseball Saturday afternoon with St. Joseph's baseball team from Newark on the local grounds.

Manager John Steiner, of the Y. M. C. A. team, was watching the North Plainfield High School game yesterday, with an eye to getting recruits for the association nine.

There wasn't a bit of truth in that report that Westfield was going to release "Jimmy" Montross. Between Westfield and the All-Plainfield team for Wednesday games, Montross will be kept in good condition.

A grandstand is being erected on the baseball field of the Safe Works team. It is to be a roomy affair and will be completed by Saturday. The North Plainfield High School has arranged to hold all its games in this city on that field.

The City High School is to lose its captain. The family of Herbert Munro will move to Philadelphia shortly. It is probable that Monro will remain until school closes so as to complete his course and play with the nine in the remaining games.

The Park A. C. defeated the Giants, of Leal's School, yesterday on the old Cricket field by a score of 32 to 3. The Giants seemed to be lilliputians before the strong playing of the Parks. The batteries were: Giants, Brown and Glenney; Parks, Oven and Howard.

William Nischwitz, of the North Plainfield High School team, nearly fractured a wrist while playing in the game with the Warren Engine Company. In the same game, William Mundy was struck for a second time in the left eye, and will be forced to leave the team for a time.

That great game that VanAuken pitched for the City High School against the Xavier School came near proving disastrous to that young pitcher. He was out of practice at the time. When the game with the Borough High School came round, VanAuken's arm was way out of form and had the game been a hard one, he would have been in sore trouble.

Since attention was called to the want of practice among the members of the baseball nine of the N. P. H. S. marked improvement is noticeable in the work being done by the players. For this credit is due Manager George who has spent much time and patience in coaching his men. The result of the game with the members of Warren Engine Company shows what practice will do.

Barnes, captain and catcher of the Alis Club team, was greatly missed in Saturday's game. Egan is a good back stop but his throwing to second is weak. In that same thing, Barnes excells. Barnes injured his hand in the game with St. Mary's the week before so that he could not play last week but expects to be in shape to don the mask tomorrow.

Now that Dunellen has beaten the Hope Y. M. A. boys, considerable interest is taken in the future games of that team. Saturday it will meet the Y. M. C. A. team. Keefe will probably pitch for Y. M. C. A. with Squier on the bench. The Y. M. C. A. aggregation has not done very much so far but it is claimed that the team is fast rounding into shape and is going to give Dunellen more of a fight than most people suppose.

The City High School baseball team will go to New Brunswick tomorrow afternoon to play the team of Rutgers Preparatory School. Special accommodations have been made for "rooters" and two stages will leave the High School at 1 o'clock to carry over all who may wish to attend the game. The game will be of especial interest this year as the two teams are playing about equal baseball and the local players are extremely anxious to come off victorious.

"Jimmy" Montross will be up against another strong team at Westfield tomorrow. The Madison, N. J. A. C. try conclusions with the "big show" and expect to present "Bobby" Blewett last week released by Brooklyn, in the box. With Blewett's aid Madison downed the Seventh Regiment last Saturday 12 to 3. Madison has as fine a team of gentlemanly ball players as there is in the State and they will bring a host of rooters across country with them in stylish rigs.

The most important happenings in baseball circles tomorrow will be the opening of the Association League. Details of the games will be found in another column. Of the other games, some very interesting contests are promised. If both teams are in proper form that meeting between the Alis Club and the Hope Y. M. A. is going to be a thriller. It is to be played on the Crescent Oval. Then Scotch Plains and Safe Works meet again on the Scotch Plains diamond. Y. M. C. A. will entertain Dunellen and St. Mary's will play St. Joseph's, of Newark, on its own field.

PRESIDENT HONORED

Roosevelt Gets Degree of Doctor of Laws.

HIGHEST HONOR THE STATE KNOWS

California Eulogized by His Excellency, Its Climate, Its People, Its University and Its Great Possibilities.

BERKELEY, Cal., May 15.—The citizens of Berkeley united with the members of the faculty and students of the University of California in tendering a tremendous ovation to President Roosevelt and party. Long before the hour set for arrival of the special train the school children of the city, gayly festooned with flowers, assembled on either side of the street leading to the university entrance. The thoroughfare had been brilliantly decorated for the occasion, and when the presidential party passed up the street the avenue was carpeted with blossoms.

Carriages and a committee of representative citizens were in waiting at the station, and the drive to the new amphitheater at the university, where the commencement exercises were held, was taken up immediately on the arrival of the president.

As he stepped from his carriage and made his way to the amphitheater he was surrounded by sixteen cavalrymen. He wore a hood and gown in conformity with the degree of doctor of philosophy.

The programme had been timed so that the presidential party arrived just before the conferring of degrees by Governor Pardee to the members of the graduating class.

After the cheers had subsided the student body greeted the head of the nation with the Harvard yell. He gave approval by nods and smiles. President Benjamin Ide Wheeler then conferred degrees upon the 400 collegians, who sat upon the stage with cap and gown. After this the president was introduced by President Wheeler, who simply said:

"Theodore Roosevelt, president of the United States."

Then as the chief executive, attired in a black academic robe trimmed with purple, stepped into the sunlight President Wheeler said:

"Theodore Roosevelt, by authority of the regents of the University of California I confer upon you the degree of doctor of laws. This is the highest honor the state knows how to confer on you. Its best it gives gladly."

President Roosevelt then addressed the assemblage, eulogizing the state, its people and the university, speaking in affectionate terms of his old time friend, President Wheeler. At the close of the exercises the president left for Oakland, where he was escorted through the principal streets, accompanied by Governor Pardee, Senator Perkins and the reception committee. In front of the high school the president delivered a short address. He was then escorted to the water front en route to the Mare Island navy yard.

Bishop Hood on Negro Issue.

KINGSTON, N. Y., May 15.—Bishop James Wilker Hood of North Carolina addressed the New York state conference of the African Methodist Episcopal Zion church in session here and on the negro question said: "It is fortunate that the negroes now have a squarely drawn issue. Two of the principal politicians have stated plainly that they purpose that the negro shall not enjoy the rights guaranteed by the federal constitution. With the issue plainly made the negroes can trust the Christian sentiment of Americans to see that these people shall never control the government."

Lorenzo's Life In Danger.

PANAMA, Colombia, May 15.—Victoriano Lorenzo, the Indian chief, who was a leader of guerrillas during the recent revolution, is being court martialed on various charges of having committed serious crimes while in the field. It is believed that he will be sentenced to be shot. In Liberal circles on the isthmus there is much indignation against the former revolutionary leader, General Herrera, who delivered Lorenzo to the government General Salazar after the peace treaty had been signed.

Disease Spreads at Naval Stations.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Contagious diseases at the League island and Newport training stations are on the increase, according to telegraphic advices received at the navy department. However, the men are being rapidly placed in tents, and it is hoped this measure will relieve the situation. At New York and Norfolk conditions are improving.

Protection For England.

LONDON, May 15.—At a meeting attended by a number of members of the house of commons and others held in the precincts of parliament, with James Lowther chairman, resolutions were passed in favor of forming a protectionist league in order to organize the large body of people who favor the adoption of protection.

GLENS FALLS, N. Y., May 15.—Frank Corcoran, a conductor on the Hudson Valley railway, has been indicted by the Washington county grand jury charged with calling girl operatives of a shirt factory who refused to join a strike now on "scabs" while the girls were on Corcoran's car.

NEWBURG, N. Y., May 15.—Crops and vegetation generally throughout this section have suffered from lack of rain. The drought has now lasted for nearly four weeks, and pasturage for cattle has become very scarce.

TEA TABLE TALK.

Short Sketches That Are Not Always News, But Just as Interesting.

E. Douglass Murphey, the young Plainfielder who passed away Thursday of last week, had no more sincere admirer than Rev. E. E. Jackson, pastor of the Mt. Olive Baptist church. Rev. Mr. Jackson was at Southern Pines, N. C., at the same time Mr. Murphy was and he was greatly impressed with the young man. His death was a great shock to Mr. Jackson. He has written the following lines about the young man:

DYING.

They watched his breathing through the night,
His breathing soft and low,
As on his brow a ray of light,
That shone across the shore.

So quietly he seemed to sleep,
So slowly moved the hours,
The parents lent him all their time
And all their feeble powers.

Now he is gone and it is best
For him but not for us,
He entered heaven as a saint,
To dwell among the just.

ONE LOAF OF BREAD EACH DAY FOR TEN

Destitute Circumstances of Family of William Ross, Who Ended His Own Life.

IS WITHOUT RESOURSES

FAMILY WILL SOON BE TURNED OUT OF SHACK WHERE THEY NOW LIVE.

Father of Suicide Left the Soldiers Home at Kearney Thursday, and Hasn't Been Heard From Since—Fear He is Lost.

Ten people existing on a single loaf of bread a day, seven days in the week. That in brief tells something of the desperate plight in which the family of William Ross is left by the suicide Tuesday of the father and bread winner. Absolutely without resources, Mrs. Ross must face the world alone with the problem of feeding nine little children constantly demanding her attention. More than this, she is unable to pay the rent, and, if nothing intervenes, will soon be forced to vacate the poor tumbledown house which, up to now, has provided at least a shelter for herself and her numerous brood of young ones.

There isn't enough furniture, poor as it is, in the entire house, where Mrs. Ross lives on Plainfield avenue, to furnish adequately a single room. All that they possess in personal belongings, furniture, etc., would not be sufficient in value to pay the rent for a week. What are they to do? How are they to live? Those are questions that are not easy of answering.

Eight of the children are girls, little toddlers unable to realize their pitiful state, the youngest a baby in arms. None of them has arrived at an age to be of any assistance to the mother. The boy lives with Mrs. Ross's father, who is supplying the family with what food and clothing they possess, and his situation is such that he cannot help them for any length of time.

To add to the troubles of the family, the father of the suicide, an old soldier living at the Kearney home for old soldiers has been missing Thursday morning, when he left the home for the purpose of attending his son's funeral. Not a word has been heard from him since his departure, and it is supposed that, not being used to travelling, he lost his way.

Tomorrow evening Mr. Jackson will preach this sermon and if successful in convincing his hearers they will sign the pledge to attend no more balls.

CAMERA CLUB LOST TROPHY

BEATEN BY TEAM FROM KNICERBOCKER WHIST CLUB LAST NIGHT.

Playing on Last Four Boards Was What Cost Local Club Metropolitan Trophy.

Bitter disappointment was in store for the Camera Club whist team last evening, in the match with the Knickerbocker Whist Club team, challenger for the Metropolitan challenge trophy. The "pony four" after winning seven victories, six of which were consecutive, lost the match last evening by a score of 10 to 7. The last four boards told the story and it was while playing them that the home team dropped at least four tricks, the winning of which would have given them a victory by one trick.

The team representing the Knickerbocker Club was a strong one, being composed of veteran players. The first round stood 4 to 1 in favor of the visitors and the second round was taken by the home team 4 to 2. The last round went to the challengers by a score of 4 to 2, a total of 10 to 7 in their favor, making a total of eight wins for them.

The Knickerbocker Club was represented by E. Eliot, Jr., captain; C. A. McCully, W. D. Segur and T. D. Arnold, while the same four, A. F. Freeman, F. H. Freeman, W. J. R. Hegeman, Jr., and Ralph T. Willis represented the Camera Club.

WIRE THIEF IS CAPTURED

Discovered Carting Stolen Wire and Makes Desperate Fight Before Captured.

COMPANION GETS AWAY

Police Believe John Burns, Just Captured, Is Leader of Gang of Wire Thieves Long Operating in This Section—He Was Arrested Near Westfield.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, May 16—The efforts made for some time past by the Elizabeth, Plainfield and Central Jersey Street Railway Company to catch some of the wire thieves who have been making no end of touble for the company on the line between Elizabeth and Plainfield, was rewarded yesterday afternoon, when one of the gang was captured, after a lively tussle, by the local police and employes of the company.

Early Monday morning, just after the power was turned off the line, a gang cut out nearly 1,500 feet of copper wire near Bloodgood's Mills on the Rahway branch. The wire was carried a short distance away and buried in the ground. Accidentally, employes of the company discovered the wire and decided to wait the return of the thieves for it.

They did not have to wait long. Late yesterday afternoon two members of the gang with a horse and wagon went to the place where the wire was buried and put it in the wagon. Immediately word was sent to the company car-barns at Cranford and a special car carrying employes was sent out. The two men got wind of the trick and as the car approached the men who were driving along a country road nearby, they started the horse on a dead run. The animal, an old nag, could not keep pace with the car and just as the rig was overhauled, the men jumped from the wagon and made their escape into a woods nearby.

The company employes and police then surrounded the woods and gradually closed in on the runaways. Constable Bonnell, of Cranford, more daring than the others, made a bold dash for one of the thieves and after a fierce struggle overpowered him with the assistance of the other officers. To do this the thief had to be given a sharp blow alongside the head. In the meantime the other thief got away and so far as is known has not been captured yet.

The prisoner was shackled and brought to this place, where he was arraigned before Recorder Toucey. The man gave his name as John Burns, residence anywhere. He entered a plea of not guilty and in default of $500 bail was committed to the county jail to await the action of the Grand Jury. The officials of the company secured the wire and the borough officials took charge of the horse and wagon. The company believe this to be a most important arrest, for it is thought that Burns was a leader of a large gang.

ROBBED BLACKSMITH.

Wm. Hamilton's Shop at South Plainfield Ransacked by Thieves.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

South Plainfield, May 16 — The blacksmith and wheelwright shop of William Hamilton were ransacked by burglars early Wednesday morning.

The lock was broken by the burglars who also lighted the lamp and proceeded to help themselves. Articles valued at $75 were taken, consisting of a large quantity of rubber horse shoe pads, horse shoe nails, rasps, etc., also almost the entire outfit of wheelwright tools. Mr. Hamilton, on discovering the loss about 5 o'clock in the morning, reported it to all the towns and cities in this part of the State but as yet has found no clue to the bold robbery.

—Olive oil is just as necessary on the table as salt and pepper. But it is very desirable to have it pure and of the genuine sort. Neuman Brothers have it direct from France.

ARE THEY ALL AMATEURS?

QUESTION LIKELY TO BE RAISED IN CITY BASEBALL LEAGUE.

Amateur Status of Hope Battery May be Questioned at Meeting Monday Night.

The amateur standing of certain players is going to figure prominently at the meeting of the executive committee of the City Baseball League Monday evening. There has been lots of talk on that subject already and now the trouble, which has been stirring the ranks of the league, is going to come to a head with the idea of getting it definitely settled before the actual playing season begins.

Ever since it was reported that Kinney and Bolen would be the battery for the Hope Y. M. A. team, there has been talk as to their amateur status. It is understood that, when the lists of players are filed at the meeting Monday night, there is going to be a protest against these players if their names are on the list of the Hope team. It is understood that the change will be that they are receiving remuneration, either directly or indirectly, for their services. Kinney and Bolen come from the neighborhood of Newark and played last year with the Springfield-Milburn consolidated team. This action may result in having the amateur status of players on other teams questioned.

SURPASSES ORIGINAL.

Remarkable Production of "Pirates of Penzance" to be Given at the Casino Next Week.

The performance of "The Pirates of Penzance," which will be given Thursday evening of next week in the Casino, promises to be one of the finest renderings of the famous opera since the original production by Doyley Carte in the Fifth Avenue Theatre in 1879. Good critics, who heard the original cast, do not hesitate to say that the Plainfield soloists and chorus will equal the original company.

Mr. McGee, who will be the "Pirate King," has a much larger voice than Mr. Brocolini, who was the original "Pirate King." Mr. McGee's conception of the part, both musically and dramatically, is very broad and thoroughly convincing. Mrs. Ward as "Ruth" will far surpass her "Jane" in Patience. Ask your friends how much that means. Judge Runyon has the opportunity of his life to be funny, and to say that he appreciates the opportunity is putting it mildly (case dismissed). P. S. Sergeant Runyon has ordered summer uniforms for his squad of "h'English Bobbies." There are some seats left; go and get yours at Armstrong's.

JUST ESCAPED DEATH.

Brakeman on Freight Train Caught by Vortex of Passing Train.

A brakeman employed on a local freight train narrowly escaped being killed at the North Avenue station, yesterday afternoon. He had left his train for the purpose of crossing from the westbound to the eastbound side of the tracks, and before he could get through one of the gates a Blue Line flyer came along and the vortex of the train threw him down. Only the man's presence of mind which led him to hug close to the fence was a means of saving his life.

KICKED BY HORSE.

W. T. Meyers Injured While Wheeling on Belvidere Avenue.

William T. Meyers, of Watchung avenue, while riding his bicycle on Belvidere avenue, yesterday afternoon, was struck by a horse driven by an unknown man and received injuries to his head which will confine him to his bed for several days. Meyers started to turn out of the road to allow the horse to pass but his wheel became fastened in a rut. He was thrown to the ground and was kicked by the horse's hoof.

Mrs. A. R. Biglow, of Plainfield, with her Circle of King's Daughters has established a club for young girls from sixteen upwards, on the East side of New York, in the Little Missionary Day Nursery, 93 St. Marks place, New York. Miss Curry kindly gives them the use of her large and commodious rooms at the nursery, where they will meet every Monday evening to enjoy themselves with music and in other entertaining ways. Thursday evenings they will have a millinery and dress making class. It is expected that very soon the club will number over fifty members.

Miss Curry's work, which started in a small room, nine years ago, is spreading out on all sides, lifting up young and old.

"THEY HAVE GOT IT."

Oriental Court, No. 14, Initiated Eight Candidates Last Night.

At the regular meeting of Benevolent Council, No. 256, Jr. O. U. A. M., held last evening, one member was elected and five propositions were received. The excursion committee reported that everything was progressing favorably for the trip to Atlantic City on American Day, August 18, and the New Jersey Central had consented to have the excursion train stop at Westfield both going and returning.

After the regular meeting of the Council, Oriental Court, No. 14, convened and initiated eight candidates into the mysteries of the Court. At the conclusion of the business refreshments were served and a good time enjoyed by all "who have got it."

PREACHES LAST TIME.

After Tomorrow's Services Rev. Dr. Judson Leaves for Europe.

Rev. Dr. Edward Judson preaches for the last time at the First Baptist church tomorrow, previous to his departure for a year's sojourn in Europe with his family. An offering will be taken for the King's Daughters' baby camp on the mountain and the Netherwood Fresh Air Home.

Promised New Cars.

It is rumored that as soon as the new trolley corporation merger is completed that Plainfield is to have new trolley cars. A few days ago a representative of the company was in Plainfield on a tour of inspection and, it is said, that he assured several persons that the old cars, now doing service in this city, are to be replaced with new up-to-date cars of the latest pattern.

Alumni Reception on Mountain.

The committee, which has charge of the arrangements for the reception of the N. P. H. S. alumni association, has reported that the Park Club will be otherwise engaged on the day on which the reception will probably be held and arrangements are being made to hold the reception at the Mountain Park Inn. A display of fireworks is being planned.

WELCOME HIM BACK FOR SEVENTH YEAR

Reception to Rev. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass by His Congregation at First M. E. Church.

PLEASING PROGRAMME

LADIES' AID SOCIETY AND EPWORTH LEAGUE UNITE TO ARRANGE DETAILS.

League Gives Programme, and Society in Charge of Informal Reception After Programme—Cordial Welcome for Pastor.

The members of the First Methodist church welcomed their pastor, Rev. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass, back to the charge which he has held for six consecutive years, with a reception last evening. It was held in Vincent chapel. The fact that Dr. Snodgrass has been appointed for the seventh year is rather unusual. Until recently the longest term which a minister was allowed to hold one charge in a church was four years but the rule in that case has been changed, allowing a pastor to occupy one pulpit for an unlimited term.

The programme was rendered under the auspices of the Epworth League and was arranged by George A. Horne. Violin solos by Miss Helen M. Schupp were well received. Mrs. S. H. Tugwell sang several vocal selections in a pleasing manner and Miss Bertha Hurst Whitney recited "Sing High; Sing Low." She was loudly applauded. Miss Edith L. Burt delighted those present with a humorous monologue entitled, "Behind the Curtain," while vocal selections were rendered by Elmer D. Cutting in a masterful manner. The programme was really a treat and was one of the pleasant features of the evening.

On behalf of the congregation, Henry A. McGee welcomed the pastor back to his church in an address in which he spoke of the pleasant relations which exist between pastor and congregation. The pastor responded with a few remarks in which he expressed pleasure in returning to the church where he had been associated so long.

The lecture room was decorated with palms about the platform. During the social hour which followed the musical renditions refreshments of ice cream and cake was served by the committee from the Ladies' Aid Society which had charge of that portion of the evening's entertainment. The committee comprised Mrs. N. A. Miller, Mrs. H. A. McGee, Mrs. J. C. Peck and Mrs. L. M. French.

PRESS TOLD TRUTH.

No Pastor Has Yet Been Called to German Reformed Church.

A member of the consistory of the German Reformed church was seen by a representative of The Daily Press yesterday afternoon and in reply to a question asked him as to whether or not the consistory has called a pastor as stated in a local publication said that the account in The Daily Press was entirely accurate. The congregation is greatly incensed over the report published by another paper and it is stated that it was a deliberate misrepresentation of facts.

Drill Postponed.

On account of the absence of Commandant James D. Macneal from town yesterday, as well as 98 percent of the senior class having their photographs taken during the drill period, the regular weekly drill of the Plainfield High School battalion was postponed until Monday.

The illustrated lecture given by Rev. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass before the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. Thursday evening, was the seventh lecture on "Impressions of England," given by him in Plainfield.

At the Y. M. C. A.

James F. Parker will speak and Miss M. H. Cromwell, of Cranford, will sing at the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Hall tomorrow afternoon. Special instrumental music will be a feature of the meeting.

When in doubt buy of Nagle, of West Front street. He will relieve your mind of all problems that have to do with drugs, medicines, etc. He is also an authority on soda.

A. M. Harper, of Park avenue, keeps one of the best toy and stationery stores in the city. His stock is large and complete and you will have no trouble in being pleased with your purchases.

Quo usque tandem, will you delay, O Reader, before you fix up that old fire place and grate. R. B. VanArsdale, of Central avenue, is the man that will do the business for you at the lowest rates.

For the purpose of making his pharmacy more attractive, L. W. Randolph is having a large mirror placed in one of his show windows. It is Mr. Randolph's purpose to make his store a model one and to always be able to please his patrons.

"Praised undeserved is slander in disguise," but there is no slander disguised in the statement that Fowler's confectionery as well as his his ice cream will suit the taste of the most exacting. Call at 131 East Front street and try it yourself.

Before completing your summer wardrobe call at the Boston Fur and Cloak Store on West Front street and examine the handsome line of women's suitings, shirt waists, silk coats, etc. The material and the making is all to be desired.

In the line of dry goods Putnam & DeGraw are offering exceptional values. You will find on inspection that the goods handled by this firm are of the best quality and that many things are kept in stock which are not to be found in much larger stores.

It is a source of comfort to many to know that it is not necessary to go to New York to secure wedding presents at prices within the reach of all. Silbert Brothers, of Somerset street, have the reputation of having the most complete stock of silverware in the city.

R. W. Barnes, of Park avenue, caters to the wants of the housekeeper. His stock is always very complete and included in this assortment are green beans, tomatoes, celery, lettuce, spinach and other vegetables in season. His stock of delicacies is complete.

Almost all women have their favorite dressmakers but still they are not satisfied entirely. That is because the majority of them have no experienced assistants. S. Hirsch, of Watchung avenue, employs capable men and women to assist him and that is why entire satisfaction is always given.

"Costly thy habit as thy purse can buy; but not expressed in fancy; rich not gaudy." This is the sort of taste that Werner's clothing store on West Front street caters to; and, whether your purse be lean or overflowing, Werner will give you the best quality for your money. Special bargains in spring garments.

Miss Annie R. Molloy, of Glenside Park, and Miss M. A. Wade, of West Summit, returned home Tuesday from Philadelphia, where they have been spending a week.

Write This Down

in the book or memory: there is no such thing as a harmless cough. Every cough is a warning of a confidence that goes from bad to worse unless it is remedied right away. Opium-laden medicine is a delusion. Allen's Lung Balsam cures the worst of colds. It clears the bronchial passages, so that the lungs get plenty of air. Why not get a bottle today?

THEATRICAL.

It is now understood that "The Sultan of Sulu" will remain in New York straight through the summer season, when it will more than likely be followed at Wallack's by "Peggy from Paris," now the reigning success in Chicago. Recently advertisements have appeared in papers throughout the west announcing that "Peggy" will not be seen west of Chicago this season. If Mr. Savage should be as fortuntae in New York with "Peggy" as with "The Sultan," Mr. Ade's second opera is not likely to be seen west of Chicago next season either.

Henry Miller comes to the Grand Opera House, Manhattan, next week, with his most recent and greatest success, "The Taming of Helen," by Richard Harding Davis. The play is a brilliant comedy and has been running several weeks successfully at the Savoy Theatre. Mr. Miller has not been seen for several seasons in comedy and the change has been greatly appreciated by his following. "The Taming of Helen" is a love story of absorbing interest. It was written by Mr. Davis especially for Mr. Miller and gives the actor the most interesting part he has had in his entire stage career.

Grace George's season at the Herald Square Theatre will conclude May 23, when she will have presented "Pretty Peggy" ninety-six times in New York. Miss George will resume her metropolitan run October 4, continuing in "Pretty Peggy" and giving matinee performances of "Twelfth Night." Grace George and her husband-manager, William A. Brady, sail for England May 27. Later they will visit France, Germany, Austria, Italy, Holland and the Netherlands. Mr. Brady will return early to make his production of "The Pit" and Miss George later in season for the resumption of her run in "Pretty Peggy."

There is no difference in the minds of even the most captious New York critics over the beauty and splendor of the new big Casino show, "The Runaways." They are agreed that it is the most gorgeous thing ever dressed for the American stage. They are certain that the production has more and prettier girls than any show ever seen on Broadway. There is no question that there are more genuine song hits in "The Runaways." than in any attraction of recent years. And this means a whole lot when it is considered that the singers of these songs are such talented and popular players as Arthur Dunn, Alexander Clark, VanRensselaer Wheeler, William Gould, Al Fields, William Wolf, Miss Dorothy Dorr, Miss Amelia Stone, Miss Helen Lord, and the pretty and winsome Hengler sister, Misses Flora and May.

The attraction at Proctor's Fifth Avenue next week will be another comedy drama from the fluent pen of Joseph Arthur, whose several successful plays have been seen on and off during the season at Mr. Proctor's various houses. "On the Wabash" is the play and it was first produced at Wallack's some years ago under the title of "The Salt of the Earth," with Miss Annie Russell in the leading role. Next week the leading part will be played by Miss Florence Reed. Down at Proctor's Twenty-third Street a good all round vaudeville bill will be the attraction, headed by Mr. and Mrs. Hene Hughes, in a brilliant comedy sketch entitled "A Matrimonial Substitute." Julian Rose, "Our Hebrew Friend," will play this theatre for the first time in two years. In Harlem at Proctor's 125th Street, a splendid revival will be made of "The Still Alarm," the ever popular local melodrama. Proctor's playhouse at Newark will have another good bill next week, headed by Madam Redan and company, and real novelty just procured by Mr. Proctor. Waterbury Brothers and Tenny, musical comedians, Jones and Walters, rural comedy sketch artists; J. Francis Dooley, black face comedian; Luletta, wire artist and numerous other specialties will complete the show.

FIGHTING A RAILWAY

Mayor of Newport, R. I., Declares State of Riot.

OLD COLONY COMPANY DEFIES ORDER

Men Continue to Lay Tracks In City Street In Opposition to All Municipal Authority—Firemen to Aid the Police.

NEWPORT, R. I., May 16.—Mayor Boyle declared the city of Newport to be in a state of riot late yesterday as the climax of trouble between the police stationed on Broadway and a gang of track layers employed by the Old Colony Street railway, who intended to lay a switch in face of an order not to do so.

The riot call was sounded on the fire bells, the fire department was placed in readiness to help the police, and Mayor Boyle as the commanding civil officer had arranged to have the Newport artillery and the Newport company of the naval reserves called out.

While matters looked threatening for a couple of hours, the danger from actual hand to hand conflict between the police and the track layers was not great for the reason that the fifty workmen were scared by overwhelming numbers, fully 5,000 persons, the greater number being men, standing ready to back up Mayor Boyle and the police. Later the city council made permanent the mayor's order issued forbidding the Old Colony Railway company to lay the turn out.

The Old Colony Street Railway company has a single track franchise to run through Broadway. Recently the new Newport and Providence railway was given a one track franchise on the same street. The city wants the companies to make joint use of the two tracks. The companies are at loggerheads over this proposition.

This week the Old Colony company started laying a turn out fully two and a half blocks in length. The mayor forbade the work, but it had progressed to the point where switches were needed to connect it with the main track. Yesterday Mayor Boyle had an officer stationed to stop the laying of the switch pending the council meeting. The officer was crowded by the track layers, and he warned the men that they would have to lay the iron over his body and if he were touched arrests would follow. When the officer found that he could not hold his men he asked for assistance, and a squad of officers responded. Mayor Boyle and the street commissioners were present, and when it seemed as if the track layers would be able to force the police out of the way the mayor took command and declared the city to be in a state of riot.

The call was sounded, and all the police and reserves responded within seventeen minutes. Firemen of the fire companies responded to a second call and received instructions from Chief Engineer Kerwin to have their apparatus ready for emergency use in event of another call. After a long parley between Mayor Boyle and Francis Burdick, the local manager of the street railway company, the workmen were called off and the night lanterns put out, indicating that for a time at least the effort to lay the switches had been delayed.

St. John's Strike Hinders Trade.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., May 16.—The strike of the longshoremen of St. John's continues. The Allan line steamer Siberian was forced to sail for Liverpool without having loaded the large cargo which was ready for her. Other steamers are lying at the docks without cargo. It is expected that arrangements will soon be made to bring the strike to an end. Some of the strikers threatened the men at work. It is believed that the police and the crew of the British cruiser Calypso are able to cope with any trouble likely to arise.

In July Sculptor Bartlett will place upon the pedestal his model of the equestrian figure. It is planned to make the dedication ceremony an international affair.

Manchester Ships In Cotton Trade.

MANCHESTER, May 16. — At a large meeting of representatives of the cotton trade held here resolutions were passed urging the trade to do its utmost to support the lines of steamers bringing cotton from American ports direct to Manchester, thereby frustrating the attempts to drive Manchester steamers out of the trade, and requesting the spinners to insist in their contracts on the delivery of cotton at the Manchester docks.

Harriman Has Appendicitis.

CHICAGO, May 16.—E. H. Harriman underwent an examination upon his arrival here, and the physicians pronounced his affliction a slight attack of appendicitis. His condition was found to be not serious, and he was advised to continue his journey to New York without delay. Several prominent railroad officials entered his car and consulted him upon business topics during his brief stop.

Relief Sent to Kishineff.

NEW YORK, May 16.—The committee for the relief of the Kishineff sufferers met, and upon the treasurer's report that there is on hand in the treasury the sum of $12,000 the meeting decided to direct the treasurer to forward an additional 25,000 rubles by cable to Kishineff.

MILES' STATEMENT.

No One Has More Regard For Soldiers' Honor.

WAS NOT A TOURIST, BUT AN OFFICIAL

Soldiers Committed No Acts of Cruelty Except When Ordered by Officers and Then Under Earnest Protests.

NEW YORK, May 16.—General Nelson A. Miles in a statement in regard to the Philippines says he went to the Philippine Islands not as a tourist, but in an official character, and that the instructions addressed to him as lieutenant general, "commanding the army," came from the highest authority—viz, the president—in which he was directed to give especial attention to the "instruction, discipline and supplies of the army."

In referring to his official report on the Philippines General Miles says that "no one can have a more sacred regard for the honor of the army than myself."

Coming to the subject of cruelties in the Philippines, General Miles says:

"It is idle to assume that campaigning in the Philippines has conditions that warrant resort to mediæval cruelty and a departure from the honorable method of conducting warfare and that such departures as have existed should be overlooked and condoned.

"It is most gratifying that the serious offenses have not been committed by the soldiers unless they were under the direct orders of certain officers who were responsible. Soldiers have withheld fire when ordered to shoot prisoners, protested against acts of cruelty and written to relatives at home urging them to take action to put a stop to those crimes. It will ever be one of the glories of the army that such deeds committed by whatever authority are abhorrent to the American soldier. The officers who are responsible, using chiefly cruel Maccabebes, do not by any means constitute the American army, and there must be a very unmistakable line drawn between the great body of honorable and faithful officers and brave soldiers whose records have been commendable and those of whatever station whose acts have received and should receive the earnest condemnation of all honorable men."

Busche Confesses Corrupt Deals.

ST. LOUIS, May 16.—Unable to bear the strain of mental torture which he has suffered since the grand jury investigation into legislative boodling was instituted, former State Senator Fred L. Busche went before Attorney Folk and made a complete confession of his connection with corrupt deals extending over a period of eight years. Busche's declarations involve several men of prominence, and he names those who have been conspicuous at the state capital as distributors of boodle. Later Busche was taken before the grand jury, where he remained an hour. When he emerged from the jury room tears were streaming down his cheeks. With his face buried in his handkerchief he hurried away.

Jiminez Gets Cool Reception.

SANTO DOMINGO, May 16.—General Jiminez, who was deposed from the presidency of Santo Domingo by General Horacio Vasquez, who in turn was driven out by General Wos y Gil, the present president, on his arrival here from New York was given a cool reception. The Opposition party has published a manifesto in which it strongly expresses the hope that Generals Jiminez and Wos y Gil will come to an understanding and thus prevent further disturbances. Quiet prevails here, and business is improving.

The W. C. T. U.'s Off For Geneva.

NEW YORK, May 16.—The delegates from the United States to the biennial convention of the world's W. C. T. U., which will be held at Geneva, Switzerland, on June 9, 10 and 11, sailed today on the steamer Minnehaha. Among the delegates are Mrs. L. M. M. Stevens of Maine, national president; Miss Alma Gordon of Illinois, national vice president, and Mrs. Jennie Hart Sibley, president of the Georgia W. C. T. U. The delegates from the United States number about seventy-five.

Civil War Veteran Dead.

SARATOGA, N. Y., May 16.—Captain John Williams, a civil war veteran, is dead. He served in the Seventy-seventh New York infantry and was afterward transferred to the navy, serving on the gunboats Pittsburg and Essex on the Mississippi river. He was wounded twice, once during the engagement with the Confederate ram Arkansas and again at Fort Hudson.

Manhattan "L" Makes Good Money.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 16.—The report of the Manhattan Elevated Railway company for the quarter ending March 31, 1903, has been filed here. It shows gross earnings of $3,230,064, an increase of $351,826 over last year; operating expenses, $1,464,128, an increase of $63,750 over last year, leaving net earnings of $1,765,936, an increase of $288,078.

Street Cars Collide.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 16.—Two street cars, the second and last in a string of three cars, bearing a trolley party of officers and delegates of the national convention of Royal Neighbors, collided here during the evening. Ten women were more or less injured, three of whom are hurt seriously.

Can't Plow For Want of Rain.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., May 16.—It is just one month since rain or snow has fallen in this vicinity. Farmers are complaining, as it is almost impossible to plow on clay land.

GENERAL BELL'S RETURN.

Secretary Root Says Rice Transaction Is Closed Incident.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—General J. Franklin Bell, who recently returned from the Philippines, had quite a long conference with Secretary Root. The sale of rice during the campaign in Batangas, which recently has been the subject of comment on account of criticism in the report of General Miles, was not mentioned during the conference.

Secretary Root considers the whole rice transaction a closed incident. He has been cognizant of all the facts for some time and regards the action of General Bell as one of military necessity and holds that General Bell would have been remiss in his duty had he not acted as he did.

The secretary also says that the action was not unprecedented, as has been charged, but was similar to the action taken in Porto Rico when that island was swept by the hurricane. The secretary found when the rice matter was first investigated by the department that it had the approval of the officers in command of the civil authorities in the Philippines.

General Bell will command the military school at Fort Leavenworth, Kan.

A HUNDRED VETOES.

Governor Odell Has Practically Completed Legislation Pruning.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 16.—Governor Odell practically finished up legislation last night by vetoing a hundred bills and signing thirty-four. He has still several bills of importance, including the L'Hommedieu railroad bill, on which, it is understood, he will write a special veto. The governor signed the state barber examining bill, reversing his judgment of a few days ago. This practically completes a larger chain of labor bills signed by Governor Odell than ever signed by any previous governor.

The governor signed the Bailey bill regulating the speed of automobiles at various speeds in various localities and compelling the issue of a license by the secretary of state. This bill is the one at first approved by the automobile interests and afterward repudiated by them. The governor approves it in the interest of the general public, not automobile owners. The governor also approved the bill of Assemblyman Morgan to extend the life of the commission to examine into delays in the administration of justice in New York city.

GROUT CHARGES COAL FRAUDS.

Armory Board Purchased High Priced Coal of Poor Quality.

NEW YORK, May 16.—Comptroller Grout called upon the district attorney's office to investigate what he characterizes as gross frauds and roguery on the part of an official in the armory board in connection with the purchase of coal for that department during the past winter.

The comptroller was not prepared to give out a detailed statement as to how these alleged fraudulent purchases were made. He said, however, that he has been conducting an investigation for some time and secured sufficient evidence to bring the matter to the attention of the district attorney, with a request to submit it to the grand jury.

Assistant District Attorney Clark later visited the comptroller's office and received sufficient evidence in the matter to submit to the grand jury. Mr. Clark said that it would seem from the papers in his possession that coal had been purchased last winter for the armory board at $9 a ton that was nothing more than dirt.

Several boat loads of this coal had been delivered to the various armories in the city.

LORENZO MET DEATH BRAVELY.

Guerrilla Chief Shot For Political Crimes.

PANAMA, May 16.—Victoriano Lorenzo, the Indian chief who was a leader of guerrillas during the recent revolution, was sentenced to death by a court martial on charges of having committed serious crimes while in the field and was executed by shooting here.

Governor Mutis and the consular representatives petitioned General Briceno, the military commander on the isthmus, to postpone the execution until the government at Bogota had had time to answer a cablegram sent it asking that the Indian's sentence be changed to life imprisonment. General Briceno refused this petition, saying an exemplary punishment was necessary.

The shooting of Lorenzo has created a profound impression here, as it is the first execution for a political crime to occur in Panama, and Lorenzo faced death bravely. Before he was shot he said he had only been an accomplice and not the principal in the crimes of which he was accused.

New Name For Maryland Fortress.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—Fort Armistead, Maryland, has changed its name to Battery McFarland in honor of Major Daniel McFarland, Twenty-third United States infantry, killed July 25, 1814, at the battle of Lundy's Lane, Canada.

Pepper Presented at Lima.

LIMA, Peru, May 16.—Charles M. Pepper, United States Pan-American railroad commissioner, was presented to President de Romana by United States Minister Dudley. The president is much interested in Mr. Pepper's mission.

Bulgarian Cabinet Resigns.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, May 16.—The Bulgarian cabinet has resigned. Prince Ferdinand accepted its resignation and summoned M. Petkoff, leader of the Stambuloff party. It is possible that a coalition cabinet may be formed.

FREE TO ALL HOUSEKEEPERS!

THE "1900" FAMILY WASHER FREE!

The "1900" Ball-Bearing Family Washing Machine is Absolutely Indispensable in Every Home Because it Makes Wash Day a Pleasant Instead of a Dreaded Duty.

It is a very Simple Invention, Based on an Entirely New Principle, which Saves Time, Labor and Expense of Washing Clothes.

No Rubbing, No Stooping, No Boiling and No Wearing Out of Clothes. Can Be Operated While Sitting on a Chair.

SENT ABSOLUTELY FREE!

Express Prepaid in Newark or Vicinity, and Freight Prepaid Both Ways to Any Point in the U. S. Without Advance Payment or Deposit, on 30 Days' Trial.

In order to prove to the most skeptical that the "1900" Ball-Bearing Family Washer is unquestionably the greatest Home Labor Saving Machine ever invented, we will send you one absolutely free, without deposit or advance payment of any kind, express prepaid in Newark or vicinity, and freight prepaid both ways to any point in the U. S. on 30 DAYS' TRIAL. If you like it you can pay for it, either in cash or on the instalment plan, at the end of the 30 days' trial. If you don't like it, all you have to do is to ship it back to us at our expense. You run no risk, no expense, no obligations whatever.

The "1900" Ball-Bearing Washer is unquestionably the greatest labor saving machine ever invented for family use. Entirely new principle. It is simplicity itself. There are no wheels, paddles, rockers, cranks or complicated machinery. It revolves on bicycle ball-bearings, making it by far the easiest running washer on the market. No strength required; a child can operate it.

No more stooping, rubbing, boiling of clothes. Hot water and soap all that are needed. It will wash large quantities of clothes (no matter how soiled) perfectly clean in six minutes. Impossible to injure the most delicate fabrics. Saving in wear and tear of clothes, to say nothing of the saving in soap and materials, pays for a machine in a short time.

The "1900" Washer forces the whole body of water back and forth through the fibres, the whole tub full at a time. Revolving as it does on ball-bearings, the labor is reduced to almost nothing, and the result obtained is far superior to anything that can be done by hand.

Other washers leave the wristbands, collars and the worst soiled places unfinished, but the "1900" Washer forces the water through every fabric. The principle upon which the machine operates is directly opposite to that of any other.

Other machines move the clothes through the water, but this machine forces the water through the clothes, and rubs them at the same time.

Carpets and Bed Spreads are heavy, and hard things to wash, but the "1900" Washer handles them as easily and cleans them as well as it does collars and cuffs and laces.

HOW IT OPERATES.

The operator turns it to the right and to the left about half way around each time. To make it work as nearly automatic as possible, it is provided with two oil-tempered coiled springs which engage at each extreme point and help to reverse the motion. The machine moves uninterruptedly until it reaches the point where it should be reversed, then it comes in contact with the force of these springs and like the action of a rubber ball, bounds back, meeting the spring force again at the other extremity.

ACTUAL PROOF.

Briggs Ave., Morris Park, N. Y., Feb. 19, 1902.

Inclosed please find bill for Washer, with cash for same. I can hardly express my satisfaction with the machine, and thoroughly agree with you that the first time you use it you like it, but the more you use it the better you like it. I did not believe it possibly could do what you claimed, but thought it must have some good points, or you would not venture to send on free trial. The free trial is a splendid idea, as I never should have been induced by any amount of advertisements to invest my money to find out if it was a good machine. I stood amazed as I lifted the articles from the washer on my first trial, articles that as I put them in were so soiled that I exclaimed: "Oh, yes, they'll come o t clean and white—?" But they certainly did! I have three little ones and plenty of washing, and pretty much soiled generally, but my only regret is that I did not have the washer years ago, and thus have saved myself very much. Thanking you for being the means of robbing washday of its terrors, I am,

10 Greenleaf Ave., West New Brighton, March 1, 1902.

Inclosed find money order to pay for Washer as per agreement on thirty days' trial. The machine is satisfactory in every manner. I am very much pleased with it. I will try and induce some of my friends to invest. MRS. F. DEPPE.

Box 194, Oyster Bay, N. Y., April 23, 1902.

Inclosed please find money order. The Washer is all you claim it to be—satisfactory in every respect. Yours truly, HENRY STAPLES.

592 Amsterdam Ave., New York, Feb. 24, 1902.

I herewith send you postal money order as payment for the Washing Machine. I am very satisfied with the machine. It works easy and cleans the clothes thoroughly. MRS. A. LUNDIN.

New Rochelle, N. Y., Feb. 14, 1902.

By an oversight due to the pressure of other matters I find that I have delayed beyond thirty days. I trust, however, that you will still be willing to accept the enclosed check and allow me the cash discount. The Washer has proved perfectly satisfactory, and I am told that we could not get along without it. A. E. WALRADT.

REMEMBER, you take absolutely no risk, incur no expense or obligation whatever. The washer is sent by us on 30 days' trial, express prepaid in Newark or vicinity, and freight prepaid both ways to any point in the U. S. and positively without any advance or deposit of any kind.

Morris Park Record Lowered.

NEW YORK, May 16.—After the running of the second race at Morris park the stewards of the meeting ordered that the entries of J. Gardner and the horse Dr. Riddle be refused and the license of Trainer William Howell be suspended and the case reported to the Jockey club. The second race was a selling affair for three-year-olds and upward at seven furlongs, and fourteen horses went to the post. Miss Buttermilk, at 40 to 1, was returned the winner. Dr. Riddle was a wild horse, refusing to go to the post, and after the race his rider, Salling, had to dismount at the eighth pole instead of the judges' stand. Waswift, second choice, won the New Rochelle handicap and also lowered the track record for seven and a half furlongs by running the distance in 1:33, which is a second faster than Slipthrift's time, made last year.

Good Sport at Worth.

CHICAGO, May 16.—The fourth race at Worth, a free handicap at one mile for three-year-olds and upward, brought together three American Derby candidates in Gregor K., Rankin and Prince of Endurance. All three colts had a good following. Gregor K., backed from 12 to 5 to 5 to 2, won the race by a length from Prince of Endurance, with Sarah Maxim third. Rankin stumbled and nearly went down at the first turn, losing whatever chance he may have had. In the third race, for two-year-olds, St. Paula, backed down from 75 to 1 to 60 to 1, ran second to Determination, the prohibitive favorite. St. Paula was the contender all the way and finished five lengths in front of Bernice. The weather was clear and the track at its best.

A Phenomenal Finish.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 16.—The feature event at Churchill Downs, a handicap at seven furlongs, was won by Wain-a-Moinen, with Bummer II. second and Esherin third. Wain-a-Moinen was the favorite. The first race furnished the best finish of the meeting, ten of the twelve starters finishing within two lengths of the winner and Amorous, Little Corker and Jake Greenberg, first, second and third respectively, noses apart.

Three Cornered Golf.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., May 16.—A three cornered golf tournament is being arranged between the golf teams of Columbia, Cornell and Pennsylvania universities to be played two days before the intercollegiate boat races. The use of the links of the Dutchess County Golf club will be granted for the tournament.

Lipton's Auto Goes Too Fast.

GOUROCK, Scotland, May 16.—The wind during the afternoon blew a full gale, and the Shamrocks remained at their moorings in Gourock bay. Sir Thomas Lipton's chauffeur was fined $10 for furiously driving an automobile in bringing Designer Fife here from Fairlie.

Columbia Defeated Cornell.

NEW YORK, May 16.—Columbia's baseball team defeated the Cornell nine at American League park by the score of 2 to 0. Both pitchers, Gearin and Bristol, were effective, but the home team made no errors, while three misplays were charged to the visitors.

Chicago Freightmen Threaten.

CHICAGO, May 16.—The freight handlers' unions of Chicago, with a membership of about 9,000, have made demands upon every railroad in the city for a 25 per cent increase in wages, effective June 15. Copies of the demands were placed before the proper officials, with a request that answer be made or conferences arranged before June 1.

RUSSIA'S DISGRACE.

Jewish Massacre Horrors at Kishineff Related.

UNSPEAKABLY CRUEL TO HEBREWS

Women and Even Children Received No Mercy at the Hands of a Fanatic Mob of Moujiks.

KISHINEFF, Bessarabia, Southern Russia, May 16.—A detailed story of brutality shown in the massacre of the Jews in this city have been furnished by Dr. Doroschewski, head physician of the National hospital. He is a Russian, anti-Hebrew in sentiment. He says:

"It is impossible to relate to you all that has transpired at the massacre of Kishineff. The entire affair might be compared to the outbreak of a volcano pouring down lava. The frightened women and children hid themselves in cellars and garrets, but even there the mob searched them out. Women were dragged by their hair and their heads crushed against the stone walls.

"Sura Fonarschi, a Jewess, was brought here with two nails seven inches long driven into her brain. She died.

"One Jew who was brought in had one hip and both ankles and wrists broken, his severed hands and feet dangling by the skin.

"Forty-seven were killed on the spot, eighty died of their injuries and 300 are under treatment. Many will be cripples for life."

Correspondents of the St. Petersburg papers here say that the massacre was organized and abetted by the Russian authorities. For some days before the Russian Easter the air was thick with rumors of coming attacks on the Jews. The Bessarabetz, an anti-Semite paper, daily incited the populace to outrage. The Jews in terror asked protection from the authorities, but were told to go home and nothing would befall them. The vice governor refused to interfere with the publication of the Bessarabetz. All the authorities did was to inaugurate a campaign of expulsion of the Jews from the villages in Bessarabia, on the ground that they had no right to live there.

Reported Massacre Denied.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 16.—The reports of a great Jewish massacre at Tirospol, Russia, are pronounced here to be without foundation.

ROOSEVELT IN THE MOUNTAINS.

He Visits the Big Tree Country on Horseback.

AHWAHNEE, Cal., May 16.—President Roosevelt and party arrived here by stagecoaches, completing the first half of their journey to the big tree country. Luncheon was served, and the party then proceeded to the big trees. The ride from Raymond was a dusty one, and the members of the party presented a bedraggled appearance as the coaches drove up to the station.

At Grub Gulch the president was presented with flowers by a number of little girls. He alighted from the stage and shook hands with his small admirers and spoke a few words of greeting to the grown folks assembled there.

After partaking of luncheon the president began to ascend the mountains. The day was perfect, bright and clear, and as he went higher and higher he saw the plains of the San Joaquin stretching to the far distant Coast range. He arrived at the entrance of the Mariposa big tree grove late in the afternoon, where he was met by a detachment of horse and two forest rangers with two saddle horses. The president rode among the grand Sequoias and through the park on horseback, accompanied by John Muir, who is familiar with the big tree country and the Yosemite National park.

Mackay In Boston Jail.

BOSTON, May 16.—Eric F. B. Mackay in court here was charged with an assault with intent to kill upon F. H. Holbrook Thursday afternoon in the offices of the United Drug company. The case was continued two weeks, Mackay being sent to jail in default of $3,000 bail. In addition to the charge mentioned, two others of assault with a dangerous weapon were made against Mackay by H. H. Stacy, the manager of the drug company, and Samuel J. Thompson, who was driven from his wagon at the point of a revolver during Mackay's flight down Huntington avenue after the shooting.

PLAINFIELD'S HOSPITAL.

Public attention is again attracted to Muhlenberg Hospital by the graduation exercises of the training school connected with the hospital. Two nurses have completed their course at the school and are now ready to actively enter their profession. A number have already graduated from that institution and are now numbered among the most successful of the trained nurses in this city.

Considerable was said at the exercises concerning the new home for the hospital. A portion of the building, as planned, is nearly completed but lack of funds will prevent the erection of all the wards desired. The Women's Auxiliary is making special efforts to raise sufficient money to build a suitable nurses' home, a very necessary adjunct to the hospital.

There is no institution of which Plainfield can be more proud than its hospital. Even in the present quarters, which are admittedly inadequate to answer the demands upon it, it compares favorably with hospitals throughout the State and can show a higher standard of efficiency than most. The old time prejudice against hospitals has largely died away here and there are hundreds who yearly take advantage of its benefits.

Most remarkable is the story that comes from Piscataway township to the effect that the great coal storage plant of the Lehigh Valley Coal and Navigation Company, which is owned and controlled by the Lehigh Valley Railroad, has not been taxed for eleven years owing to a misunderstanding on the part of the township officials who supposed that, like the railroads, it was taxed by the State. While an exact comparison of figures is not attainable, it seems within reason when it is said that the plant itself is equal to that of all of the rest of the township. It is said that Assessor Bunting is going to attempt to collect the back taxes if, after investigation, he finds that it is correct. It hardly seems probable that the law will give him the right to go back considering the existing conditions.

The request for an additional Plainfield train to leave New York shortly after 4 o'clock in the afternoon seems altogether reasonable. The number of patrons of the road who are obliged to wait from a half to three quarters of an hour for the 4:40 train out is sufficient to secure for the petition which has been submitted a careful hearing at least, and this, it is assured, the management of the road has promised. A half hour's additional time for golf or tennis during the summer season would be an accommodation deeply appreciated by many.

Today sees the opening of the season for the new Association Baseball League. Two games will be played this afternoon and on their success as games is likely to depend the success of the new organization. If good lively contests are furnished, then the new league is going to gather good crowds to its games for where the good ball playing is there will be found the people.

The Jersey Central's new ferryboat, Plainfield, is expected to be launched this afternoon. The builders have delayed far beyond the date the craft was promised to the Central but it looks as if the day was not very distant when it would be ready to do duty on the Liberty street ferry.

Street sprinkling and a new telephone company are the topics of the most interest that are likely to come before the Common Council at its meeting Monday evening.

SUBURBAN NEWS

DUNELLEN.

The Dunellen A. C. is planning to celebrate the Fourth of July here in a very novel way. The celebration will be somewhat after the plan of Hope chapel Y. M. A. county fair last year and will comprise athletic events such as racing, etc., baseball games and fireworks at night. If the plans finally decided upon, a committee will get to work and secure attractions and make plans in order to make the occasion a success.

The Dunellen A. C. will offer the strong Y. M. C. A. team, winners in last season's City League, as an attraction, this afternoon. The locals will present a strong line-up. Ettinger and McQuade will be on the points for the locals and Keefe and Barry for the Y. M. C. A.

An amusing feature of the baseball craze in this place is the avidity with which the younger boys take hold of the game. There are several teams comprised of boys from six to ten years of age and their performance of the national game is extremely laughable.

Rev. N. J. Sproul, of the Presbyterian church will exchange pulpits tomorrow with Rev. Mr. Simanton, of Califon. Mr. Simanton will preach at both morning and evening services.

The Watchung A. C. will play the team from Levering & Garrigues' factory this afternoon on the Lincoln avenue grounds.

Mrs. Charles W. Smalley, of South Orange, has been spending the week at the home of Mrs. L. B. Nelson.

Albert L. Orr, of Summit, owner of several houses in the borough, died at his home Monday evening.

The monthly meeting of the Building and Loan Association will be held Monday evening.

The Dunellen Juniors played a game with the Clinton Avenue Juniors this morning.

R. J. Swackhamer still remains in a serious condition at his home.

Miss May Apgar has been entertaining a cousin from out of town.

City water is being put in the residence of Joseph Apgar.

NEW MARKET.

The death occurred yesterday at his home in Raritan Landing, of Abram Vermeule, one of the oldest and best known residents of that place. Mr. Vermeule was eighty-three years of age and was well-known throughout this section of the county. He is the man who built the First Baptist church at this place and his name is engraved in the corner stone.

Township Supervisor Cathers has resigned his position and J. Alfred Wilson has been secured as his successor.

A number of rooters will a company the ball team to Millstone today and root for victory in the game with that team.

Miss Nellie Tabb is entertaining a friend from out of town.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

The members of the Epworth League will observe the anniversary of the league at the Methodist church Sunday evening. No preaching service will be held. A programme appropriate to the day has been prepared and the public is cordially invited to attend the exercises.

The Farther Light Society, of the Baptist church, is arranging for an interesting meeting of the society to be held Friday afternoon of next week in the parlors of the church. Mrs. Foster, one of the State workers of the society, will be the speaker.

Grand street is being improved by Street Commissioner Bruchmann. The road bed has been plowed up and is being rolled. When finished this end of town will have as good streets as any part of the village.

One of the best baseball games of the season is scheduled for this afternoon when the locals meet the strong team of the Manganese Steel Safe Company on the local diamond. Play will be called at 3:45.

The Saturday evening dances at Earle's pavillion are growing in favor with the young people of Plainfield. Naylor's orchestra will furnish the music for the weekly dances during the summer.

Property owners along Park avenue are beginning to complain of the dirt and stones which have been left in the gutters by the water company when it laid the water mains through the village.

The test of the water main on Bartle avenue, Thursday night, was not entirely satisfactory for some reason. There was not enough pressure to throw a stream over an ordinary house.

Services at the Baptist church tomorrow will be: Sunday-school, 9:30; morning preaching by pastor, 10:45; P. Y. P. U. service, 7; evening sermon, 7:45.

The women of the Public Library are busily engaged preparing for the library fair to be held in the hall during the early part of June.

A meeting of the board of trustees of the Methodist church was held at the close of the prayer meeting in the church last night.

Miss Mary Westcott, who has been taking a course at Peddie Institute, has returned to her home for the summer vacation.

The High School team will journey to Elizabeth, Wednesday afternoon, to meet the Pingry School team.

LeRoy Day, local agent for the Olive wheel, has received a new consignment of the silent steeds.

The Township Committee transacted routine business at its meeting in the town rooms last night.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

H. E. Cruser, telegraph operator, and Boiling Hexall, clerk at the Lehigh Valley station, this place, had a very exciting fox chase recently. But the fox, after being captured, turned out to be Mr. Delafield's Great Dane.

Mrs. Patrick Geary, who has been seriously ill a few days, is somewhat better today.

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Smith have been entertaining company from Brooklyn.

Miss Sadie Mack, of Metuchen, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Maguire.

HAS STRANGE POWER

California Woman Who Can Hypnotize the Insane.

The Thrilling Adventure in Which She First Demonstrated Her Influence—Asylum Authorities Solicit Her Assistance.

Mrs. Johanna Gertz, a frail little California woman, living 12 miles from Los Angeles, has discovered that she has a remarkable power over insane persons, and she is using it in an extraordinary way.

Mrs. Gertz lives in a lonely section with only one neighbor, a circumstance that first called into play her strange gift of hypnotism.

Not long ago, about noon, Mrs. Gertz was at the kitchen table preparing luncheon, when the outer door flew open and a wild-eyed, disheveled man rushed in, grabbed her by the arm and shouted: "Make haste! you must be ready to go with me in five minutes!"

"Go where?" calmly inquired Mrs. Gertz, looking squarely into his eyes.

"Through space to the region of pain and sorrow. Hurry; there is not a moment to lose! If we are not off in ten minutes I must kill you."

This was enough to frighten any ordinary woman beyond power of action, but Mrs. Gertz is not an ordinary woman. Besides, she had her three children to think of. Her husband would not return until night; Mrs. Fiske, her only neighbor, was beyond call.

All this flashed through her mind as she stood with her calm eyes fixed on the wild ones of the maniac, who had taken out a block of wood in the shape of a watch and stood as though waiting for the allotted ten minutes to elapse before springing at Mrs. Gertz.

Mrs. Gertz endeavored to divert the madman's thoughts from herself. "Ask for Tom," she suggested.

"Where's Tom?" shrieked the man.

"Out in the orchard," Mrs. Gertz replied. "Will you call him?"

Off raced the man toward the orchard, and off flew Mrs. Gertz with her three children, to the home of Mrs. Fiske.

"Lock the children in the house and come over to my house right away!" she called. "There is a crazy man there, and I must get him to the asylum before he harms any one. I am going to try hypnotising him, and I believe I can do it!"

Dashing back to her own yard, Mrs. Gertz met the man striding toward her. She raised her hand with a commanding gesture and, standing perfectly still, said, in a ringing voice: "Peace!"

Instantly the wild look left the maniac's eyes and he stood rigid. Going close to him, her eyes never wavering, she placed her hand upon his forehead, drew it down over his eyes, and commanded him, mentally, to open the front gate and sit outside on the ground until she came.

Wheeling around, the man strode off obeying her implicitly.

Mrs. Gertz followed him, and when he was seated passed her hand once more over his eyes and suggested that he go to sleep. He fell back in a deep slumber.

In the meantime Mrs. Fiske, by Mrs. Gertz' orders, had harnessed the horse to a double-seat carriage and stood, with a gun cocked, awaiting her friend's next move. Mrs. Gertz took the man by the arm, and her mind ordered him to awake. She then commanded him to get in the carriage and sit on the floor between the seats, all the while suggesting "peace, peace."

With not the slightest resistance, the man did as he was commanded. The two women placed themselves on the front seat. Mrs. Fiske driving and Mrs. Gertz keeping watch of the now thoroughly hypnotized man, ready to put her hand on his forehead at the least sign of violence.

The officials at the Highlands asylum questioned Mrs. Gertz regarding her adventure, and three physicians connected with the institution, specialists in insanity, were called in.

Mrs. Gertz gave an exhibition of her hypnotic power by going through the wards and subduing the ravings of the inmates. The New York World says that her assistance was solicited in removing dangerous victims of insanity from their homes to the asylum, and she was also requested to pay daily visits to the institution for the purpose of controlling the most unruly members, and by her wonderful power assisting in the cure of the least hopeless.

AN IDEAL LOCATION.

BEAUTIFUL AND ACCESSIBLE.
2 Miles from Elizabeth. 7 Miles from Newark
14 Miles from New York.
Linden, New Jersey.
ON MAIN LINE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries
Largest Burial Parks IN THE State.

Transportation Facilities superior to those of any other cemetery, as to number of trains, railroad fare, time and distance.

These New Cemeteries, now being developed on the modern park plan, are attracting universal attention.

By Reason of Location Alone they are destined, in a very short time, to become the best-known Cemeteries in the country and, with their natural advantages, the most beautiful and desirable in which to purchase lots.

They are Accessible from every quarter and within easy reach of over 4,000,000 people, and, considering the steady and rapidly increasing growth of Greater New York and its tributary cities and towns, it is only the question of a short time before plots in Rosedale and Linden Park will equal in value those of our most noted cemeteries.

Popular Favor has already been shown to a marked degree in the sale of lots, several hundred having been sold to residents in Elizabeth, Linden, Rahway, Cranford, Jersey City, Orange, Paterson, Westfield, Newark and New York City, and a large number of interments have been made.

In the Days of Happiness we do not know what is to befall us or when the inevitable will occur; therefore, it is a wiser precaution to make provision for a final resting place during health and life than to force the painful duty on one's friends or relatives after death. A place of burial will be needed sooner or later by every one, and no one should neglect selecting a suitable and proper place until future postponement is impossible.

Linden Lodge is the largest, most modern and best equipped Cemetery Lodge in the country, and is provided with every requisite for the comfort and convenience of visitors who come to inspect the properties.

The Advancing Army of New Women

I AM going to tell you a story proving the possibility of attaining your ideals if you work toward them faithfully and long enough, holding fast to them meanwhile as to life itself. More than a generation ago a German girl went to Cincinnati. She was very young, very quiet and retiring and she had no money at all. But she had a good musical education and an enthusiasm for music that lifted her to the plane of the gods. Cincinnati was rather provincial then, having neither its great music hall nor its beautiful art museum. There was no great desire for music culture. The young German girl, Clara Baur, began giving singing lessons to any pupils she could get, and they were not many at first. But the girl teacher had even then an ideal. It was of a noble school of music, in which the art harmonic should be taught in all its branches, horn, string and human voice. She was so sweet tempered, so earnest and enthusiastic, as well as such an excellent instructor, that she gained friends and patrons rapidly. In a little while she opened a small conservatory of music. She stuck to business faithfully, never letting her enthusiasm flag, which was the main thing after all. What is also important, she never let down for a moment in her high ideals of music. Pupils increased. Miss Baur worked hard still, both for love and money. She was only a little woman and she was alone, but full of grit and genius. She saved her earnings, not with the idea of retiring from work, but of building a home for music. At last she has succeeded in her plan. A conservatory of music costing $100,000, with a beautiful concert hall, has lately been erected by the indefatigable little lady and it is all her own.

Did you ever take a walk bareheaded in the warm rain? The raindrops contain atoms of the liquid gold of life which the sun rays send to the sweet old earth to make her blossom and bring forth. The raindrops in the face soften and feed the skin; they soak into the roots of the hair and invigorate it; they cool the fretted, fevered scalp and brain. The rain bath is uncommonly promotive of health and good looks. Wear some old cotton garments thin enough for the soft rain to penetrate, stay in the falling shower till you are soaked through, then go home, remove the saturated garments and rub yourself briskly till you are dry. You will feel like a new woman. In the tropics the natives do not remove their clothing after being caught in one of the rains that tumble out of the sky by the bucketful. They simply go about their business in the sunshine till they dry off and are all the better for their rain bath.

The old fashioned scold is disappearing from the earth, eternal rest to her! You seldom hear the incessant "scold, scold, jaw, jaw," that used to be the special prerogative of the old woman. In the days when woman was oppressed grievously by man the only way in which she could get even with him was by lashing him with her tongue, and we have the evidence of history in the ducking-stool that she availed herself of the privilege. Old women used to rate all creation by the hour. But it has been many a year since I have heard a real, old fashioned scold. As woman gets her rights she ceases to scold.

Never tell your ailments to anybody but your doctor and never tell your troubles at all. The desire to do so arises from a morbid craving for sympathy, a craving you ought to squelch. When you draw on others' sympathies, you are a vampire feeding on them. They have troubles of their own, and you have no right to exhaust their nerve force.

Recently in New York city a man was taken with a laughing fit. He just began and laughed and laughed and laughed for a week without any known cause. His unnatural mirth infected others, so that the moment they saw him they, too, began to giggle and snicker without any cause except just the catchiness of the thing. At last he was taken to a hospital, where after several days the laughing attack left him. Then he was discharged cured. But the curious point in this case is that never once did anybody, physician or layman, say the man had hysterics. If he had been a woman, now!

The editor of the much talked of women's daily newspaper in Chicago is reported as having said that the new journal is not going to be a champion of woman suffrage. Then what's the good of it? What is the need of it? It is foredoomed to failure.

Talk of woman and her many clubs! August Belmont belongs to twenty-five, William C. Whitney to twenty-two, President Roosevelt himself to ten, while one New York man, William G. Davies, is a member of forty-two.

"I am my own confidential agent," says Hetty Green, the richest woman in America.

A woman with trailing skirts in the street was lately caught by a wind that whirled her around till her feet were tangled in her train and she was helpless. Then the wind hurled her to the sidewalk, her head striking the curbstone and getting a severe wound. Served her right for wearing those impeding and unclean skirts.

ELIZA ARCHARD CONNER.

By WALKER KENNEDY.

Copyright, 1903, by A. N. Kellogg Newspaper Co.

"Let me make a suggestion to you. Go back to Mrs. Wright to-morrow and find out whether she has any proof that the old pistol was there yesterday morning; if she has not, perhaps some of her neighbors could tell whether anybody visited the house while she was away. If you can find the man who put the pistol there, you are in a fair way to find the man who killed John T. Wright."

"I'll go out there to-morrow and see what I can do. In the mean time I must turn in this new link of evidence against that young fellow."

The detective retired, and Warde mused awhile before resuming his work. It was indeed singular that while the mystery was deepening, at the same time the visible proofs were accumulating against Wright. He had more reason now than ever to believe that a still darker crime that involved something besides murder lay beyond the prima facie case that had been made out. For the first time he felt that he was contending with an unseen antagonist, and that while he was endeavoring to clear the name of Herbert Wright some one was fighting him step by step and was trying to fasten the guilt upon the young man. It could not be the authorities. They were, of course, merely doing their duty to the best of their ability and they could not be expected to yield anything to the sentimental side of the case.

From this time on Warde never ceased to feel that he and the unseen were engaged in a desperate game, in which a human life was involved. He silently accepted the unwritten challenge to battle and made up his mind that he would not be defeated.

The next morning Nilus was treated to a sensation, the startling evidence obtained by the authorities being supplemented by an exclusive piece of news published in the Journal. When Warde sat down to breakfast and picked up that paper he was cold with amazement at what he read, for in large, glaring headlines, he saw that Herbert Wright, "stung by a guilty conscience, had endeavored to take his own life." The attempt, it seemed, was discovered by the "alert and tireless jailer," who had promptly sent for a physician, and the young man's life was saved. Wright had taken morphine, but the physician, who had arrived promptly, administered an emetic, and so checkmated the would-be suicide.

Warde was in despair when he read this. It was the virtual confession of a guilty conscience, and it would be useless to continue his investigations. As soon as he had swallowed his breakfast he jumped on a street car and went to the jail.

Wright was very glad to see him, and the jailer allowed the newspaper man and the prisoner to have an interview in the rotunda of the jail.

"You have read the Journal?" said Wright, with a smile.

"Yes, and it knocked me cold!"

"But I am prepared to astonish you."

"What do you mean?"

"Why, that account is a lie from beginning to end."

"Well, I am certainly glad to hear that."

"The fact is, an attempt was made here in the jail last night to poison me."

"To poison you!"

"Yes, to poison me. The drug was put into my food, and of course I ate it. I noticed a peculiar taste, and shortly afterward found myself growing very drowsy. I called for the jailer at once and told him I thought I had been drugged. Fortunately he had a doctor here in five minutes who detected the evidences of morphine and immediately took steps to relieve me. The eructation was preserved and examined at my request, and the doctor found that the poison in it would have rendered me a corpse in less than an hour."

"Have you found the man who made this attempt?"

"No, and I fear it will be impossible. It was agreed by the jailer, the doctor and myself to say nothing about it until a thorough investigation could be made. The poison could not have been put in accidentally by the cook, for no one else in the jail was effected. The food must have been poisoned after it was put into the bowl—my supper was a sort of gruel—and it must have been done by the man who handed me my bowl. I could not tell who did this, as several of the prisoners volunteer each day to act as waiters."

"Of course," said Warde, "you could not have a personal enemy among these men."

"Certainly not."

"It is evident that this poisoning scheme was designed outside of the jail, and that some one of the prisoners was bribed to slip the drug into your portion of the food."

"It looks that way beyond a doubt."

Irving Warde felt that the unseen antagonist was again at work. He shivered when he thought of the resources of his adversary, who could affect the changing of the pistols in the suburbs south of the city, and the attempted murder of a prisoner in the jail in the northern part of the town. He realized now that it was no ordinary foe that young Wright had to fight. Shrewd intelligence, an abundance of money, a command of ready tools, perfect unscrupulousness, and murder itself were all pitted against the man.

The attempt on Wright's life had one reassuring quality, it convinced Warde that the mind engineering these operations was not satisfied with the case already made out against the young man, otherwise the law might have been allowed to take its course. There were flaws in the evidence, fatal weaknesses which might lead to the discovery of the real criminal; and somehow the life of Herbert Wright stood in the way of the accomplishment of a veiled purpose. The same motive which demanded the life of John T. Wright now demanded that of his son; and Warde could not help thinking that some tremendous issue was at stake, or some far-reaching programme was in jeopardy from Herbert's being alive.

These thoughts were running rapidly through his mind while Wright continued to discuss the affair of the night before; and finally the reporter asked:

"If you three made up your minds to keep this thing secret, how did it leak out?"

"That I cannot say. The jailer says the only person who left the jail last night was the doctor. The doctor, who was here quite early, tells a rather curious tale. He says that at the nearest corner he was saluted by a rough-looking fellow who wore a red flanel shirt and whose face was covered with stubble. 'Is he dead, doctor?' asked this man. 'Who?' said the doctor. 'Why, Wright. I heard a nigger say that he had taken poison.' 'No, he is not dead,' replied the doctor. That was all that was said. It did not occur to the doctor till afterward that it would have been impossible for any news to have got out when all the prisoners were in their cells and the jailer alone could have communicated it to the outside world."

"Then the Journal reporter did not come here to get th facts?"

"No; he must have obtained them outside of the jail."

"This man in the red flannel shirt—was nothing further heard from him?"

"Nothing. But the jailer remembers that such a man had applied for admission to the jail yesterday to see a prisoner named Billy Maloney."

"Have you questioned Maloney?"

"Yes, and he tells a pretty straight story. He says that he never saw the stranger before, and that the man told him of a friend named Bill Maloney, and he came to see if this was the same fellow, but it was not. Maloney says the man hung around some time talking to the prisoners, but he did not pay any particular attention to him. He evidently got hold of the name of one of the prisoners and then carried out his scheme with another of them, if, indeed, he is the man who put up the poisoning job."

Wright asked that Warde should publish the facts in the Gazette and place him right before the public, the jailer corroborating all he had said.

During the afternoon Warde ran against John Holcombe, the city editor of the Journal, and asked him how he got the points about the suicide in jail.

Jim laughed and said: "I scooped you badly on that, didn't I, old man? That item was a bird."

"But I have some curiosity, Jim, to know how you got it. Who gave it to you?"

"I can't tell you that. The party who put me on made me promise not to give him away. He also made me promise not to go to the jail for it. Said he thought the authorities were trying to keep it dark, as it occurred shortly after supper, and nothing was known of it—at least not for publication—at the station house at midnight."

"He made a great guy of you, whoever he is."

"What do you mean?"

"Why, there is scarcely a word of truth in his story from beginning to end. The man did not try to commit suicide, and your report that he is not expected to recover is all bosh. I found him sitting up in the jailer's office smoking a cigar this morning."

TRADE CONDITIONS.

R. G. Dun & Co. Review the Week's Trade.

NEW YORK, May 16.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

Warmer weather has made it possible for the retail trade to regain part of the earlier losses in volume of transactions, and the level of quotations for staple lines of merchandise is well maintained. Wholesale trade in seasonable goods is quiet, although there is more or less supplementary business and jobbers report increased activity in several lines of wearing apparel. Clothing manufacturers are busy on fall samples, which are unusually late. Furniture and harness factories are notably well supplied with orders, and there is no evidence of dullness in machinery or hardware. At most points there are indications of improvement in mercantile collections, the favorable progress of farm work having a good influence at the interior, while heavy sales of fertilizers testify to the extensive preparation for large crops.

Industrial conditions would be exceptionally encouraging were it not for the vast army of men voluntarily idle. The numerous strikes exert more influence by disturbing confidence than by their direct effect upon business, and many undertakings of magnitude are being abandoned or remotely postponed because of this uncertainty regarding the future. Small gold exports are not cause for uneasiness with treasury vaults holding about $643,000,000, and it must be remembered that thus far this year the outgo has been exceptionally light.

Textile manufacturing conditions are extremely irregular, some improvement being noted at woolen mills, while cotton spinners are in a bad position. More business has been done in men's wear woolens and worsteds than at any recent date, tardy supplemental orders having at last begun to appear. Aside from a few exceptional cases in which small advances were secured, there are no alterations in prices.

Sales of a million bales of cotton options in one day and practically no business in the actual staple indicate the artificiality of the situation. Not only all the consumers, but most of the speculators, are certain that recent quotations have failed to express the value of the staple, and in the ultimate readjustment there must be a severe reaction.

Grain is extremely quiet in comparison with the sensational gyrations of the southern staple.

FRANCE AND THE MONKS.

Sympathy of the Populace Evidently With Capuchins.

PARIS, May 16.—The government is pursuing actively the repressive measures against unauthorized congregations. These measures are now principally confined to judicial action. The opposition to them seems practically to have ended, although the manifestations caused by the trials continue.

The trial of ten Capuchins at Lemans drew a crowd of 3,000 sympathizers around the courthouse. The monks were cheered, many women strewing flowers in their pathway. In court the superior of the Capuchins made an eloquent defense and was much applauded by those present. The Capuchins, however, were sentenced to pay a fine. After being sentenced the monks were escorted back to their convent by the crowd, which chanted the "Magnificat" on the way. Socialists attempted a counter manifestation at Lemans, but the sympathies of the crowd evidently were with the monks, and order was not disturbed.

Seven Redemptionists were arrested at Valence-sur-Rhone for refusing to leave their convent. They were led from the building by the police, escorted by several hundred of their friends, many of whom hugged and kissed them. The police finally placed the monks in the "Black Maria" and thus took them to prison, where they were locked up.

Amid many manifestations of sympathy several Capuchins were tried at Blois, convicted and fined.

The baseball game between St. Mary's and the St. Joseph nine, of Newark scheduled for this afternoon on St. Mary's grounds, has been cancelled at the request of St. Joseph.

In a very exciting game the Underwood A. A. defeated the Borough High School yesterday afternoon by the score of 9 to 8. The Underwoods played good all-round ball both in the field and at the bat. In the first inning the Underwoods scored twice. In the fourth and fifth once each, but in the eighth they knocked in four runs. Both pitchers were in great form, but Minford pitched much the better game, although he was hit hard at times, but at critical times he was always to be depended on. R. Taylor, Glenney and Daniel did the best at the bat. The batting order was:

ANOTHER LEAGUE.

One for Junior Teams Started at Y. M. C. A.—Three Teams Included.

Another baseball league was formed yesterday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. when three teams combined to play ball for the season. The league was a result of a meeting which was called for the purpose of talking over the project. The teams which form the league are the members of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. nine, the Whittier School, and the class of '06 of the City High School.

The league is officered by Kenneth Robbie, who is president and H. J. Rockwell, secretary. Another meeting will be held Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock when a schedule will probably be decided upon and other matters, pertaining to rules, etc. It is probable that the first game of the season will be played Saturday next. Schwed Brothers will put up a cup for the winning team.

JUVENILES IN COURT.

One Had Run Away to See His Grandmother, He Said.

There were several juvenile cases in court before Judge Runyon this morning. Austin Frederick and C. Emmons, arrested for yielding to their pugnacious dispositions last evening, were released on suspended sentence. William James, detained by the officers for running away from home, said he had been to see his grandmother. He was turned over to his parents.

Isaac M. Runyon, charged with having violated the ordinances of the Board of Health, was restrained by the court from a continuance of the offense.

The case of the State against Victor Conoko was postponed two weeks.

NEW DEPARTMENTS.

Provided for in Sunday-School of Trinity Reformed Church.

The quarterly meeting of the officers of teachers of Trinity Reformed church Sunday-school was held last evening in the church parlors. There was a good attendance, but little of importance was considered, except to make provisions for changes to the by-laws which were adopted in 1889. The by-laws will be changed to provide for the several new departments organized since they were drafted and to change the requisite number for a quorum to twelve. The annual excursion of the Sunday-school to Asbury Park will be held on Thursday, July 30, as previously determined upon.

Prize for Best Suggestions.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, May 16—In the Somerset County Courts yesterday the jury in the case of Samuel S. The appeal case of Francis S. Carr ads. Elizabeth Wright, of Bound Brook, was tried. The plaintiff's husband worked in a mill owned the defendant and often Mrs. Wright helped take in the grist and made the entries in the grist book. She sued for pay for doing same.

The jury awarded her the full amount claimed, a little over $87.

The business of the Plainfield Trust Company continues to increase steadily, deposits having now passed the $500,000 mark. This is a remarkable line of deposits for so young a company, and results, no doubt, in a large measure from the confidence felt by the public in its very strong directorate.

STORY OF HER CAPTURE

MME. TSILKA TELLS OF HER MEMORABLE TRIP WITH MISS STONE.

How They Were Captured by Turkish Brigands—Talks at the Congregational Church.

At the Congregational church last evening, Mme. Tsilka, the famous Macedonian missionary whose capture by brigands last year with Miss Helen M. Stone caused such general interest and sympathy, recounted her adventures most interestingly before a congregation which crowded the church to the doors.

The well-known story of her capture, long imprisonment, sufferings and final ransom was made doubly thrilling by reason of the personal note with which she was able to invest it. The human note in all Mme. Tsilka's stories, told at first hand, of terrible cruelties practised towards Christians; of her own trials and anxieties; of the hardships she suffered together with Miss Stone; of the birth of her child and its softening influence upon her captors; and of her release; appealed strongly to the listeners. And through it all ran the lesson that this was for the Christian church and the broadening and deepening of its influence.

Mme. Tsilka's talk was of peculiar interest from the fact that members of the Congregational church have assisted her in her labors, and that, earlier in her life, she was closely associated with them and with Plainfield.

BURGLARS APPEAR AGAIN

ROB HOUSE OF CHAS. L. JETER OF $49.75 IN CASH.

Prepare to Take Clothing As Well, But Are Frightened Away Too Soon.

While the family of Charles L. Jeter, of 35 Belmont avenue, was attending services in church last evening burglars entered the house and stole $49.75 in money. They had prepared to carry away some clothing but were frightened away before they succeeded in getting it together.

This is the third time in four years that the home of Mr. Jeter has been robbed. Entrance was effected through the kitchen window. Miss Ida Jeter entered the house before the rest of the family arrived and found the clothing and bedding strewn about the floor. She gave the alarm. Chief Marshal William Campbell was notified and he is now working up a clew.

Reform A. A.	1	0	1.000
Clinton Ave.	1	0	1.000
Cuban Giants	0	1	.000
Orange F. C.	0	1	.000

Saturday afternoon saw the opening of the Association Baseball League with two games. Fair crowds witnessed both and the playing in each game was sufficiently close to make it interesting. While all four teams need practice, the game were generally well played and very satisfactory to the management of the new league. The Reform A. A. won its game from the Cuban Giants by heavy batting in the last few innings, the score being 19 to 10. It was nip and tuck between the Orange Field Club and the Clinton Avenues until the latter finally won out 11 to 8.

The Reform A. A.-Cuban Giants game was played on the Arlington avenue grounds. For the first few innings it looked as if the colored lads were having the better of it. Then the heavy batters of the Reform A. A. began to connect with Davis' delivery and the runs began to mount up. Dick Scott and McGinley both scored home runs to the delight of the rooters. In the field, the Reform boys made several clever double plays.

The lineups were, Cuban Giants—Nelson, c; Hatchett, rf; Johnson, 2b; Davis, p; Peterson, cf; Moore, 3b; Hopkins, lf; Perkins, 1b; Simons, ss.

Reform A. A.—O'Loughlin, c; J. Scott, rf; Fitzpatrick, 2b; Degan, 1b; McGinley, 3b; Taylor, ss; Perrin, lf; Higgins, cf; D. Scott, p. Henry Apgar, umpire.

Score by innings:

Reform A. A... 1 0 0 2 2 4 1 6 3—19

A close game was played by the Orange Field Club and the Clinton Avenues on the Clinton avenue field. Clinton Avenue's heavy batters began on Galvin's delivery at once and, with the aid of a few errors, rolled the score up to 6 to 1 in the first two innings. Then the Orange F. C. nine settled down and began a hard uphill fight. While the fight was a plucky one it was not sufficient to win out in the end and, with the aid of some timely batting in the seventh, when three runs were netted, and scattered runs in the fifth and eighth, Clinton Avenue finished in front, 11 to 8.

The lineups of the two teams follow:

Orange Field Club—Emmons, rf; Sherwin, p; Hook, lf; McVoy, cf; (captain) Egan, 3b; Conover, ss; Feiring, 1b; Dowlner, 2b; Herman, c.

Clinton Avenue—Pangborn, 3b; Dodd, ss; Baker, c; Derflinger, rf; Starbuck, 2b; Saums, 1b; Dwyer, p; Bullmer, cf; and McGee, lf.

The score by innings of the Orange Field Club was as follows:

Clinton A..... 2 4 0 0 1 0 3 1 0—11

'PLAINS, 6; S. WORKS, 3.

About a thousand enthusiastic rooters witnessed the defeat Saturday afternoon of the Safe Works nine by Scotch Plains, 6 to 3, on the latter's grounds. The game was one of the prettiest and most exciting of the season, Davis for Scotch Plains served them up hot over the plate and eight men fanned his curves. All of Scotch Plains' runs were scored in the first four innings off Bradley, Breame who succeeded him, allowing only four scattered hits. Scotch Plains did some heavy stick work, with a total of fifteen hits. Summary:

HAS BEEN WORKING TWENTY-EIGHT YEARS

Anniversary of Ladies' Christian Work Society Observed at Trinity Ref. Church.

REPORTS WERE READ

SHOWED THE SOCIETY TO BE IN A FLOURISHING CONDITION.

Address of Evening Made by Rev. Mr. Barney, Returned Missionary From Arabia—He Told of the Work Done There.

The twenty-eighth anniversary of the Ladies' Christian Work Society, of Trinity Reformed church, was appropriately observed at the service in the church, last evening.

The reports of the secretary, Mrs. T. R. VanZandt, and the treasurer, Mrs. Robert Clark, Jr., were read by Robert Clark, Jr. The secretary's report showed that there are fifty-four active and ten honorary members. Ten meetings were held during the year with an average attendance of twenty-five. The missionary committee collected $74.20 during the year which was equally divided between the Foreign and Domestic Boards. There were special offerings for Indian Missions, Arabian Hospital Society, Mountain Whites, Student Volunteers, Arapahoe parsonage, Oklahoma and the W. C. T. U. Clothing and other donations were made to the Schofield School in South Carolina and a pledge of $10 a year for five years to help support a missionary in India, has been kept, making a total for all missionary purposes during the year of $203.37. The society also sent clothing to the various mission fields. The Needlework Guild received twenty-two articles and the visiting committee made 189 calls during the year.

The reception committee realized $36.26 from a "shoe social." In place of the usual January turkey supper, which was abandoned on account of the Westfield disaster, the society collected $93.38. At a tea given by the missionary league in the church parlor $5.72 was received. During the year two new members were added to the society roll.

The report of the treasurer showed the receipts for the missionary fund to be $90.20 and the expenditures the same. In the general fund there was a balance of $55.56 at the last report and the receipts for the year were $223.33. The expenditures were $126.06, leaving a balance of $97.27. This was divided as follows: Pastor's gown fund, $61.26; balance in general fund, $36.01.

Rev. Cornelius Schenck, the pastor, congratulated the society on its excellent achievements during the year.

Following these remarks there was a selection by Miss Derby, Miss Clark and J. C. Martin, of the quartette choir, and Miss Derby sang the offertory selection, all of which was well given.

The address of the evening was made by Rev. Mr. Barney, returned missionary from Arabia, who told briefly of the work he is doing in that far off land. During the course of his remarks he attired himself in the native costume. His remarks were of an encouraging nature and he told of the success of the work as well as the discouragements.

THREE UNFORTUNATES.

Arrested Saturday Night for Drunkenness—Two Arraigned Today.

There were three unfortunates Saturday night who were arrested because they didn't appreciate the fact that wine is a mocker. Michael Gleason was given the choice of $5 or twenty days by City Judge Runyon and chose the lesser of two evils. Sentence in the case of Lawrence Wallace was suspended in consideration of previous good conduct. Mahlon Titus, the third to feel the majesty of the law, failed to show up and his case will be considered later.

The arrests made Saturday evening by Chief Marshal Campbell in the borough were James Totten, of Mt. Horeb, drunk and disorderly; and Hanna Vandevoort, disorderly. Their trial will be this evening before the recorder.

SUNDAY GOLF AT HILLSIDE?

Question Will Come Up Again at a Meeting of the Hillside Club Soon.

NOT A NEW QUESTION

Was Defeated Last Year When Put to Vote of Members of Club—Another Meeting Next Saturday Night to Discuss Question—Will Probably Vote on It.

The question of opening the course of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club on Sunday afternoon will be brought up at a meeting of the club members to be held next Saturday evening at the Casino. This is not a new matter by any means, as the question was voted upon last year and defeated. Many of the younger element, as well as a few older members are in favor of having the course open Sunday afternoon simply for the exercise that they can get at no other time.

The motive is not questioned so much, but the conservative members believe that if the course is opened Sunday afternoon it will not be long before these same members will want it open all day, and this might possibly be followed with a desire to have a bar located at the clubhouse. This is the trend of thought in the minds of those who are opposed to the introduction of Sunday golf.

A conservative member in speaking of the matter Saturday, said that he believed that the members who contribute the most money toward the support and maintenance of the club, are opposed to Sunday play. This same member also said that if the Sunday golf is allowed he could see no reason why Sunday baseball would not follow in Plainfield. Aside from the fact that a baseball game attracts a crowd, not the case with golf, he could see no real difference between the two sports.

There is a wide difference of opinion on the subject and the matter will be discussed fully at the coming meeting. No doubt there will be many strong arguments for and against the proposition and as the members have received notification of the meeting and its object a large attendance is expected.

FOR BABIES CAMP.

Children's Fair Given at Residence of J. O. Osgood.

A successful children's fair for the benefit of the Babies' Camp was held Saturday afternoon at the residence of J. O. Osgood, 17 Myrtle avenue. The following children were the leaders in the undertaking: Mead Holstein, Osgood Sewell, Junior VanDeventer, Russell Phillips and Stuart Faber.

The candy table was presided over by Miss Mabel VanDeventer; Miss Grace Osgood, assisted by Miss Abbie Holstein and Osgood Sewell had charge of the ice cream table; Augustus VanDeventer, Jr., and Meade Holstein handed out the grab bags; and Miss Halla VanDeventer, Russell Phillips and Stuart Faber poured the lemonade.

SUCCESSFUL FAIR.

Given by Invincible Club on Lawn of J. E. McClintock.

The fair, which was conducted by the members of the Invincible Club on the lawn of J. E. McClintock, of Fairview avenue, Saturday, was a great success. The members netted almost $30, which will be devcted towards the purchase of jerseys and other necessary adjuncts. The committee in charge of the fair comprised Byron McClintock, Marshal Ward, Malcolm VanArsdale and William Heath.

Application for House and Barn.

Application has been filed by Mrs. Alice F. Martin, of Jackson avenue, with Inspector of Buildings T. O. Doane for a permit to erect a house and barn on Marion avenue near Moffett avenue.

GAS IN A BLAZING ROOM

FOR SOME REASON IT FAILED TO IGNITE FROM LAMP OR BLAZE.

The Firemen Could Hardly Breathe When They Ventured Into Room to Extinguish the Flames.

What came near being a serious explosion with consequent loss to life and limb was narrowly averted last evening at the fire in the three story brick building owned by Frank H. Smith on 314 Park avenue. The blaze caught on the third floor in the rooms occupied by Raphael Zoppy, the Italian tailor.

When the firemen forced their way into the rooms, they noticed a peculiar odor and found it impossible to breath. After throwing open the windows, investigation showed that one of the blind caps of a gas pipe had been removed, and in addition a short section of the pipe itself had been unscrewed, three-eighths of an inch of gas forcing its way into the room in consequence. How the jet came to be removed and what was the immediate cause of ignition are not known. That there was no explosion, especially considering the fact that a lamp was brought into the room shortly after the discovery of the blaze, seems almost miraculous.

The chemical engine extinguished the flames. The damage amounted to about $100, the rooms being insured for $400. The alarm was from box 13, rung in at about 8:30 o'clock.

ONE OF THE HEIRS.

Mrs. Zerega, of Park Avenue, Figures in the Famous Bedford Case Causing So Much Talk.

In the sensational story published in the New York papers of yesterday and today, regarding the estate of the late Gunning S. Bedford, of New York, a Plainfield woman figures. She is Mrs. Zerega, of Park avenue, whose husband died recently. She is a second cousin to the late Gunning S. Bedford.

When Mrs. Zerega was seen this morning she refused to talk about the case other than to say that she is one of the contesting heirs and that Condert Brothers, of New York, represented her.

It was reported that Eugene L. Bushe, a New York lawyer, representing Mrs. Bedford had located in Plainfield for the summer, but a vigilant search failed to reveal any such person here.

TRAINMEN HURT IN COLLISION

Dense Fog Responsible for Rear-End Collision Between Two Freight Trains.

ONE IN THE HOSPITAL

Engineer and Fireman on Second Train Jumped and Were Injured by Flying Wreckage—Fifteen Cars Were Scattered About the Tracks—Other Details.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Bound Brook, May 17—There was a rear-end collision between two westbound B. and O. freight trains on the New Jersey Central at an early hour, yesterday morning, wrecking fifteen cars and delaying traffic for a number of hours. A heavy fog was the cause of the wreck, the engineer, Alfred Dilling, being unable to see the signals, which was against him, the other freight being in the block ahead.

Just as the collision occurred, Engineer Dilling and Fireman Abram Crighton jumped. They were the only ones to receive injuries. Dilling's jaw was fractured and he received a scalp wound besides having his foot crushed. It was necessary to amputate a portion of the foot. Crighton escaped with a slight wound in the forehead. Both men were sent to Muhlenberg Hospital, at Plainfield. Crighton was able to return to his home later in the day, but Dilling will have to remain for some days. Both men live in Philadelphia and are married.

Soon after the wreck occurred word, was sent for the "wrecking crew" and by noon yesterday the tracks were well cleared of debris, consisting almost entirely of demolished freight cars. The engine on the rear train was damaged more or less, but it did not leave the tracks. When the engineer and fireman jumped they landed in the midst of some of the debris and their injuries were caused by the flying wreckage.

TO STUDY TOGETHER.

Sunday-School Teachers Organize a Union Teachers' Meeting for Study of Lesson.

The Sunday-school teachers of the First and Park Avenue Baptist churches, met Saturday evening in the lecture room of Trinity Reformed church to organize a union teachers' meeting for the study of the lesson. Rev. G. M. Shott, of Scotch Plains, who has been teaching the lesson, was made chairman and Miss Florence G. Hawkins secretary.

It was decided to meet every Monday evening until July 1, for the study of the lesson, and Mr. Shott will teach, after which there will be a "round table," to consider perplexing problems concerning Sunday-school work.

A committee of three, George H. Batcheor, George E. Hall and David E. Titsworh, was appointed to arrange further details and report at the next meeting which will be held this evening in the Park Avenue Baptist church. After the meeting Saturday evening a social time followed.

UNUSUAL HONOR.

Won by Art Work of Miss Caroline M. Hall at Paris.

Miss Caroline Minturn Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Prescott Hall, of this city, has just won the first prize for drawing, a silver medal, at the Delecluse Academy in Paris. This medal has not been awarded during the last two years, as it is only given to those who attain a high standard of merit. Miss Hall is treasurer and secretary of the American Woman's Art Association of Paris. Her work was shown at the exhibition of this society, held recently in Paris, and the New York Herald (Paris edition) spoke thus of it:

"A nice color sense is shown in three pleasing and well composed pastels, exhibited by Miss Hall, all of which are radiant with sunlight and the spirit of out-of-doors."

THEATRICAL.

Colonel John S. Flaherty, manager of the "New Majestic Theatre," New York, has concentrated his attention the past fortnight upon a new ventilating system whereby he is confident in the belief that the Majestic will be the coolest, most comfortable and best ventilated playhouse in the metropolis this summer. The natural advantages of the location of the Majestic Theatre situated as it is at the opening of Central Park would alone suffice to make it a cooler and more comfortable place of entertainment than any of the downtown houses facing the torrid Broadway pavements. What with so comfortable an auditorium and so seasonable diversion as "The Wizard of Oz," there is no likelihood that the Majestic's doors will be closed this summer.

KILLED WITH BOLOS

Captain Overton and Private Noyes Killed at Sucatlan.

PRISONERS OVERPOWER THE GUARD

Officer and Three Men of Fifteenth Cavalry Guarding Fifty Captured Paganos Were Suddenly Rushed and Overcome.

MANILA, May 18.—Captain Clough Overton of the Fifteenth cavalry and Private Harry Noyes, who were killed on Friday at Sucatlan, island of Mindanao, met their deaths at the hands of insurgent prisoners whom they were guarding. Their companion in this duty, Private Hartlow, was wounded at the same time.

Captain Overton's troops of the Fifteenth had been scouting in the department of Misamis, Mindanao, on the trail of the insurgent leader Flores. The cavalrymen captured fifty of Flores' followers and confined them in a house at Sucatlan. Captain Overton and three men remained to guard the prisoners, while Lieutenant Cameron continued in pursuit of Flores. The prisoners suddenly broke out of the house where they were confined, secured their bolos and rushed the four Americans on guard. Captain Overton was slashed with a bolo and bled to death.

After escaping the insurgents gathered and renewed the attack on the Americans. The cavalryman who was not wounded repulsed the enemy and defended his dead and wounded companions until the return of Lieutenant Cameron.

Captain Overton is criticised for having kept only three men to guard fifty and for having neglected to destroy the insurgents' bolos.

Flores is a Visayan, and the majority of his followers are Paganos living in the Misamis mountains. No Moros were concerned in the affair.

About 300 insurgents, armed with bolos, resisted the landing of a force of scouts at Catalman, Camiguin island. They charged the scouts and wounded two of them. It required an hour to disperse the insurgents. Twelve of the latter were killed and many were wounded. The scouts, whose gallantry has been commended, are pursuing the insurgents.

Captain Pershing has been relieved of the command of the Lanao expedition and has been succeeded by Lieutenant Colonel Rodgers of the Fifteenth cavalry. Captain Pershing, who is ill, has been ordered to Zamboanga for medical examination and will probably be sent home.

Aguinaldo at Mabini's Burial.

MANILA, May 18.—In spite of the fact that he died of cholera the authorities permitted Mabini, the well known Filipino politician and leader, to be given a public funeral. Eight thousand natives marched from Mabini's house to the church and thence to the grave in La Loma cemetery. Hundreds of former insurgents, headed by Aguinaldo, took part in the procession. There were also many bands of music. There were no anti-American demonstrations.

Protest Against Jewish Massacre.

BALTIMORE, May 18.—Three thousand people attended an enthusiastic meeting in the Academy of Music in behalf of the victims of the anti-Jewish outrages in Russia. It was participated in by many leading citizens of the state and city, and several thousand dollars were subscribed. The meeting was presided over by Dr. Fabian Franklin, editor of the Baltimore Evening News, and among the speakers were ex-Governor William Pinkney Whyte, ex-Congressman John V. L. Findlay, Mayor Hayes, Roger W. Cull, Leon Greenbaum and others.

Kent Will Know His Fate Today.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., May 18.—Leland Dorr Kent, who was found guilty of manslaughter in the first degree for killing Ethel Dingle in this city last September, is languishing in the Monroe county jail. He spent the day reading newspapers, smoking pipes and cigarettes. Kent's father remains with him. Mrs. Leland Dorr Kent has left this city for her home in Buffalo and was apparently feeling well. Judge Sutherland will pronounce sentence on Kent today.

NEWPORT, R. I., May 18.—St. Michael's day was celebrated here by Portuguese from all over New England. Special boats and trains brought councils from Boston, Provincetown, New Bedford, Taunton, Fall River and Providence, accompanied by bands and many of them by ladies' auxiliaries. High mass was celebrated in St. Mary's church, and a street parade was made in which over 1,500 participated.

TULLOCH'S CHARGES

Ex-Cashier of Washington Post Office Answers Payne.

INSPECTORS WILL INVESTIGATE.

Mr. Tulloch Claims Records Will Not Reveal Facts—Interested Parties Will Not and Others Dare Not Talk.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—The full text of the formal charges of irregularities in the administration of postal affairs preferred by Seymour W. Tulloch, formerly cashier of the Washington city post office, has been made public by Mr. Tulloch. The charges are embodied in a letter to Postmaster General Payne in response to the latter's request to be furnished any information that would substantiate published statements of Mr. Tulloch. Some of the matters complained of will be investigated immediately by the inspectors.

Mr. Tulloch in his letter says he is at the service of the postmaster general in rendering any further assistance that may be desired. Mr. Tulloch says that in all instances of irregularity and favoritism the proper allowances, records, vouchers, etc., were most carefully executed and kept, as a rule, and little information can be ascertained by their investigation; that the real facts behind the allowances and vouchers are not of record and are known to few—"those interested who will not and others, clerks, who dare not talk."

"For upward of nineteen years," the letter recites, "the conduct of affairs between the Washington city post office and the post office department was regular. Then came the first break, the precursor of a system of allowances to the Washington post office on account of departmental expenditures which afterward led to irregularities, abuses, extravagance and my removal as an obstacle on June 30, 1899."

Mr. Tulloch further says:

"Considerable feeling was manifested toward me in the office of the first assistant postmaster general because I would not pay vouchers for services or supplies upon personal request or by direction over the telephone. J. Holt Livingston presented vouchers for payment one afternoon amounting to several hundred dollars for postal furniture. I refused to pay until the allowance had been received. I was informed that it would be sent down by private messenger as soon as it was signed by the first assistant postmaster general. I again refused. Mr. Livingston departed quite angry and some time afterward returned with the allowance properly executed and still damp from the copying press. It was for a shipment of furniture, as I remember, to Cuba or Porto Rico. No one had certified as to the receipt."

Mr. Tulloch says that Post Office Inspector In Charge William B. Smith of this city made an inspection of the Washington post office and during that inspection received word from an associate of the first assistant postmaster general that he would better be careful or he might lose his own head. Mr. Tulloch adds:

"I was creditably informed at that time that the matter so prepared, with perhaps other evidence, was laid before Postmaster General Smith by Fourth Assistant Bristow, who requested the appointment of a commission to investigate the office of the assistant postmaster general. This was refused by Mr. Smith, who looked upon it as another manifestation of the relations existing between Perry S. Heath and Mr. Bristow."

Mr. Tulloch then cites indorsements by Mr. Beavers and Mr. Machen of the "Economic Postal association" as an investment proposition.

On the question of favoritism in appointment he says:

"Oliver H. Smith of Muncie, Ind., was an intimate friend and associate of Perry S. Heath. The latter, Nov. 20, 1897, wrote as follows to the Washington postmaster:

"'I have this day allowed you $600 per annum to provide for the appointment of Oliver H. Smith as a laborer at the several stations connected with your office. Mr. Smith will act in a dual capacity, serving both clerks and carriers. The free delivery division will also make an allowance of $2 per day to cover car fares and incidental expenses for Mr. Smith, who is, I believe, to report to you on the morning of the 23d inst. This is the gentleman whose appointment has been frequently recommended by you.'

"Mr. Heath used the expression 'at your request' or 'in connection with your recommendation'. in connection with many appointments concerning which the postmaster was entirely ignorant and for whose services, if he received them at all, he had no use or need."

Mr. Tulloch refers to the inspection of the accounts of the Washington post office late in April, 1899, by T. W. Gilmer, an expert accountant of the comptroller of the treasury, following which inspection the comptroller disallowed between $30,000 and $40,000 for the quarter ended Sept. 30, 1898. The receipt of the letter was immediately acknowledged, and certain action requested was taken. The postmaster was out of the city, but on his return, being told of the action in his absence, was very much worried and said he had strict orders from General Heath to bring all papers received from the comptroller immediately to him and that his office would dictate all replies.

"The action had come sooner than expected," says Mr. Tulloch, "Answers to certain portions of the letter of the comptroller were prepared by the different officials involved in the office of the first assistant and the postmaster requested me to prepare the complete answer for the typewriter. I did as directed, disclaiming all responsibility and telling the postmaster the answers were incomplete, evasive and in certain cases untrue."

Mr. Tulloch adds that enough irregularities had been presented to the comptroller to warrant his continuing his investigation into the quarters ending Dec. 31, 1898, March 31, 1899, and June 30, 1899, to ascertain the continuance or extent of these same irregularities. Later Mr. Tracewell ordered:

"Mr. Gilmer—You may take up for examination any postmaster's account for fiscal year 1899 except New York city and Washington, D. C."

Subsequently Mr. Gilmer was removed.

Mr. Tulloch charges Postmaster Merritt of this city with nepotism and says that during the past four years Mr. Merritt's household has drawn for their services about $40,000 from the local postal revenues over their lawful salaries.

ROOSEVELT IN THE YOSEMITE.

Deep Snow Makes the Trail For Glacier Point Heavy.

YOSEMITE, Cal., May 18.—A furious snowstorm is raging in the mountains here. President Roosevelt is quartered at the Glacier Point hotel. The remainder of the party, numbering about thirty, will be forced down to the valley, four miles below, as accommodations are limited at the hotel.

Shortly after noon the president's party, occupying four stages, entered the Yosemite valley. The president eluded a large crowd awaiting him in the valley by taking the trail, with a few members of his party, at Chinquapin, thirteen miles from here. The colored troopers of the Ninth cavalry broke the trail through the snow, which was deep in places. The remainder of the party took horses and mules at the foot of the trail for Glacier point, one mile below the Sentinel hotel. Glacier Point hotel is 3,300 feet above the floor of the valley and affords an excellent view of its magnificent features. Preparations had been made for the president to stay at Jorgensen's studio, in the center of the valley. All the hotels and public camps are crowded to overflowing, and hundreds of campers have arrived. The trail which the president traveled is closed to the public. In accordance with the president's desire to enjoy his outing in private his movements were jealously guarded by all his officials.

Defeat Will Pacify Albanians.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 18.—The report that many men on both sides were killed and wounded during the engagements which constituted the Albanian resistance to the advance of the imperial troops on Ipek has been confirmed. The Albanian chiefs explain that the encounters were an outcome of a misunderstanding. In the course of an audience with the German ambassador here the sultan said that with the occupation of Ipek a general pacification would ensue. A number of Albanian chiefs at Ipek, however, refuse to submit, and their families are being held as hostages.

Yeager Murder Is a Mystery.

KOKOMO, Ind., May 18.—The strange woman who holds the key to the Yeager murder mystery has not yet been found, and but little progress has been made toward solving the problem. More blood was found in a wheat field near where several witnesses told of seeing Yeager and the mysterious woman in Yeager's buggy and where the shot was heard that is supposed to have killed Yeager. The killing was on Monday morning four hours after Louis Yeager left the home of his bride to be, Myrtle Finley, at Hemlock. The strange woman is described as beautiful and expensively dressed.

Gold Standard For Mexico.

LONDON, May 18.—The Bank of England promptly lent out to other banks the money of the Transvaal loan, with the result that there has been no disturbance of the money market, discount rates remaining easy. The prices of American stocks were generally above the Wall street level, but arbitrage business between the two markets is now very difficult, and dealings are limited. Mexicans are in favor under the idea that the visit of the Mexican minister of finance will result in the adoption by Mexico of the gold standard.

Senator Gorman Off For Europe.

NEW YORK, May 18.—Senator Gorman of Maryland was a passenger on the Atlantic Transport steamship Minnehaha for London. Mrs. Gorman accompanied him. He is making his first trip across the Atlantic and, according to Baltimore rumor, is going away at this time to avoid being within reach when the "slate" for the state ticket is made up. Two of his friends are candidates for the nomination for governor, and the senator does not want to take sides.

Labor Day In Russia Quiet.

ROSTOFF-ON-THE-DON, Russia, May 18.—In spite of the agitation of the Social Democrats, who urged the public to start disturbances, the Russian labor day passed off quietly and work went on as usual. Infantry and Cossacks, however, were held in readiness to preserve order. Some Social Democrats tried to incite a crowd to make a demonstration in the evening, but they failed. There were numerous arrests of agitators.

Verdict Against Standard Oil.

LEXINGTON, Ky., May 18.—J. E. Doyle has been given a verdict of $2,600 damages against the Standard Oil company and C. B. Gilman for conspiring to injure the business of Doyle by pronouncing his oil not up to standard proof. He represented a rival company. Gilman was an oil inspector for the city.

BRIDGEPORT'S RIOT.

Striking Trolleymen Stop Car Traffic.

STREAM FROM FIRE HOSE QUELLS MOB

Crowd Attacks Strike Breakers on Street Cars and Wounds Mayor Mulvihill Seriously In the Head With a Stone.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., May 18.—The attempt made by the officials of the Connecticut Railway and Lighting company to run their cars with non-union men has resulted in a riot in which at least thirty-two men were injured. The sheriff hopes that it will not be necessary to call out the state troops, but says that another such outbreak will make that step inevitable. At the present time it is possible that the county sheriff will supersede the police in the control of the city.

When six trolley cars were started out there were large crowds in the vicinity of the car sheds, but no violence was offered at first. The cars were manned by twelve of the 130 strike breakers brought to this city by the trolley company.

There was no disturbance of any kind until the first car had completed its third round trip and was directly in front of the Wheeler & Wilson factory, where a crowd of at least 1,000 persons had gathered. The car was running slowly, owing to the crowd, when stones began to fly. Deputy Sheriffs Hendrie and Plumb, who were riding in the car, saw a man in the crowd hurl a stone. They had the car stopped immediately and plunged into the crowd to get the offender. With considerable difficulty he was seized and dragged fifty feet to the car, the intention of the sheriffs being to put him on board and take him to police headquarters.

The stone thrower was a big fellow and struggled so fiercely that a policeman who was standing near by went to the assistance of the sheriffs. Immediately Mayor Mulvihill was seen hurrying through the mob. He went to the policeman and ordered him to keep his hands off the prisoner. He then went to the deputy sheriffs and told them that they had better let the man go. During the argument the stone thrower took advantage of the diversion which had been created and wrenched himself free.

In the meantime the stones were flying in a shower, and one of them struck Mayor Mulvihill on the head. He was wearing a soft hat, and a large hole was cut in this. Although the mayor's scalp was not lacerated, he received a bad bruise.

The two sheriffs then jumped on the car and ordered the motorman to proceed to the car sheds, a quarter of a mile distant. The bombardment did not abate, and the crowds on the street were so dense that the motorman could not go very fast without running some one down.

The stone throwing soon became so furious that the sheriffs drew their revolvers and fired five shots in the air and toward the ground. This caused the bombardment to let up a little, and the car reached the barns and was run inside. The other five cars operated on the same streets received exactly the same treatment as they followed the first car into the car barns.

When the last car had passed within the doors there was a crowd of 4,000 people gathered in a vacant lot opposite, and violence once more broke loose. Brickbats, stones and everything that could be thrown were hurled at the barns and anything that belonged to the company in the vicinity.

At this point Mayor Mulvihill saw that the sergeant and nine policemen who were stationed at the car barns were entirely unable to cope with the mob, and he sent for Chief Coffin of the fire department. After a short consultation the latter ordered out engine company No. 6, with a steamer and a line of hose. Superintendent Birmingham also ordered every available man to the spot to co-operate with the firemen, and soon a stream was being played on the mob, which slowly fell back before the water.

One of the strike breakers was assisting the firemen in holding the hose when a well directed brick struck him on the head and knocked him to the ground senseless. An examination showed that the man was suffering from a severe scalp wound. When the mob had dispersed the firemen and extra policemen were ordered back to their quarters, and the regular detail remained guarding the car barns.

The officials of the trolley company will not reveal the names of the men injured or the nature of their injuries. It is positively known, however, that not a man of the twelve who were on the six cars escaped injury of some kind. Every one of them as they stood on the platform of their cars while going into the barns was seen to be bleeding profusely from the head and face.

In addition to the trolleymen injured, Road Master Davis of the trolley company was injured by a stone which struck him in the head. Sheriffs Hendrie and Plumb were apparently targets for the mob as well as the strike breakers, for each of them was struck in different parts of the body at least a dozen times.

Mayor Mulvihill in a statement given out last night stated that when he interfered at Barnum avenue he was endeavoring to protect the sheriffs from the violence of the crowd.

Michael Kelly was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Doolin and two policemen for stoning a car. He is locked up at police headquarters. No cars are being run.

ONE PHASE OF IT.

In the general discussion of the street sprinkling question, it has been suggested that the fire department horses could be used to good advantage in the work, thereby lessening the cost of the street sprinkling to the city. It was suggested as a measure of economy. As a matter of fact, such a course would be far from economy; it would be returning to methods of a decade ago and seriously cripple the efficiency of a fire department that is now one of the best in the State.

In support of this proposition to use the horses of the fire department, it was claimed that it was not necessary or advisible to have the teams go any distance from the engine houses in which they are quartered at present. The fallacy of such a claim is apparent at first glance.

How long would it take a team to be unhitched from a watering cart, say in the vicinity of the Netherwood district, the driver jump on the back of one of the horses and run them down to the engine house on Second street near Watchung avenue, hitch them up to a fire apparatus and then return to the neighborhood of the Netherwood Hotel, or to box No. 89, Front street and Rock avenue, both of which districts either of the hose companies situated in the centre of the city have to answer. This question has been answered in a less degree by the team used on the steamer. This team is not owned by the city, but is hired. It is employed daily in hauling frieght about the city in certain limits, outside of which it is not allowed to go. A delay of from five to ten minutes is an ordinary occurrence, and when the team arrives at the fire it is usually unable to do further duty. Several citizens have complained about the way these horses were treated, and have even threatened to have the driver arrested for cruelty to animals.

As to the men in the fire department: They are on duty the entire twenty-four hours, with a leave of absence of one day in ten. Their usual daily duties about the engine houses keep them busy from the time they arise until about noon. This is on the assumption that they have not answered an alarm of fire the night previous. Were such the case, they would, in addition to their regular duties, be compelled to wash up the apparatus and polish all the bright parts, a job consuming from two to four hours for two men. Men thus employed could not be expected to go out and do duty in sprinkling the city streets.

Taking up another argument used in advocacy of the plan, every moment lost at the beginning of a fire may make thousands of dollars difference in the loss. Only the other day a still alarm came in from the Hygeia Ice plant in the eastern end of the city, the department answered it immediately without even as much as thirty seconds delay and when they arrived found a fire which, if left for even a minute or two longer, having already burned through a 2x10 inch timber, the building would have been almost, if not totally, consumed; a loss of $15,000. Other instances could easily be given.

Were the insurance underwriters made aware of the fact that the fire department horses were used in sprinkling the streets, we feel quite safe in saying that the insurance rates would be advanced, and the cost to the taxpayer, for sprinkling the streets by the fire department, would be greater by this means than were they to pay directly out of the city funds.

Again the question of Sunday golf is to come before the members of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club. The project now to be put to vote is to open the course on Sunday afternoons. Once before the question came up and it was voted down by a large majority. What will be the result this time? It is sincerely to be hoped that the members of the club will continue to take their stand against it. Plainfield has, in the past, been free from Sunday sports and we have no wish to see any change. In all fairness to the game, however, it must be admitted that Sunday golf and Sunday baseball are not to be compared. They are both desecrations of the Sabbath but while golf players usually pursue their sport quietly and apart from most of civilization, the baseball game abounds in noise and uproar which cannot fail to disturb the day for those who happen to live in the neighborhood.

While the price of milk will not go down this summer, it is nonsense to attempt to blame the Plainfield Board of Health for it. The Board of Health does not control the price of feed which has been the chief determining factor in raising the price of milk. If the necessary precautions of the board were responsible, there should be no opposition for is not the health of the community of more value than anything else? Some people do not seem to appreciate that fact. In the homes where there are no children, the need [of very possible precaution against contagion in the milk supply may not be so fully appreciated. The public at large, however, isn't going to take any chances and fully endorses every act of the Board of Health that will safeguard the health, particularly of the young.

There is reason to believe that the Common Council, at its session this evening, will give serious consideration to the subject of street sprinkling and that it may decide to take up the work. There is a feeling among certain of the Councilmen that it will be better even to increase the tax-rate somewhat than have the cost of sprinkling met by the tax-payers as individuals. They are talking of making an appropriation of $4,000 for the work but it will require considerably more than that to keep the streets of the city properly sprinkled for a year.

The Association League opened its season Saturday afternoon with two games. While the playing will undoubedly improve after the teams are well in practice, the showing made was quite satisfactory for the opening of the season and the officials of the league are confident that a successful season is before them.

Great times are in store for those who see the amateur circus of the I. C. T. Club. The enterprising members of that organization are planning something which promises to be a distinct novelty to Plainfield and have secured the co-operation of a number of prominent citizens in their endeavor.

NO SPECIAL KICK.

But "Reader" Thinks City Should Take Certain Precautions.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—Your remarks in regard to the public "speaking out" in reference to the admission of another telephone company getting a franchise in the city of Plainfield is both timely and proper, so that the Council when called upon to act upon the matter can act wisely in regard to the wishes of a good many of the people. We have nothing special against the present telephone company but we all know by experience the nature of these monopolies. As they grow in power and prestage they get too strong and independent for the public good. As the public does not make much of an outcry they come to the conclusion that its all right and the "goose haunks high" that they can add another little selfish trust, and the public is good natured and will stand another turn or two until they think they have got things on their part all right when they will begin to be a little dictatorial in the matter. Would it not be the part of wisdom for the city to keep things in such a shape as to have their say on the subject in question?

Yours truly,
A Reader of The Press.

TEA TABLE TALK.

Short Sketches That Are Not Always News, But Just as Interesting.

There are a number of Plainfield young men who would do well to ponder the wisdom of the old proverb concerning the fool and his money. Over a score of youthful "sports" are in the habit of gathering daily in some of the local stores, and investing their hard-earned coin in pools on the horse races at Morris Park. It is said that $350 were lost last week on the Metropolitan handicap alone. The practice of gambling in this way started last summer, baseball games furnishing the means of speculation.

First impressions are strongest, it is said; and they are sometimes interesting for this reason. The following are some of the characteristics of Plainfield commented upon recently by a stranger in town:

The appropriateness of its name.

The attractiveness of its residential portions.

The omnipresence of the colored brother.

The unevenness of its sidewalks, causing constant stubbing of the unaccustomed toe.

The poverty of upholstery in the seats of its street cars.

The youth of many of its more prominent public officials, and the extraordinary number of lawyers it supports.

Superficial conditions, all of them; and such as would strike the observer at first sight. And the characteristics mentioned are not necessarily peculiar to Plainfield, either. As given, they serve merely to reveal at a glance the surface conditions likely first to catch the attention of a stranger coming from another State.

ORATORICAL ASSOCIATION.

Formed by a Number of Schools in New Jersey.

A number of New Jersey schools have united to form an Eastern Interscholastic Oratorical Association with the object of holding an annual cup contest in declamation. At a meeting to be held on the first Saturday of October, the time and place of the first competition will be definitely fixed.

The following institutions are interested: Peddie Institute, Hightstown; Centenary Collegiate Institute, Hackettstown; State Normal School, Trenton; Bordentown Military Institute and Pennington Seminary.

The officers are as follows: President, A. N. Lucky, Hightstown; vice president, L. D. Russell, Wyoming; secretary, Mr. Howard, Bordentown; treasurer, Mr. Kilburn, Peddie Institute.

Columbia and Reliance Will Have Ratsey's Sails.

NEW YORK, May 18.—It was ascertained that the old cup defender Columbia has been fitted out with a suit of sails from the American loft of Ratsey & Lapthorn, the English sailmakers, who have made sails for the three Shamrocks. The Columbia came down from Glen Cove a few days ago and was fitted with her new sails at Ratsey's loft at City Island and has since been stretching them in trials in the sound. They stretched splendidly, and if they prove better than the Herreshoffs' suit the Columbia will sail under them in all her races this season, including the cup defense races, if she should be selected. The Reliance is on the ways at City Island. She also is to have a suit of Ratsey sails and may be fitted with them before leaving City Island.

Bicycle Racing in Berlin.

BERLIN, May 18.—The chief cycling event of the season was the Golden Wheel of Friedenau, 100 kilometers race, won by Robl of Munich, 1h. 27m. 48s. Jimmy Michael of Wales was third in 1h. 30m. 52s.

Vanderbilt's Edna Was Fourth.

PARIS, May 18.—William K. Vanderbilt's Edna was fourth in the Prix des Ecuries, and his Reinette II. did not gain a place in the Prix de Diane at Chantilly.

THE ARREST ON THE UMBRIA.

Mrs. Bedford Arrested Charged With False Pretenses.

LONDON, May 18.—Mrs. Gunning S. Bedford, who was arrested by detectives from Scotland Yard at Queenstown upon the arrival of the Cunard liner Umbria, upon which vessel she was a saloon passenger, will be charged in Bow street police court with making a false declaration of birth. Mrs. Bedford's husband, who lived in London, died recently in Paris, leaving property estimated to value $500,000 to his wife and child. Relatives who are contesting the will allege that Mrs. Bedford had no children and that she procured a child, pretended it was hers and deceived her husband for the purpose of securing his entire property.

It is alleged that on Dec. 18, 1902, Mrs. Bedford, representing herself as the infant's aunt, registered the birth of the child, Eugenie, as having occurred in London on Dec. 17. Two months later Mrs. Bedford is said to have gone to the United States to claim the money. Having failed in this, she was on her way to Paris further to prosecute the child's claim. The prosecution asserts that no child was born at the address given in Woborn place, London, for three years prior to the date given.

Lieutenant Charged With Shortage.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, May 18.—The war department has ordered District Attorney Pettingill to prosecute Lieutenant Arthur Meyer of the insular police, who formerly resided in Brooklyn and who was at one time quartermaster of the Forty-seventh United States volunteers, for an alleged shortage of $6,000 in the regimental hay accounts. Lieutenant Meyer says in explanation that the recipients of the hay failed to receipt for it. Many policemen and merchants are lodging complaints against the lieutenant. He is still serving with his regiment, awaiting Governor Hunt's decision in the matter.

Frohman Makes London Sit Up.

LONDON, May 18.—One of the biggest and quickest successes London has known has come to Messrs. Frohman and Edwardes with their new production, "The School Girl," at the Prince of Wales' theater. The leading London libraries, like Mitchell's and Hay's, from which the general public must buy seats, have bought all the stalls and dress circles for ten weeks, paying $45,000 cash. They paid the customary $2.62 per seat and are selling at the usual 25 cents advance. Already it is impossible to get a seat even from the libraries short of a week's notice.

Disputed Railway Crossing.

NEWPORT, R. I., May 18.—Two police officers stood guard on the disputed switch locations of the Old Colony Street railway on Broadway, but no effort was made by the railway to resume work. Crowds of visitors to the city went to the locality out of curiosity, but otherwise the usual Sunday quiet prevailed. It is believed that the two roads will come to an agreement whereby both will use one track for entering the city and the other for leaving it, each road to maintain its own track.

Attempted Murder, Then Suicide.

PITTSBURG, May 18.—The body of John T. Miller of White Ash, Pa., who last Wednesday at Braddock shot and seriously wounded Mrs. Minnie Guenther, was fished out of the Monongahela river. Miller was jealous of Mrs. Guenther and fired two bullets into her. Thinking she was dead, he went to the river, walked into the water and shot himself through the head. Mrs. Guenther is in a Pittsburg hospital and has a fair chance for recovery.

Crack Riflemen Assemble.

SEA GIRT, N. J., May 18.—The flower of the crack marksmen of the United States is assembling at the rifle range here. The object of the gathering is to select a team of riflemen to go to England to recapture the Centennial Palma trophy in competition with the riflemen of the world. The United States has not sent a rifle team abroad for a score or more of years. It is going to do so this summer with the firm belief that its representatives will prove victorious.

AN IDEAL LOCATION

BEAUTIFUL AND ACCESSIBLE.
2 Miles from Elizabeth. 7 Miles from Newark
14 Miles from New York.
Linden, New Jersey.
ON MAIN LINE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries
Largest Burial Parks IN THE State.

Transportation Facilities superior to those of any other cemetery, as to number of trains, railroad fare, time and distance.

These New Cemeteries, now being developed on the modern park plan, are attracting universal attention.

By Reason of Location Alone they are destined, in a very short time, to become the best-known Cemeteries in the country and, with their natural advantages, the most beautiful and desirable in which to purchase lots.

They are Accessible from every quarter and within easy reach of over 4,000,000 people, and, considering the steady and rapidly increasing growth of Greater New York and its tributary cities and towns, it is only the question of a short time before plots in Rosedale and Linden Park will equal in value those of our most noted cemeteries.

Popular Favor has already been shown to a marked degree in the sale of lots, several hundred having been sold to residents in Elizabeth, Linden, Rahway, Cranford, Jersey City, Orange, Paterson, Westfield, Newark and New York City, and a large number of interments have been made.

In the Days of Happiness we do not know what is to befall us or when the inevitable will occur; therefore, it is a wiser precaution to make provision for a final resting place during health and life than to force the painful duty on one's friends or relatives after death. A place of burial will be needed sooner or later by every one, and no one should neglect selecting a suitable and proper place until future postponement is impossible.

Linden Lodge is the largest, most modern and best equipped Cemetery Lodge in the country, and is provided with every requisite for the comfort and convenience of visitors who come to inspect the properties.

SILKS FOR THE SEASON.

Some of the Novelties—Fringe Again Put Forward.

In one window alone I saw ten different colors and tints in printed silk all in one design, and that a curious arrangement of white lines upon a background of color. The lines spread in one part so that the background was much in evidence, while farther along the white lines gathered closely so that there was a distinct figure in white. This arrangement somehow made the silk look as though the white portions were raised in quite high relief above the surface. The colors were lilac, pale green, pink of a soft indefinite shade, frosty and bright blue, tan, reseda, biscuit, gray and brown, all with the white. The silks were draped with beautiful lace bands, medallions and edgings. Wide ribbon also lent its rich finish. Ribbon is used to a greater extent than usual for all sorts of garments, yet lace is the trimming beyond all others in popularity.

Nearly all the silk for the season ahead of us is soft and much like crape in draping qualities. Some of the daintiest of the soft silks have flakes of silk floss on the surface. These flecked effects are carried into the light woolen dress goods, especially noticeable being some of the voiles. These are very lovely when the soft flakes are scattered over the surface. The hopsacks and several of the stuffs generally made up for tailor suits show the same fancy. The old fashioned all wool delaines are shown as among the newest of the light weight wools, and as great care has been taken in the printing of them they are worthy of a place among woman's prettiest things. They make up into delicious tea gowns and afternoon dresses. The colors vary from very dark solid colors with tiny flower bunches in nature's tints to ivory, pale blues and hydrangea, mauve, mastic, fawn, turquoise, reds in several shades, and, in fact, so many shades and tints that I could not mention them all, but this I may say: The small bouquets and sprays of flowers portrayed in the design are exquisitely beautiful and more like microscopic pictures than printed patterns. Rich ribbon in form of sashes and narrow to match for bows, with loops and ends, and lace—lots of lace—make the accepted trimming. Cream and white, also ivory with small natural flowers, are among the designs, and black and colors, and also with white only, form some of the prettiest combinations. Black and white, with one or the other in preponderance, will be among the most fashionable of all the combinations in hats, dresses and all the other paraphernalia and impedimenta belonging to womankind. Parasols of white silk and chiffon have great black chenille dots. On the parasols the medallions are placed as well as on the dresses.

Fringe is again put forward, and this time it may become a rage, for the fashions of today are so nearly like those of the days when fringe was seen on everything that it may come as a natural sequence. There is a decided movement in the way of skirts flounced to the waist and double and triple skirt effects, and that will be a welcome change to eyes weary of the tight skirts. As the newest skirts are shown we may notice that they have long, flowing lines, but there is a something foreshadowing the things of which I have spoken, though just what it is or where it is impossible to say. But so it is. It began with the hats, but until the blouse is relegated to the limbo of old styles it will not be noticed. The evening dresses are more defined than the street attire, and there is no hesitation in openly adopting the fashions of our grandmothers with some slight modifications.

It is often amusing, if not altogether profitable, to trace styles, and yesterday I came across the origin of the new feather duster fancy of wearing the aigret on the millinery of today. As most of us know, this aigret is now made in the shape of a small duster, with a regular holder, and is set on the hat or bonnet so that it sticks out exactly in front. Well, this style dates from the days of Solyman the Magnificent, one of the earliest and, incidentally, the most bloodthirsty of the Turkish sultans. He wore one on his turban, and from then on the sultans have worn the same kind of aigret, though at different angles, in their headgear. And some of the foreign military officers have aigrets very nearly like those of today, and they are worn in quite as aggressive a manner.

HENRIETTE ROUSSEAU.

By WALKER KENNEDY.

Copyright, 1903, by A. N. Kellogg Newspaper Co.

"Well, I'll be damned! If I had not that I have been imposed upon in that way I'll wring the neck of that little skunk!"

"Who is that?"

"Why—no; that won't do, Warde. I won't give him away until I've given him a chance to explain himself."

Holcombe departed in a brisk dudgeon and Warde sought the office, where he found Fenton awaiting him.

"I got what I wanted this morning," he said.

"Tell me," said Warde.

"Mrs. Wright said that her nearest neighbor, a kind-hearted widow by the name of Mrs. Anderson, had been there at noon to take care of her child while she visited her husband. Just as Mrs. Anderson was about to take the child away Mrs. Wright had examined the pistol and called Mrs. Anderson's attention to the fact that it had not been shot off for a long time. I then went to see Mrs. Anderson. She remembered the pistol very well, and knew where it had been placed. The ivory-handled revolver was not the weapon she had seen there. But Mrs. Anderson had some other facts. She had seen a man coming out of the side door of the Wright house and she accosted him and told him there was no one in at present. He replied that he had found that out and would drop in again when Mrs. Wright was at home. Mrs. Anderson had thought nothing further of it until she was told about the pistols."

"Did she describe the man?"

"Yes; she said he was a rather stoutly built man with probably a couple of weeks' beard on his face, and that he wore a red flannel shirt."

"Fenton, you have done splendidly, and if you will agree to help me further, we will unravel one of the deepest-laid crimes ever planned in this section of the country."

"I'll help you any way that I can."

"Then we will win the game yet."

CHAPTER VIII.

The next evening at nine o'clock, Warde was working in the office when a negro boy brought him a note. He opened it casually and read the following:

"Mr. Warde—Come as soon as you can to Peter's Rest, No. 1,006 Commerce street. A river man there can give you a great story for the Gazette. His name is William Jackson.

"A Friend."

Irving received a great many notes like this, and it occasioned him no surprise. Peter's Rest had a reputation of a not very reassuring character; still he was often called to such places, and he gave it no particular thought. He finished the work upon which he was engaged, and at 11 o'clock started for the choice locality to which he had been called.

As he was passing the station house, Fenton, the detective, joined him and asked whither he was going.

"To Peter's Rest," said Warde.

"That's a nice place to go to," said Fenton, laughing.

"I was called there to get a piece of news," replied Warde.

"I will go with you," said Fenton; "it may be something in my line."

"All right; but remember that this is mine, and if there's anything in it the Gazette gets it exclusively."

"Of course."

The locality which the two men were about to visit was a considerable distance from the station house, and it abutted on the river. Commerce street originally ran parallel with the river but the current of the Mississippi, which is ever making some excuse for a change, had eaten away a large part of the bank so that the upper end of the street ran almost into the water. The rear end of several houses on the west side were actually suspended over the stream, and it was only a question of time when they would topple into the swirling waters; but it is rather a venerable observation that because a thing did not happen yesterday people are inclined to think that it will not happen to-morrow. And so, many persons on upper Commerce street continued to reside above the river, knowing full well that there would be an end to it some time, but fondly expecting that somehow they would move out a day or two before the crash came and the river claimed a lot of refuse not its own.

That portion of the city Warde and Fenton entered knew no such luxuries as lamplights, and depended entirely upon such illuminations as a complacent moon would furnish. On this particular night the moon was contending intermittently with a sea of crested clouds. To the right as they traversed the rounded street bending with the river bank, several cotton sheds spread their huge dimensions in solid blackness. The houses were mostly old and dilapidated and peopled with the city's dregs. It was here that thieves, rough boatmen, idle plantation hands, and that great herald of the transient and the shifting known as the tramp, were fond of congregating. And it was apparent that the accommodations were ample for this kind of population. There were dens of various shades of iniquity; ramshackle sheds where the tramp could readily find free accommodations for the night; greasy corner groceries where stale vegetables and rot-breeding liquors were sold, together with the certainty that one would take up the trail of death where the other left off; boarding houses where river and plantation hands were packed Chinese fashion. In short, one could see here every sort of building, except the church and the school house.

As the two men continued their walk the houses became less numerous, and they passed vacant lots, beyond which they could see the silvery gleam of the river.

At last they came to Peter's Rest.

It was a two-storied house, which in its day had been considered one of the handsomest residences in the city; for, in the early days of Nilus, this congeries of filth, crime and degredation had been the most eligible part of the town. Yet nobody ever dreamed at the time of this story that Hell's Half Acre, which lay banked in shadows to the north, would one day be reclaimed again and traversed by railroads and resound with the hum of business; for now the desperado and the rough were omnipresent in that locality.

The exigencies of the time had converted this old mansion into the very worst resort of its kind in the city. It was become the rendezvous of all sorts of disreputable men and women. It was here that under the influence of liquor, which was unequaled in vileness, all sorts of evil pacts were struck, crimes were planned and new lessons of depravity were learned. Just this side of the Rest was a vacant lot, stretching down to the river. Here Fenton said he would stop while Warde went in. Before they separated Fenton handed him a police whistle, and it was agreed between them that if Warde should blow it, the detective would know that he was in danger and would hasten to his assistance. Fenton was not at all satisfied with this adventure of Warde's, but he did not communicate any of his uneasiness. He merely cautioned him to be on his guard, as the crowd he was going among was not very particular about taking either property or life.

The atmosphere in the saloon was so heavy and malodorous that the lights burned dimly and reluctantly. Behind the bar was a stolid ruffian who looked as if he might have taken all the degrees of crime. A low brow, heavy black mustache, small animal eyes and a profusion of cheap jewelry admirably fitted Billy McGee to be the hero of a bloody melodrama or a prominent character in a London chap-book. A couple of dissipated young men were throwing dice before Billy, who watched the result with the interest of a dispassionate referee. A number of persons embodying various degrees of disreputability were congregated about the tables, some handling greasy decks of cards, some "shooting craps," some drinking whisky and other congenial liquors and some talking apart in whispers on subjects not to be revealed even in that favorable atmosphere. There were also on hand a few faded parodies of womankind, whose efforts to be gay and mirthful were of a piece with their ghastly surroundings.

It was not often that a well-dressed, good-looking young man was seen in Peter's Rest, and his advent ought to have occasioned some surprise, but it did not. The Rest pursued its dark and devious occupations as reposefully as though Warde had been a regular feature of the establishment. Billy McGee did not even look up from the important business that was transacting before him.

Warde at once strode up to the bar and asked if there was present a man by the name of William Jackson.

"Four deuces," said Mr. McGee. "It will be hard to beat that. William? Oh, yes. Bill was here about half an hour ago. Are you the gent he was expectin'?"

"Yes."

"He said if you come to tell you to wait for him. He'll be back d'rec'ly.

BULGARIA'S FOREIGN POLICY.

All Parties Will Support Prince Ferdinand.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, May 18. — The changes in the cabinet here are regarded as indicating a change in the foreign policy of Bulgaria. Prince Ferdinand is said to have been displeased with former Premier Daneff's handling of Macedonian affairs during his absence and to have declined all responsibility for certain steps taken by M. Daneff, including some promises made to the Russian representative at Sofia.

It is understood here that the new Bulgarian cabinet will be nonpartisan. In view of the critical situation in the Balkans all parties are likely to support the policy of Prince Ferdinand in the hope of ending the present uncertain condition of affairs, particularly with regard to Bulgaria's relations with Turkey.

The attempt made by M. Petkoff, leader of the Stambuloff party, to form a new cabinet has failed. The Russian diplomatic agent here has had long audiences with Prince Ferdinand.

South America's "Triple Alliance."

SANTIAGO, Chile, May 18.—The members of the Brazilian commission have arrived and were enthusiastically received. Fully 50,000 people witnessed the arrival of the visitors, and their manifestations of friendship were unbounded. The city was decorated in honor of the delegates. In the large procession that passed through the streets were a number of allegorical cars. The Brazilian anthem was played by a band numbering 500 men. The Chilean, the Argentine and the Brazilian flags waved together and were saluted as symbolical of the formation of a South American "triple alliance." The Chilean authorities are preparing to entertain the Brazilian visitors. The strike excitement at Valparaiso has subsided, and that city is now perfectly tranquil.

Law Order League's Good Work.

AMSTERDAM, N. Y., May 18.—The newly formed Law and Order league made its force keenly felt in this city, which has been wide open for many years. Admittance to hotels and saloons heretofore doing a rushing Sunday business was obtainable only by those who were personal friends to the proprietors, and this only in a few instances, most of the places being tightly closed. In response to orders issued three state Raines law inspectors spent the day here. Various other forms of law violations are also to come under the ban of the league.

Ohio's Centennial Anniversary.

CHILLICOTHE, O., May 18.—The centennial anniversary of the admission of Ohio into the Union will be celebrated this week with an extensive programme, which will continue until Thursday night. All of the surviving former governors of Ohio will be here, with Governor Nash; also Senators Foraker and Hanna, Ohio members of congress; all the state officers and members of the legislature and others. Chillicothe was formerly the state capital. The city has been elaborately decorated for centennial week.

Pilgrims Will Honor Wyndham.

LONDON, May 18.—At the first annual dinner of the Pilgrims' society, to be held here shortly, Lord Roberts will preside. The guest of honor will be George Wyndham, chief secretary for Ireland, whose work in parliament, especially in introducing the Irish land bill, has made him one of the most prominent men in British public life today. Many notable Englishmen, in addition to the American members of the society, will be present at the annual dinner.

To Answer For Massacre.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 18.—Lieutenant General von Reaben, governor of Bessarabia, the capital of which is Kishineff, has been summoned to St. Petersburg. A ministerial circular forbidding the Jews to defend themselves has been issued. It is expected that this step will stimulate Jewish emigration to America. Three thousand suits for damages have been instituted against the state at Kishineff. The damages demanded amount to $1,500,000.

Insane on Eve of Marriage.

SARATOGA, N. Y., May 18.—W. Frink Ingham, an insurance agent, is under treatment at the Comstock hospital, having become apparently insane on the day set for his last bachelor dinner prior to his marriage. About a score of Mr. Ingham's friends who gathered to attend the dinner at his cottage on Saratoga lake were shocked to find that their host's condition was such as to demand immediate medical attention.

Trade Unionists' Strike Over.

OMAHA, Neb., May 18.—The strike in this city of trade unionists seems to be nearing an end so far as the shutting down of business is concerned. The first break in the teamsters' ranks came when twenty-five men employed by one of the large delivery companies decided to return to work. A meeting of the Teamsters' union also decided to withdraw the objectionable features of their demands on employers.

Spain Will Fortify Ceuta.

GIBRALTAR, May 18.—Owing to the troubles in Morocco, Spain has thrown up defenses at Ceuta, a seaport in Morocco belonging to Spain, and will ship thither six heavy guns which have been lying at Algeciras since the Spanish-American war.

No New Cases of Plague.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—The Peruvian minister has been officially advised that no new cases of the supposed bubonic plague had occurred in Callao, that Lima was free from the disease and that the port of Huron remained open to shipping.

NEW LEAGUE OPENS SEASON

HOPE, 15; ALIS, 7.

The baseball team representing Hope Y. M. A. defeated the Alis team on Crescent Oval, Saturday afternoon, in one of the worst exhibitions of the season.

The Alis team seemed to be thoroughly demoralized and a general shake-up was necessary in the middle of the game. Dupee pitched well for the home team, but he was poorly supported. Time and again the team had opportunities to shut out runs, but that was the time the players went up in the air. Dupee was ably backed up by a new catcher named Wylie, of Arlington. He will continue to play with the team. The Hope's new battery proved a strong pair and was largely responsible for the victory. There was no monopoly on errors, as a total of eleven were made by Alis, while Hope made six. Wylie and Cathcart were the only members of Alis to play an errorless game, while Captain Martin, of the Hope team, had a record of three. There was a good attendance at the game.

The summary is as follows:

DUNELLEN, 9; Y. M. C. A., 1.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Dunellen, May 18—The Dunellen A. C. outclassed the Y. M. C. A. team, of Plainfield, at all points Saturday afternoon, and won the game 9 to 1. The locals played a superior game in the field and at the bat.

Ettinger was in fine form and the visitors could do nothing with his delivery, getting but two singles, both of which were made off C. Smith. Interest in the game centered mainly in the good playing of the locals as the Y. M. C. A. was out of it from the start. "Dave" Smith at third for the locals up a star game as did Dalley, the new man at first. Giles made a pretty play by pulling down a hot liner and making a double play at first. Brown batted strongly, making a double and two singles. The only notable piece of fielding by the visitors was a stop of a line drive by Squiers, who made a double by tossing the ball to Perrin. The summary was as follows:

NO MORE BALLS.

Many Pledge Themselves at Mt. Olive Baptist Church to Attend No More.

Rev. E. E. Jackson, pastor of the Mt. Olive Baptist church, delivered his sermon on dancing, last evening. It was proposed by the young people that if the pastor proved that the Bible dance was opposed to the dance of today, that they would attend no more balls. The pastor discussed his subject from the text "Ye shall know them by their fruits." In support of his argument he quoted twenty-three Scripture passages.

Several hundred, white and colored, stood pledging to attend no more balls.

SPRING AT SHORE.

A Much Favored Place Now Is Atlantic City.

In a hundred ways conditions at the sea shore have changed. The time was when one never considered that the shore could be visited until the hot season of July and August, first because of the supposed miserable weather, and because there were no hotel accommodations for those who dared a visit, nor were there any attractions in the amusement line. Of course the southern and Florida resorts were in bloom, but in May and June the weather was far from delightful, and for the busy man who delights in a day or two's outing during these charming months, Florida was out of the question. Then Atlantic City came to the front. A superb climate, magnificent hotels, entertainment galore, and all within three hours of New York, and at the shore too, what more could you ask.

Atlantic City at the present time is the ideal spot, its temperature averaging in the seventies, when overcoats and heavy clothing are unnecessary. The ocean breezes are most exhilarating and bracing, and the board walk is thronged with a happy crowd. Down at the inlet two score of craft are in commission for delightful pleasure cruises along the shore. The several big ocean piers are alive and entertainment is provided for young and old in the form of theatricals, concerts, cakewalks, basketball games, dancing and like diversions. The bazaars on the board walk are all open and from the inlet to Chelsea there is an incessant liveliness. Atlantic City was made famous by its marvellous hotels, and every one of the beach front hostelries numbering fully a score and accommodating fully 20,000 guests, is open for the reception of visitors. These hotels cater to your every demand, and nothing is left undone which will make you happy and comfortable.

The cuisine in every instance is equal to that of the fashionable metropolitan houses, and when you consider the fact that Atlantic City is but three hours distant from New York by the New Jersey Central, it can be readily imagined that Atlantic City is the leading resort for May and June, as well as the seasons. The New Jersey Central has vestibuled trains with buffet Pullman's from its Liberty Street station, New York, at 9:40 a. m., and 3:40 p. m., and if you want to know about Atlantic City send a postal to C. M. Burt, G. P. A., New Jersey Central, New York City, room 8, for booklet, free for the asking.

Mrs. M. M. Whitenack, of East Orange, is visiting at the home of John Whitenack, her brother-in-law, 37 Craig place.

TO SPRINKLE? YES, BUT HOW?

A Troublesome Question But Partially Solved by the Common Council.

GIVEN PUBLIC HEARING

Street Committee Authorized to Buy Six Sprinkling Carts If It Deems Such Action Advisable—Routine Business Transacted at Regular Session Following.

It ought to be done, but how? That was the question at the adjourned meeting of the Common Council, last evening, when the subject of street sprinkling was introduced. Every one of the six or eight persons who spoke on the matter before the Council conceded the fact that street sprinkling should be done, but not one offered a good solution as to how it should be done. Some of those who spoke on the subject favored the idea, but they do not want to see the tax-rate increased and this seems inevitable if the city takes hold of the problem.

The regular order of business was suspended when the Council meeting was called, for the purpose of giving anyone present an opportunity of speaking for or against street sprinkling by the city. The final result of the hearing was that a resolution was introduced by Councilman Pray authorizing the street committee to buy six sprinkling carts at an expense not to exceed $2,100, if the committee deems it advisable. This resolution was adopted unanimously, all the members with the exception of Councilmen Tolles and Randolph voting for it. The two last named members were absent. As Mr. Pray explained after the meeting, the adoption of the resolution is a step toward the desired end and now the corporation counsel will be consulted for the purpose of ascertaining how certain legal obstacles may be overcome. It is understood that the tax ordinance, having been adopted, cannot now be amended this year.

During the hearing on the subject, there was a communication received from Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis in which he favored sprinkling by the city at the earliest possible moment. Another communication, also favoring the proposition, was received from Horace Cunningham and others, of West Front street, while J. K. Myers wrote a letter in which he suggested the Canadian plan, that of assessing on a basis of so much per front foot for those benefitted. Mr. Myers' letter was referred to the street committee by a resolution offered by Mr. Daniel and the corporation counsel will be consulted concerning it. Mr. Garrigues referred to a letter written to the Council by Miss VanBoskerck, agent for the Organized Aid Association, but which had failed to reach the Council in time for the meeting. Miss VanBoskerck urged for the sprinkling on behalf of the city poor.

Among those who spoke on the subject was F. E. Kinsman. He favored the Canadian plan and objected seriously to any plan whereby those owning property outside of the sprinkling limits should be taxed on that property, when no benefits would be derived. If such a plan is to be adopted he favored retaining the present system. He also argued against an increase in the tax rate.

Salmon C. Baker spoke in favor of municipal sprinkling of the streets, believing that it would save the macadam and the repairs generally made. He argued that persons living in the outlying districts should be willing to pay something as the sprinkling would be a benefit to them and besides it would lessen greatly the labors of the women in the homes who are now obliged to spend much time in keeping their houses clean.

F. W. Runyon claimed to represent three hundred people, who favored the plan of the city sprinkling the streets, that number of having spoken to him about it, and he believed it ought to be done.

Dr. F. C. Ard made a few remarks in favor of the proposition from the standpoint of general health benefits. He believed it would lessen the number of cases of tuberculosis, that disease being carried by germs in dust caused through expectoration on the part of those having this disease.

F. H. Martin did not want to see the tax rate increased, but he argued

On the 900 yard range Captain Martin made a score of 67, Private Meyers, of the Seventh New York, being high man with a score of 72. On the 1,000-yard range Captain Martin made a score of 66, placing him in fourth place with a total of 205 points.

FIRE HORSE BADLY HURT

New Horse, Frightened by Crowd, Sends Truck Into An Electric Light Pole.

ITS MATE BADLY HURT

Accident Occurs at Corner of Park Avenue and Second Street—Chief Doane, Who Was Right Behind Truck, Exonerates Driver Vail From All Blame.

In turning the corner from East Second street into Park avenue this morning, while answering an alarm from box 34, the hook and ladder truck, driven by Edward Vail, ran full tilt into an iron electric light post on the south corner of the street in front of the building occupied by M. R. Giles' meat market and drove the whiffletree against the horses, the hook catching the off horse in the flank and gashing him terribly. The turn into Park avenue is very sharp, and difficult to make even when going at a slow pace. According to the statement of Chief Doane, who was directly behind the truck at the time and to other reliable testimony, Vail was not driving at a particularly rapid rate, the accident being caused instead by the horses becoming frightened at the crowd on the street.

When the truck turned the corner, there was a throng of 150 gathered on the street and sidewalks, two-thirds of them waving frantically at the driver in a well meaning endeavor to indicate the direction of the fire. Besides this, the driver had his troubles in avoiding a dozen or more carriages and wagons gathered about the corner. The combination proved too much for the nigh horse, an inexperienced animal not yet thoroughly broken in to a knowledge of his duties. The team swerved, and the hook was driven into the haunch of the other horse, an old stager whose name is Jim. George Mehl piloted the rear end of the truck.

The injury to the horse was serious, and for a few minutes it was thought it might have to be shot. A gash fully a foot long was cut, the flesh being torn away clear to the bone, the wound presenting a terrible sight as the animal trotted gamely back to the stable. Dr. Lewis S. Pocock, the veterinary surgeon, stitched up the wound. It is not thought that the horse will be permanently maimed, although its usefulness as a fire horse may be impaired for a long time.

The fire itself was comparatively unimportant. It was located in the closet of the house owned and occupied by Richard Lorton, at 517 West Sixth street. The closet, which is next to the dining room on the first floor, was filled with clothes and dishes and was all ablaze when the firemen arrived. The ceiling and walls were damaged and a number of household articles destroyed, the damage amounting to about $90. It was put out without much difficulty by small extinguishers. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Chief Doane exonerates Driver Vail from blame for the accident, stating that he was guiding the horses as carefully as possible and that the whole trouble was caused by the frightening of the inexperienced horse.

PROMISES DEATH TO THOSE WHO DANCE

An Anonymous Letter Writer After Members of Dancing Class at Scotch Plains.

SENDS MANY LETTERS

ALL OF THEM ARE SIGNED WITH THE INITIALS "B. C. D. E."

All Mailed at Plains Postoffice and Have a Private Mark on the Envelope—To Make a Determined Effort to Trace Identity.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Scotch Plains, May 19—The anonymous letter writer has arrived in Scotch Plains. He is directing his attention towards a number of the young people of the village who have formed a dancing class recently which meets every Thursday evening. The unknown evidently disapproves of dancing. At any rate, he has written letters to the members threatening them with violence or even death if they continued their attendance at the classes. No possible cause for his eccentric attitude is known, nor is there any clue to his identity, although every effort is being made to discover him.

The class was started for social purposes simply, and Mrs. Westcott, of Somerville, was engaged to take charge of it. Shortly after its organization, the communications began to arrive, and last Thursday, one of the members was informed that if he attended the class that evening he would be assassinated without delay. All of the letters have been printed in a clumsy hand, and signed with the initials B. C. D. E. They have been mailed from the local postoffice and bear a private mark on the envelope.

If they are continued, a determined effort will be made to trace them. It is thought that this can easily be done and their author discovered by means of the mark on the envelope.

GREAT SHOW.

Plans Going Forward for the Circus of the I. C. T. Club This Week.

In less than a week Plainfield will be talking of the great and only show of the night before. And it promises to be a great show because the preparations being made by the members of the I. C. T. Club for the circus are very elaborate. New York newspapers contained accounts of the show which is playing at Mt. Vernon, N. Y., last week and when the play is given here there will be even more features than at present.

George H. Mills, a typical press agent, said yesterday that it was going to be the biggest and best, greatest and grandest and a show finer than the unexcelled. Among the features of a professional nature will be Victor Bedine and family, great bareback riders, from Berlin; and "Divo," that wonderful monkey who does the loop-the-loop act with great skill. The three Bartellis and "Mille-on-an-Nag" whose part will be taken by a local man, are only a few of the great attractions.

The show will be given on St. Mary's field on West Fourth street and Darrow avenue on Friday and Saturday evenings with a matinee on the afternoon of the closing day.

To Publish March.

Owing to an increase in musical lines, both in teaching and with his orchestra, Chas. M. Suhr will be obliged to abandon his proposed western trip. Mr. Suhr will still keep his office with W. Paris Chambers in New York, although he will reside in this city as before. Mr. Suhr's new march, "The Scout," will soon be published by a prominent musical house.

Serious Results of Cut.

The son of John Smalley, the butcher, of Somerset street, through neglect of a small cut on the hand, had an operation performed on the member last evening for blood poisoning. Dr. Pittis performed the operation which was successful.

Plans for Social.

Plans are being formulated by the members of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Trinity Reformed church for a social which will be held in the lecture room Tuesday evening, May 29.

—The first shipment of Jersey strawberries to Neuman Brothers arrived yesterday morning. Fresh shipments will arrive daily. Order early in order to get the pick of the best. Price way down.

LEAGUE TEAMS NAME PLAYERS

Amateur Status of Some Is Discussed, But No Protests Are Filed.

UMPIRES ARE NAMED

City League Will Open Decoration Day With Safe Works Against St. Mary's and the Y. M. C. A. Against Hopes—Each Manager Files a List of His Players.

It was agreed upon to invite Mayor Newton B. Smalley and Mayor of this city Olin L. Jenkins to pitch the first ball in the two games which will open the league season for the City League on Decoration Day, at the meeting of the managers of the several teams in the league last evening on Front street. While the subject of the amateur status of certain of the players was discussed, no formal protest was filed and action on the subject deferred.

George Creedon, of Raritan, and George Wood, of Newark, will be the two official umpires and the scorers will be Rufus LaRue and Frank VanArsdale. Besides naming these officials the meeting resulted in the filing of the names of the fifteen players on each team with the secretary, George H. Firstbrook, and the appointing of a committee of one, consisting of City Judge William N. Runyon, the president of the league, to arrange for the policing of the fields, during the games. It was decided to open the season Decoration Day when the Manganese Steel Safe Works will play St. Mary's team on St. Mary's field and the Y. M. C. A. will play Hope Y. M. A. on Hope Common. The meeting adjourned until May 28.

The players in the league as filed will be: Hope—Brit Martin, (Capt.); Ted Shortman, William Symons, Tunis Hewitt, William Kinney, William Hartfelder, Claude Roseberry, Ted Overton, James Bolen, Frank Dodge, James Montross, Dave Gordon, Edward Stout, George Cose and Benjamin Evans. Brought It Back.

The value of cent-a-word ads in The Daily Press is well known to many people in this city. A striking instance of what they will do is shown in the following case. A young woman lost her watch on Watchung avenue Thursday afternoon. Friday she advertised it in The Press and Saturday morning the watch was returned. William Thomas Bowser, of 509 East Third street, who is employed by A. V. Nolan as coachman, is the honest colored man who read the advertisement in The Daily Press and received his reward.

WIRE THIEF ADMITS GUILT

THE LAST CHAPTER IN CHASE AFTER THIEVES LASTING SEVERAL MONTHS.

Ayres Arraigned Before Justice Huff—Pleaded Guilty to Receiving Stolen Goods.

The last chapter in a detective story covering a period of several months was acted out in Justice Huff's court last evening, when John Ayres pleaded guilty to receiving stolen goods, and was held for the Grand Jury.

Ayres was one of a gang that stole a large quantity of wire from the Central Electric Company, of Lincoln, August 17, 1901. The wire was brought to a hobo camp in Fanwood, cut up into small sections and sold to a Plainfield junk dealer. Ayres' accomplices were caught, Ayres himself being the last of the gang. He was discovered in the Elizabeth jail by Detective McCarthy serving a sentence for a minor offense under the name of Sullivan.

From Elizabeth, he was taken to New Brunswick, tried and acquitted of the charge of robbery, the proofs not being conclusive. Immediately upon the conclusion of his trial, he was held under a warrant issued from Plainfield charging him with receiving stolen goods, with the result mentioned above.

Revell, Victor Troyce and Vincent L. Frazee.

WILL BUILD A SYNAGOGUE

Local Hebrew Congregation to Award Contracts at Once for Its Erection.

TO BUILD ON NEW ST.

Estimated Cost Will be $12,000—Memorial Tablet for the Late Mrs. Samuel Dreier—Number of Subscriptions That Have Just Been Received.

The members of the Plainfield Hebrew Congregation have decided to erect a handsome synagogue on the property recently purchased on New street and it is expected that work will be started on the building within a short time. This action has been made possible by the generous contributions of money received by the committee in charge of the matter.

At a recent meeting of the congregation, Morris Abrams, treasurer of the building committee, reported that the plans and specifications for the new synagogue to be erected on the lot belonging to the Congregation on New street had all been prepared and that everything was in readiness to receive estimates for the construction of the same. The treasurer also reported having received the following money since the last meeting:

Samuel Dreier, $1,050; Morris Abrams, $100; Harry Dreier, $30; W. Palmer Smith, $10; contributions received through Mrs. Linke, $15; Alex. Gilbert, $25; Capt. J. Frank Hubbard, $25; Dr. P. J. Zeglio, $5; James Clark, $30; J. W. Reinhart, $50, making a total of $1,330.

At the meeting the committee was authorized to give out the specifications for the purpose of receiving estimates. The building is to be 40x60 with a small extension in the rear. There will be a cellar and two stories, and the building is to be of brick. The total estimated cost is $12,000. It was decided that the congregation keep the same name, but a memorial tablet will be erected within in memory of the late Mrs. Samuel Dreier. The congregation feels greatly encouraged with the start made and within a reasonable length of time hope to occupy a commodious house of worship, the first of the kind in Plainfield.

COMPANY K INSPECTED.

Excellent Showing Made by the Local Militia Company Before Inspection Officers.

Company K acquitted itself creditably last evening at its annual inspection, the visiting officers expressing approval of the precision of the company's movements, the general excellence of the men's set-up, and their skill in the manual of arms. The drill was held at the new armory in the Schepflin building on West Front street.

Captain William B. Martin put the company through its evolutions. The inspecting officers were Col. D. F. Collins, commander of the Second Regiment; Lieut. Col. Charles Boltwood, assistant inspector general of New Jersey; Capt. J. K. Miller, of the Eighth Infantry, U. S. A.; Lieut. Col. Mortimer Lampson, medical inspector; and Major Nelson Y. Dungan, Second Regiment.

A handsome plate inscribed with the monogram of the order was presented Sister Corwin, the design being made by Sister S. A. Mattox. The presentation speech was made by J. M. B. Pyatt.

Miss Alice Scribner favored the assembly with a recitation, Miss Hattie Edgar performed on the piano, and Miss Madeline Edgar also gave a piano solo. The committee in charge of the entertainment consisted of Michael Armstrong, Mrs. S. A. Mattox and Mrs. Ida Bauer.

LIFE'S FAREWELLS.

Subject of Closing Sermon by Rev. Dr. Hall at Crescent Ave. Church.

Rev. Dr. Thomas C. Hall, of Union Theological Seminary, preached the farewell sermon of his series at the Crescent Avenue church, Sunday evening. The subject of his address was "Life's Farewells," the speaker drawing from the sadness of farewell, the spiritual lesson of common ties, and a community of interests and beliefs. Universal regret was expressed by the congregation in the conclusion of Dr. Hall's occupancy of the church pulpit, and gratification at the notable series of sermons with which they have been favored by him.

Johnny Williams, the American Li Hung Chang, will be seen in his burlesque novelty "Prof. Herrman Outdone." Miss Mariam Ainsworth, the mystic protean character artist will make five changes without leaving the stage; while Campbell and Caulfield will provoke many a laugh with their sidewalk conversation.

The distinct marvel of the season in New York is the sponteneous and lasting hit at Wallack's Theatre of George Ade's merry musical satire, "The Sultan of Sulu,." Since Sultan Ki-Ram appeared on Broadway with his bewitching wives and host of pretty girls the city has gone comic opera mad, as many as thirteen musical shows at one time bidding for favor. Out of this number only one that was there when the "Sultan" arrived is still in the race and it has announced the end of its engagement. Never in the hitory of American opera has there been a parallel to the phenomenal success of Author Ade's first piece.

Letters from Women

Cured by the use of Kodol are received daily. Their troubles nearly all begin with indigestion or other stomach disorder.

If the food you eat fails to give strength to your body, it is because the juices secreted by the stomach and digestive organs are inadequate to transform the nutrient properties of the food into blood. That is indigestion. The system is deprived of the amount of nourishment required to keep up the strength, and the result is that one or more of the delicate organs gradually grows weak, and then weaker, until finally it is diseased. Here a great mistake is made. That of treating the diseased organ. The best doctors in the land make this very mistake. Why should they? It is so easy to see that the trouble is not there.

Kodol Cures

This famous remedy puts the stomach and digestive organs in a healthy condition so that rich, red blood is sent coursing through the veins and arteries of every muscle, tissue and fiber throughout every organ of the entire body, and by Nature's law of health, full strength and vigor is soon restored to each.

Kodol cures indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach disorders.

I have taken Kodol for nearly two months after each meal and it is the only remedy that gave relief from the terrible pains I endured. After a time I would take it but once a day, and now, while I keep a bottle handy, I seldom need it, as it has cured me. MRS. J. W. COOLBAUGH, Milo Center, N. Y.

PEASANTS AND JEWS

Statement of Count Cassini, Russian Ambassador.

RUSSIAN JEWS ROB THE PEASANTS

It Is Agriculturalist Against Money Lender, and Trouble Comes When the Former Have Lost Their All by Usury.

WASHINGTON, May 19. — Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador, has made the following statement relative to the Jewish troubles in Russia:

"There is in Russia, as in Germany and Austria, a feeling against certain of the Jews. The reason is that the Jews will not work in the field or engage in agriculture. They prefer to be money lenders. Give a Jew a couple of dollars, and he becomes a banker and money broker.

"In this capacity he takes advantage of the Russian peasant, whom he soon has in his power and ultimately destroys. It is when the patience of the peasant is exhausted that a conflict between peasants and Jews occurs. Ordinarily the Russian is a very patient person, but it is only natural that he should entertain a feeling of resentment for the one who has wrought his ruin.

"Emperor Nicholas I. sought to help the Jews by ordering the establishment of agricultural colonies in southern Russia, hoping to induce the Jews to engage in agricultural pursuits instead of money lending, but the effort was not successful, nor have other projects for establishing Jewish states been successful.

"The situation in Russia so far as the Jews are concerned is just this: It is the peasant against the money lender and not the Russians against the Jews. There is no feeling against the Jew in Russia because of religion. It is as I have said—the Jew ruins the peasants, with the result that conflicts occur when the latter have lost all their worldly possessions and have nothing to live upon.

"There are many good Jews in Russia, and they are respected. Jewish genius is appreciated in Russia, and the Jewish artist is honored. Jews also appear in the financial world in Russia."

LONDON WILL HELP JEWS.

Letters From Kishineff Confirm Barbarities and Ask Help.

LONDON, May 19.—Dr. Hermann Adler, the chief rabbi, in the course of a pastoral charge to his congregation referred to the anti-Jewish riots at Kishineff. The accounts published by the press, he said, had not exaggerated the extent of the barbarities committed. He had received a letter sent by a number of leading citizens of Kishineff which fully corroborated what had been published.

The letter asked for help, for which he made an appeal. Dr. Adler declared that he was pleased that the Americans were going to make representations to the Russian government regarding the massacres and that they were already collecting subscriptions for the relief of victims.

An indignation meeting of east end Hebrews has been held here. Many of the speakers were emigrants from Kishineff and, speaking in Yiddish, made passionate protests against the authors of the outrages. A committee was appointed to collect subscriptions in London for the relief of the sufferers by the riots.

Convention of Journalists.

BALTIMORE, May 19.—The first national convention of the poets, humorists and paragraphers of the American press opened here with a reception to the members at the Journalists' club. The ladies of the party were entertained at the Woman's Literary club. The programme of entertainment for the week includes trolley trips through Baltimore and Washington, an excursion down the bay, a visit to the Naval academy, several theater parties and a banquet. The officers of the association are: President, Henry Edward Warner; secretary, S. W. Gillilan; treasurer, Peter Pry Shevlin, all of Baltimore.

King Alfonso Opens the Cortes.

MADRID, May 19.—In the speech from the throne on the opening of the cortes King Alfonso expressed confidence that parliament would do its utmost to help him at the beginning of his reign to revivify the life of the nation, improve the laws, strengthen the credit of the country and develop the national resources and general liberty and well being of the people. His majesty referred to the ties of love and filial respect which bound him to the pope and expressed the hope that the negotiations for remodeling the concordat would end satisfactorily.

Milner Wants Equal Rights For All.

JOHANNESBURG, May 19.—Lord Milner, high commissioner of South Africa, addressing a meeting here on the native question, contended that natives who raised themselves to a civilized level with the whites were entitled to equal privilege. He sympathized, he said, with the feeling in South Africa against an influx of Asiatics, but that influx should be resisted on social and economic grounds and not on the score of color.

Torpedo Boat's Good Showing.

GREENPORT, N. Y., May 19.—The Holland submarine torpedo boat Porpoise in a government trial on Peconic bay off New Suffolk fired a torpedo at the end of a successful submerged run of a mile and a half. The torpedo went straight between two flags set 150 feet apart, representing a war vessel. The navy trial board is well satisfied with the result.

PAYNE'S STATEMENT

Charges Against Officials Are Serious.

"PAY DIRT" MAY HAVE BEEN FOUND

Irregularities Mean Anything Unlawful—If Any Improper Act Has Been Done We Will Investigate It.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Postmaster General Payne has sent letters to the comptroller of the treasury, the auditor for the post office department and other officials, calling their attention to statements made by ex-Cashier Tulloch in his communication of last Saturday. The letters ask for any explanation or further information that might throw light on the subject. The formal charges of Mr. Tulloch, Mr. Payne said, have been dissected and that matter relating to particular branches of the service referred to the bureaus having jurisdiction for report. Mr. Payne said that he regarded the charge against the auditor and the comptroller as the most serious of the allegations. He said that if those officials "allowed improper accounts to be audited or suppressed what might be called 'pay dirt' had been found." The charges, he said, impugn their good faith and integrity. Mr. Payne pointed out a difference which existed between charges of irregularities and of actual violation of law.

"A government official," he said, "may buy something which he has no authority to purchase and no authority to pay for, but the government gets the use of the article nevertheless. Irregularities mean anything unlawful. The department may pay out of the wrong fund either by accident or by design, yet that need not be unlawful." He said in this connection that the charge regarding the disallowance by the comptroller of between $30,000 and $40,000 was a charge of irregularity, not of unlawfulness, and he understood that practically all of this sum had been subsequently allowed.

"It is unfair," he suggested, "to make the public believe that the government has been cheated out of such an amount of money when it was only a question of irregularity in accounting."

The postmaster general was asked regarding the charges against former First Assistant Postmaster General Perry S. Heath and George W. Beavers, formerly chief of the division of salaries and allowances.

"I have nothing to do," replied the postmaster general, "with the personal relations between Mr. Tulloch and Indiana politicians nor with his hatred for the postmaster of Washington or others. If any improper act was done by any one now in office or by any one who is not now in office so far as it might reflect on the department we will investigate it."

Discussing Mr. Tulloch's references to the Porto Rican service, Mr. Payne suggested that Mr. Tulloch was not charged with the responsibility for the Porto Rican establishment and that the Porto Rican establishment had no more to do with the Washington office than the Chicago office, for instance, except in name, which was for the convenience in administration. He said it was a physical impossibility for Mr. Tulloch to know whether the employees at Camp Alger or in Porto Rico or in the department were performing the labor for which they were paid.

Ice Floes Impede Ships.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., May 19.—The Norwegian steamer Nordkap, Captain Lund, which sailed from Boston for Tilt Cove, has arrived here. She was unable to reach Tilt Cove, where she intended to load copper, owing to a heavy ice pack. Other incoming ships report having met with enormous ice floes and bergs extending 200 miles seaward. The French schooner Navaraisse has been driven ashore by the ice on the west coast. A number of local craft tried to loot her, but the French cruiser Troude appeared on the scene and compelled them to surrender their plunder.

Portuguese Stowaways.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 19.—So many stowaways are found on Portuguese packets arriving from the Cape Verde islands that the immigration inspectors at this port are scrutinizing with great care all immigrants. One vessel had eighty-seven persons, seventeen being stowaways. The schooner Unique, which arrived last week, had twenty stowaways. Most of the immigrants from Cape Verde are young men who are trying to evade military service. The stowaways will be deported.

The Cuban Consulates.

HAVANA, May 19.—Senor Montoro the Cuban minister to Great Britain will sail shortly for London by way of New York. A branch legation at Berlin will be established after his arrival in Europe. The Cuban legation at Rome will probably be placed also under Minister Montoro's jurisdiction instead of under that of the Cuban charge d'affaires in Paris. President Palma advises the creation of Cuban consulates in the Dominican republic and Haiti.

Kent Wants Stay of Sentence.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., May 19.—George Raines has served on District Attorney Warren notice of an application for a certificate of reasonable doubt on behalf of Leland Dorr Kent, who was found guilty of manslaughter and sentenced to twenty years' imprisonment. The application is to be made at 8 o'clock tomorrow night before Supreme Court Justice Davy of Penn Yan.

Mr. Richard Day, of 134 East Front street, says: "I had a miserable pain across my back and a sort of lame feeling over my kidneys. Standing any length of time, or walking any distance aggravated it greatly. I was never sick much in my life and consequently never took much medicine, so when I first began having these attacks I paid little attention to them. They, however, grew worse instead of better so I had to look about for a remedy. I read quite frequently in our papers about cures brought about by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills so I got a box at L. W. Randolph's drug store and after taking them I felt greatly relieved. I have recommended them to my friends and those who have used them speak very highly in their praise."

We are showing in the above illustration an Acme Bolster Roll on a fine Mahogany Bed (Napoleon style.)

There are many little details in the furnishing of a Bed Room which contribute to its attractiveness. There is nothing we know of which helps the decorative arrangements so much as the bed drapery, and the bolster roll will contribute as much as anything to the success of the room by taking the place of the unsightly pillows during the day.

LOUBET AND COTTON

President of the Republic's Marked Courtesy.

EVIDENCE OF FRENCH FRIENDSHIP.

Ambassador Porter's Interesting Report of Reception of American Commander in Marseilles and at the Parisian Festivities.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Ambassador Porter has made an interesting report to the state department on the courtesies extended by the French government to the American squadron which participated in the welcome home of President Loubet and staff. He says the action of the United States in sending a squadron to Marseilles gave peculiar satisfaction to the French people.

"President Loubet treated Admiral Cotton with marked consideration and respect, and after congratulating him on his command and giving expression to many sympathetic messages to our government he detailed a naval aid to look after the admiral's comfort and provided a special railway coach to convey him to Paris. Arriving there, the admiral was provided a seat at the breakfast table where sat King Edward, and he also was invited by the president to sit in the box with him and King Edward at the gala performance at the opera. He also sat in the president's box at the Theatre Francais the next evening and also in a box at the opera the evening following."

Mr. Porter says that these special marks of consideration have been much commented on and must be interpreted as an expression of the appreciation of the government of France of the action of the United States in ordering its vessels to participate so conspicuously in honor of the return to France of President Loubet and his ministers.

English and German Trade.

BERLIN, May 19.—The possibility of trade hostilities with Great Britain presented to Germany by Colonial Secretary Chamberlain in his recent speech at Birmingham comes at an inopportune time. For Chancellor von Bulow a fresh and incalculable problem arises while the reconstruction of the commercial treaties with other countries was proceeding on well understood conditions. What the members of the ministry hope is that Premier Balfour and the majority of the cabinet will decline to follow Mr. Chamberlain's suggestion and that he will be obliged to leave the cabinet. Some of the papers affirm that Great Britain will be initiating a tariff war on all exporting countries, including the United States, if she supports her colonies in imposing preferential tariffs.

Firemen's Bill Opposed.

BOSTON, May 19.—A number of business men in Boston and the mayors of several large cities in Massachusetts at a hearing urged Governor Bates to veto the bill which is now in his hands waiting approval giving firemen twelve hours off duty in every twenty-four in cities of over 40,000 inhabitants. Opposition was based on the ground of the enormous expense which it would entail as well as the increase in insurance rates. A number of members of labor unions and former firemen were also heard by the governor in support of the measure, they claiming that the firemen are now only allowed one day in eight and should have more freedom.

Old Guns Will Be Shipped to Spain.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, May 19.—The old Spanish guns of the forts of San Juan, which ordnance the United States refused to buy, are being hauled to the quartermaster's dock for shipment to Spain. The cannons, of which there are six, are antique compared with the latest guns, being muzzle loaders with nine inch bores and weighing six tons each. Eight new guns have been shipped by the United States war department to this port, and the ammunition for them has already arrived. Four of these guns will be placed at El Morro and four at San Cristobal.

Jack the Choker on Trial.

CLEVELAND, O., May 19.—Joseph Kerwin of Toledo, claimed by the police to be Jack the Choker, was placed on trial here for his life in the criminal court charged with the murder of Maggie Snedegar, who was found choked to death in her room in a Lake street house Feb. 13 last. The woman's trunk was ransacked, and later a watch belonging to her was found in the possession of Kerwin. Another woman living in the neighborhood claimed that Kerwin had tried to choke her to death in a similar manner.

Central Vermont Train Wreck.

NORWICH, Conn., May 19.—A north bound train on the Central Vermont railroad collided with a switching engine in the yards near the local station and demolished its tender. The engine of the freight was overturned, three cars wrecked and thirteen others derailed. The crews of both engines escaped by jumping.

French Priests Will Get No Pay.

PARIS, May 19.—The government has suppressed the salaries of the priests of the churches at Belleville and Plaisance for admitting to their pulpits members of unauthorized orders, as this was the cause of disorders in their churches.

Montana Has Deep Snow.

HELENA, Mont., May 19. — The greater portion of Montana is covered with snow to a depth of from two to ten inches, and it is still falling. Sheep men have reason to fear losses because of the storm.

EQUITABLE ARRANGEMENT.

Of all the suggestions for municipal street sprinkling, the most satisfactory and equitable is the one which provides for the establishment of a fixed rate per front foot to be charged against property which is directly benefitted. The great trouble with paying for street sprinkling out of the general taxes was that many contributed for which they practically received no direct benefit.

This suggestion makes no direct increase in the tax rate but those getting the benefit will continue to pay for it as at present. Then they will be the gainers in that the work should be done cheaper, each benefitted property owner getting his portion of the profit which has heretofore gone into the hands of the stockholders of the corporation which has been sprinkling the streets.

There is one obstacle to this method. It cannot be done without a change in the present laws. Under the Jersey statutes, municipal street sprinkling has to be paid for out of the regular taxes and not by a special assessment as suggested. This difficulty can easily be obviated, however, by the passage of a bill through the Legislature at its next session. That will make it impossible to have the work done in that manner this season but it will be ready for adoption another year.

There is hardly a baseball team in Plainfield now that has not shown the great need of practice. There are lots of good players but many of them have made a showing that has seemed almost discouraging. A baseball team, like anything else, cannot be made in a moment and a past reputation counts for little when it comes to a lively game on the diamond. There isn't a nine here that doesn't need lots of practice. With a plenty of batting and fielding work, the boys will get into shape to play the game they did last season.

Captain Martin, of Company K, is amongst the marksmen gathered at Sea Girt this week trying for a place on the All-American team to go to England to contest for the Palma trophy. Captain Martin is conceded one of the best shots in the country and he should have no difficulty in making the team. His membership on the team will materially add to the reputation already made by Company K in State circles. That company was fortunate, indeed, in securing such a man to command.

Plainfield is now saddled with a ten-year contract with the Plainfield Water Supply Company and, in its negotiations with the company, failed even to get meters for those citizens who desired them. Summit has just purchased a water plant of its own. Success for that enterprise will be awaited with interest by the advocates of municipal ownership in Plainfield.

It is most remarkable, but nevertheless true, that when ever any case of unusual interest comes prominently before the public eye, Plainfield manages to figure in it somewhere. The latest is this Bedford case in which it turns up that one of the contesting heirs is a resident of this city.

That much-discussed question of Sunday golf is to come before the members of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club. It is earnestly hoped that they will see the wisdom of following the present course and not set themselves on record as favoring the desecration of the Sabbath.

New Jersey is to be represented at the St. Louis Exposition by a State building which will be the exact representation of Washington's headquarters at Morristown. That is something that Missouri can not boast of owning.

DUNELLEN HAS CANDIDATE

"S. S." WANTS TO WED MRS. JOSIE DELSON, OF METUCHEN.

She is the Woman Who Advertised for a Husband—Didn't Mind Drink.

A man signing his name as "S. S., of Dunellen," has written a letter to Mrs. Josie Dilson, of Metuchen, the woman who advertised for a husband in the want column of a New Brunswick paper, stating that she did not care if he drank moderately, and did not object to one wooden leg providing the other was perfectly sound, asking for an opportunity of presenting himself for her approval. His letter follows:

My Dear Josie:

After carefully considering your wants, I have at last decided to offer myself as a candidate. I am thirty-seven years old, have one wooden leg, but otherwise am perfectly sound, both in mind and body, and I think I should be able to fill the bill to the letter and I shan't be offended as I'm not the least bit sensative in a matter like this, as I know matrimony is not always a merry jest.

Yours sincerely,
S——— S———

Dunellen, N. J.

P. S.—You may think it funny at the post mark being Brunswick, but you see I was just doing a little detective work to see if I could locate you without writing. Once again I want to urge you to give me a sample trial for I'm the goods.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Clippings From Other Newspapers Which May be of Interest to Plainfield and Its Citizens.

The Board of Freeholders will doubtless give due consideration to the petition of the companies of national guard stationed in the county for an appropriation for the maintenance of suitable armory accommodations. It is important and necessary that the State should have military, and it is necessary that the military should have armories. The armories should be furnished the companies, and it should not be required of the soldiers in addition to their service, voluntarily given, that they pay any part of the cost of the maintenance of the guard. It may be a question as to whether the expense should come from the State or county, but the law is the guide for the Freeholders, and whatever authority is given them should be exercised for the soldiers' benefit as requested.—Elizabeth Journal.

DUNELLEN.

Saturday the Methodist church received the $500 which was to be given when the church had raised enough money in addition to pay off the mortgage on the church of $3,000. The money was left by the late Mrs. Alice Newton and as the church was successful in raising the other $2,500 it was paid over Saturday. The church is now without a cent of debt on it and the members feel very proud of its condition.

Last Sunday was the anniversary of the founding of the Epworth League and the event was celebrated Sunday evening, in the Methodist church, with appropriate exercises. The newly-elected officers of the local league were then installed with due ceremony.

The receipts at Saturday's ball game were very satisfactory as an unusually large number of tickets was disposed of.

Charles Doolittle spent yesterday afternoon at Rutgers College, which institution he will enter in the fall.

A line of seats has been erected along the third and first base lines on the Madison avenue field.

The Afternoon Card Club will hold a meeting today at the home of Miss Mary Teel.

A fair example of the service being rendered was shown Saturday after the ball game. Nearly 500 people from out of town attended the game, many depending upon the trolley to come and go by. The game was over at 5:20 but it was 7 o'clock before the entire crowd was able to return to their homes. An improvement was promised when the new power house was ready. This has been in operation for two weeks and the service has not improved in any way.

Morris Park Results.

NEW YORK, May 19.—Rosetint, with Tommy Burns up, won the Claremont handicap at Morris park. She was quoted at the good price of 7 to 1 and also smashed the record for six and a half furlongs by covering the distance in 1:19½, which is one-quarter of a second faster than Lady Uncas' time made in 1901. Rosetint rushed into the lead in the first eighth and, making almost all the running, had to be hard ridden to stall off Lux Casta's determined challenge in the last sixteenth. Rosetint won by a head, with Lux Casta second and Lady Uncas third, two lengths back. Hazelwood in the second race ran the four and a half furlongs of the Eclipse course in 52 seconds, which equals the record made by Handpress in 1897.

AN IDEAL LOCATION

BEAUTIFUL AND ACCESSIBLE.
2 Miles from Elizabeth. 7 Miles from Newark
14 Miles from New York.
Linden, New Jersey.
ON MAIN LINE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries
Largest Burial Parks IN THE State.

Transportation Facilities superior to those of any other cemetery, as to number of trains, railroad fare, time and distance.

These New Cemeteries, now being developed on the modern park plan, are attracting universal attention.

By Reason of Location Alone they are destined, in a very short time, to become the best-known Cemeteries in the country and, with their natural advantages, the most beautiful and desirable in which to purchase lots.

They are Accessible from every quarter and within easy reach of over 4,000,000 people, and, considering the steady and rapidly increasing growth of Greater New York and its tributary cities and towns, it is only the question of a short time before plots in Rosedale and Linden Park will equal in value those of our most noted cemeteries.

Popular Favor has already been shown to a marked degree in the sale of lots, several hundred having been sold to residents in Elizabeth, Linden, Rahway, Cranford, Jersey City, Orange, Paterson, Westfield, Newark and New York City, and a large number of interments have been made.

In the Days of Happiness we do not know what is to befall us or when the inevitable will occur; therefore, it is a wiser precaution to make provision for a final resting place during health and life than to force the painful duty on one's friends or relatives after death. A place of burial will be needed sooner or later by every one, and no one should neglect selecting a suitable and proper place until future postponement is impossible.

Linden Lodge is the largest, most modern and best equipped Cemetery Lodge in the country, and is provided with every requisite for the comfort and convenience of visitors who come to inspect the properties.

Something About Cooks And Kitchens.

INTO a great downtown restaurant I know of lunchers throng by the hundred at the noon hour, largely because of the exquisite cleanliness of the place. Patrons are free to go through the kitchen at any time and witness the broiling of steaks, the brewing of coffee, the making of omelets and puddings. If the proprietors of that restaurant allow this as an advertising device, they could hit on nothing better. The wooden tables shine with cleanliness, the cooks are clean and bright, with spotless white aprons and caps. Some of them are women, others are men. It gives one an appetite to look into that kitchen.

The shiny, spotless restaurant kitchen gives a hint of a new occupation opening to women; if college women, all the better. The new occupation needs all the intelligence and refinement possessed by the most highly developed human specimen. In brief, the new profession is the superintendence of kitchens in asylums and sanitariums—yes, and prisons, too, and all public institutions. The culinary and sanitary arrangements of all colleges and boarding schools should be directed by the woman professor of dietetics. If they were, we should not have the epidemics of typhoid and other dangerous diseases in so many colleges.

We shall have, in time, a college where women may learn such superintendence, also dietetics for sickness and health, for everyday life and for extra occasions, but such a school is not yet. The only present way for the professor of dietetics to acquire her learning is to attend an approved cooking school, then piece out her culinary learning with a thorough knowledge of chemistry, physiology and hygiene. A woman capable of superintending public kitchens may be absolutely certain of getting paying employment at once. Already a young lady has been put in charge of one of the great poorhouses of New York city. The Minnesota board of control has appointed Mrs. Mary B. James to look after the cookery of all the state institutions. Mrs. James will have her hands full. In Massachusetts women are employed in the same capacity in charitable institutions and hospitals. The demand is almost inexhaustible and the supply is not there. From all over the land at once seems to ascend the cry, "Give us the woman professor of dietetics!"

Civilized peoples have developed to that point where their stomachs refuse the aliment of the days when mankind knew not bathrooms. The sensitive digestive organs repel at uncleanliness and unæsthetic culinary arrangements, even when the victim himself does not know it. It is probable that a considerable number of the ailments that attack us with no known cause are due to unclean bake shops.

Tiled floors and walls, marble slab tables and white enameled kitchen sinks should characterize the place where human food is prepared; absolute, spotless cleanliness, refinement and good temper should characterize those who cook it. The kitchen ought to be the brightest, prettiest room in a house. An awful howl would be raised if the surgeons in a hospital should be ignorant, unclean and careless in their dress and coarse and disagreeable in their manners. Well, ten times more important and vital is it that operator and operating room where human food is prepared should be perfect. Food is the thing that goes inside of us and touches the very root of life. If pure air, immaculate cleanliness and daintiness are necessary to fight and conquer the microbes of disease in hospitals, how absolutely vital it is to prevent these microbes so far as possible from getting into us in the first place. And yet much of the food we swallow is actually prepared in human pigsties!

The woman sex naturally represents cleanliness and refinement. Man is the eating sex, woman the cooking sex, according to the division of our fathers. Let the division stand, but raise the woman's share to its highest and best. Let the woman professor of dietetics rank socially with the professors of mathematics and languages. Her work is enough more important than theirs. Send her forth to introduce air, cleanliness, sweetness and sunshine into the civilized kitchen! KATE SHARP.

By WALKER KENNEDY.

Copyrighted, 1903, by A. N. Kellogg Newspaper Co.

You'll have to throw again. Dock. Take a seat in the parlor," continued Mr. McGee to Warde, waving his hand toward the door of an adjoining room.

As Warde stood before the bar he was somewhat startled to find that his coming had not been without some interest to at least one or two of those present.

In one corner of the room two men sat at a table drinking. They were sturdy-looking fellows, who were slightly better dressed than their associates, but their faces were almost startling in the prominence of evil displayed therein. One of them was a very muscular man, whose strength had a certain cat-like element in it, which had been very cleverly celebrated by his associates in the nickname of Old Tom, which they had given him. His companion was an almost perfect specimen of physical manhood.

The mirror revealed the fact that these men were watching Warde with an intensity—it seemed to him a malignity of interest—for which he could not account; but he betrayed no surprise, nor did he give any evidence that he had observed them. Taking from his pocket a cigar he lighted it coolly, and then nonchalantly entered the parlor.

This was a simple room with a table and several chairs in it. A swinging lamp was suspended from above. The walls were covered with choice pictorial selections from the illustrated criminal weeklies. A few sensational papers suitable to the clientele at Peter's Rest were on the table, and Warde idly scanned these with about the same interest that a seraph might take in reading the London Times.

He had been there barely five minutes when the door opened and Old Tom entered the room. At first he seemed a bit embarrassed before Warde's cool and searching gaze and then he said: "You come here to see Bill Jackson, did you?"

"Yes; has he come back?"

"No, but maybe my pardner can tell you something about him."

"I'm not particular about that. If he does not come soon I shall go. Have you any idea what he wants with me? I'm a newspaper man."

"Wait till I call my pardner. I think he knows something about it."

"Never mind your partner. I do not care to know what he has to say."

Warde's suspicions were now aroused, and he did not propose to have a tete-a-tete with these brawny ruffians. There could be no doubt about it, a trap of some sort had been laid for him.

"See here, young feller," said Old Tom, "you ain't afraid to talk with a couple of gentlemen, are you?"

"I am not," said Warde, "but I have nothing to talk to you about. My time is up, anyhow."

He arose as he said this, but Old Tom stood before the door leading into the saloon, and there was something in his face that Irving had not seen before. The word "murder" was written upon it as plain as could be. Warde saw that not a moment was to be squandered. He took the whistle from his pocket and was raising it to his lips when Old Tom sprang toward him and with one sweep of his powerful hand sent the whistle spinning across the table to the floor. So vigorous was the blow that Warde was knocked against a door to the right and it gave way, sending him through it. Somewhat dazed, he picked himself up and with mechanical presence of mind he closed the door quickly. He had touched a key on the outside, and he turned it rapidly; and thus a locked door was between him and his assailant.

At first he could not tell where he was, it was so dark. But as soon as he became accustomed to the darkness he found that he was on a back porch shut in with lattice work. Round about him was the sense of something gliding.

In the saloon there was a great commotion, and he knew that he was not yet safe. He would be pursued. There was a door doubtless leading from the barroom to the porch, and the ruffians would come that way or break down the rickety door which he had just bolted. He felt that they were coming closer all the time. He could not spare even a moment. Hurriedly he felt with unsteady hand along the lattice work. If he could only find an opening he could cross the back yard and join Fenton in the vacant lot just to the south of the Rest. At last he found a door in the rear and a sense of triumph possessed him.

He flung it open and was about to plunge out, but for a moment he paused, appalled by the dense darkness beneath him; then he heard his pursuers coming, and a moment later a light flashed through the porch. Just then the moonlight fluttered feebly out of the clouds and he caught its sheen below. A cold horror came upon him.

Beneath him lay the river.

Now his pusuers were upon him indeed. Just below he saw the head of some black object projecting from the water, and as he gazed eagerly out he saw that there was a series of these dark objects leading away toward where a tugboat lay moored. The object seemed solid, and without moment's hesitation he leaped upon it.

"He has gone!" he heard a hoarse voice cry.

"Then he's in the river," came the answer.

And there was a rush toward the rear.

The object upon which Warde had lighted was a half sunken pile, and a series of them were driven at intervals of a yard apart. Some had been sunk deeper than others, and they stood out from the water like the black pillars of a ruined temple.

If he could walk along the tops of these irregular columns he might reach the tugboat. This would place him where he could perhaps secure help or where he could defend himself.

The river had eaten a great semicircle in the bank under the Rest, and the current eddied and circled around therein with silent but tremendous power. None but an expert swimmer could save himself from being drawn into this impromptu whirlpool. The piles had served the purpose of protecting the bank from the further encroachments of the river, and the line began under the Rest and extended away from the shore.

At first Warde leaped from one to another of these pillars without much trouble, but to climb up to one a little higher than the others and then let himself down to one far beneath it was a dangerous task, and the further he got out into the river the more difficult it became for him to make any headway.

Hardly had he traversed a dozen of these treacherous stepping stones when he was discovered, and, glancing back, he saw to his horror that he was being followed by Old Tom. He looked at the swirling river below him, and the world was reeling about him. A cold perspiration stood upon his face. He became nervous, blind almost, and felt an almost irresistible impulse to throw himself into the river and end the suspense.

Old Tom, however, was at home in this kind of an enterprise. It was pastime to him, and he crept from pile to pile with the cat-like agility which had won him his name.

It was a fearful race. The moon had now made some headway, and its light fell upon the black river and gave it the semblance of oxydized silver. Another backward glance, and a gleam of light revealed something bright in Old Tom's hand. It was a long, sharp knife.

Warde shivered.

On went the two figures leaping from pile to pile, one with trembling and uncertain steps, the other with the easy confidence of one to whom the way was familiar.

Old Tom was gaining steadily upon him, and Warde, with some reeling and despair in his heart, saw that he could not escape.

Suddenly he remembered his pistol. He did not want to use it as long as he had been in the saloon, for he knew very well that if he had killed anybody the mob would have torn him to pieces with joyous unanimity; and in his effort to escape he had for the time forgotten it. It was now his only hope unless Fenton should come to his assistance.

He turned about upon the pile on which he was standing so as to confront his adversary. The latter was approaching him confidently and resolutely. His one grim object was the death of the reporter.

The shadowy houses on the shore were rising and falling as if they were about to plunge into the stream. The silver lines of light played over the face of the water. He could see the great steamboats, with their red and green lights and their trailing banners of black smoke, rounding the bends or putting into the wharf. All else was silence. Even the crowd of reckless criminals, craning their necks from the back door, were dumb with excitement as they waited the duel between the men upon these black stumps.

The stars were silent, and they were cold, too. Warde felt that they did not care.

In his eagerness to get out his pistol, his hand trembled so that the weapon, catching in his clothing, slipped and fell into the river.

Where could Fenton be, he wondered in a vague way? Had he entered the Rest and been disposed of?

Warde called to him several times, but received no response; but he had no time now to look toward the shore. Old Tom was nearly upon him, and he determined that if he had to die, it should only be after a game fight. He braced himself as firmly as he could upon his pile, prepared to use his fists upon his approaching antagonist, and drag him down to death with him.

Old Tom had just lighted on the pile next to him and was getting ready to leap.

A pistol shot broke upon the air, the gleaming knife dropped into the stream and Old Tom gave a terrible cry of mingled pain and disgust, and then crouched down and held to his pile to prevent himself from falling into the river, but his strength was not great enough, and he slipped into the swirling water and was dragged away from sight.

OPPOSE WELCOME TO EDWARD.

Meeting Turned Into a Donnybrook Fair—Many Injured.

DUBLIN, May 19.—Scenes of extreme disorder were witnessed at a meeting of citizens here in the rotunda in support of the Irish parliamentary fund owing to the presence of members of the Gaelic league, who are opposed to giving King Edward a friendly welcome on his coming visit to Ireland. Timothy Harrington, lord mayor of Dublin, was in the chair. While John Redmond was addressing the audience Mrs. McBride, formerly Miss Maud Gonne, interrupted the proceedings by asking Lord Mayor Harrington whether he intended as head of the municipality to oppose the presentation of an address of welcome to the king. Mr. Harrington replied in an evasive way. Mrs. McBride insisted on a direct answer, whereupon scenes of the wildest disorder occurred and prevented John Redmond from continuing his speech.

The members of the Gaelic league tried to storm the platform amid cries of "Put them out!" Fierce collisions between the Gaelic leaguers and the other members of the assembly ensued. Chairs were hurled to and from the platform, and many persons were injured in the desperate efforts made to eject the disturbers and restore order. John O'Donnell, member of parliament for South Mayo, was badly injured in the head during the scuffle.

John Redmond persevered in continuing his speech, and eventually a semblance of order was regained, and a resolution in accordance with the object of the meeting was carried.

HAD FIVE FATAL WOUNDS.

Ex-Lieutenant Governor Killed in Street Shooting.

THIBODEAUX, La., May 19.—A shooting affray which resulted in the death of former Lieutenant Governor Clay Knoblock occurred on Main street. The affair created intense excitement. The shooting was done by James Garault, a barber, in a section of Main street usually crowded, but as the hour was early few people were on the street. Several witnesses of the shooting were found, but they refused to talk further than to say that Garault shot in self defense.

The men were seen talking together, when suddenly Knoblock drew his revolver. It appeared that he experienced some trouble with the weapon, and the cartridges failed to explode. Before Knoblock could make another attempt to shoot Garault whipped out his revolver and opened fire. That his aim was true was established by the autopsy held by the coroner, who found five wounds in the dead man's body. Any one of the wounds would have proved fatal.

Garault surrendered to the authorities immediately, but it is believed he will be allowed bond.

Henry Clay Knoblock was a native of La Fourche parish. He served as lieutenant governor under Governor Samuel D. McEnery, now United States senator.

THE NEW BULGARIAN CABINET.

Petroff Is the New Premier and Foreign Minister.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, May 19.—In view of the failure of M. Petkoff, leader of the Stambuloff party, to form a new cabinet Prince Ferdinand called upon former Premier General Petroff, and the latter informed the prince that he had succeeded in the task. In the new ministry General Petroff is premier and foreign minister, M. Petkoff is minister of the interior, and all the other ministers also belong to the Stambuloff party.

The preceding Daneff cabinet resigned owing, it was stated, to a secret edict issued by Prince Ferdinand affecting Dr. Radeff, the minister of public instruction.

Prince Ferdinand in the formation of a new cabinet has had in view, according to a St. Petersburg dispatch, a peaceful home and foreign policy, especially regarding Macedonia.

Trolleys Run Again In Bridgeport.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., May 19.—With few exceptions, the running of trolley cars on the lines of the Connecticut Railway and Lighting company manned by nonunion motormen and conductors have not been interfered with. There were fifteen men and boys locked up during the day on charges of intimidation. The majority of the prisoners were using offensive language to the strike breakers at the time of their arrest. The men were placed under $1,000 bonds each, and the boys were obliged to furnish a $300 bond.

Jeweled Cross For Bishop Conaty.

TAUNTON, Mass., May 19.—A complimentary banquet was given to the Right Rev. Bishop Thomas J. Conaty, who was assigned to the diocese of Los Angeles, Cal., in the close of his work as rector of the Catholic university at Washington. An incident of the evening was the presentation of a pectoral cross of gold to the bishop which is set with a large diamond and circled with other precious stones.

SARATOGA, N. Y., May 19.—Agriculturists are complaining bitterly of the damaging effects of the protracted drought from which this entire section is suffering. Unless there is a speedy change crops of all kinds will be seriously injured. The mercury in many parts reached 90 degrees in the shade.

John Law of Franklin Dead.

MALONE, N. Y., May 19.—John Law, editor and proprietor of the Franklin Gazette, is dead here suddenly of apoplexy, aged sixty-three years. From boyhood he had been connected with the Gazette, beginning as a compositor.

Saturday's victory of the local High School nine over Rutgers Prep. was very gratifying to the members of the school, forty of whom accompanied the team to New Brunswick and helped to cheer it to victory. The High School boys played snappy ball and rapped the opposing pitcher hard, scoring in every inning but two. In the sixth VanAuken, for the High School, knocked out a home run with a man on base, and Thompson followed suit in the ninth. Rutgers was weak in all round work, their fielding being marred by thirteen errors.

for the proposition. He said that he had a number of tenants who complained about the almost insufferable dust. However, he said he would be willing to pay his proportionate share of the cost. He said that Plainfield is about twenty years behind such a place as Asbury Park, where they have street sprinkling and the ashes and garbage are collected by the city.

Dr. Ellis W. Hedges also spoke in favor of the plan, claiming benefits along the line of health and the comfort of the people. He believed that the greatest good to the greatest number should be the motto of the Council and he hoped that the city would give the people street sprinkling.

Rev. L. R. Howard, of Hope chapel, spoke in support of the plan in behalf of the people of the city who are in moderate circumstances, claiming that they are entitled to as much consideration as the more wealthy, who can afford such comforts.

This concluded the hearing on the matter, and after a lengthy recess, during which it was decided to adopt the resolution offered by Mr. Pray, the Council returned to the regular order of business.

In the routine business considered an application was received for a liquor license for the Hotel Netherwood during the coming season. The matter was referred to the license committee. A communication received from W. R. Cosgrove, of Richmond street, in which he stated that he had not paid a poll tax for eight years. He desired to pay the amount if he owed it to the city. The matter was referred.

E. L. Finch stated in a communication that he had already paid taxes on his Arlington avenue property and he objected to paying the tax twice. The matter will be investigated by the proper committee.

Mrs. Elizabeth Apgar and other residents of DeKalb avenue petitioned for an electric light on that avenue and the light committee will consider the petition.

Mr. Daniel offered a resolution affecting the alleged encroachment of the Durlach building on Watchung avenue at the corner of East Front street, the resolution providing that the corporation counsel be consulted regarding the matter and steps being taken to remove the encroachment. The resolution was adopted.

Another resolution by Mr. Daniel called for an appropriation of $200 with which to properly fit up the city vault with files and indexes for the use of the clerk and collector. The resolution was adopted, as was also another one by the same member providing for an appropriation of $200 or any portion of it with which to prepare the new school bonds. The sum is to be expended under the direction of the city treasurer.

Mr. Lee introduced a resolution authorizing the fire and building committee to pension the fire horse known as "Doc" and to sell two other fire horses, now unfit for service, and to purchase three new horses at an expense not to exceed $750. The resolution was adopted. It explained that the horse to be pensioned is now twenty years old and has performed twelve years service.

Mr. Daniel offered a resolution fixing Monday evening, June 15, at 8 o'clock, as the time, when sealed bids will be received for the purchase of the new school bonds, the amount being $60,000, and to be issued by the city. This resolution was adopted.

Before the meeting adjourned, Mr. vanHerwerden moved that a public hearing be granted in behalf of the Central Jersey Telephone Co. to the people of Plainfield on Monday evening, June 1, at 8 o'clock, when arguments for or against the granting of a franchise to this company can be made. BOARD OF TRADE HELD MEETING

A Number of Important Matters Were Considered Last Evening.

WANT SWIMMING POOL

Street Sprinkling and Granting of a Franchise to New Telephone Company Also Discussed—Want Better Trolley Service Saturdays on Account of Ball Games.

A number of important matters of public interest were discussed last evening, at the monthly meeting of the Board of Trade, in the rooms of the Camera Club on East Front street, among them being the questions of street sprinkling and the granting of a franchise to the Central Jersey Telephone Company. Better bathing facilities in the Fourth ward were advocated. President L. B. Woolston was in the chair.

Reference was made to the inadequate accommodations afforded by the street railway company to patrons desiring to attend Saturday afternoon baseball games at the Alis and Cuban Giants' grounds. G. W. Runyon expressed the opinion that the company should be urged to run extra cars on the Arlington avenue line beginning at 1 or 2 o'clock Saturday afternoons. If it should not be practicable to run additional cars, the company, it was said, ought at least to put on trailers. The increased revenue that would accrue to the company, said Mr. Runyon, would more than compensate for the expense of running the extra cars. Mr. Runyon was appointed a committee of one to confer upon the matter with Division Superintendent Phillip Maguire of the street railway.

The street sprinkling problem was considered at some length. Various phases of the situation were discussed, among them the difficulty of obtaining sprinkling wagons and the cost of stables and men to take care of them. It was decided that it was best to leave the matter entirely in the hands of the Council without appointing a committee for conference.

In regard to allowing a second telephone company to do business in Plainfield, the concensus of opinion seemed to be that much better service would be obtained with only one company as at present. Elston M. French explained the extra trouble and expense that business firms would be obliged to undergo, by having to use two telephones, if the franchise for a new company was granted. He stated that the service in cities where there are two companies in the field is generally poorer and more expensive, and mentioned Newark, Jersey City and Trenton as cities that has tried the double system without any appreciable measure of success. The fact that the streets would have to be torn up was given as an additional obstacle. President Woolston agreed with the majority upon the inadvisability of the proposed move, but stated that if the Common Council found upon investigation that cheaper rates would result, there was nothing to prevent the people from demanding the change. He was assured that the services with two lines in operation was less cheaper and generally less speedy. George J. Tobin gave as a case in point the slow service that he had been able to obtain in Trenton. The $30 residence and $36 business service with one company was agreed to be the best possible.

Harry C. Runyon spoke of the insufficient bathing facilities afforded the inhabitants of the Fourth ward. He stated that, of 8,000 people in the ward, probably not more than 3,000 have proper opportunities for bathing. Most of the houses in the ward are occupied by at least two families and in many of them there are no bathing accommodations at all. Bathing in Green brook is strictly prohibited by the police. There should be some place, bath houses or a swimming pool, where the Fourth ward public could perform their ablutions without interference. Mr. Tobin suggested that a portion of Green brook might be fenced in for the purpose. President Woolston stated that some such arrangement would undoubtedly receive the approval of the mayor. At Mr. Runyon's suggestion a committee was appointed to bring the matter to the attention of the proper authorities as follows: Harry C. Runyon, George J. Tobin and M. J. Cashin.

DELAYED ANNOUNCEMENT.

Miss Florence Young and Frank L. Newman Married Last September.

Announcement has just been made of the wedding of Miss Florence Young, of Long Branch, to Frank L. Newman, of 219 Richmond street. The ceremony was performed last September by Justice Joseph Clark, of Scotch Plains. This will be a surprise to many as both the contracting parties are well known in this city, where the groom is employed at the Rushmore Dynamo Works. Mr. Newman has been living in this city and his wife has been residing with her parents in Long Branch since the wedding, but sometime this summer Mr. and Mrs. Newman will go to housekeeping at Long Branch, where they will reside permanently.

ALL TALK OF IT.

I. C. T. Club Circus is the Chief Topic of Conversation This Week.

Horse races, politics, baseball and shop talk have all apparently sunk into oblivion during the past week and the topic of conversation seems to be the circus promoted by the I. C. T. Club which will be in this city for two nights this week, Friday and Saturday with a matinee Saturday afternoon.

It will be the greatest and grandest aggregation of human freaks, startling hippodrome races, thrilling gymnastic feats, dare-devil acts on horseback, laughable situations, exorutiatingly funny clowns, leather lunged barkers and lecturers and the inevitable peanut sellers and pink lemonade men. It will be a show that has never been equalled in Plainfield.

The array of professional artists is most complete.

William Holbert, whose success in the Hope minstrels won him much praise, will appear as Mille Onanag. This act alone is well worth the price of admission "and if the audience is not satisfied the money will be refunded." Divo, that wonderful beast which Darwin immortalized, will be one of the star attractions. He will do a startling "stunt" in looping the loop in a miniature automobile. Matthew D. Sweeney and Thomas M. Muir will make a great hit as clowns and altogether the show will be well worth going to see. Tickets can be secured from the members of the club, at Schreiner's drug store, or at Warnock's bakery.

LAID AT REST.

Funeral Services Held Over Remains of W. J. Monsell Today.

The funeral of the late William J. Monsell, who passed away Monday, took place this morning from St. Mary's church when Rev. Father Egan spoke a few words about the character of the deceased. The services were largely attended and the local court of Foresters attended in a body and escorted the remains to the cemetery. The floral display was very handsome. Interment was in St. Mary's cemetery.

The pall bearers were P. Corrigan, Edward McCue, Thomas Fitzgerald, P. Harrington, J. Driscoll and Charles Jeager.

Another Operation Necessary.

Lewis Putnam, of East Sixth street, who was injured by a fall five years ago and who had to have a portion of his leg amputated, had another operation performed at Muhlenberg Hospital recently when three more inches were amputated. This was necessary on account of the diseased condition of the bone.

Y. M. C. A. Field Day.

A bulletin has been posted up in the Y. M. C. A. calling attention to the field meet which is to be held at the Y. M. C. A. field, Jersey City, June 6. It is probable that many of the local members will enter for the honors.

Quick, of the fire department, is manager.

NETTED $165.

Unclaimed Packages Were Sold at Auction Saturday Evening.

The United States Express Company netted $165 from the auction sale of unclaimed packages Saturday evening. The auction was conducted by Peter H. Latourette. John Goodwin, of the borough, bought for 25 cents a small wooden box. In it was a most peculiar machine. No one seems to know what it was built for. It is fitted with clockwork, a series of springs, a fuse and other electrical appliances. An electrician who saw the machine thought that it was part of a self extinguishing gas stove heater, but was not certain. At first Mr. Goodwin thought that he had bought an infernal machine but his friends assured him that it was harmless. One man by the name of Moore paid thirty cents for a small box in which was a watch for which he got $5.

"GROWING YOUNG AND KEEPING YOUNG"

Subject of First Lecture by Mrs. Jennie Fowler-Willing Yesterday Afternoon.

INTERESTING SPEAKER

LARGE AUDIENCES WERE PRESENT AT BOTH LECTURES.

In the Evening Spoke on "Rejuvenated in Appearance"—Held at Trinity Reformed Church and Was a Rare Treat.

Those interested in the lectures being given by Mrs. Jennie Fowler-Willing, under the auspices of the local W. C. T. U., are enjoying a rare treat. The first two of these lectures were given yesterday afternoon and evening in the lecture room of Trinity Reformed church, when large audiences gathered to hear this talented woman.

Her first lecture in the afternoon was on "Growing Young and Keeping Young." Mrs. Willing, though past eighty years of age, is exceedingly active and in her lectures she gives practical demonstrations of her theories. Among other things, Mrs. Willing said: "In this strenuous, hurried American life, there is everything to make us weak, angular and awkward. The result is worn-out nerves, both our own, and those of the people with whom we have to do. This lecturing will be a missionary scheme, if it will bring a few thousand good people to stop, and study how to keep themselves in condition for the best service."

Last evening Mrs. Willing gave her second lecture on "Rejuvenated in Appearance," and in her talk purposed to show young people how to become strong by safe, home gymnastics, graceful without dancing risks, and to keep their fresh healthful vigor; and the elderly, how to clip the wings of their vanishing youth. She also told how to be graceful in manner and movement, as well as strong in muscle, and how to stand, sit, walk, talk, look and move with proper dignity and grace.

In connection with these talks Mrs. Willing went through a series of gymnastic movements, explaining their benefit to all who would practice them daily. Both lectures were greatly enjoyed by all.

This afternoon and evening, Mrs. Willing will give her third and fourth lecture in the Seventh-Day Baptist church and tomorrow afternoon and evening she will give her last three lectures at the Crescent Avenue church. The first will be given at 2:30 o'clock, accompanied with music. The second will be given between 4 and 5 o'clock, and the last lecture will be given at 8 o'clock in the evening.

Sproull, first vice president of the New Jersey Christian Endeavor Union. There will also be a ten minute talk on fresh-air work by A. N. Pierson, of Westfield. There will also be the election of officers, the award of the county banner and other interesting exercises. Music will be a feature of the meeting.

KENNETH ALSTON BURIED.

Simple Services for the Infant Child of G. B. Alston.

Brief funeral services for Kenneth Alston, the infant son of G. B. Alston, of 229 West Second street, were held at the parents' home yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. E. E. Jackson, of the Mount Olive Baptist church, officiated. The exercises were simple, there being no music and no bearers. There were many lovely floral offerings. The burial was at Hillside cemetery.

—The market is full of berries, good, bad and indifferent. Neuman Brothers have the good kind, Maryland and Jersey berries of highest grade. Fresh shipments every day. Prices way down.

The work of the orchestra showed much improvement in every respect, all the members playing in perfect unison and with good effect. Martin A. Korff directed the orchestra in his usual efficient manner. There were twelve numbers on the programme and during the intermission, a silver offering was received.

DELIGHTFUL MUSICALE.

Given at Park Club Last Evening by Entertainment Committee—Informal Affair.

A very delightful musicale was given last evening at the Park Club for the members, under the auspices of the entertainment committee, of which Mrs. S. St. John McCutchen is the chairman. It was in every sense an informal affair and while the audience was not a large one, it was a thoroughly appreciative one.

The programme consisted of violin selections by Miss Theo White, accompanied by Mrs. Nelson A. Miller on the piano; tenor solos by Mr. Skiff, organist at the Church of the Holy Cross, and contralto solos by Mrs. F. M. Ward. The numbers presented were of the popular class and the performers received many encores, to which they generously responded.

The entertainment lasted about an hour, after which refreshments were served and the younger set enjoyed dancing for awhile.

RUNAWAY ON NORTH AVENUE

Trolley Struck Runabout And Threw Occupants Into The Street.

HORSE SEVERELY CUT.

Woman Injured on Leg and Badly Shaken Up—The Infant Escaped—Horse Ran Down North Avenue and Crashed Into a Cigar Store on Park Avenue.

One of the worst runaways seen in the business district of the city in some time caused much excitement on North and Park avenues last evening. A horse driven by Samuel Hunt, of East Third street, who was accompanied by his wife and infant child, became frightened by a trolley car striking the rear wheels of the vehicle as it entered Watchung avenue from East Third street, and ran away.

The car struck the runabout and overturned it, throwing the occupants to the ground. Hunt held fast to the reins but the horse got away from him and continued on his run down North avenue. At Park avenue the horse was going at too great a speed to make the turn and ran head first into the large display window of M. C. Dobbins' tobacco store. The horse first struck a cigar store Indian and breaking the image in two, pushed it through the pane of glass. The crash of glass as the animal, driven to a frenzy, tried to free itself from the window, attracted many and while the crowd stood back at a respectful distance George Apgar, a letter carrier, and Matthew D. Sweeney rushed to the animal's head and held it while others removed the glass which formed a collar about the beast's neck.

The horse was taken to Cole's stable on West Second street where it was found that it had received severe cuts from the glass and broken carriage. The carriage was wrecked.

The horse was owned by William Jackson, of East Third street, a brother of the woman who was thrown from the rig. The woman was injured on the leg and was badly shaken up, although the baby, which was in its mother's arms, escaped uninjured. The people in the carriage and the owner, William Jackson, are respectable colored people, who have lived here many years.

The board has appointed J. G. Gaston, Joshua Stryker and S. Goodman to look into the matter, visit the factory and report.

The clergy of the town have been made honorary members of the board.

You get one every day this week, however, with each purchase of fifty cents worth of teas, coffees, and A. and P. spices, extracts and baking powders at the A. and P. Tea Company store on West Front street. The goods themselves are the very best, and are sold at the lowest rates in town. Elgin creamery butter is a specialty.

Mr. Laing is also prepared to repair electric fans and put them in running order. He also does all kind of electrical work and guarantees to give satisfaction. His prices are reasonable.

VETERANS REUNITE

Great Gathering of Ex-Confederates at New Orleans.

A NOTABLE SPEECH BY GORDON.

Commander In Chief In Opening Address Says the Day of Bitterness and Animosity Has Ended Forever.

NEW ORLEANS, May 20.—The United Confederate Veterans opened their thirteenth annual reunion under the most favorable auspices. The great auditorium erected in the center of the race track at the fair grounds was filled with a cheering, enthusiastic multitude long before the hour set for the formal opening, and when at noon General J. B. Levert, commanding the Louisiana division, called the convention to order there was not a vacant seat in the hall, which easily holds 19,000 people.

As the commander in chief of the Veterans, General John B. Gordon, came to the front of the rostrum the delegates rose en masse and gave him cheer after cheer. The general repeatedly bowed his acknowledgments of the loyal and affectionate greeting and when the tumult had subsided he replied as follows:

"To my thought it is most fitting that this proud and patriotic organization should again meet in this historic city which gave it birth. The meeting of such men as you welcome today, whose past deeds will remain forever an inspiration to American valor and to future sacrifices for constitutional freedom, is an auspicious event in the country's history whenever and wherever it may occur, but how peculiarly inspiring is this reunion in Louisiana on this one hundredth anniversary of her new birth into governmental alliance with American states!

"A Roman eye would have discovered in a meeting of such men at such time an omen of good to the cause of liberty, and American eyes should see in it nothing but good to the whole republic. It must of necessity be beneficent and only beneficent. We will not indulge on this centennial, this political millennial morning, nor at other times, in any bitterness. We feel none. We pity those who do. We have long since drawn the curtain of oblivion over the regretful and unseemly things of the past, and we cherish as Americans the valor and noble deeds of both armies and of all sections. We are satisfied with our record, and the power that would attempt to make us blush for it would be both stupid and blind.

"We are heirs, joint heirs, with the republic's children in the inheritance of freedom left by our sires. We are proud of all the past. Moreover, we are now facing a future pregnant with tremendous possibilities, but we face it with a strength of hope and assurance borne of an unswerving purpose to discharge our every duty to all races and to the whole country. We are growing old, but we still stand firmly on the narrow strip of land which separates us from a boundless ocean."

To Remove Patrick Henry's Body.

RICHMOND, Va., May 20.—A strong movement has begun in Richmond for the removal of the body of Patrick Henry from its present grave in Charlotte county to St. John's church yard in this city and the erection of a marble monument to the great Virginia orator and leader of the Revolution. It was in St. John's church that Henry made his famous speech ending, "Give me liberty or give me death."

Little Bay, N. F., Devastated.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., May 20.—Fire has devastated the mining town of Little Bay, where a large copper mine is being worked. Three churches, with the clergymen's residences, the mining company's stores, the government buildings and forty dwellings were destroyed. The total loss is estimated at $50,000. Two hundred and fifty persons are homeless, and relief is being forwarded by the authorities.

FLAMES ARE MASTER

Conditions In Adirondacks Are Very Much Worse.

FISHERS AND CAMPERS CARELESS.

One Fire Has Burned Over Six Miles of Territory, and Loss to Lumber Traders Has Been Very Serious.

GLENS FALLS, N. Y., May 20.—Reports received at the offices of lumber companies here who are heavy Adirondack landholders say that the conditions throughout the woods is critical by reason of the extended drought. There is hardly a township in the heavily wooded sections of Warren, Hamilton and Essex but that is ablaze. The state is a heavier loser than the lumber companies, for the reason that the latter's fire fighting force is better organized. The fire wardens are heavily handicapped in securing men.

A large portion of the population of the woods where the fires are burning the fiercest is a roving one, and as the money to pay for fighting fire is not available until next February it is difficult to secure the force that is needed, and in many instances the wardens make but little effort to stop the fires. One of the worst fires that has been reported so far this season started on Baird mountain northeast of Luzerne and has already burned over a track of country six miles long and a mile wide. Fire wardens of three towns are directing the fight, but it has passed practically out of their control.

George R. Finch of Finch, Pruin & Co., who are one of the heaviest holders in Adirondack lands, says that fishermen and campers are responsible for half of the fires that devastate the north woods yearly. "It takes an expert to put out a camp fire in the woods," said Mr. Finch. "The ground is covered with a thick blanket of dried decayed vegetation that resembles punk. A man may think his camp fire is out, and a few days later it will work up perhaps a couple of hundred yards from the place where it started."

The Hudson river is the lowest that it has been in years. A half dozen of the big lumber drives are hung up on the shoals between the Boreas river and Glens Falls. The supply of logs in the big boom which is used as storage for the lumber and paper companies is running low, and unless the drought is soon ended the paper and lumber mills will be seriously handicapped in their operations.

The Drought In New York State.

KINGSTON, N. Y., May 20.—Tuesday was the warmest day known here at this season in many years, the thermometer registering 95 in the shade. Farmers and fruit growers are complaining of dry weather. All crops are greatly retarded, and without rain soon the loss will be heavy. The dry weather has caused many forest fires which have driven many snakes out of the brush. In some instances they have taken refuge in farmers' houses.

Thirty Fires In Maine Woods.

AUGUSTA, Me., May 20.—Forest Commissioner Ring, just returned from a trip to the northern part of the state, reports that there are thirty different forest fires now in progress in the Maine woods, extending from Oxford county to the St. John river. The woods are extremely dry, and the danger of additional fires is growing more serious each day. Vast areas of timber lands have been burned over.

Accident Was Due to Liquor.

MONCTON, N. B., May 20.—The government has dismissed Engineer Nelson Copeland, a conductor, and another employee of the Intercolonial railway, as they were largely responsible for the collision between Copeland's train, a fast freight, and a Canadian Pacific express at Windsor Junction. In the wreck half a dozen persons were killed, a dozen injured and twenty-five cars destroyed. The official investigation attributes the mistake to the use of intoxicating liquor, and it is understood prosecution against Copeland has been ordered.

New Bedford City Hall a Refuge.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., May 20.—The New Bedford city hall was converted to one of the strangest uses in its whole history when its doors were opened to receive 404 Brava immigrants from the bark Vera Cruz VII., which went ashore at Ocracoke inlet. The immigrants arrived here from Newbern, N. C., in a special train and were transported in barges to the city hall, there to be held until relatives or friends come forward with assurances that they will not become public charges.

Cincinnati Track Opens Today.

CINCINNATI, O., May 20.—The prospects are most flattering for a fine day and a fast track for the opening of the spring meeting of the Latonia Jockey club today. The Derby, at a mile and a half, will be the feature of the card. There will be nine starters, the largest field in years, with Bad News the most fancied by the talent. Judge Hines and Tancred are next in choice. The meeting will last sixteen days.

Atlantic Wreck Recalled.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., May 20.—George Smith, one of the few survivors of the steamship Atlantic, wrecked off Meagher rock, Nova Scotia, in 1873, when upward of 500 perished, has just died in the insane asylum here.

First Boat For Alaska.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 20.—The steamship Portland has put to sea for Nome, being the first boat of the season to carry passengers north.

HOW TO SOLVE IT.

Although all the members of the Common Council who were present at Monday's meeting, expressed themselves as favoring street sprinkling, they stood rather in awe of increasing the tax rate at this day even if it were possible. A resolution was passed empowering the street committee to purchase six water carts, if that committee deemed it advisible. Having successfully shifted the responsibility off on Councilman R. I. Tolles and his fellow-committeemen, the Council left this interesting but perplexing topic alone.

When we come to view the situation, it really hasn't changed at all. The only difference is that the street committee has been given the right to go ahead if its members believe that the proper course. The Councilmen are in favor of street sprinkling by the city but they hesitate, and properly, at increasing the tax rate.

That suggestion of J. K. Myers, based on the Canadian plan, as advocated in yesterday's Daily Press, still appears to be the most satisfactory solution of the problem. By that arrangement the tax rate will remain where it is but the tax bills of those who are benefitted will be increased by the addition of an assessment for street sprinkling. At present the work is done by a private corporation which sends its bills around monthly. It would be no harder to pay that money to the city than to a private individual, especially when the cost of doing the work for the city ought to mean a reduced charge.

It is to be hoped that the street committee will carefully look into this suggestion made by Mr. Myers and see if it cannot be arranged to work satisfactorily in Plainfield as well as in Canada when the proper laws are provided.

That troublesome question of the amateur status of the contestants is one which always has and probably always will bother amateur organizations where there is any great degree of rivalry. There always comes the great temptation to get somebody who excells in that particular sport by offering him special attractions of value, either cash or in another form. This question is now worrying the officials of the City Baseball League. It was bothersome last season and has become particularly so now. It was discussed at the meeting of the executive committee of the league Monday night but nothing definite was done. It may result, however, in the protest of some games before the season is over.

While Chief Doane and others who witnessed the accident yesterday morning declare that it was not caused by too rapid driving of the apparatus, there are many who have seemed to take another view. Judging from the stories of the eye-witnesses, the real cause of the accident was the conjestion of traffic and bystanders frightening the new horse in the truck team. If the fire alarm whistle had not sounded there would not have been the crowd around the corner, attracted there by the whistle. When the day comes that the fire department can eliminate the whistle, it will, at the same time, do away with many dangerous features of the firemen's run to the fire.

Once before when the question of Sunday golf playing came before the members of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, it was defeated by a rousing majority. It is sincerely to be hoped that there has been no great change of sentiment and that the members of the club will turn out to the meeting Saturday evening and roundly defeat this attempt to desecrate the Sabbath.

The local Hebrews are soon to have a religious home of their own. They have been working earnestly toward that end for some time and have had the active assistance and sympathy of many of the prominent citizens of the place. It is but right and just that they should have a house of worship of their own and the movement to secure it has the endorsement of all.

BOARD OF TRADE HELD MEETING

A letter from the Board of Trade, of Morristown, was read extending an invitation to the Plainfield board to send a representative to the annual banquet of the Morristown board on May 25, at which the question of the advantages of manufacturing interests to a small city is to be considered. The members were obliged to decline the invistion owing to a press of other duties. Yardley Brown was elected a member of the Plainfield board.

The Township Committee will meet at 8 o'clock this evening in Dent's Hotel for the purpose of considering putting electric lights in several parts of Piscataway.

The ice business formerly owned by J. Y. Wilson has been purchased by George Schenck, who has been in Mr. Wilson's employ for a number of years.

The hay crop throughout this section has been about ruined by the long continued drought.

Regular weekly prayer meeting will be held in the First Baptist church this evening.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

One of the most enjoyable social events of the season was the closing reception and cotillion given in the hall last night by the dancing class. The cotillion danced by the class under the direction of Mrs. Westcott included many fancy and intricate figures which were enjoyed by the parents and friends of the class. At the close of the cotillion the floor was given over to the tripping of the light fantastic until a late hour. The committee in charge had decorated the hall tastefully in green and white, together with the stars and stripes, the combination forming a simple but pretty effect. Music, which was commented upon by all, was furnished by Garland, of New Burnswick.

The local fans were made happy Saturday. It was expected that the team would lose Davis, who has been pitching such a great game for the locals the past two seasons. An offer was made for his services by the New York State League but he concluded he would still stay with the locals, so refused the offer.

Manager Johnston has booked two good games for Decoration Day. In the morning the College of the City of New York will be the visiting team. In the afternoon Newark's strongest team, the Celluloids, will be on hand to try to wipe out their defeat by the locals last season.

Mrs. Foster, of Newark, one of the State workers in the Farther Light Society work, will address the meeting of the local society to be held in the Baptist church parlors Friday afternoon.

The weekly meeting of the Amity Club was held last night. The members are busy arranging for their clipping table which will be one of the features of the library fair to be held in June.

L. A. Goodenough, formerly principal of the school but now superintendent of the Paterson schools, has been visiting at the home of friends in town.

The old landmark, known as the Hunter place, on Front street, is being torn down to make way for improvements to the property.

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Peltz have been entertaining Mr. Peltz's father from Bayonne for a few days.

Mrs. Fred. Clawson, who has been dangerously ill for the past week, is reported as improving now very nicely.

The boys in town are beginning to enjoy their summer's sport, bathing at the "back pond."

The C. B. Club, of the Methodist church, meets in the church tonight.

Plumbers to Meet.

The Journeymen Plumbers' Association will meet tomorrow evening to consider further the question of a Saturday half-holiday.

The Wastes of the Body.

Every seven days the blood, muscles and bones of a man of average size loses two pounds of wornout tissue. This waste cannot be replenished and the health and strength kept up without perfect digestion. When the stomach and digestive organs fail to perform their functions, the strength lets down, health gives way, and disease sets up, Kodol Dyspepsia Cure enables the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all of the wholesome food that may be eaten into the kind of blood that rebuilds the tissues and protects the health and strength of the mind and body. Kodol cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia and all stomach troubles. It is an ideal spring tonic. Sold by L. W. Randolph.

WOMEN AS DOCTORS.

Commencement of Women's Medical College of Pennsylvania Today.

Among the numerous commencements which mark the spring season is that of the Woman's Medical College of Pennsylvania. The exercises take place today in the Academy of Music, Philadelphia, and the faculty has secured as one of the speakers of the occasion, General George M. Sternberg, U. S. Army, whose recent connection with the Spanish-American War renders him of special interest at this time. General Sternberg's attention to the subject of the prevention of contagious diseases makes his presence at the commencement of a medical college particularly appropriate.

The Woman's Medical College of Pennsylvania was the first institution in the world to offer separate medical education to women when it opened its doors fifty-four years ago, and it maintains an increasingly high standard of excellence. Thirty graduates, representing all sections of the United States and Canada, will receive the degree of doctor of medicine and their names will be added to those of more than 900 who have left this institution before them. Dr. Ella B. Everitt, professor of gynecology, will deliver the address to graduates.

Entertained Sunday-School Class.

Stephen Cahoone, of Watchung avenue, entertained his Sunday-school class, last evening. Nearly twenty men from Hope chapel, accompanied by their wives, were present to enjoy the hospitality of Mr. Cahoone. During the evening Miss Marie Newman sang and recited and the Misses Burnet gave selections on the violin and piano. After an evening of entertainment and sociability, refreshments were served.

"Element of Success."

A lecture will be given tomorrow evening at the Calvary Baptist church by Rev. A. J. Carey. The subjects will be "The Element of Success of the Colored Race." Rev. Mr. Carey is a student of the Petersburg Seminary.

A Little Loss

of flesh and strength, little barking, obstinate cough and a little pain in the chest may not mean galloping consumption, but they are signs that prudence will not neglect. A few doses of Allen's Lung Balsam cause a free discharge of mucus and so loosens the cough. It heals the inflamed air passages and all its beneficent work is accomplished without a grain of opium.

ROOSEVELT AT RENO

Addresses at the University Four Hundred Students.

OLD COMRADE PAYS HIS RESPECTS.

The President Was Presented With Mountain Trout and Honey—Secretary Moody Will Join Him at Cheyenne.

RENO, Nev., May 20.—The presidential party arrived at Reno after a 317 mile ride from Raymond, Cal. Ten minutes later the train left by the Virginia and Truckee railroad for Carson.

The president did not attempt to make a speech here, but talked first to one, then to another. When his train started he kept waving his hand and saying, "Goodby, goodby."

The president returned from Carson and he and his party were soon seated in carriages and taken to the court house, where the president made an address. Afterward he was driven about town and later spoke to 400 students at the State university.

E. J. Barlow of Battle Mountain, a rough rider, was one of the president's callers. The president was presented with a string of Truckee river trout, fresh from their mountain home, and a case of Nevada honey when his train passed through on its way to Carson.

Secretary Moody, who joined the president at Riverside, Cal., and who was soon to have left for Washington, has accepted the president's invitation to go through to Cheyenne with him. Cheyenne will be reached Saturday week.

Bulgarians Favor Peace.

SOFIA, May 20.—The new cabinet's foreign policy will seek to be on the best of terms with all the powers and with Bulgaria's neighbors, especially Russia, without losing sight of the interests of the country. The government's domestic policy will be a strict enforcement of the laws on the basis of equality to all citizens without distinction of party. While it recognizes the difficulties of the situation, the new ministry promises to do all in its power to serve the interests of all Bulgarians. The constitution of the new cabinet has caused great relief. It is generally believed that it will obtain an amelioration of the lot of Bulgarians in Turkey and at the same time obviate a conflict with Turkey.

Glass Plant at Glenshaw Destroyed.

PITTSBURG, May 20.—A fire which threatened to destroy the whole town of Glenshaw, along the Pittsburg and Western railrad, broke out in the plant of the Glenshaw Glass company. Assistance was summoned from Etna and surrounding boroughs. In addition to the total destruction of the plant where the fire originated, it had already destroyed the plant of the Wittmer Brick company, the Jackson and Murray hotels and the residence of John H. Meyers, the handsomest in the town. The loss is estimated at $100,000, with very little insurance. The town is almost without fire protection, depending on a volunteer department. The origin of the fire is a mystery.

No Quarantine For Havana.

HAVANA, May 20.—President Edmond Souchon of the Louisiana state board of health, Dr. George Tabor, health officer of Texas, and other health officers who are examining health conditions in reference to quarantine questions here were dined by President Palma at the palace. It is understood that no quarantine will be recommended. The partial slackness in the enforcement of sanitary regulations at Santiago, it is now announced, have been fully reformed.

Georgia Mob Kill Suspect.

VALDOSTA, Ga., May 20.—A special from Madison, Fla., says that a mob entered that city, secured the keys to the jail from the night watchman, took out Washington Jarvis, a white man, and after carrying him some distance from the city tied him to a tree and shot him to death. He was accused of murdering his cousin, John Waldrop. The night watchman was blindfolded and held captive until the mob finished its work.

Trial of Holland Boats.

GREENPORT, N. Y., May 20.—The Holland submarine torpedo boats Plunger and Shark had their official government trials on Peconic bay and covered a two mile course, each firing a torpedo at the end of the distance. The Plunger exceeded the government requirements in speed and fired the torpedo with absolute accuracy between two flag buoys representing the vitals of a battle ship.

AN IDEAL LOCATION

BEAUTIFUL AND ACCESSIBLE.
2 Miles from Elizabeth. 7 Miles from Newark
14 Miles from New York.
Linden, New Jersey.
ON MAIN LINE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries
Largest Burial Parks in the State.

Transportation Facilities superior to those of any other cemetery, as to number of trains, railroad fare, time and distance.

These New Cemeteries, now being developed on the modern park plan, are attracting universal attention.

By Reason of Location Alone they are destined, in a very short time, to become the best-known Cemeteries in the country and, with their natural advantages, the most beautiful and desirable in which to purchase lots.

They are Accessible from every quarter and within easy reach of over 4,000,000 people, and, considering the steady and rapidly increasing growth of Greater New York and its tributary cities and towns, it is only the question of a short time before plots in Rosedale and Linden Park will equal in value those of our most noted cemeteries.

Popular Favor has already been shown to a marked degree in the sale of lots, several hundred having been sold to residents in Elizabeth, Linden, Rahway, Cranford, Jersey City, Orange, Paterson, Westfield, Newark and New York City, and a large number of interments have been made.

In the Days of Happiness we do not know what is to befall us or when the inevitable will occur; therefore, it is a wiser precaution to make provision for a final resting place during health and life than to force the painful duty on one's friends or relatives after death. A place of burial will be needed sooner or later by every one, and no one should neglect selecting a suitable and proper place until future postponement is impossible.

Linden Lodge is the largest, most modern and best equipped Cemetery Lodge in the country, and is provided with every requisite for the comfort and convenience of visitors who come to inspect the properties.

METAL WORK FOR WOMEN.

A New Craft Which Offers a Fair Income.

Metal repousse work is a craft which has developed marvelously in the past few years, and it is particularly adapted to women of an artistic turn of mind. Several women already have studios, and they take orders for the designing, execution and mounting of fireplaces, overmantels, fenders, mirrors, picture and photograph frames, boxes of every description, from a coal bunker to a silver toilet box; also trays of all sorts, name plates, signs, door decoration, friezes, dadoes and paneling, fire screens, bellows, etc.

There are two ways of executing the work. You may either simply work a design on the metal and then have the metal made up into a box frame or you may make up your own work yourself.

To learn the repousse work takes six months, but to learn the mounting depends upon how many branches of the craft are taken up.

In six months a girl can learn to execute good work and to be capable of mounting one branch—fenders, for example. Repousse work is executed on zinc, brass, copper, lead, pewter, silver or gold. The metal may be tacked to a board and worked with nails. Wires are filed to the shape required. For this method nothing is required save the board, some nails, a file, hammer, a pair of shears and some small nails for fixing the metal to the wood. Zinc should be used for practicing, as it is so much cheaper than the other metals.

Metal work offers a very good means of livelihood to a woman with artistic and original ideas. A girl can be apprenticed to a metal worker on the understanding that when proficient she will be retained at a progressive salary or on piece work, or she can apprentice herself to a metal worker with a view to learning thoroughly the work and eventually setting up for herself. Very often firms give out employment piece work, and in this manner a respectable income may be made.

The illustration shows a mantel of copper and green oak which has lately been designed and finished in a woman metal worker's studio.

HELEN CLIFTON.

NOTES ABOUT WOMEN.

What They Are Doing and What They Are Wearing.

Never indulge in the deadly poisonous entertainment of pitying yourself. What it does is to intensify and clinch the ills that already apparently afflict you.

Mrs. McRostie of Minnesota confesses to a natural womanly liking for cows. She has ten cows and sells milk and cream, getting therefrom $70 a month. When improved machinery is used. Mrs. McRostie finds dairying no harder than poultry keeping, and she also finds cow keeping more profitable than chicken keeping.

I have lately seen the picture of a comely, spry old lady who danced a minuet and sang the sweet songs of her youth at the age of ninety-seven. There is lying on my desk a picture of King Edward's oldest subject—111 years of age the 12th of this May. She is Mrs. Margaret Ann Neve, and she lives in the pretty isle of Guernsey. She is sweet faced, gentle and fair, looking like a handsome old lady of seventy. Brave old girls! Very aged women need no longer look like hideous old mummies.

I saw a beautiful parasol the other day. It was part of a trousseau for a recent wedding of importance. The parasol was of ivory white surah, with a deep ruffle of chiffon set on very full and with a tiny ruching at the edge to give it still more flare. On the silk there were four lace medallions on each section in graduated sizes. All around the edge was a row of cream silk chenille fringe just as long as the ruffle was deep. A bow of cream satin ribbon was fastened to the top and another to the carved ivory handle.

Aside from the ridiculous aigrets, the new millinery is in the main pretty and sensible, though some of the hats are extremely large—ponderous, one might call them. Still they seem to please the wearers, who look pretty in them; so there is no more to be said. The coarse straws with almost severe trimming seem to be greatly affected by the smart set, and the coarser and rougher the straw the better they like it.

One of the best things for the general health, also for the shapeliness of the feet, is to go barefoot. Country children who were permitted in the old time to run barefoot in summer rarely had corns and misshapen feet when they were grown.

In the meantime a skiff which had been moored on the bank just under the rear of the Rest was pushed out from shore, and in a few seconds Fenton had Warde safely within it. Getting outside the line of piles, Fenton began to pull away. It was a shrewd move on his part, for the crowd within the saloon had surged back through the front door, and Bill McGee could be heard calling for his skiff. Then followed mingled cries of rage and disappointment, and when the boat was detected moving away beyond the row of piles, a number of scattering shots were fired.

Fenton stopped long enough to fire back at the crowd and as it turned out, casually shot away a small section of Mr. McGee's nose. Then he bent to the oars with all his might and pulled for the wharf, which was about a mile away. It did not take him long to get beyond the range of the strange shots that were sent sizzing after him.

Warde was completely exhausted by the tense strain upon his physical and nervous system, and he lay in the bottom of the boat in a sort of stupor. Gradually, as they approached the wharf, and as he realized that he had, indeed, escaped with his life, his faculties began to fully assert themselves.

When they reached the wharf, and he began to feel more like himself, he gave Fenton an account of his adventures. The latter was profuse in his regrets that he had not gone to Warde's help sooner; but he explained that as he had not heard the whistle, he concluded that the noise in the saloon was only some extra jollification on the part of the Bacchanals inside. He had heard the cry for help, and ran down to the river's edge through the vacant lot. The skiff was tied up, but with his knife he had cut the rope, and successfully made the rescue.

It was 12 o'clock when Irving Warde re-entered the Gazette office. He had been gone but an hour, and yet in that time he seemed to have lived an age.

At one o'clock the police raided Peter's Rest, but the easy Mr. McGee with his mutilated nose and all his guests had mysteriously disappeared and the only persons caught were a boy, who was acting as barkeeper, and several individuals who had straggled into the Rest when the fracas was over, and the real disturbers of the peace had fled.

CHAPTER IX.

John T. Wright left no will, and the settlement of his estate became involved at once in difficulties that were never anticipated by his family.

It had never been a happy family for the reason that Wright was a cold, austere man, who long ago had banished anything like tenderness from his heart. His family were to him merely a part of his establishment. They were, he knew, against him in the quarrel with Herbert, and he would never permit them to mention the name of his son, while he made it impossible for them to aid the young man in his pecuniary distress. Mrs. Wright's life did not differ very materially from that of a captive who has lived in comfortable quarters and had all that could be wished in the way of clothing and food. Such a thing as amusement never entered her thoughts. As for Miriam, her life was deeply embittered. Her sympathy for her mother had made her almost hate her father, and her breast was filled with rebel instincts only awaiting a favorable opportunity to break forth; but the opportunity never came. Her father always treated her as if what she thought was of absolutely no consequence; and as for what she should do, he would determine that. No doubt the time would have come when Miriam would have clashed with her stern father, and as it was the dearest wish of her heart to do so, it is not unlikely that she would have come out victorious.

Such was the deadening, soul-destroying influence exerted by John T. Wright on his family and all those associated with him in business.

The day after the events described in the foregoing chapter Mrs. Wright, a gentle, elderly lady, on whom sorrow had set its seal, and her daughter Miriam, were in consultation at the Wright place with their lawyer, John W. Everett, regarding the condition of the estate.

Lawyer Everett was a vigorous, brainy man about 45 years of age. A clean shaven face, conspicuously firm in its outlines, a cold, resolute blue eye, and a contour of head which phrenologically considered indicated ideality as well as perspicacity, were the salient physiognomical features of a man who in his day was a celebrity in his part of the country. There was the fullness under the eyes that denotes oratory, and in his case the sign was prominently true. The uprightness of his character was no less conspicuous than the directness of his intellect. In short, he was just the sort of adviser needed by Mrs. Wright and her daughter in the emergency that now presented itself. These ladies had an unconquerable repugnance to Wright's life-long legal adviser, Col. Franklin, because in some way he seemed to be identified with the flintiness which was the leading characteristic of the murdered man, and neither had any desire to employ as their lawyer so intimate a friend of Wright as Franklin had been.

The consultation now being held was not the informal business affair which the ladies had anticipated. It grew more and more startling as the lawyer proceeded to unfold what he had discovered. The public impression was that Wright was a very wealthy man, and his wife and daughter shared in this impression; how thoroughly everybody had been deceived Lawyer Everett was now making clear.

"I have examined all of Mr. Wright's papers," said the lawyer, "and I was never more astonished in my life. You are, I presume, under the impression that he left a great fortune."

"I thought my husband very wealthy."

"I dislike to disappoint you, madam, but I may as well tell you that there is no fortune."

"But——" began Mrs. Wright.

"And," continued the lawyer, "we will be very fortunate if we can snatch from the estate enough to secure a maintenance for yourself and daughter."

"Why, Mr. Everett, there—there must be some mistake. It is true that I was never my husband's confidante in his business, but I have known of several of his investments. This place which we are now occupying is one of the most valuable in this section of the state——"

"Very true; but it did not belong to your husband."

"Not belong to my husband?"

"It was sold many years ago to the Shelby Real Estate & Investment company."

"But—my husband owned several plantations in Arkansas and Mississippi."

"That is also true; but all those were sold to the same company at the same time, with the exception of one plantation in Mississippi and one in Arkansas, which your husband purchased three years back. So far as I can see, these two plantations are all the assets in sight."

"I remember a good many years ago my husband bought a large tract of land in Texas, and he invested in some mining lands in Colorado."

"Very true; but all of that property was sold. The former to the same real estate company, and the latter I judge from some imperfect memoranda left by your husband was sold to some mining company organized under the laws of Colorado. Everything that your husband then owned was sold."

"But what could have become of the money?"

DISTURBED LAND LEAGUERS.

Redmond Tells of an Irresponsible Junta In Dublin.

LONDON, May 20.—John Redmond, M. P., has made a statement concerning the disorderly proceedings at the meeting of citizens held in the Dublin rotunda in support of the Irish parliamentary fund. Mr. Redmond says:

"The disturbance would have been easily nipped at the outset, but the people naturally shrank from using force to remove Mrs. McBride (formerly Maud Gonne) and other ladies who led the disorder. After awhile these ladies left, and the other disturbers were speedily removed. They consisted of thirty or forty young men who acted in concert. They were roughly and violently treated, which I regretted, but it was impossible to restrain the people. The disturbance was quickly over, and for two hours after unanimity and enthusiasm prevailed. Long speeches were delivered, resolutions in conformity with the object of the meeting were unanimously adopted and large sums were subscribed to the Irish parliamentary fund. On emerging into the street Lord Mayor Harrington received an enthusiastic ovation. The disturbance was planned by an irresponsible junta in Dublin who are exasperated at the peaceful prospects for Ireland."

Anniversary of Cuban Republic.

HAVANA, May 20.—President Palma has received a message of congratulation from the Sons of the American Revolution on the occasion of the anniversary of the birth of the Cuban republic. The congratulations invoke the divine favor on Cuba, and the hope is expressed that "liberty will continue to be perpetuated as the result of the sacrifice of blood and treasusre by the Cubans and their American compatriots." On account of the death at Tegucigalpa, Honduras, of Gonzalo Deguardiola, a brother of Mrs. Palma, President Palma will not participate in any public functions today excepting an official reception. He has declared his intention of vetoing the National lottery bill if it is passed by congress. The house of representatives is said to be overwhelmingly in favor of the lottery bill.

Professor Von Halle on Trusts.

BERLIN, May 20.—Professor Ernst von Halle of the Berlin university, lecturing on trusts before the American chamber of commerce here, said: "One of the most interesting things about the building up of American trusts, especially in their invasion of England, was that it was done largely with foreign money. More American bills were circulated in Europe than ever before. The German bourse law by heavily taxing and thereby limiting transactions was driving capital abroad, enabling German capital to be used in foreign undertakings to the injury of German business. The United States was beginning to govern the world industrially by supplying the intelligence and organizing capacity while the world supplied the capital."

Williamsburg Honors Schwab.

WILLIAMSBURG, Pa., May 20.—Williamsburg, the oldest and probably the quietest town in Blair county, gave a great welcome to its most distinguished son, Charles M. Schwab, president of the United States Steel corporation. The occasion was the laying of the cornerstone of the Williamsburg Paper mill, an industrial enterprise to which Mr. Schwab has contributed $100,000. In view of the recent disaster in the neighborhood of Williamsburg, by which several lives were lost by the blowing up of a dynamite factory, Mr. Schwab announced that he would place in the hands of a local committee $10,000 worth of paper mill stock to be distributed to the worthy poor.

Big Machine Plant Shut Down.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 20.—The extensive machinery plant of the Mossberg and Granville Manufacturing company in this city has been shut down by order of the directors and creditors of the firm have received notice that, in connection with a plan of reorganization and by agreement of all parties interested, a petition in bankruptcy has been filed in the United States district court for southern New York. A statement issued by the company's attorney, Seeber Edwards, places the total liabilities at $1,269,000, with assets, other than patents, estimated at $200,000.

Serious Trouble at Saratoff.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 20.—Serious disturbances have broken out in the province of Saratoff. The peasants are burning the residences of the landholders. These disturbances were feared by the authorities, and the governor of Saratoff province has issued a proclamation forbidding all public gatherings, warning the people against interference with the police while in the execution of their duty and ordering crowds to disperse on the first summons of the police.

Saratoff Again Agitating at Salonika.

SALONIKA, May 20.—Important disclosures have been made and a quantity of explosives has been found as a result of the arrest of Stojan, the proprietor of the shop from which a tunnel was dug to the Ottoman bank and used in the destruction of the bank by dynamite April 30. It is also learned that Boris Saraffoff, the leading Macedonian agitator, was here recently and visited the prominent Bulgarian residents.

ON THE DIAMOND.

The North Plainfield High School will play a game of ball with the Underwood A. C. Friday, and on Saturday afternoon the team will go to New Brunswick in a special car to play another game with the team of the Rutgers Preparatory School.

"Doc." Doyle has been appointed captain of St. Mary's baseball team and will have charge of the practice of the players during the evenings of the week. Regular practice will be held every Tuesday and Thursday evenings, and all players are requested to report for practice tomorrow evening at St. Mary's grounds at 6:30 o'clock.

George Davison, formerly of St. Mary's Club, and Joseph Barry, of the Y. M. C. A. team, have signed with the Reform Club. Davison is to play in the pitcher's box and Barry will play short stop and catcher. This will add greatly to the strength of the team and some good work is anticipated. They will play for the first time in their new positions on Decoration Day.

A game of baseball was arranged between the Warren Engine Company baseball team and the nine from the West End Hose Company for Decoration Day, but from present appearances it will not be played. The members of the Warren Engine Company want to play in the afternoon and the other team finds that it will be impossible for it to play in the afternoon so it will probably be postponed.

Several complaints were made to the members of the Scotch Plains baseball team at the close of Saturday's game about several enthusiastic rooters who were stationed in the stand along third base line using profane language much to the annoyance of the women patrons of the game. To the credit of the club it must be said that at any time any spectator is annoyed by such conduct, if the management's attention is called to it at the time the party will be ejected from the grounds at once, money being refunded. The Scotch Plains team desires the support of all but it does not intend to countenance anything that lowers the standing of the national game, or have a game played that cannot be attended by any man, woman or child.

Jimmy Montross was in Westfield's second ten-inning game won last Saturday. As in the Seventh Regiment game it was one ahead, then tie, the other ahead and tie again at the ninth. In both games Montross received admirable support, his infield backing him close and repeatedly doing stunts when the balls came to them fierce. The Westfield team is Jimmy's chance. He has the grit and but very few rough spots that need smoothing. When it is considered that his Saturday game with Madison was putting him in contrast with Minahan, Manhattan College's best box man, it was a trying ordeal and his work suffered none in comparison. Jimmy will go against the hard hitting Milburn-Springfield Consolidated Saturday and the Alis boys will brush up against him Decoration Day morning.

GOLF.

The golf team from the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club will go to Hackensack, Saturday, and play a match with the team from the Hackensack Golf Club.

The meeting of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, Saturday evening, for the purpose of voting on opening the golf course Sunday afternoons, will be for active members only.

The following very complimentary notice appeared in the New York Commercial Advertiser Saturday, concerning Frank O. Reinhart, of this city:

"Frank O. Reinhart, of Princeton, is one of the most promising players in the younger group. His victories last year over both Walter J. Travis and Findlay S. Douglas, which, in addition to the fact that he reached the semi-final round of the amateur championship and other honors, entitled him to recognition among the first six players in the country. This season he has started out even more encouragingly by defeating Travis in the Garden City tournament, the former champion's home course. On Wednesday last he again met Mr. Travis at Garden City and suffered defeat by one up in eighteen holes, in three meetings with Mr. Travis. Reinhart has thus scored two wins, a record equalled by no other player, amateur or professional, in the past three years. Mr. Reinhart plays an exceedingly long game from the tee or with a brassey, is extremely accurate on the putting green, and when he steadies down his game to greater consistency bids fair to rank at the very top of American golf."

TENNIS.

A tennis tournament is being arranged for the business men and students' classes of the Y. M. C. A. The tourney will start June 1 and all the sets will be played on the association court. There will be single and double games.

THE GEMILATH CHASODIM

FIRST ANNUAL STATEMENT HAS JUST BEEN MADE PUBLIC.

Association Formed a Year Ago to Assist Worthy Persons—Much Has Been Accomplished.

The first annual statement of Gemilath Chasodim, (the Free Loan Association,) of Plainfield, has just been made public for the current year ending April 26. This association was formed, chartered and incorporated a year ago for the purpose of assisting worthy persons who come to Plainfield, either in search of work or are on their way to their homes. The first year shows that much good has been accomplished and the association is in a good condition.

The cash on hand to start with amounted to $89.48. There were eighty-five wayfarers cared for and the cost of transportation cost $41.95. The sum of $25.40 was expended for meals and lodgings. The charter and stationery cost $21.14 and the amount due on outstanding loans is $56, making a total of $233.97. Eighty-five persons received loans amounting in all to $425.

On the other side of the balance sheet it is shown that $168.55 was paid by members as dues and $29.45 was donated by members. The Young Men's Hebrew Association donated $26.02, while the donations by strangers amounted to $9.95. The collection on loans amounted to $369.

It is noticeable that with every case assisted, there has been a return of the money loaned, with the exception of $6, and it is expected that this will come back to the association.

HEROES OF REVOLUTION.

Graves of Old Soldiers of Springfield to be Marked and Commemorative Exercises Held.

Arrangements have been perfected for celebrating the anniversary of the Battle of Springfield, June 27, when the graves of the Revolutionary soldiers buried in the old village of Springfield, N. J., will be marked and commemorative exercises held. The celebration is in charge of the Elizabeth Chapter, Sons of the American Revolution, assisted by a committee of Springfield people.

The anniversary occurs June 23, but the exercises will be held June 27, beginning at 3 o'clock. There are said to be forty-six Revolutionary soldiers buried in the vicinity of Springfield, thirty-eight privates and eight officers. The graves will be decorated with markers, consisting of an iron rod sunk into the ground and surrounded by a bronze maltese cross, with a socket for holding a flag. After the marking, the exercises will be continued in the old Revolutionary Presbyterian church, where preliminary remarks will be made by the pastor, Rev. William Hoppaugh, followed by a patriotic address by a speaker to be named later. There will also be a musical programme by a chorus selected from public school pupils, and from singers of the town, under direction of Professor Walton.

ADDITIONAL HONORS.

Captain Martin Eclipsed All Totals for the Three Ranges.

Captain William B. Martin, of Company K, won additional honors for himself yesterday in the second day's shooting at Sea Girt for All-American team honors. He eclipsed all totals for the three ranges, scoring a total of 213, and surpassing the record established the day before by Private Cook of 212 points. As a result of yesterday's shooting, Capt. Martin is at the head of the list with a grand total for the two days of 418.

Odd Fellows Gathered There.

Seventy members of Plainfield Lodge, No. 44, and Queen City Lodge, I. O. O. F., journeyed to Elizabeth last evening to attend the district meeting of that lodge. Officers of the State department were present and many of the local members made speeches. A social time followed and in all the meeting was a very pleasant affair both from the viewpoint of business and pleasure. The local members made the trip to the county seat in a special trolley car.

N. P. H. S. Defeated.

The lineup of the local players was: Conover, ss; McLaughlin, 1b; Humble, 2b; Adams, rf; Mundy, 3b; Newmiller, lf; Kipsey, cf; George, p, and Ovens, c. The game was played on the home grounds.

HOW TO GROW YOUNG, HOW TO KEEP SO

Mrs. Willing Continues Her Series of Lectures on Interesting Topics.

SHE GIVES TWO MORE

LECTURES OF YESTERDAY GIVEN AT TRINITY REFORMED CHURCH.

The Afternoon Subject, "Thinking Straight Through Things"—The Evening Subject, "Thinking More Strongly Than Ever."

Mrs. Jennie Fowler-Willing, who lectured to a large number of Plainfielders at the lecture room of the Trinity Reformed church Tuesday evening under the auspices of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, continued her talks on "Growing Young and Keeping Young" yesterday afternoon and last evening at the Seventh-Day Baptist church. Her second lecture dealt with the topic: "Thinking Straight Through Things," and set forth the simple and direct methods of reasoning, showing every-day people how to get down to the underlying principles of right in business, social, intellectual, spiritual and all other puzzling problems.

She said: "All true Christians want to do right but many of us go wrong, and get out of the straight and narrow way because we take superficial statements and act on them. We are too indolent, mentally, to send our thought to the base of the question where the truth really lies. We have not been trained to think and we drift along, sometimes right but oftener far short of the whole truth. So we blunder through life, specimens of the subject of one of Gail Hamilton's old magazine usages, 'Concerning People of Whom More Might Have Been Made.'"

"God will not do our thinking for us unless we are idiotized," she said. "We want a harvest. He will give dew and rain; sunshine and growth; but we must do the plowing, sowing and reaping or no grain will be garnered."

In the evening the subject was, "Thinking More Strongly Than Ever," and was eagerly listened to by a large number of people. She showed how one can gather material for continuous, mental growth by reading, talking, study, travel, art, literature and so forth. By following these lines the speaker said that the mind can be made to be more vigorous at eighty than at forty.

This afternoon and evening she will deliver the fourth and fifth lecture in the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church. At 2:30 the fourth lecture will be given and between 4 and 5 music will be rendered. In the evening at 8 o'clock the fifth lecture will be given.

Miss Rodman's Luncheon.

A very delightful luncheon was given yesterday by Miss Julia Rodman at the Hillside Tennis and Golf Clubhouse. Covers were laid for twenty-three. The tables at which the guests were seated were prettily decorated with carnations and wild-cherry blossoms. A game of clock golf followed the luncheon, in which the prizes were won by Miss Clark, of Netherwood, and Miss Drayton.

SUMMER BAND CONCERTS

TALK OF A SERIES OF TEN HERE THIS SUMMER.

Benj. LaVere Ready to Take Charge If the Necessary Support Is Forthcoming.

Now that the days and nights are warm, the subject of open air band concrets again comes to the fore. Everybody knows how popular these concerts have been in the past and how well they were enjoyed by all who heard them. Their success is therefore a foregone conclusion. It all depends on the generosity of the public in supporting them.

Benj. LaVere, who conducted them in the past with so much success, is willing to take charge this year if the people will give him the proper support. His friends have been urging him to take the initiative in the subject and he is inclined to look well on the idea if there is any show of carrying the plan through to a successful culmination.

His plan, as now outlined, is to have a series of ten concerts during the summer by a band composed of talented musicians from New York with a few local experts. The latest music will be played and a programme of variety, embodying classical and popular selcetions given. He figures that the cost of each concert will amount to $70. If the total $700 can be raised, he is confident that the season will be one not to be forgotten.

It all depends now how the project is received by those on whom the burden of the expense will fall. If the people of wealth and those in moderate circumstances will contribute according to their means, there will be no doubt as to the success of the plan. The people, who are compelled to remain in Plainfield all summer and cannot leave for mountains and sea shore during the heated turn, will be the chief beneficiaries and there is no doubt that they would enjoy the concerts to their fullest extent.

CHIEF KIELY RETURNS.

Arrives in Plainfield From Orleans Convention—Pres. Randolph, of Police Board, With Him.

Chief P. S. Kiely, of the police department, and F. D. Randolph, president of the police board, returned to Plainfield at 10 o'clock last night after a two weeks' trip to New Orleans in attendance at the annual convention of the National Association of Chiefs of Police. The chief reports an interesting trip, and a large attendance at a successful convention.

The one drawback to the pleasure of the occasion was the fact that the health of nearly all present at the convention was affected more or less by the New Orleans climate. The weather was hot, although not excessively so. Many subjects of importance in police circles were discussed in the course of the session.

RIVERSIDE PARK TO OPEN SOON

Many Improvements Have Been Made During the Winter and Spring.

IS TO HAVE NO HOTEL

A NEW FLOOR HAS BEEN PLACED IN THE DANCING PAVILION.

The Dam Has Been Repaired and Seats Placed Along River's Edge—High-Grade Performance at Theatre Each Evening.

Edward H. Radel, the secretary of the Middlesex and Somerset Traction Company, said to a reporter of The Daily Press on Monday when he was seen at Riverside Park, that that well-known summer resort would be opened to the public on Decoration Day.

Noticeable improvements have been made to the park during the winter and spring. The swamp land on the north side of Riverside avenue has been filled in and laid out with flowers and flower beds. A new floor has peen placed in the dancing pavilion. It is of maple wood and highly polished. The dam has been repaired and seats have been placed along the river's edge where the cool breezes blowing down the river will be a source of delight to the sweltering multitudes of Plainfield and New Brunswick and adjacent towns.

Asked if the report was true that there would be a hotel erected on the grounds Mr. Radel said most emphatically: "This place was started last year and was run for a reputation. We think we have the reputation and we do not desire to have that reputation spoiled by having any 'gin mill' planted on the grounds or near it, if we can help it. We want to make the park a place where a man can bring his family for an afternoon's outing. No, there will be no hotel erected anywhere near the park.

"By special arrangement with the Elizabeth, Plainfield and Central Jersey Railway Company we hope to have cars run from Plainfield direct to the park on Sundays and holidays for the benefit of Plainfielders and those living on the line contiguous to that town."

For attractions during the summer the manager, Thomas N. Walsh, of the Traction Company, has made most complete provision. A performance of a high grade will be given each evening at the theatre there and after the performance dancing will be a feature. The music will be provided by Garland's Orchestra of New Brunswick. The privileges of the park have been secured by Joseph F. Barrington, of East Millstone, who has had much experience in that line of work.

The first performance will be an opera with 25 people. On Decoration Day a ball game will be played by two teams of the New Brunswick league, the Union Athletic Club and the St. Agnes' Academy. This will be played during the afternoon. League games will be played at the park during the summer. New Brunswick has six leagues and nearly all the games will be played at the park.

It was thought that as soon as the dam had been repaired boating would be a feature of the park but Mr. Radel said that after thinking the matter over, Mr. Walsh had decided that it was too dangerous to rent boats on the five-mile pond, so that attraction was eliminated from the plans.

Riverside Park, unlike most resorts in this locality, is on the banks of a river—the Raritan river—skirting its western boundary and this is one reason why it is so cool on the hottest days. It is purely a temperance retreat and with a special officer in uniform to preserve good order Sunday-school picnics and other organizations of the kind will be guaranteed freedom from ruffianism and other objections common to most resorts of that kind.

MINISTERS ON SUNDAY GOLF

Local Clergy Takes Strong Stand Against Play on the Sabbath.

SENDS LETTER TO CLUB

Ministers' Association Gives Its Reasons Why It Opposes Sunday Golf—Sent to the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club—The Details.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—Knowing that the proposition to open the links for Sunday play is before the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, the pastors of the Ministers' Association have sent to the club for their consideration certain reasons why we hope that the action will not be taken. We have ventured to do this and to send copies of the same to the local papers because in our judgment this is a matter which affects not only the members of the club, but the interests of the churches and of the whole community as well.

The reasons are as follows:

1. The club was founded as a club which should not be open for Sunday playing. It is generally understood, we believe, that most of the money contributed for its establishment was contributed with that understanding. It is fair to assume that much of it would not have been given but for that condition.

2. It is not a question of individual liberty but of club action. The comparatively small number who wish to play on Sunday should not wish to force the entire club to a position which is odious, not only to many of themselves for whom we need not speak, but also to a great many of their respected friends and neighbors, for

3. However harmless Sunday golf playing may seem to some it is contrary to the moral convictions of a large proportion of the community. In the eyes of the majority of those who have made the city what it is, the club, by the proposed step, would be lowering itself morally and be taking an action opposed to the city's moral welfare.

4. This is especially the case in view of the prominent and influential position the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club holds among the people of Plainfield. It would make it harder for the parents of Plainfield, who desire to do so, to train their sons to respect for the ordinances of God and to the ways of morality as they understand them. It would tend to influence many young man to go against their conscience to their moral peril. The step would make more difficult the task of every pastor and Christian worker, everyone who is anxious to train the young in Christian ways.

5. Such a step would afford a precedent which might be followed where even those who favor Sunday golf would least wish it to be, and providing an entering wedge for non-observance of the Sabbath at Hillside would almost inevitably result therein conditions not contemplated at present. The Sunday sports and the seven days' work for the employes of golf clubs in places where the day has not been as carefully guarded as here are examples of what might be expected to follow if this first step were taken.

6. The Sabbath carefully, though reasonably observed is a safe-guard of the moral and religious good of a country. It has God's sanction; it is God's providential appointment. So influential a body as the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club should hesitate to take a step toward weakening the influence of this institution where hitherto it has been so strong.

In behalf of the Ministers' Association,
L. R. Howard, Sec'y.

ALL-PLAINFIELD WINS ITS OPENING GAME

Defeats Sacred Heart Academy, of Elizabeth, by a Score of 5 to 3.

PLAYS WELL TOGETHER

"JIMMY" MONTROSS PITCHES FOR THE PLAINFIELD AGGREGATION.

Clever Catches by Members of the Local Team—Fast Play All Around—Scored in Three Innings—The Scores.

The All-Plainfield nine won its opening game of the season, 5 to 3, yesterday afternoon, defeating the Sacred Heart Academy in an interesting exhibition that was generally well played. Plainfield played well together for the first game of the season, out-batting and out-fielding their opponents.

Montross, for Plainfield, didn't exert himself particularly, but, however easily he wafted them over the plate, his opponents couldn't connect with his curves to any large extent. He was touched up for seven hits but kept them well scattered, runs resulting in the first and last innings only. Plainfield's runs were scored on a combination of hits and errors in the first, fourth and eighth innings. The local outfield distinguished themselves, all three making catches of the sensational order. Lederer arrested a fly that looked like a sure homer. Dupee, Moore and Hewitt also contributed to the pleasure of the afternoon by fast play.

CIRCUS COMING.

Opening Performance of the I. C. T. Club Show to be Given Tomorrow Evening.

Lest you forget, the I. C. T. Club boys remind you that tomorrow and Saturday are the days chosen to give the good people the biggest treat they have ever enjoyed. These are the nights and an afternoon too, Saturday when the circus comes to town but for the past two weeks thirty or forty well-known people have been training to join the troupe. Unlike most "boys" who want to follow the show to the next town these would-be show people will do their little "stunt" inside the arena on these mentioned days. The professional end of the entertainment is supplied by no less an aggregation than the Duchemin circus composed of forty of the most sensational acts on the road, including the Victor Bedini family of bare back riders, Divo, the monkey looping-the-loop on a bicycle, and others too numerous to mention.

Not satisfied with the gigantic exhibition inside the management has added another feature—this a free one. Sapho, the largest ape in the world, will go up in a baloon immediately before the matinee, Saturday afternoon, and do a thrilling leap into space descending to terra firma again with the aid of a parachute.

Reserved seat plan is at Schreiner's drug store and Warnock's bakery. Better have them marked off early.

Building Applications.

W. H. Bohl, of 720 Kensington avenue, has filed application with Inspector of Buildings T. O. Doane to erect six dwellings on the west side of Union street south of Arlington avenue. Townley & Bohl will be the builders. Edgar C. Schenck, of 36 Jackson avenue, North Plainfield, has made application to erect a frame dwelling on West Fourth street, himself to act as architect and builder.

Sunday-School Institute.

A Sunday-school Institute will be held in Trinity Reformed church Tuesday, May 26, under the auspices of the Primary and Junior Sunday-school Teachers' Union.

Landlord and Tenant.

Papers are returnable May 26 in Justice Mosher's court, in the landlord and tenant case of the Plainfield Loan Association against Obase.

CALLED TO GERMAN CHURCH

CONSISTORY DECIDED AT MEETING LAST NIGHT TO EXTEND CALL.

Will Remain for a Time to See How He Pleases the Congregation.

Rev. John Justin, who has been pastor of the Union Hill Reformed church for thirty-eight years, has been extended a call by the consistory of the German Reformed church as minister of that church. He will preach for the first time Sunday morning in German. He will also preach in the evening in the same language so that all the members of that congregation may have an opportunity of hearing him.

It was not until after the meeting of the consistory of the church last evening that it was decided to extend a call to Mr. Justin. The church has not bound itself in any way as Mr. Justin will come here and preach on approbation for some time. This was given out officially this morning by Phillip Bach, a member of the consistory.

Rev. John Justin is not a stranger in this city. He has been pastor of the Union Hill Reformed church for almost two score years and is very well liked at that place. He is a graduate of the General Theological Seminary of the Reformed church in American at New Brunswick.

EXEMPT FIREMEN.

Elected to Office at State Convention Held Yesterday.

At the annual meeting of the Exempt Firemen's Relief Association at Carlstadt yesterday, D. W. Littell, of Plainfield, was elected a member of the executive committee, for the ensuing year. William R. Stanbery, of Fanwood, was chosen a member of the standing committee for the third consecutive term. Joseph G. Burns, of Perth Amboy, was elected president. A big firemen's parade followed the meeting in the afternoon. Chief T. O. Doane, V. W. Nash, W. A. Woodruff, D. W. Littell, E. M. Laing and J. E. Flannery were the delegates from Plainfield.

As part of the business transacted, it was decided that a member of a particular branch of the association loses his privileges of exemption from taxes when he removes to another locality.

Jacques, and Andrew Zahn, Jr. A meeting of the committee was held Friday evening when reports were heard. An attempt will be made this year to secure an attraction for the event which will rival the Kilties of last year. Mr. Schlessinger was elected chairman, Joseph Ridgeway, secretary, and Theodore Cohn treasurer. B. W. Suydam, Fred Ulrich and Joseph Ridgeway were appointed an amusement committee. No date for the event has been decided upon as yet.

CAPT. MARTIN MAKES ALL-AMERICA TEAM

As Result of Three Day Trials at State Rifle Range at Sea Girt.

CHOSEN LAST NIGHT

CAPTAIN BELL, INSPECTOR RIFLE PRACTICE OF SECOND REGIMENT, CHOSEN.

Captain Martin, of Company K, of This City, Made An Excellent Showing at the Targets—The Team After Palma Trophy.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Sea Girt, May 21—A selection of the All-American rifle team to be sent to England to compete for the Palma trophy was made last evening. If the records of the past three days can be judged correctly, the team should bring the trophy home with them next July. It will be of especial interest to Plainfield to know that Captain William B. Martin, of Company K, who has been making very high scores on the range, is to be one of the team. Those selected are as follows:

Capt. Horace Bell, Second New Jersey; Lieut. K. K. V. Casey, Seventy-first New York; Private George Cook, First Regiment, District of Columbia; Sergt. George Doyle, Seventy-first New York; Lieut. Thomas Holcomb, United States Marine Corps; Sergt. James R. Keough, Sixth Massachusetts; Private H. H. Liezear, Sixth Pennsylvania; Capt. William B. Martin, Second New Jersey, Capt. W. B. Short, Seventh New York; Capt. C. B. Winder, Sixth Ohio; Private S. B. Weatherald, First D. C.; Lieut. A. E. Wells, Seventy-first New York.

The team will remain at Sea Girt until June 13, when it will sail on the Lucania for England. The team is considered an exceptionally strong one. Most of the men are tried shots, and all known for their superior marksmanship. Yesterday Captain Martin's work was scarcely up to the mark in the last day's shooting. His total score for the day was 187 and he shares the honors for third place with Private H. H. Liezear, of the Sixth Pennsylvania, the grand total for each being 605.

FILED OBJECTIONS.

Subsequently Ended Proceedings in Landlord and Tenant' Case.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Scotch Plains, May 21—The landlord and tenant case of Mrs. Josephine A. Schenck, of Brooklyn, against Freeman Strait, of this place, was tried before Justice Clark. Codington & Swackhamer appeared for the landlord and Isaac P. Runyon for the tenant. Before proceeding in the cause, Mr. Runyon filed several written objections to the Justice's jurisdiction in the cause, and the case then proceeded. Before Mr. Codington had finished examining the claimant he decided he could not make out a case over Mr. Runyon's objections and he moved for a dismissal.

SEA GIRT CONTEST.

Shooting For All American Bisley Team.

HIFTING WINDS SPOIL SCORES.

Corporal Winder of Ottawa Palma Team Forges to the Front, With a Grand Total of 612 Out of 675.

SEA GIRT, N. J., May 21.—The feature of the shooting at the contest for places on the All American rifle team yesterday afternoon was the fact that nearly all the competitors fell off in their work at the 1,000 yards' range, Captain Martin, who led all the others, scoring only 51 at the longest range. A strong, shifting wind is said to be responsible for the low scores on this the last day of the competition.

By rolling up a total of 74 out of a possible 75 at 800 yards, a total of 67 at 900 yards and 71 at 1,000 yards Corporal C. B. Winder, Sixth Ohio, forged to the front with a grand total of 612 out of a possible 675. Lieutenant K. K. V. Casey, Seventy-first New York, also moved steadily forward, finishing with a grand total of 611, only one point in rear of Winder. Private H. H. Leizear, Sixth Pennsylvania, formerly a lieutenant of the B. C. N. G., and Captain William Martin, Second New Jersey, each attained 605, but Leizear was accorded third place by reason of having made a higher score than Martin on the last day of the competition.

Corporal Winder earned a place on the All American team that participated in the Palma match at Ottawa last fall, but was left off because it was thought that he was then lacking in experience.

Immediately after "cease firing" had been sounded several of the competitors started for their respective homes, the majority remaining, however, for the eagerly awaited announcement of the personnel of the team. The board appointed to select the team held a preliminary meeting in the clubhouse and later adjourned to the "governor's cottage" at the other extremity of the camp grounds and there went into executive session.

Fast Racing at Chicago.

CHICAGO, May 21.—Beau Ormonde won the Owners' handicap at Worth in a sensational finish with Huzzah. The winner covered the mile in 1:38 flat, breaking the track record by 1 1-5 seconds and equaling the western record set by Orimar at Washington park two years ago. Beau Ormonde's time is only a fifth of a second from the world's mark of 1:37 4-5 hung up by Brigadier in the east. The finish in the handicap was possibly the most exciting ever seen on any Chicago track. Beau Ormonde and Huzzah hooked up as a team at the final eighth pole, and from there to the wire they raced on what seemed equal terms. So close were they at the finish line that it required the closest scrutiny of the judges to separate them. There was much cheering when Beau Ormonde was given the verdict.

No Offside Polo at Hurlingham.

LONDON, May 21.—Tests of American "no offside" polo in the form of a tournament have been played at Hurlingham during the past few days. The final tie in the first handicap of the tournament, in which five teams were entered, was played off. The winning team was composed of Walter McCreery, American; Mr. Grenfel, Captain Lambton and Tom Drybrough, an English writer, who is well known in California. Polo players here reserve their opinion regarding the "no offside" game.

Columbia Caught a Rain Squall.

GLEN COVE, N. Y., May 21.—The Columbia was caught in the rain squall near Execution rock, but suffered no damage from it. When the squall struck her topsail was taken in, and she ran back to Glen Cove under lower sails. She had been out for a spin earlier, but was becalmed and towed back to the cove. There was no brush with the Reliance, though both boats were out at the same time, the new boat going off to the eastward and the Columbia to the westward.

St. Louis Results.

ST. LOUIS, May 21.—Rain spoiled a fast track at the fair grounds and gave the mud larks an inning. The feature of the card was a handicap at a mile and seventy yards, in which the best madders at the track were entered. Malster got away in the lead and won pulled up in the easiest fashion. Jerry Hunt won the fifth event after a sharp drive on the end with Brown Vail, an outsider. Cast Iron, at 5 to 1, captured the sixth event.

Favorites Win at Morris Park.

NEW YORK, May 21.—Mimon, Tchula, Syrlin and Grand Opera were the winning favorites at Morris park, the other two races going to well played second choices. The Meadowbrook Hunters' steeple chase went to the favorite, Tchula, with the 30 to 1 shot Kate Spotswood second and May Harrison third. Grand Opera, carrying 135 pounds, won the last race by a length from the 25 to 1 shot Colonsay.

Latonia Derby at Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, O., May 21.—Over a fast track and under a cloudy sky before 15,000 people T. C. McDowell's Candlemas colt Woodlake, carrying 114 pounds, with Jockey Dick Crowhurst on his back, won the Latonia Derby. The time was 2:36¾. The net value of the stake to the winner was $7,035.

HOTTEST WEATHER ON RECORD.

For This Season When the Mercury Showed 90 Degrees.

NEW YORK, May 21.—Two deaths and about a dozen cases of prostration marked the hottest weather ever recorded by the local weather bureau on May 20 since a record of the maximum daily temperature has been kept. The mercury reached the maximum at about half past 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when it registered 90 degrees. The highest temperatures recorded on the same day in New York were 86 in 1877 and 72 degrees in 1898.

Slight relief was afforded in the afternoon and evening by several light showers, but last night the temperature was still oppressive, and throughout the swarming tenement districts the suffering was very great. Frank Kelly while believed to be temporarily insane from the intense heat jumped from the roof of a house in West Thirty-seventh street and was instantly killed.

Brickmakers Strike at Kingston.

KINGSTON, N. Y., May 21.—A general strike of men employed at all brickyards between Kingston and Saugerties has begun, and 1,000 men are idle. The strike started at the Hutton yard, where the men demanded an increase of 15 cents a day. They marched to the other yards, gathering recruits until all had quit work. As the march progressed the demand for increase grew larger until at some yards a demand of 50 cents increase was made. Since the strike of the Building Trades' union in New York there have been but few shipments of brick to New York. Some manufacturers have no brick stored in their sheds, but others have large quantities on hand. If the strike is not settled soon all yards will be closed.

Large Fruit Packers Fail.

SAN JOSE, Cal., May 21.—The fruit men of San Jose were surprised when notice reached the office of Porter Bros., fruit packers and dealers, that the company is bankrupt and that a receiver has been appointed for all the property. The manager here had been instructed to continue the business as usual, and it is believed that the embarrassment is only temporary. The company is one of the largest dealers in fruit in California, and its operations in Santa Clara county have been extensive.

Suit Against Bird S. Coler.

NEW YORK, May 21.—William Walker and E. Ellinger, stockholders of the Guardian Trust company, have taken action which if successful will practically force the retirement of Bird S. Coler from the presidency of the company. The two stockholders have brought suit in the supreme court against Mr. Coler for alleged mismanagement and for the recovery of certain blocks of stock alleged to have been pledged as collateral without the sanction of the directors.

Miners Strike at Bernice.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., May 21.—The nonunion miners employed by the Sullivan State railroad at Bernice have struck for better wages. Board Members Carne and Llewellyn of the United Mine Workers of America have gone to Bernice for the purpose of having the union men who struck some time ago reinstated by the payment of the wages originally demanded.

Harriman Operation Successful.

NEW YORK, May 21.—The operation on E. H. Harriman, the head of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific railroads, for appendicitis was successfully performed here, and there is no reason to look for anything other than a speedy recovery.

PROMOTIONS VETOED

Post Office Clerks Appointments Canceled.

TULLOCH'S CHARGES AGAINST HEATH

First Assistant Wynne Reports Tabulation of Clerks in Each Grade Has Been Completed and Many Promotions Stopped.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—The cancellation of the promotions of over 3,000 post office clerks throughout the country recently authorized by the department and a formal notice to former First Assistant Postmaster General Perry S. Heath of the charges made against him by S. W. Tulloch, former cashier of the Washington post office constitute the latest developments in the post office investigation.

First Assistant Wynne has reported to Postmaster General Payne that the tabulation of the clerks in each grade in post offices of the first class has been completed. This work was undertaken in accordance with the order made by the postmaster general to rearrange the salaries of the clerks already classified so that the number in the several grades shall not exceed the number specifically prescribed in the act of congress making appropriations for the postal service. The former classification was made by George W. Beavers just prior to his sudden resignation as chief of the division of salaries and allowances.

The new schedule approved by the postmaster general after transferring 5 per cent from grades where there are vacancies, as authorized by a recent decision of the comptroller of the treasury, makes it necessary to cancel 3,046 promotions in the several grades in which there is an excess above the number to which the grades are limited by law and in which grades 7,412 promotions have been authorized heretofore.

Most of the excesses in the number in the respective grades of clerks scattered throughout the United States at first class presidential offices are in the $900 and $1,000 per annum classes. The excesses in grades are divided among eight grades, as follows: Two hundred and fifty-eight excess in the $700 grade, 852 in the $900 grade, 936 in the $1,000 grade, 451 in the $1,100 grade, 221 in the $1,200 grade, 220 in the $1,300 grade, 82 in the $1,400 grade and 16 in the $1,500 grade.

The postmaster general has sent to Mr. Perry Heath a copy of the charges filed by Mr. Tulloch, together with a letter requesting any information he may care to submit on the subject. This is the first official communication with Mr. Heath during the investigation.

Governor Was Killed In Revenge.

UFA, Russia, May 21.—The assassination of Governor Bogdanovitch in the town park here was an act of revenge growing out of the riot at Slatousk in March last, when twenty-eight persons were killed and fifty others were wounded by gendarmes and troops sent by the governor to suppress the disorder. The governor was walking unattended among the crowd in the park when he was approached in a shady lane near a church by two men, one of whom bowed and handed Bokdanovitch a packet. While the governor was examining it the men drew revolvers and riddled Bogdanovitch with bullets, no less than nine being lodged in his breast and spine. The governor died on the spot.

Allgood Is Frightened.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Postmaster General Payne has received the official report of the investigation into the recent intimidation of John Allgood, the colored rural free delivery carrier at Gallatin, Tenn. The report says that only two persons were involved in the affair and that the sentiment of the community does not uphold their act. The carrier is afraid to resume the service, believing his life would be endangered thereby, although Inspector Conger, who made the investigation, reports that he believes the carrier would be entirely safe.

Roosevelt Views Mount Shasta.

SISSON, Cal., May 21.—President Roosevelt was enthusiastically received during a short stay in Sisson. His special train arrived after a trip through the beautiful scenery of northern California. More than 500 people congregated at the station to see the president, who pleased them with one of his characteristic short speeches. The president was given a hearty cheer as the train pulled out of the station. The weather was fine, but clouds rested on the top of Mount Shasta and greatly marred the president's view of the grand old mountain.

Machinist Strike In St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, May 21.—All the machinists and brass workers in St. Louis belonging to the International Association of Machinists are on strike after negotiating for six weeks to secure a 10 per cent increase in wages. About 2,000 men are out, according to estimates, and between fifty and sixty companies are affected.

Eight Thousand Natives Homeless.

MANILA, May 21.—Two thousand native houses have been destroyed by fire in the Tondo district of Manila. About 8,000 persons are homeless and are being fed and sheltered by the municipality. The damage is estimated at 2,000,000 pesos.

Cuban Flag Hoisted In Paris.

PARIS, May 21.—Senor Merchan, the Cuban minister, visited Foreign Minister Delcasse and afterward received the members of the Cuban colony here at the legation of Cuba, where the Cuban flag was hoisted for the first time.

THE SUNDAY QUESTION.

"A Sabbath well spent
Brings a week of content,
And strength for the ills of the morrow.
In a Sabbath profaned
There is nothing gained.
It brings only trouble and sorrow."

That is poetry of the past, inculcating notions quite obsolete and superstitious according to the modern thought that advocates the pursuit of pleasure as the legitimate use of the day, formerly called the Lord's day. There was no lack of harmony in the olden time when notices of the occupations of Sunday, having reference to its duties and services, were chronicled as occurring on the Lord's day. Now, even the most irreverent would hesitate to announce a golf tournament or a baseball game as occurring on the Lord's day and yet, these amusements are called legitimate for the day. The thought has changed. It is my day for my pleasure, your day for your pleasure, everybody's day for everybody's pleasure.

"Why, the Sabbath was given to the Jew," says the artful logician of the present day. True, because Jewish human nature needed just such a memorial day to remind him of the earth's Creator and Preserver and to teach him reverence and humility. With the lament going up continually that the men and women of the present day, especially the young men and women lack reverence, are self assertive and arrogant, it would look as if the present generation needed the same observance of a day blessed and hallowed by God, teaching reverence, dependence, humility and other old-fashioned graces.

Whether we believe it or not, the records of the nations show that God is in history and controls human life and His voice on the Sunday question has no uncertain sound. On the subject to be discussed Saturday evening at the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, God has put Himself on record, thus:

"If thou turn away thy foot from the Sabbath, from doing thy pleasure on My holy day, and call the Sabbath a delight, the holy of the Lord, honorable; and shall honor Him, not doing thine own ways, nor finding thine own pleasure, nor speaking thine own words.

"Then shalt thou delight thyself in the Lord, and I will cause thee to ride upon the high places of the earth and feed thee with the heritage of Jacob, thy father: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it."

Plainfield has long been known as a moral and reputable city, where disorder is infrequent and where the Sabbath is observed by the whole community. It is to be hoped that the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club will not damage this reputation by allowing its members to play golf on Sunday. The golf players are, in almost ever instance, men who can enjoy that sport on other days than Sunday and they should not blacken the reputation of the city merely to please a few.

Exceptionally well have the tickets sold for the "Pirates of Penzance," which is to be given at the Casino this evening. While there is a very strong cast which is to produce the play, much credit for it should be given to William Holmes, who, in addition to filling an important role, has carefully selected and coached the company. His last effort promises, without doubt, to excell his previous ones.

No end of strange things are promised at the amateur circus of the I. C. T. Club tomorrow night. The young men of that club are hustling now for its success and promise to give a very creditable performance.

Mayor Jenkins has gone away. During his absence President of the Council J. F. Buckle acts as chief executive. Mr. Buckle makes a good one, too.

Elizabeth learns that the cost of its ice is likely to go up. It is said that it may eventually cost as much as 50 cents a hundred weight.

Former Mayor Charles J. Fisk appears to be out of danger now and all Plainfield rejoices at the glad news.

To be Given by Major Coughlin at Y. M. C. A. Hall.

Major W. H. Coughlin, of Brooklyn, will deliver his beautifully illustrated lecture, entitled "Lake George and Silver Bay," at Y. M. C. A. Hall, this evening. EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Topic For the Week Beginning May 24, "Attendance on the Means of Grace"—Text, Heb. xii, 20-25.

"Not forsaking our own assembling together." Piety in isolation rarely makes a sturdy growth. Times of quiet are needed, to be sure, when the soul can be alone with God and think and feel the influence of the divine spirit in meditation and prayer. But the religious life is not best cultivated by this means only. The social element has large influence in the human life and cannot be neglected without serious loss.

In religious thought it is much the same as in other departments of human knowledge. There is great value in the interchange of opinion. No one knows it all. The ideas of others and their experiences often are most helpful in giving light on matters that had appeared dark to us. The stimulus to action is sensibly felt as we unite with others who have aims like our own. When our zeal lags and we grow tired of the monotony and routine of life, then the association with others gives fresh interest and zest as new phases of the work are brought out in their conversation and planning. Fertility in suggestion and ingenuity in arranging how best to do the work come through consultation. It is not always what others have said that leads up to the new views, but as people talk our own mental processes are quickened to new activity and we have keener perception of moral and religious truth, and in surprising ways we find ourselves looking at matters from a new point of view. We see and feel differently. Suggestions come to us and original ways of working, new possibilities and propositions arise as we had not imagined possible when thinking by ourselves alone.

Then, again, we are always forming estimates of other people, their character, ability, motives, worth and opinions in many varying shades and details. The more we think the more convinced we become that our estimates are accurate. When we meet with others and see their actions, hear their words and catch their inner spirit, we almost invariably correct our opinions and arrive at different conclusions. We need to see and study people at short range to properly know and appreciate them. We also come to know ourselves better as we meet and talk with others. We inevitably compare ourselves in inner and outer life with them and change our ways of doing when we find others doing better than ourselves.

We arrive at broader conceptions of God and His kingdom; we get new ideas of our relation to Him and His work. Our duties and privileges take new shape and larger proportions as we find how others feel and think. God's grace becomes more precious as our horizons recede and our world grows. Hearts glow more fervently with devotion; fellowship with God and His children becomes richer and more precious. Surely if we are to grow in grace we must meet often with God's people!

Infinite Joy and Fruitfulness.

In every life that is opened up to the divine purpose God sows the seeds of infinite joy and fruitfulness. If care and sorrow make deep furrows, the seed falls into richer soil, and the harvest is the more abundant. God's gifts come under strange disguises, but that is because they are sent to the very highest that is in us, and we must grow into their use before they reveal themselves. That which seems to hold us back from peace and joy is the very thing that makes it possible to attain these precious possessions. The bird would find his wings useless were there no resisting atmosphere to bear him in his heavenward flight, and the soul that had never known the throb of sorrow, the agony of conflict, the weariness of disappointment, would find its aspirations powerless to lift it upward. It is not strength of wing alone, but strength of wing and resistance of air, that makes possible the skyward flight.—Lyman Abbott, D. D.

The Wrong Thought.

It is not thought that is to be condemned as dangerous, but wrong thought. Many men get into trouble not because they think, but because they do not think far enough. It is this half way, superficial thinking that lands men in the network of superstition or in the drear fog of agnosticism. To think clearly and truly is to think Godward. Reason does not lead to rationalism, but beyond rationalism, to the point whence faith completes the journey to the throneroom of the Eternal.—Lutheran Observer.

The Candle and the Lightning.

Then note that this inward witness of Christ's depth and preciousness is the true weapon and stay against a hostile world. A little candle in a room will make the lightning outside almost invisible, and if I have burning in my heart the inward experience and conviction of what Jesus Christ is and what He has done and will do for me—oh, then all the storm without may rage, and it will not trouble us.—Christian Endeavor World.

All to Thee.

God knows all and yet is the God of hope. Bless him that He was the Lord of Jacob and the Friend of Peter. He is my Friend too. God is all to thee. If thou be hungry, He is bread; if thirsty, He is water; if in darkness, He is light; if naked, He is a robe of immortality.—St. Augustine.

The Need of Reverence.

Reverence is the soul of religion. When that is gone, there is little left with which God can be pleased. Where nothing is sacred everything becomes common, even God himself.—Lutheran

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning May 24—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Topic.—Power and prayer.—Acts 1, 12 14; ii, 1-4, 41.

That there is an intimate relation between power and prayer cannot for a single moment be doubted or denied. The arm that moves the world is the arm of God, and the human agency that reaches the arm of God is prayer. "Ask and ye shall receive, seek and ye shall find, knock and it shall be opened unto you." Thus we have God's emphatic promise through His Son that He will answer prayer, and prayer thus becomes the means of our obtaining power from God.

The topical references in a striking manner illustrate the relation of power and prayer. In them we see the cause and the effect. Like links in a chain of consequences, they follow each other until the results are manifest. They begin with prayer and end with power. "These [the apostles and the women] all continued with one accord in prayer and supplication," praying undoubtedly for the Holy Ghost, who had been promised. And as a result of their prayers, "when the day of Pentecost was fully come, * * * they were all filled with the Holy Ghost." Peter under the power of the Holy Spirit preached to the people, and "then they that gladly received his word were baptized, and the same day there were added unto them about 3,000 souls." Thus we have the story of the great Pentecostal revival: First, prayer; second, the Holy Ghost as a result of prayer; third, 3,000 conversions as a result of the presence and power of the Holy Ghost.

Power and prayer go together in our personal lives. If as individuals we want spiritual power—power with God, power with ourselves and power with others—it must be obtained at the throne of grace. Prayer was the secret of Jacob's power. Persistent and earnest in prayer, he would not let the angel of the Lord go without his blessing and received the name of "Israel, for as a prince thou hast power with God and hast prevailed." Prayer was the secret of Elijah's power. By believing prayer he controlled the very elements, causing the rain to be sent or to be delayed. The Master Himself spent much time in prayer and especially when unusual manifestations of His power were desired. The throne of grace is our source of strength. If we would grow in grace, increase in power to resist temptation and be of personal efficient service for Christ, we must spend much time in prayer.

Prayer and power are also associated in our church life. It was the church that prayed and received the Holy Ghost and power. The church's power today comes from the same source and in the same way. "It is not by might nor by power, but by My Spirit, saith the Lord of Hosts." And God's spirit, as on Pentecost, comes in answer to united, earnest prayer.

A Well Known Endeavorer.

One of the best loved Endeavorers in New York and one widely known throughout the United States is Mr. H. A. Kinports, who since 1899 has held the position of state secretary for New York. For four years previous to that time he was treasurer of the state union. He has also served as president of the local union of New York city, one of the largest city unions in the world. As a convention speaker Mr. Kinports takes high rank, his addresses, full of vim and pith, always proving acceptable to Endeavor audiences. The "tour of the state" plan, which embraced an official visit to every county union in the state, was originated by Mr. Kinports.

H. A. KINPORTS.

Two Quiet Hour Thoughts.

Let us get away from the idea that the Quiet Hour is to fit us only for the other world. Let us rather think of it as a time to acquire power for practical duties and ability for common service.—Rev. Francis E. Clark, D. D., at Troy Convention.

Untold possibilities of power lie open before us if by faith we appropriate the sweet invitation of our Saviour-King to enter into habitual heart fellowship with Him in the secret of His presence.—David McConaughy.

A Missionary Revival.

The way to get a missionary revival is to have a revival here at home. President Harrison once said, "The greatest need of the foreign fields is a revivified, reconsecrated and unified home church." We are helping missions in a very real way when we do anything to revive our own church.

AN IDEAL LOCATION

BEAUTIFUL AND ACCESSIBLE.
2 Miles from Elizabeth. 7 Miles from Newark
14 Miles from New York.
Linden, New Jersey.
ON MAIN LINE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries
Largest Burial Parks in the State.

Transportation Facilities superior to those of any other cemetery, as to number of trains, railroad fare, time and distance.

These New Cemeteries, now being developed on the modern park plan, are attracting universal attention.

By Reason of Location Alone they are destined, in a very short time, to become the best-known Cemeteries in the country and, with their natural advantages, the most beautiful and desirable in which to purchase lots.

They are Accessible from every quarter and within easy reach of over 4,000,000 people, and, considering the steady and rapidly increasing growth of Greater New York and its tributary cities and towns, it is only the question of a short time before plots in Rosedale and Linden Park will equal in value those of our most noted cemeteries.

Popular Favor has already been shown to a marked degree in the sale of lots, several hundred having been sold to residents in Elizabeth, Linden, Rahway, Cranford, Jersey City, Orange, Paterson, Westfield, Newark and New York City, and a large number of interments have been made.

In the Days of Happiness we do not know what is to befall us or when the inevitable will occur; therefore, it is a wiser precaution to make provision for a final resting place during health and life than to force the painful duty on one's friends or relatives after death. A place of burial will be needed sooner or later by every one, and no one should neglect selecting a suitable and proper place until future postponement is impossible.

Linden Lodge is the largest, most modern and best equipped Cemetery Lodge in the country, and is provided with every requisite for the comfort and convenience of visitors who come to inspect the properties.

DRESSY TOILETS.

Reception Gowns of White Crepe de Chine—Pale Gray Costumes.

Very pretty are the reception gowns in white crepe de chine or any soft material tucked to the knees and finished with a voluminous flounce put on with some wonderful embroidery or trimming. A pale gray crepe de chine treated in this fashion had a bolero effect with a deep beautifully cut band of black satin. The former was finished with some silver and gray embroidery and opened over a chemisette of finely tucked and embroidered lawn, with a suggestion of black bobs on it by way of a trimming. The undersleeve was of lawn.

Pale gray, champagne color and apple green, sometimes mixed with pale violet, seem to form the prettiest of the early summer toilets. There is a decided fancy for black toilets as well. The wearing of black is always in favor with the smart woman who has to dress on a limited allowance of pin money, and by trimming it with lace, a fichu, etc., all somberness is removed.

BLUE CLOTH TAILOR MADE.

Brown is being used a great deal both in linen and cloth.

Linen gowns are relieved with bright embroidery.

The tailor made shown in the cut is of blue cloth, trimmed with Persian embroidery. JUDIC CHOLLET.

ODDS AND ENDS.

Enormous Lace Collars—Taffeta Back In Favor.

Enormous lace collars, both round and pointed, are now worn on fashionable coats.

Taffeta has regained favor. It is very chic for summer carriage wraps and summer reception gowns. Parisians are remaining faithful to it, and it is an excellent material for resisting the dust. It is ever so much smarter than foulard, although there is a fancy for the latter in very large patterns or abnormally big spots. Such a fashion is not for the million, but for the individual woman who can afford to have a number of dresses each season.

FOR A YOUNG GIRL.

A dark blue, brown or black taffeta gown is very useful for the woman who cannot afford many. The wearing properties are good, and it has a particular chic which is very suggestive of Paris.

A pretty dark blood red taffeta gown seen recently was arranged in gaugings around the hips and then had a deep flounce put on below the hips.

Patent leather shoes will be used more than ever this season, and the light, supple qualities wear very well.

The cut shows a dainty gown for a young girl. It is of blue taffeta with ecru lace. JUDIC CHOLLET.

By WALKER KENNEDY.

Copyright, 1903, by A. N. Kellogg Newspaper Co.

"That is the question I asked myself. The answer I got from the old records in part. You are, of course, aware of the fact that your husband many years ago was tried on the charge of killing Baxter, his foreman. By referring to the records I discovered that his property was transferred just after that event and before his trial took place. The property was sold at an enormous sacrifice, only $30,000 being realized so far as I can make out."

"What became of that?"

"I called upon Col. Franklin, who was one of your husband's lawyers at that trial, and asked if he could give me any idea as to the disposition that had been made of the cash. He smiled rather significantly and said he could. 'Do you know,' he said, 'what it cost to clear John T. Wright?' 'Of course not,' I answered. 'It cost a cold $25,000, and he had to have the money ready. Of course,' he went on, smiling, 'I cannot say anything about where it went, nor need I account for the fact that certain officers, by dealing very gingerly with the law and the facts, made it comparatively easy to bring in a verdict of acquittal.' I need hardly tell you, madam, what I think of such an admission coming from a member of my profession. Franklin's explanation, in short, is that Mr. Wright had to sell off his property to raise ready money for the purpose of buying an acquittal. But there are some aspects to this case which will render further investigation on my part necessary."

"If my husband did not own this place and the plantations to which he was constantly making visits, why did he show so much activity in improving and supervising them?"

"You have struck, madam, a hard question to answer. It may be he was in the employ of the company that bought him out; but what I cannot account for is the fact that he should have spent nearly all the profits of his business in improving and clearing up these plantations in Arkansas and Mississippi. I intend ascertaining if there is any law for claiming the value of these improvements, and in this way I shall probably make the real estate company show its hand. During my partial investigation of your husband's papers I came across a memorandum upon which you can perhaps throw some light."

"What is it?"

"This paper, as you will observe, is a map or plot of a piece of land." The lawyer here handed Mrs. Wright a paper, evidently of secret design, with a drawing upon it.

"On the back of this paper," said he, "you will observe the memorandum which I cannot understand."

Mrs. Wright turned the paper over and read the following:

"See schedules in agreement with Franklin."

"Can you tell me what agreement it is that is referred to in this memorandum?" asked the lawyer.

"I have no idea whatever," said Mrs. Wright.

"That is strange. In the examination of your husband's papers I have come across several references to papers which I cannot find, hints of something hidden in his business. Papers which I am satisfied are important are missing."

"You may not remember it, but my husband was robbed by one of his clerks a few months ago. The thief, who has never been caught, took several hundred dollars in money, and he may have accidentally disarranged or carried off some of the papers."

"Or he may have done so purposely. Among Mr. Wright's last correspondence I find an unaddressed and unfinished letter. It is dated a few days before he was killed. Let me read it to you."

Mr. Everett then read the following fragment:

"'Dec. 18.—.

"'I have misplaced my copy of the agreement. All danger is now past and it is time that we should carry out the terms of the contract; and I would like for you to appoint a day for a consultation. Recent advices have satisfied me that the Colorado——'

"This fragment as you will see refers to a contract or an agreement. The memorandum also refers to an agreement with Franklin which contained a schedule. It seems reasonably certain that this letter was intended for Franklin, and that there was some kind of an agreement in writing between them. For some reason Mr. Wright did not send the letter, and without knowing anything about the provisions of the agreement, I should commend his prudence in not sending it. If he had lost his copy of the contract he was practically at the mercy of the other party to it, and to notify that party of the fact would have been very poor judgment. I have not gone through Mr. Wright's correspondence yet, and I hope it will throw some light on the dark places. I half suspect that there is something of a most important character behind the surface, and I hope I shall be able to get at it."

Mrs. Wright remembered that shortly after the killing of Baxter she had signed some sort of a real estate transfer, which she did not understand, but which her husband had told her was a mere matter of form. Mr. Everett was of the opinion that this must have been the transfer to the Shelby Real Estate company.

"And what do you think of my brother's case?" asked Miriam, who had been an unmoved auditor during the preceding conversation.

"I can't give you an opinion on it," said Mr. Everett. "You know I have been in the case only a day, and I have done no work on it at all. I have told Herbert to keep his mouth shut. To-morrow we are to have an interview, and he is to give me his case."

When Mr. Everett reached his office Irving Warde was waiting for him. The lawyer had known Irving ever since he was a boy and had always taken a warm personal interest in him. Whenever Irving got into any kind of a tangle he consulted Mr. Everett, and it was owing to these consultations that he managed to write correctly about some abstruse legal topics and to avoid the shoals of libel. The lawyer had the utmost confidence in the young man and knew that when he unbosomed himself frankly, but privately, no public use would ever be made of his opinions.

"I came to see you about the Wright case," said Irving. "I have just learned that you will defend him, and I want to tell you what I know."

The lawyer expressed his willingness to listen. Irving gave him an account of the striking incidents with which the reader has already been made familiar.

"In addition," he said, "to the unexplained features of the circumstantial evidence, you can readily establish the fact that the pistols were changed. It is generally understood that Herbert Wright has a story to tell which will place a new phase on the murder and possibly implicate some one else. So an attempt is made to poison him. I have announced my intention of working at the puzzle, and have made some important discoveries. What is the result? I am lured into a den of crime and tumble into a carefully laid plan to assassinate me. All these things prove to my mind, Mr. Everett, that there is a powerful organization at work. At first the life of John T. Wright stood in the way of its accomplishing some great end. He was put out of the way, but not without some telltale evidence being left behind. Herbert Wright having in some way come across these evidences is marked for death; and the attempt made on my life satisfies me that I was on the right track. Mr. Wright's death was, I am convinced, but a part of some far-reaching enterprise, some great undertaking that had been planned with commercial nicety. His death was not a matter of passion, but business, and the interest that demanded it now wish to close Herbert's mouth, and put a period to my investigations."

"I can hardly believe it," said the lawyer. "because it implies the possession of power almost unlimited, not to speak of the money necessary to hire all the agents."

At this juncture the door opened and Detective Fenton entered the room.

"I am glad to find you both here," he said.

"You've struck something new in the Wright case?" asked Irving.

Mr. Richard Day, of 134 East Front street, says: "I had a miserable pain across my back and a sort of lame feeling over my kidneys. Standing any length of time, or walking any distance aggravated it greatly. I was never sick much in my life and consequently never took much medicine, so when I first began having these attacks I paid little attention to them. They, however, grew worse instead of better so I had to look about for a remedy. I read quite frequently in our papers about cures brought about by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills so I got a box at L. W. Randolph's drug store and after taking them I felt greatly relieved. I have recommended them to my friends and those who have used them speak very highly in their praise."

ST. HYACINTHE FIRE

Blaze Destroys Hotels, Houses and Factories.

WATER SUPPLY WAS EXHAUSTED.

Montreal Firemen Give Quick Response For Aid and but the Finest Part of Business Section Was Destroyed.

ST. HYACINTHE, Que., May 21.—A fire which broke out in the shoe factory of Cote Bros. destroyed the Frontenac and Ottawa hotels, half a dozen flourishing industries and 250 houses, leaving nearly a quarter of the city's population sitting homeless amid heaps of furniture. The loss is placed at $400,000. Nobody knows how the fire started. When it was first noticed it had secured a firm grip upon the Cote factory. The wind was blowing half a gale at the time, and the buildings in the immediate vicinity were of such a character as to fall easy prey to the flames.

The local fire department did its best, but the water pressure was poor, and it was not long before the fire had got entirely beyond its control. Word was wired to Montreal for help, and two steamers and a supply of hose made the run of thirty-six miles in forty-four minutes, the Montreal men being actually at work an hour and a half after they received instructions to leave their stations.

Their coming was opportune, for by this time the fire had worked its way up to St. Antoine street and was attacking the finest business blocks of the town situated on the market square. Through the efforts of the Montreal men the market building and the buildings on the other side of the square were saved. By this time the water supply was practically exhausted, and the flames were burning in a score of places. People were practically dragging the furniture from their homes, and chaos reigned supreme except when here and there a semblance of organized effort had been made by the priests to check the progress of the flames.

A large body of students from St. Hyacinthe college did particularly good work under the guidance of their teachers. In the end, however, the flames burned everything which lay in their path.

The burned district is practically the same as that destroyed in 1876. The river Yamaska flows through the town in the shape of a letter "V." St. Antoine street runs along the top of this "V," and practically everything south of that street was burned.

Turkish Violence In Macedonia.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, May 21.—Large numbers of refugees from Macedonia, fearing massacre, are entering Bulgaria, especially from the direction of Adrianople. They tell terrible stories of Turkish violence wreaked on Christians. The Bulgarian frontier posts at Tamruch recently reported that the Turks were preparing to occupy strategic points near Dormonchevo and Lilkovo, and the Bulgarian government notified the authorities at Constantinople that any attempt to cross the frontier would be repelled by force. In consequence of this, it is understood, the Turkish forces concentrated in that vicinity have been withdrawn.

Alleged Auto Fiends Arrested.

BOSTON, May 21.—On a charge of manslaughter W. A. Fuller and Victor Pager, both of this city, were arrested, it being alleged that they were riding in the automobile which caused the accident to Michael Feeley and Daniel F. Crowley, city employees, on Columbus avenue. Crowley is dead. It is claimed that Fuller was operating the automobile. The tooting of the conch of the automobile, it is said, frightened the horse attached to a city wagon, and the animal ran away. The wagon was overturned, and the two city employees were thrown to the pavement.

Protests Against Colton as Bishop.

ROME, May 21.—The Vatican and the congregation of the propaganda are both being besieged with protests against the appointment of the Rev. Charles H. Colton as bishop of Buffalo. These protests are useless, as his nomination has been approved by the pope and the brief appointing him to the bishopric has already been issued. A meeting of the congregation of the propaganda has been called for Monday to decide regarding the division of the state of Oregon into two dioceses.

New Electric Line Opened.

SCRANTON, Pa., May 21.—The new electric line—the Lackawanna and Wyoming railroad—between this city and Pittston, twelve miles distant, has been opened to the public. The third rail system of electric haulage is used for the passenger traffic and steam locomotives for the freight trains, which operate between midnight and 6 a. m. The line will be extended to Carbondale and to Wilkesbarre and will be forty miles long.

Forest Fires Abating.

GLENS FALLS, N. Y., May 21.—Information has reached here that the greater number of the forest fires which have been raging north and west of here for several days are practically under control and the situation is less critical. The fires are likely to break out again at any time, however, as nothing but a heavy rain will totally extinguish them.

Albanian Chiefs Arrested.

VIENNA, May 21.—A report from Mitrovitza says that all the Albanian chiefs of that district have now been arrested and sent under strong escort to Constantinople.

SPORTING NEWS

ON THE DIAMOND.

Wylie, the new player secured by Alis, showed up fine in the opening game, although it was his second game this year. He is just the kind of a player to make the hearts of "fans" glad. He is in the game from start to finish.

The Hope management believe that they have a winning pair in Kinney and Bolen, the battery. They certainly play well together and if they continue throughout the season as they began, these men will land the team near the top.

The patrons of Alis ball games have missed the "ginger" usually shown by Barnes. Last year he was the life of the game, but this season he has been very quiet in the game. It is to be hoped that he will wake up and get his fellows in the swim.

For the sake of general interest in the game it is to be hoped that all four clubs in the city baseball league will prove to be of somewhat equal strength. If one or two of the teams turn out to be weak in play, it will surely lessen the interest.

The loyal supporters of the Alis baseball team have not by any means given up hope for the team. They are confident that the boys will put up the right kind of a game within a short time. The team has been in need of practice and if the proper attention is given to this the result will be all right.

It has been hinted that the Hope and Safe Works' teams will be the leaders in the city baseball league contest. Their supporters do not want to forget that St. Mary's team expects to make a strong bid for a top position. Manager John Owens is not saying much, but he will no doubt surprise somebody before the season is over.

There has been some comment of late on the improved playing of the team representing the North Plainfield High School. There are still a number of weak places in the nine that could be strengthened with a little more attention to practice. That team has been unfortunate during the past few weeks in meeting teams that are far superior to them in field work and at the box. There is work in sight for Manager George.

Just before the game yesterday, the baseball team of the City High School was photographed by Willard M. Miner. The proof, shown at the school this morning, shows the photograph to be an excellent one.

It is generally understood that several changes will be made in the Alis Club lineup for Saturday afternoon's game.

It seems that the St. Mary boys have not given up all hopes of getting Arthur Lederer back with them for the league games as his name was included in St. Mary's list sent in to the City League secretary.

The chief problem for next season at the City High School will be to get a pitcher. The graduating class this year will not materially affect the school team save in taking away Van Auken, one of the cleverest pitchers the High School ever had. There are none of the older boys who have developed any ability so far as twirlers and it will be necessary to try to secure one from a lower grade. With a good pitcher, the City High School will have a scholastic team of unusual strength.

George E. Firstbrook, manager of the All-Plainfield team, which inaugurated the Wednesday afternoon baseball season yesterday, is well pleased by the showing made yesterday. He is confident that his scheme is going to be highly successful both financially and otherwise.

The result of last week's Hope-Alis game was a distinct surprise to the baseball enthusiasts. The Alis Club has a strong team which, when its players get playing together and forget those tricks of fumbling and throwing wild, will make a good showing. There wasn't any doubt in Saturday's game as to the superior playing of Hope but the Alis boys did a great many things they should not have done and which they will not do later in the season. Another meeting between those teams would be watched with interest by many.

It will be noted that "Jimmy" Montross is down on Hope Y. M. A.'s list of players in the City League. This does not mean that "Jimmy" is going to give up his present place with Westfield. He has an occasional Saturday afternoon off at Westfield and in the event of an important game for Hope, he may be expected back in the box. Kinney, the new Hope pitcher, is a dandy but the local boys have more confidence in "Jimmy" naturally and if the league should depend on a single game, just watch for Montross back in the box for Hope.

Saturday will see two more games in the Association League. This time a new combination of teams will play and good contests are promised.

In a closely contested game Tuesday afternoon, the nine of the Holy Cross Choir boys won a well earned victory over the North Plainfield Crescents by a score of 19 to 18. Holy Cross won out by a rally in the last two innings.

If the strong aggregation from the Safe Works cannot defeat the Scotch Plains team, it is hardly to be expected that the Y. M. C. A. team will accomplish that end. Most of the same team which ended the league season in such a winning gait is still playing while the Y. M. C. A. team is an entire new combination and will require time to work into a powerful combination. The association nine has, however, showed a marked improvement since it first started and Manager John Steiner has hopes that his boys will do creditably at Scotch Plains Saturday.

GOLF.

Frank O. Reinhart has been playing of late on the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club course, more for the sake of keeping in practice. He did not make any specially low score.

It is to be hoped that the women will take more interest in the Women's Handicap cup competition. In the opening play for this cup, only two women competed and this is not a good showing with so many women members in the club.

While Augustus R. Fisk holds the lead for the Golf Committee cup at the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, with a total of seven points, he has a close second in Robert Abbott, who has four points. Mr. Abbott, while one of the youngest players in the club, is also one of the best. He is still quite young, and judging by the way he is improving in his play, bids fair to rank with the best in the club, if not the State.

Mrs. W. L. Saunders, of Rockview avenue, is somewhat improved today after her severe illness.

SCHOOL BOYS BAT HARD

DEFEAT MONTCLAIR HIGH SCHOOL BY SCORE OF 8 TO 2.

Clever Stick Work Was the Deciding Factor in the Good Game.

The City High School was victorious again at baseball yesterday afternoon, defeating the Montclair High School by a score of 8 to 2 in a seven inning game. The game was well played throughout and the playing of the home team especially was enough to bring joy to the hearts of the ardent fan spresent.

After retiring the visitors in one, two, three order, the City High School came to the bat and started the game propitiously, for with Smith and Craig on bases, Munro smote a three bagger to deep right, and through left on third himself, scored the other two. The Monclair boys scored in the second, the High School brought in three runs in both the fourth and sixth, and Montclair scored again in the last.

The visiting pitcher was in excellent form and ten of the home team died at the plate, but VanAnken, who put up an unusually steady game, struck out eleven. When the home team hit, it hit hard and the bunched runs in the fourth were due to the masterful placing. A wonderful improvement was shown in the base running of the local players and twelve stolen bases are tallied for them. Craig and VanAuken were especially active in this line.

The teams batted as follows:

P. H. S.: Thompson, 1b; Craig, ss; Smith, 3b; Ulrich, lf; Munro, c; Walters, lf; VanAuken, p; Book, cf; Brokaw, 2b.

M. H. S.: Valentine, ss; VanVleck, 3b; Hughes, 1b; Teed, 2b; Woodruff, cf; McDonough, p; Smith, c; Surbrug and Connelly, rf; Soule, lf.

Below is the score by innings and the summaries:

P. H. S.	2	0	0	3	0	3	x	—	8
M. H. S.	0	1	0	0	0	0	1	—	2

Bases on balls, VanAuken, 2; McDonough, 7; Hughes, 2. Three base hit, Munro. Double play, Woodruff., VanVleck, in the sixth. Struck out, VanAuken, 11; McDonough, 10. Passed balls, Munro, Smith. Wild pitch, VanAuken. Umpire, Lindsey Best. Scorer, L. L. Sheppard.

A Cadet Now.

Pendleton Rogers, Jr., of East Front street, received word last evening from the War Department, that he had successfully passed his entrance examination to West Point.

Details Completed.

At the regular meeting of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., Tuesday evening, further details were completed for the observance of Memorial Day.

OPPOSED TO SUNDAY GOLF

X. TAKES A STRONG STAND AGAINST THE PROPOSITION.

Says Sunday Golf Means Sunday Baseball and Other Sports on That Day.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—According to The Press the question of golfing on Sunday afternoons at the Hillside links is soon to be reconsidered.

What is more delightfullly soothing and restful to mind and body than the calm peaceful Sabbath day spent in church, home, and in the Temple of the All Mighty, the fields and woods.

If the demand of a portion of the golf players to have the links open on Sunday is granted, with what consistency can those be deprived like privileges who favor base or football, horse racing, open saloons, in fact an open (sometimes called a liberal, Sunday, all men to follow their own tastes or inclinations regardless of the moral or religious views or principles of neighbors or the community at large. Where is the line to be justly drawn that will bar out some and permit others of what each class of persons may consider the most desirable and effectual means of "Recreation."

As to the plea that men, especially young men should have at least a part of each Sunday for exercise and amusement it would seem that golfing has the weakest possible plea for recognition as it is to be presumed that at least the greater part of those who indulge in that game are able to take from other days of the week as much time as they may desire.

Does it not seem somewhat remarkable that our pulpits have not rallied more definitely and earnestly in defense of the "American Sabbath." Certainly our ministers know as much of human nature as we laymen and they must know that if all sorts of public or club games are allowed, the young fellows if not the old boys will have their minds or their favorite sport from early morn to dewey eve, then where do matters religious come in.

Are we not drifting too fast towards the European Sunday of horse racing, bull fights, grand receptions and the like?

Please allow an "Old Foggy" to express the opinion that among the greatest dangers to the welfare of our country are disobedience and irreverance to parents and the setting aside of the American Sabbath. X.

YOUTH, BEAUTY, WEALTH, WEDS

New York and Plainfield Society in Attendance at the Hagedorn-Arens Marriage.

HELD AT GRACE CHURCH

Nuptials at 5 o'Clock Followed by Reception at Bride's Home—A Fairyland of Flowers—Beautiful Gowns, Costly Gifts—Will Reside on Rahway Road.

A picture of loveliness in her beautiful bridal gown, Miss Edith Arens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Arens, of Rahway road, was wedded last evening, in Grace Episcopal church, to Adolph Gunther Hagedorn, of New York City. The event was one of the brilliant social features of the season, the most select society of Plainfield and New York City being in attendance at the marriage and the wedding reception following. The ceremony was performed at 5 o'clock, by Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, rector of the Grace Protestant Episcopal church, assisted by Rev. Erskine M. Rodman, rector emeritus.

The organ pealed out the familiar, stirring strains from "Lohengrin" as the bride approached the altar on the arm of her father. She was met at the foot of the altar by the groom accompanied by the best man, Albrecht Pagenstecher, of New York City. A brief betrothal service was held at the foot of the altar, preceding the formal marriage ceremony. The church was lavishly decorated with flowers and potted plants, palms and smilax predominating, and the altar itself was a vision of beauty. The bride was given away by her father. Following the service the bridal couple passed down the aisle, with the organ playing Mendelssohn's wedding march. H. H. Joy, formerly of the Crescent Avenue church, now of Brooklyn, was the organist.

The bride was gowned in white crepe de chine, trimmed with beautiful lace. She carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The matron of honor, Mrs. John F. Milner, of Connecticut, wore a striking gown of honor liberty silk and a white plume in her picture hat. She carried a bouquet of white sweet peas.

The bridemaids were Miss Josephine Wupperman and the two Misses Hagedorn, sisters of the groom, of New York, Miss Louise Coleman, of Plainfield, and Miss Eleanor Cushman, of New York, the last two being cousins of the bride. The bridemaids looked bewitching in gowns of lace grenadine, with white straw hats, carrying large bouquets of daisies.

The ushers were Siegfried Arens, the bride's brother, and S. C. Kirchhoff, of Plainfield, Otto Taussaint and Charles Woodruff, of New York, J. F. Milner, of Connecticut, and William Hagedorn, the groom's cousin, of New York.

Mrs. Otto Arens, the mother of the bride, wore an exceedingly handsome gown of black lace over white satin; and the groom's mother, Mrs. H. Hagedorn, appeared in ecru lace, trimmed with pink panne velvet.

The wedding reception followed the ceremony immediately, the beautiful Arens estate, on Rahway road, being in gala attire for the occasion. The newly wedded couple received their friends in the library, which presented a scene of rare beauty. Palms, smilax and gray, southern moss furnished a backgrcund for a profusion of white roses and pinks. Hidden away in a room banked by flowers, a band of twelve musicians from the steamer, Kaiser Wilhelm II, discoursed music, Captain Hogeman, of the Kaiser Wilhelm, being present at the ceremony. There were 250 invited guests at the reception, and the church at the ceremony itself was crowded with the friends of the couple. Most of the guests were from Plainfield and New York.

The bride was the recipient of countless presents, most of them costly examples of the jeweler's art. The groom's gift to the bride was a magnificant diamond pin. Each of the bridemaids was presented by the bride with a gold pin, set with pearls. The groom gave the ushers gold cigar cutters, inscribed with their monograms and the date of the wedding. H. H. Hagedorn, father of the groom, presented his daughter-in-law with a large and beautiful chest of silver and cut glass.

A dinner for the bridal party followed the reception.

After a bridal tour of a few weeks, Mr. and Mrs. Hagedorn will reside on Rahway road, in a house adjoining that of the bride's parents. The house has been furnished throughout by Mr. Arens, and is given to the couple as a wedding gift.

One of the charming features of the reception was the four heralds stationed at the entrance to the house, and waving a welcome to the guests, with German and American flags.

LAKE GEORGE.

Mrjor Coughlin Told Y. M. C. A. Something of It.

An instructive and interesting illustrated lecture was given at the Y. M. C. A. last evening on "Lake George," by Major W. H. Coughlin, of Brooklyn, under the auspices of the association. A large number of very fine views were thrown on the canvas in showing the beautiful scenery to the found at this famous summer resort. It is at this place that the Y. M. C. A. holds its annual conference and the lecture was given for the purpose of interesting persons in the place and thereby securing their promise to spend their vacation there this season.

All the views were colored and they gave a most realistic idea of that delightful place in the mountains. Major Coughlin is thoroughly acquainted with Lake George and is well qualified to describe its beauties. After the lecture a number signified their intention of going to Lake George this summer.

One of the largest dances given in Saengerbund Hall this spring was that given last evening by the Coachmen's Benevolent Society for the benefit of Muhlenberg Hospital. It was a success from start to finish.

It was not until late in the evening that the crowd began to gather. At 11 o'clock the floor was well filled with many young people from this city as well as from Elizabeth, Bound Brook, Westfield, Morristown and New York. Representatives of Coachman's Union No. 2, of New York, were here to the number of twenty-five. The decorations in the hall were most appropriate to the affair and the new electric lights in the main hall were used for the first time.

The dance was arranged by the following committee: John Hurley, chairman; William Barry, secretary and floor manager; Joseph Strapp, assistant floor manager; and Joseph Sweeney; assisted by the officers of the society: President, Augustus Keading; vice president, James Wierenga; secretary and treasurer, James Frazer; and financial secretary, James G. Kyle.

The music for the dance was provided by Professor O'Reilly's full orchestra. The tickets at the door were collected by George Gunther and the patrons were received by the reception committee: Patrick McLaughlin, Patrick Sullivan, John Donnelley, Geo. Ball and William Hiner.

This is the first time the Coachman's Society has given a dance of any kind.

CONCLUDED HER LECTURES

MRS. JENNIE FOWLER-WILLING GAVE LAST OF THEM YESTERDAY.

Her Theory of How to Grow Young and How to Keep So Explained.

Mrs. Jennie Fowler-Willing concluded her series of lectures yesterday afternoon and evening in the parlors of the Crescent Avenue church. In the afternoon she gave two lectures, one on the subject of "Right in Purpose," and the other "Right in Result," and in the evening she gave a resume of the seven lectures.

Among other things said by Mrs. Willing in the afternoon was the following: "Purpose is character. Not what we think, or feel, or do, or what results from our action, but what we mean to do, merits praise or blame. Motive, or purpose, gives character to action.

"To get the best result, the will must be thrown into the Lord's hand for use in His service. The surrender must be as complete as one knows how to make it; and Christ must be trusted to accept for His own glory all that is given."

In the evening Mrs. Willing briefly reviewed the entire seven lectures and incidentally gave a short talk on the work of the W. C. T. U., of which organization she is the founder.

JERSEY FLOODS.

Discussed at Length in Annual Report of State Geologist.

The annual report of the State Geologist of New Jersey, Dr. Henry B. Kummel, contains an interesting and valuable discussion of the great floods of March, 1902, which were investigated by C. C. Vermeule, of Orange, the well-known water expert. His studies show that on the Delaware at Easton the flood was as high as any ever known, while on the Passaic at Paterson it exceeded any flood since 1810. He estimates that the amount flowing over Dundee dam during the eight days of the freshet would have filled a square reservoir measuring a mile on each side and 366 feet deep.

Fears have been expressed that if the plans of the Passaic Drainage Commission are carried out at Little Falls, the height of great floods at Paterson and Passaic would be greatly increased. Mr. Vermeule discusses this question exhaustively, and shows that these fears are groundless, since the height of the flood is not controlled by the height of the dam at Little Falls, but by the size of the channel above the falls. Copies of his report can be obtained by application to the State Geologist at Trenton.

Honduras Option Sold.

The report of Rev. Geo. H. Karner on the profits of raising bananas in Honduras was so favorable, that the parties holding the option on the La Mesa tract of three thousand acres, have disposed of their whole option to a New York syndicate. This purchase terminates all connection of the Plainfield Banana Growers Company with the enterprise, and the Plainfield company will be dissolved. A limited amount of stock of the new corporation will be set aside for the Plainfield subscribers to take or not, as they desire, at the discount originally offered.

Costumes Delayed.

The slight delay in beginning the performance of "The Pirates of Penzance" last evening was caused by the non-arrival of the costumes. MAY LIGHT ROADS.

Piscataway Township Committee Meets to Discuss the Matter.

It is possible that the roads in Piscataway will be lighted with electricity. This has been a long felt want and on Wednesday afternoon the Township Committee met at New Market for the purpose of considering the matter. No action has been taken yet.

The roads in that township are used considerably after dark and early in the morning and many accidents have been narrowly averted through the lack of necessary lights. The roads which are nearly all macadamized are used extensively by automobilists which make proper lighting very necessary in order to avoid collisions.

Another meeting will be held later when the matter will again be brought up and some action taken.

COMIC OPERA BY AMATEURS

"Pirates of Penzance" at the Casino Last Evening Was a Complete Success.

HOUSE WAS CROWDED

Splendid Chorus Work Reflected Great Credit on Wm. Holmes—Miss Aimee Delanoix Made a Decided Hit—Good Work by Other Members of Cast.

Gilbert's and Sullivan's "Pirates of Penzance," which has attained very nearly the dignity of a comic opera classic, was given by local talent last evening, at the Casino, before a crowded house. To state that the performance was highly successful and creditable is putting the case mildly.

William Holmes, under whose direction and stage managership the production was prepared, had trained his company to a degree of excellence almost professional. Indeed, there are professional companies on the present day stage that would be quite incapable of the facile interpretation of the opera given last night by amateur performers. Particularly to be noted as indicating the character of Mr. Holmes' work, his care and attention to detail, was the singing and stage bearing of a well balanced, skillfully drilled chorus, which far surpassed even the usual professional chorus in its vocal work.

First honors of the evening belonged clearly, though not overwhelmingly, to Miss Aimee Delanoix, who sang in the role of "Mabel." Miss Delanoix has a remarkable soprano voice, clear, full of expression, capable of delicate shadings in color and sentiment, compassing the highest notes with strength and ease. Her stage presence was admirable. Mrs. Fernando M. Ward made a highly satisfactory "Ruth." She used a charming voice to the best advantage, and her acting was no less deserving of praise than her singing.

Raymond A. McGee, with a piratical bearing and a voice of splendid power, was a notable pirate chief. William Holmes scored a hit as "Major-General Stanley," and William N. Runyon acquitted himself (the phrase is used advisedly) nobly, infusing much humor into his interpretation of the part of police sergeant. George H. Smith was in excellent voice, although his stage presence left something to be desired.

The orchestration was good, excellent in fact; and it was a pleasure to note that the mistake, so frequently made in amateur theatricals, of allowing the orchestra to drown out the solo parts was avoided. Howard M. Case wielded the baton and cleverly directed the chorus. The cast was as follows:

Richard, a Pirate chief, Raymond A. McGee; Samuel, his lieutenant, Fred'k J. Pope; Frederick, a Pirate apprentice, George H. Smith; Major-General Stanley, William Holmes; Edward, sergeant of police, William N. Runyon; Mabel, General Stanley's youngest daughter, Miss Aimee Delanoix; Gen. Stanley's daughters, Kate, Miss Grace M. Phillips; Edith, Miss Cornelia Miller; Isabel, Miss Ada M. Dunham; Ruth, a Piratical "maid-of-all-work," Mrs. Fernando M. Ward; chorus of General Stanley's daughters, pirates, policemen, etc.

The chorus consisted of the Misses Edith Boice, Mae Brouwer, Emma Craig, Bessie Giles, Elsie Giles, Daisy Houston, Marjorie Phillips, May E. Pound, Susan M. Pound, Etta Randolph, Lou F. Randolph, Elizabeth A. Sears, L. W. Stafford, Ida M. Tallamy, Mildred Ulrich, Ada Van Doren; Mesdames Clayton M. Nagle, Ernestine Runyon, Wm. Townsend; Albert R. Apgar, Charles Belknap, Chas. H. Berkheiser, A. S. Brouwer, Jr., Sidney Craig, William B. Gilbert, Bradley S. Hall, R. E. Humpston, W. T. Jeffery, Jr., Albert I. Littell, Irving Martin, Joseph C. Martin, Willard M. Miner, Harry J. Northrop, Willard Rosencrantz, Clarence A. Sutphen, Louis V. Tallamy, Harry R. VanSaun, Paul Whitall, Harry C. Yeager.

What's the matter with having your house papered? J. C. Hansen, of East Front street, has a beautiful and varied assortment of wall papers to select from, and he does the work with a most careful attention to details.

Bears Brothers, of West Front street, have made it possible for everyone to have good clothes at little expense. The firm sells clothing for men and boys, as well as suits and shirt waists for women on the installment plan.

There is no better time to have your house painting done than now, and there is no better firm to do it for you than the New York Painting and Decorating Company, of Park avenue. This firm also does fine papering, the stock of wall-papers being equal to any.

Ice cream, soda water, grape juice; these three. And the greatest of these is grape juice. It is the best spring tonic, the most refreshing temperance drink, the most popular of all the many summer beveridges. T. S. Armstrong, the druggist on Park avenue, has the best quality.

Coffee is almost tasteless unless it is blended properly. Neuman Brothers understand that part of the business thoroughly and that is why their Old Government Java and Java and Mocha coffee is superior to many other blends under the same name. Their Colburn strawberries are way ahead of all others.

There are ice cream sodas which are hardly worthy of the name. There are also ice cream sodas which are the acme of perfection. Those are the kind that are to be found at B. J. Schreiner's drug store at the corner of Park avenue and Second street. They are good because they are made of good material.

ANOTHER PLEA FOR SUNDAY

REV. WM. S. HUBBELL ARGUES AGAINST SUNDAY GOLF.

Brings Forth Arguments to Support His View of the Question.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—Different opinions are held regarding Sunday observance but most people are agreed that the "Day of Rest" should not be abolished. Human welfare requires such a periodic rest for body, mind and heart. Because of its value to society this rest-day has been protected by statute in nearly every State of our Union. The whole of Christendom is united by this custom of special regard for one day in seven.

Do we wish to have this blessing continued in our country and throughout the world? Does the quiet of Sunday, the popular reverence for the day as choice, peculiar, sacred, seem to us worth retaining? Do we prefer to have business interrupted, ordinary toil to cease, noisy sports to be set aside, cares to be laid away, religion to get a special hearing, once a week? Is it our hope that the churches and the Lord's Day will outlast this generation?

Or on the other hand, would it please us to have the shops open for trade, the courts in session, the sheriffs executing writs, the tin pail brigade of laborers going to their tasks as usual, clerks and businessmen in week day clothes hastening to the marts of trade, the outcries of street-venders, the din of hammers and machinery with the myriad rounds of multiform traffic let loose on Sunday as at other times? In a word, is it best to have the same work and the same amusements on Sundays as on other days? Or does one day deserve to be set apart for nobler purposes than other days? Is public worship to God a good thing for the masses of men and women on the Lord's Day, and ought this time of rest to be protected by law from the invasion of money makers or other noisy disturbers of its quiet?

Now if we can agree that Sunday is worth saving and perpetuating as a day for rest and worship, what should the educated and intelligent portion of society do to help preserve it? Evidently they should not appropriate to themselves the comforts and reliefs of the day, while leaving to people less fortunate the duties and self-denials of maintaining it.

Some years since it was arranged for a "bicycle-meet" to assemble at Copley Square in front of Trinity church, Boston, for a run into the country on Sunday morning. Dr. Phillips Brooks soon afterwards spoke plainly from his pulpit on the thoughtlessness of such conduct. He showed how the welfare of society and the stability of the commonwealth rested on the maintenance of Sunday as a day of rest and of worship. These young men themselves expected that clergymen and their friends would attend the churches and promote good morals and religion, on account of which observance any city or town becomes a desirable home. These wheelmen wished others to bear the burdens of self-denial and Sunday restrictions and to exhibit a worthier side of life on that day. Meanwhile these young men themselves shirked the avowal of such exalted aims, devoting their time to self-entertainment, while leaving religion and its institutions to the support of the clergy and their followers Dr. Brooks took the ground that it was neither chivalrous nor manly for educated young men to set such an example of indifference to the welfare of society. So also writes Dr. Edward Everett Hale in condemnation of similar conduct He says: "You have no right to take the comfort of Sunday and then leave to the ministers, your father and mother, and to the women of the community, the maintaining of Sunday."

When the public respect for Sunday, as the time for rest and worship has been broken down by making it a holiday for sports and games, next will come the demand for Sunday work. Already this demand is faintly heard in those callings which are akin to Sunday amusements.

The prosperous, the educated, the high-minded, should never take their pleasures in a way to harm the popular reverence for Sunday. Even aside from all religious scruples as to this day, they should regard it as "the oldest and most widespread of all our American institutions." A noted jurist has called the day of rest, "an accepted and essential part of the established order of civilized society, demanded by the physical, moral and social needs of man."

Is it not an ignoble deed for high-minded people when they disregard the obligation to observe Sunday? Will they leave this task to the workingman who is now struggling to preserve his right to a Sunday rest? Will they sneer at the Puritan as narrow-minded, when he has guaranteed to our land fifty-two days of rest from toil in every year? Will they demand a holiday for selfish pleasure in place of the day which is meant to suppress our individual selfishness and to counteract the worldly aims of the week. Sunday cannot be maintained on the holiday level. Its existence depends on those who keep it "for the nobler purposes of the higher life."

In the classic decision of the Supreme Court of New York on the question of Sunday observance occurs this paragraph: "But it is urged that it is the right of the citizen to regard the Sabbath as a day of innocent recreation and amusement rather than a day of rest and religious worship, and that he has a right to act upon that belief and to engage in innocent amusement and recreation. That is not innocent which may operate injuriously upon the morals of the old or young, which tends to interrupt the quiet worship of the Sabbath, and which grievously offends the moral sense of the community and thus tends to a breech of the peace."

Shall we say in reply: "Who cares what becomes of the caddies and the link-keepers and the objectors if we can have our Sunday sport?" Golf is the peculiar diversion of prosperous people, who can ordinarily take their pleasures on any day of the week. Is it noble and unselfish for such persons to select Sunday for this sport? If everybody should imitate them what Sunday would remain for anyone?

The Wastes of the Body.

Every seven days the blood, muscles and bones of a man of average size loses two pounds of wornout tissue. This waste cannot be replenished and the health and strength kept up without perfect digestion. When the stomach and digestive organs fail to perform their functions, the strength lets down, health gives way, and disease sets up, Kodol Dyspepsia Cure enables the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all of the wholesome food that may be eaten into the kind of blood that rebuilds the tissues and protects the health and strength of the mind and body. Kodol cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia and all stomach troubles. It is an ideal spring tonic. Sold by L. W. Randolph.

The Difference Between the Ordinary Shoulder and Our "CONCAVE" Shoulder

Our new "Concave" shoulder is the very perfection of tailoring. It is a shoulder with the broad, high effect modeled and tailored right into it, and not built out with wadding and padding. The ordinary padded shoulder will never look right nor hold its shape. Our "Concave" shoulder will keep its shape and form as long as the coat lasts. We have put our "Concave" Shoulder into all of our

Calumet Stakes at Worth.

CHICAGO, May 22. — The Calumet stakes at Worth, for three-year-olds exclusively and participated in by five American Derby candidates, was won by An Revoir. Gregor K. was second and Banter third. An Revoir won pulled up to a walk within a second of the track record for the mile and a sixteenth. Gilfain was left at the post. Prince of Endurance, the fifth Derby candidate, finished as an "also ran." Dan McKenna and Mauser were scratched. The third race, a handicap at a mile and an eighth, went to Bondage, with Rolling Boer second and Soothsayer third. The time was 1:52 1-5. A heavy rain during the afternoon made the track holding.

Jockeys' Badges Forfeited.

ST. LOUIS, May 22.—A shower of rain after the first race made the track a little slow for the next three races, which included the Country Club stakes at the fair grounds. Sylvia Talbot, Barney Schreiber's three-year-old filly, won the stake easily. She got away first and led the field by from four to six lengths the entire six furlongs. Santa Ventura and Hilee ran in the order named from the quarter to the wire. The board of stewards took up the badges of four of the jockeys, Willie Waldo, Dean, Davisson and Boland, and denied them the privilege of the track for the future. No reason was given for this action.

Morris Park Results.

NEW YORK, May 22.—Rigodon, running in the colors of James R. Keene, won the Pocantico stakes at Morris park. He was quoted at 4 to 1 in the betting. Duke of Kendal, 40 to 1, was second and Rosetint third. River Pirate, the even money favorite, finished a bad last. Flocarline cut out the pace to the stretch, where Rigodon and Duke of Kendal closed, and in a furious drive Rigodon won by a head, with Duke of Kendal a neck in front of Rosetint. Rosetint was badly interfered with all the way through the stretch. The Laurel, heavily played to win the third race, ran away about four miles and was withdrawn.

World's Motor Cycle Record.

LONDON, May 22.—Fred W. Chase, the English motor cyclist who last September broke all motor cycle records from five to twenty miles, created the world's record at Canning Town. He covered a mile, with a flying start, in 1m. 6 3-5s.; with standing start, in 1m. 15 2-5s.; five miles, with flying start, in 5m. 38s.; with standing start, 5m. 57 2-5c.; ten miles, with standing start, in 11m. 35s.

Latonia Clipsetta Stakes.

CINCINNATI, O., May 22. — The Clipsetta stakes, for two-year-olds, was the stake feature at Latonia and furnished an exciting contest. Stumpy, a 4 to 1 shot, led from flag fall to the wire, but was almost nipped in the last stride by Silk Maid, the favorite, who appeared hopelessly beaten at the head of the stretch, but came with a rush. The value to the winner was $1,440.

Famous Racer Dead.

BUTTE, Mont., May 22.—Montana, by Story, out of Uga, by King Alfonso, seventeen years old, is dead at the Morris ranch at Adel. Montana won $68,000 for his owner, T. B. Kirkendall of Helena, in his ten years on the track.

EDITORIAL CHANGE.

Charles Burdette Morse, the present city editor of The Daily Press, will resign his position June 1 to take charge of the department of printing and publication of the Ingersoll-Sergeant Drill Company, of New York, the largest manufacturers of compressed air machinery in the world, of which Former Mayor William L. Saunders, of the borough, is first vice president.

Commencing his newspaper career as a reporter for this paper eight years ago, Mr. Morse soon demonstrated that he possessed marked ability as a journalist. His conduct of the editorial department, since his advancement to the city editorship, has been such as to gratify the editor and proprietor and to receive the commendation of the community. To him is due a large share of the credit for the present position The Daily Press occupies as Plainfield's leading newspaper. While we part with his services most reluctantly, we congratulate the Drill Company on gaining a valuable and faithful man.

Mr. Morse will be succeeded by Ralph Leighton Morrow, who was a valued member of The Daily Press reportorial staff for over a year and ably filled the city editor's position during Mr. Morse's absence. During the past year Mr. Morrow has served as Plainfield correspondent of The Newark News and other papers and has continued his reputation for accuracy and conscientious work. While a Pennsylvanian by birth, Mr. Morrow has taken an active interest in the progress of city and borough where he has made a host of friends. We feel sure that under his careful direction the city department will continue to grow and improve and The Daily Press to maintain its present high standard. Mr. Morrow will continue his work as correspondent.

BAND CONCERTS.

The agitation for open air band concerts in Plainfield has been started this year and it is to be hoped that it will be successful. Two years ago, such concerts were held in this city and proved very satisfactory. Thousands of people turned out to hear them and they proved to be wonderfully pleasant features of the heated period. The bills were met by public subscription.

Last year, the subject was discussed considerably but came to naught and the Plainfielders who, through force of circumstances, were compelled to remain here throughout all the summer months without any vacation lost something which might have materially assisted in making the time pass more pleasantly. The agitation was late in starting last year which may have accounted in some measure for its failure.

There is now plenty of time in which to get this summer concerts well under way. Benj. LaVere has agreed to arrange a series of ten concerts if the necessary funds are forthcoming. He should have the co-operation of every citizen in his effort and subscriptions for that end will be well given.

Some excellent reasons why the practice of playing golf on Sunday should not be started at the course of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club were given by the Ministers' Association in yesterday's Daily Press. Another local clergyman writes to The Daily Press and deals with the subject at greater length. His view of the subject will be found in another column. It is hoped that these arguments will have their proper effect on the members of the club and that they will unite to vote down the proposition when it comes up at the meeting tomorrow evening.

It might just as well be known that the members of the Common Council who are so strong for street sprinkling under municipal control do not intend for the present at least to include every street in the city but only those in the more thickly settled portions of the city. If that was to be done at the expense of all the tax-payers it would be manifestly unfair. The Canadian system would be very satisfactory in that only those who directly benefitted would find and extra charge for street sprinkling attached to their tax bill.

There seems to be a mistaken idea on the part of some concerning the circus which is to be given this evening by the I. C. T. Club. A number of the I. C. T. boys are to participate in it as clowns and other important features but the show includes a number of professional acts which are at the head of the profession and the equal of those seen in any circus. It has been called an amateur circus but that does not exactly describe it as the programme will include turns by both professionals and amateurs.

Memorial Day promises to be quite a lively day in Plainfield. There's lots of baseball scheduled for the day. The golf clubs have made elaborate plans. Then the G. A. R. veterans will follow their time honored custom and observe the day as it should be in every American community.

The Somerset Messenger goes on record as being in favor of Sunday baseball. When one remembers that Somerville's golf club with its adjacent bar flourished best on Sundays, this action need not cause so much surprise.

Started Patrol System.

At last the work of installing the police patrol system in Plainfield has been started. The Gamewell Company will do the work themselves, instead of giving out the contract for stringing the wires. The work was commenced yesterday and, unless something interferes, the system should be in working order inside of four weeks.

Meeting of Men's Assembly.

The regular monthly meeting of the Men's Assembly of Grace M. E. church will take place this evening at the church. The speaker of the evening will be Assemblyman S. S. Swackhamer. There will be a musical programme. The annual election of officers will be held also, and a full attendance is expected

Decoration Day Jaunts.

Memorial Day seems to be the ideal day for launching the excursion season, and with the fine weather which usually prevails one is only too glad for the opportunity for a day's enjoyment. Perhaps no one resort is more eagerly chosen than Mauch Chunk, than which there is no more charming resort in this section. To reach Mauch Chunk there is a delightful railroad journey through the hills of New Jersey and the mountains of Pennsylvania, and when Mauch Chunk is reached there is a burst of glorious scenic beauty. Then the switch-back railroad trip of 14 miles over a gravity road o'er mountain and through dale is a treat once experienced never forgotten, and another side trip into the mountain depths of Glen Onoko where are cascades, caverns and like attractions. On Decoration Day the New Jersey Central is going to run an excursion to Mauch Chunk, the round trip to cost $1.50, children 75 cents, and a fast special express train will leave Plainfield at 9:22 a. m., and arriving at Mauch Chunk about noon; and as the return trip does not leave the mountain city until 5:49, there will be ample time for a good time. Ask nearest ticket agent for circular.

AN IDEAL LOCATION.

BEAUTIFUL AND ACCESSIBLE.

ON MAIN LINE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

Largest Burial Parks IN THE State.

Transportation Facilities superior to those of any other cemetery, as to number of trains, railroad fare, time and distance.

These New Cemeteries, now being developed on the modern park plan, are attracting universal attention.

By Reason of Location Alone they are destined, in a very short time, to become the best-known Cemeteries in the country and, with their natural advantages, the most beautiful and desirable in which to purchase lots.

They are Accessible from every quarter and within easy reach of over 4,000,000 people, and, considering the steady and rapidly increasing growth of Greater New York and its tributary cities and towns, it is only the question of a short time before plots in Rosedale and Linden Park will equal in value those of our most noted cemeteries.

Popular Favor has already been shown to a marked degree in the sale of lots, several hundred having been sold to residents in Elizabeth, Linden, Rahway, Cranford, Jersey City, Orange, Paterson, Westfield, Newark and New York City, and a large number of interments have been made.

In the Days of Happiness we do not know what is to befall us or when the inevitable will occur; therefore, it is a wiser precaution to make provision for a final resting place during health and life than to force the painful duty on one's friends or relatives after death. A place of burial will be needed sooner or later by every one, and no one should neglect selecting a suitable and proper place until future postponement is impossible.

Linden Lodge is the largest, most modern and best equipped Cemetery Lodge in the country, and is provided with every requisite for the comfort and convenience of visitors who come to inspect the properties.

THE NEW STYLES.

Walking and Traveling Costumes. Some Long Coats.

The walking and the traveling costume clears the ground by an inch. It is considered very bad form to wear a trailing skirt on any but a dressy occasion.

For summer nothing can be more useful than a suit of navy blue cheviot made with a plaited skirt held into a yoke around the hips, the jacket a blouse with slightly puffed sleeves and a cape effect.

Long coats will not be worn so much except for motoring and traveling. The three-quarter length is considered smarter and more dressy.

Coats of silk are made unlined, and the weaves include peau de soie, peau de cygne, both plain and dotted, as well as grosgrain, louisine and soft makes of taffeta.

Moire is not in vogue, as it was last year.

A ball gown seen recently was of crepe de chine with the bodice laid in crosswise folds and the skirt treated in the same fashion. The sleeves were merely short ruffles, and the decolletage was encircled with a bertha of lace, while a panel of the same ran down the front of the skirt by way of completing a pointed hip yoke, also of the lace.

The popularity of red seems to increase. Red serge, red foulard and voile, spotted for preference, red hopsack and red linen cleverly intermingled with white or ecru abound on every side.

The cut shows a very smart chiffon ruffle with an inner band of black velvet and an edging of the same.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

FOR SUMMER WEAR.

Red Muslin Useful and Chic—Practical Blue Serge Frocks.

There is a fancy for red, especially in muslin. This color stands a good deal of wear without looking soiled. It is always difficult to lay down hard and fast rules in the matter of colors. In the early part of the season people declared it would be a black and white one. It is always so more or less, because there is something very chic about black and white mixtures, but the choice of colors will be unlimited. The majority of women remain faithful of somber hues in cloth and revel in bright shades where muslins, linens and such fabrics are concerned.

A dark blue serge frock made recently for morning wear had a skirt which cleared the ground all the way around and was arranged in small kilts. The little coat was tight at the back, finished with a wide band of blue taffeta. The front fell loosely over a plain waistcoat, with a chemisette of muslin, completed by a very wide butterfly bow. The three cornered hat of blue straw was trimmed with a curiously striped blue taffeta ribbon.

The plain skirt has certainly fallen from popular favor. The very smart models seem to show tuckings and plaitings. These plaited skirts are confined around the hips by means of a yoke or rows of stitches, and they are allowed to flare from the knees outward. The newest fashion is to have the held in effect, made shorter in the back than it is in the front.

The skirts in the illustration are both chic and pretty.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

By WALKER KENNEDY.

Copyright, 1903, by A. N. Kellogg Newspaper Co.

"Yes; I have been discharged from the police force on account of my activity in the case."

"How do you know that?" said Mr. Everett. "Do you mean to say that the chief of police has lent himself to a plot to prevent the truth from coming out?"

"Not at all. The chief is my friend, and he did not want to see me go. I have been on the force 15 years and have never had a complaint lodged against me. The chief has no more power to retain me than I have myself."

"Perhaps it was politics?"

"Couldn't haven't been. I happened to have been one of the most active supporters of the present mayor."

"What causes you to think that your activity in the Wright case brought about your dismissal?"

"I first asked the chief on what grounds I was retired. He replied very warmly that he had received a peremptory note from the mayor to discharge me from the service. I looked up the mayor and put the same question to him. He replied that no fault was found with me whatever, and he could give me no reason at all. Now, while the mayor controls the chief, he is in turn controlled by the boss."

"The boss?"

"Pat Kernigan, you know; the man who can vote the slums as he pleases, who knows every wharf rat, every den keeper and every criminal that haunts the Rest and other places of the same order, and who can make and unmake mayors. This man virtually appoints the police. He is shrewd enough not to abuse his power. He knows that there must be good men on the force, but he draws the line at any interference with his followers. Last night Billy McGee resumed his place behind the bar at Peter's Rest, and the place is now in full blast again. This morning I saw McGee in close consultation near the mayor's office. At noon came my dismissal."

"That is only a case of circumstantial evidence," said Everett, "but I believe I am getting infected with the theories of you two. If there is anything in it, however, some other influence than Billy McGee's must have persuaded Kernigan to this step, and it must have been a pecuniary or very peremptory influence. McGee would have stopped when he secured permission to reopen his dive. There is something beyond."

"There always is in this beastly case," said Warde.

"If this organization can, in addition to its power to commit crime, discharge at will members of the police force, why nobody—nothing—is safe from it. I can hardly imagine any cohesive power that can bind together such diverse elements."

"A great prize must be at stake, for which some one is willing to spend vast sums of money, and to take very ticklish risks."

"I see that it will be necessary to have some detective work done in this case, and if you are willing to continue in the line you have begun, I will pay you enough to keep you going, and if the result of the Wright estate settlement is favorable you shall have a handsome fee beside."

"That will suit me," said Fenton, "for to tell you the truth, I have become interested in this case, and there are a few points which have suggested themselves to me, and I would like to work them out."

"You had better do your work as quietly as possible, and when you have anything to communicate come to my home after dark. If the theory we are working is correct, your life will be in danger the first time it is known that you are pursuing the case. And you, too, Irving, must be careful. I think you had better let it be understood that you have had enough of it, and that your interest in the affair has cooled. If it is agreeable to you both, suppose you meet me at my house to-morrow night at eight o'clock. I shall see Wright in the morning, get his theory of the murder, and then, perhaps, we can make some use of the disjointed facts in our possession."

The next evening Warde sought the residence of Mr. Everett, on Union street, some distance out. He took care to muffle himself up considerably, and as it was a very dark night and no lamps lighted, because the almanac called for a moonlight night, he felt safe from identification. He was ushered into the lawyer's library, which was very cheerful and inviting. All the walls were lined with books. A few ornaments graced the mantlepiece, and from the generous grate came the warmth that filled the entire room.

Hardly had Warde taken off his overcoat and ensconsed himself in a chair, when the bell rang and Fenton was announced. He came in disguise, wearing a heavy beard, which at night would easily prevent anyone from recognizing him.

Mr. Everett was by nature a hospitable man, so he made his guests welcome, and before they proceeded to business he told a few remarkably good anecdotes, interlining them with a choice punch of his own making, the recipe for which was a native of Virginia and had been in the family for more than 100 years. The lawyer was in exceptionally bright spirits, and his whole manner indicated that he had something to tell which would surprise them. In a dignified, lawyer-like way he seemed to relish the fact that he had a sensation to communicate.

"I have seen Herbert Wright today," he said, "and he has put me in possession of his defense. It is of such a character that I must pledge you both to secrecy, but I must also put you in possession of it, because you can both help me. If we should publish it in the papers of Nilus tomorrow I have no doubt that nearly everybody in the city would dismiss it as the invention of a very clumsy liar. You also may declare it to be utterly incredible, but the events with which you are familiar and which have been withheld from the public are corroborative of Wright's story. But there are many links missing, and only the most painstaking labor will enable us to complete the chain. The mystery that surrounds the death of John T. Wright also pervades his entire business career. The man who in the public estimation was a millionaire, died apparently almost a pauper. I am satisfied that somewhere the two mysteries blend together and that the same key will serve to unlock both. John T. Wright had a large estate and he made large sums of money in his business. Where did it all go? The only answer to this question is that it went 20 years ago to buy him off from the gallows. Have another sip of punch?"

The invitation was accepted, they seated themselves about the table, and the lawyer told his story to two silent, breathless auditors.

* * * * * *

"It's a wonderful story, but can it ever be established?" said Irving, helplessly.

Fenton was deeply interested; he was even excited. Here was something worthy of his mettle.

"I think I can do something in this case," he said, quietly, but with something in his tone that indicated a subdued enthusiasm.

The gleam in his eye and the compression of his lips were significant. Fenton had a score to pay off, and it was not in human nature that he should not be glad at having the opportunity to "get even." He was convinced that he was the victim of too much interest in the Wright case, and he felt his resolution nerved anew in the desire to clear up the affair. In this way he would have a royal revenge.

"I am convinced of one thing thoroughly," said Mr. Everett as they were about to break up, "and it is this: Herbert Wright's story furnishes the ground work from which we must work to clear up the mystery, and it is useless to follow any other theory; or else there is no mystery, and he is his father's murderer. So I would advise you both to keep his story clearly in mind whatever you do."

Irving now took his departure. Fenton remained a few minutes longer to discuss some of the details of his work, and then he, too, left, taking a direction different from that taken by Warde. The three men were now thoroughly alive to the importance of working quietly and free from observation.

There will be a rapid transit motion from the towns of Milburn and Springfield towards Westfield tomorrow when their consolidated team goes against the "big show." They are coming in run-a-bouts, in benzine buggies and on bicycles, an army of rural rooters. Jimmy Montross will pitch for Westfield and the same infield that did the clock work last week will be behind him.

Workmen are engaged today in erecting a grandstand on the Reform Club grounds in the rear of the Pond Tool Works on South Second street in preparation for the game tomorrow with the Orange Field Club. The field is in good shape and it is probable that a large number will avail themselves of an opportunity of seeing a good game. The field may be reached by taking an West Front street car. The work of erecting the stand is being done by Ambrose Smalley.

It has been decided that there will be a game of baseball tomorrow afternoon between Alis and Hope on Hope Common, when the Alis team hopes to redeem its record of last Saturday. THEATRICAL.

There will be four good shows in New York next week, one at each of the Proctor houses. Proctor's Fifth Avenue will be the scene of a brilliant revival of William Young's splendid comedy drama, "The Rajah." Proctor's Twenty-third Street will have a good all round show, headed by a real vaudeville novelty entitled "Princess Florah." Edward Lang, Teddy Simmonds, Fred Rose and Charles Whyte will present this novelty, which consists of a comic opera travesty in which each man impersonates many widely varying characters. Up in Harlem at Proctor's 125th Street Theatre, an elaborate production will be made of "On the Wabash," a splendid rural comedy drama by Joseph Arthur. Proctor's pretty playhouse in Newark will have an excellent vaudeville show, headed by Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hughes, in "A Matrimonial Substitute." An extra feature will be La Belle Troja, in a production of Van Tassel Sutphen's quaint Japanese playlet "Cherry Blossoms." Others on the bill will be Katharine Minihan, "The Jersey Nightingale," who will make her vaudeville debut under the management of Mr. Proctor. Al Rano's acrobatic dogs; Henderson and Ross in "Fun at Griggs Corner;" Frank O'Brien, monologuist and numerous other novel specialties will complete the bill.

Ceiling Fell Down.

Mrs. E. T. Murphy, of 316 Spooner avenue, had a narrow escape this morning from being seriously injured, if not killed, by a ceiling which collapsed in an upstairs bed room. Mrs. Murphy had just left the room to go down stairs when a deafening roar in the room she had just left prompted her to look around and she saw the entire room filled with dust. Her escape was a narrow one.

School Session.

During the remainder of the school term of the North Plainfield High School the pupils will assemble at the school at 8:30 o'clock in the morning and will remain until 12:30 o'clock in the afternoon. There will be a short recess at 10:30 o'clock. This has been deemed advisable on account of the heated condition of the class rooms during the hot days.

The Lost Found.

George Eggert, employed by the United States Express Company, lost a pocketbook containing $18 yesterday, and advertised his loss in The Daily Press. Gabriel Hostiche, an employe of the Perrin-Freres glove factory, found the money, saw the ad in The Press and received his reward this morning. The moral is obvious.

Moving Circus.

The firm of William Hand & Son, of East Second street, has the contract for moving the tents and property of the circus which is to be held here tonight and tomorrow night by the I. C. T. Not a Class Affair.

On authority of Henry Clay Brose it has been stated that the class of '04 of the North Plainfield High School is to hold a fair on the school grounds. At a meeting of the class held last night Homer J. Wightman was authorized to make the statement that that class has no connection with the projected fair.

The X-Rays.

Recent experiments, by practical tests and examination with the aid of the X-Rays, establish it as a fact that Catarrh of the Stomach is not a disease of itself, but that it results from repeated attacks of indigestion. UNION COUNTY HAS MADE GREAT RECORD

Its Prosperity Summed Up in Editorial Columns of the Elizabeth Journal.

PRAISE FOR DIRECTOR

GREATEST OF ITS IMPROVEMENTS IS ITS MACADAM ROADS.

Praise for Director J. Frank Hubbard and Collector Wood, Who Have Done Their Work Well—Full Text of Editorial.

During the recent agitation for the annexation of the borough of Plainfield to Union county, a great deal was said about this county which was far from the truth. The enemies of the plan, many of them, tried to paint Union county as a horrible place. On the occasion of the annual meeting of the Union County Board of Freeholders, the Elizabeth Journal summarized the situation in the county and pointed out what a record the county had made. This editorial from the Journal is copied in full as it is well worth reading, particularly to every citizen of Plainfield and North Plainfield.

The Journal says:

"The Board of Chosen Freeholders has done well in re-electing J. Frank Hubbard as its director and Edward M. Wood as the county collector. Mr. Hubbard has been director for sixteen years and a member of the board for more than twice that number of years. As director he has had great responsibilities and he has shown high executive ability. The weight of years is upon him, but tireless energy has been marked in his faithful attention to public service. Even during the past few months when illness has prevented him from doing outdoor service he has been the counsellor of his colleagues and the duties of his office have been performed in accordance with his wise judgment. Physically feeble, but with his mind vigorous, his interest in the duties of office continued, and from his sick room came advice and direction of great value. It was a great satisfaction to his colleagues to greet him at the board meeting yesterday and there was sincerity in the wishes expressed for continual improvement in his health and strength.

"County Collector Wood was re-elected for the eighth time. The term is for three years. He has served as county collector for thirteen years, which were successive, with the exception of two years when the office was held by William M. Oliver. The re-election of Mr. Wood was an expression of confidence and a reward due one who has served the public with such signal ability. To his fidelity and conscientious work the county owes much of its splendid financial standing.

"The duties of the office of county collector have grown more and more onerous, and it was just to increase the annual salary as the board did when it honored Mr. Wood by re-electing him.

"The financial standing of Union county, and the achievement under the present management reflect great credit on Director Hubbard, Mr. Wood and their associates—the Board of Freeholders. Since Mr. Wood was first elected collector the county has made great progress. In 1888, fifteen years ago, the total receipts were $393,000. The total for the year was over $751,000. During this period the war bonds outstanding have been reduced from $260,000 to $26,000, and the freshet bonds to the amount of $26,000 have been paid off. The county in 15 years has paid off bonds to the amount of $260,000. There was raised by taxes in 1888 on an assessed valuation of $27,000,000, the sum of $230,000. In 1903 the total taxable valuation was $45,000,000, and the amount raised by taxation $290,000. This shows that all has been achieved and at the same time with the tax rate decreasing each year.

"There have been in this period great improvements, conspicuously the construction of the fifty-three miles or more of the finest county roads in the country. This great improvement cost $400,000, of which amount $50,000 was paid by taxation. The Freeholders have handled all these immense sums of money and not a dollar has been misapplied. The administration has been economical, and yet with sufficient spirit of liberality to keep the county affairs up with the times. The county is now building a court house, to cost half a million dollars, and the record of the past are to manage this great enterprise. It would be folly at this time to make changes in the county administration."

PARKS PLAN.

Elect Captains for Various Athletic Teams.

At a meeting of the Park Athletic Club, held Wednesday, the plans for the football year were discussed. Howard Tracy was chosen captain of the team and Russell Pond will be the manager of the football squad. The hockey team will be captained by George Ovens, and next year's baseball team will be managed by the same manager who has charge of the training of the team this year, Russell Pond. At the meeting it was reported that the sweaters, ordered from E. B. Rider, had arrived.

A PRETTY PORCH PARTY

GIVEN BY CHEERFUL WORKERS, LOCAL BAND OF KING'S DAUGHTERS.

At Residence of Mrs. Frederick G. Mead—Those in Charge of the Sale.

A porch party at the residence of Mrs. Frederick G. Mead, of East Front street, yesterday afternoon, was largely attended and successful from every standpoint. The party was managed by the band of King's Daughters known as the Cheerful Workers, and was for the benefit of the Babies' Camp on the mountain.

The porch was prettily decorated with plants and flowers, and these with the gay summer gowns made a scene bright with life and color. The entertainment cleared between $50 and $60 for the camp, more than equalling the amount pledged by the society to its support.

The officers of the club, Miss Margaret Mead, president; Miss Edith Brown, secretary, and Miss Maysie Day, treasurer, were assisted in the management of the affair by the Misses Florence Curtis, Margaret Leal, Abi Sykes, Dorothy Fleming and Jean Douglas. The young women dispensed cake, candy and lemonade from different tables, and ice cream was served afterwards. A fancy work table completed the list. The receipts were augmented by offerings at the door.

FAREWELL GATHERING.

Friends of Alex. Muir Assembled to Bid Him Good-Bye.

Miss Mary McCann, entertained a few friends, Thursday night, at her home on West Fourth street. Twenty people were present. The affair was entirely informal and was in the nature of a farewell to Alex. Muir, who is to take up new duties in Waterbury, Conn. An impromptu programme consisted of piano selections by Miss Helen Squiers, vocal numbers by Matthew Sweeney, and selections on the phonograph with Alex. Muir in charge. Dancing and refreshments followed, and the company broke up at about 1 o'clock.

Famous Blood Hounds.

Col. Sawyer's great pack of genuine Siberian bloodhounds are beyond question the finest lot of canines of that strain ever found in this country. They are somewhat larger than our Rocky Mountain lions and much more strongly made but, when aroused or on a trail, have all the fleetness and activity of those animals. These famous hounds are touring with Stetson's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" Company, this season, and will appear at Plainfield on Tuesday, May 26, when this great organization plays here. Watch for the big street parade.

"Elements of Success."

A. J. Cary, an able colored speaker from the Petersburg Normal and Industrial Institute, delivered a lecture Thursday evening in the Calvary Baptist church on the "Elements of Success." A large number of people heard him and enjoyed the talk. Many helpful suggestions were given by the speaker to the young men and women as a foundation for success. He was a strong and eloquent talker and his points were driven home with skill.

Entertainment Not Given.

The entertainment, which was to have been given by the members of the North Plainfield High School Thursday night for the benefit of the athletic association, was not held. It was indefinitely postponed on account of the fair which is to be held at the school grounds Wednesday of next week.

Retail Clerks to Meet.

The Retail Clerks' Mutual Aid Association will nominate officers for the next term Monday night, also business of great importance will be transacted. Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Horace G. Adams, of Johnston avenue, was brightened yesterday by the arrival of an eleven-pound boy.

BERRIES AND CREAM ENJOYED BY MANY

At Festival Held on Lawn of First Baptist Church Afternoon and Evening.

PRETTILY DECORATED

PANTOMIME WAS GIVEN AS AN EXTRA ATTRACTION.

Affair Given by Members of Young Ladies' Missionary Society of the Church—Those Who Were in Charge.

The Young Ladies' Missionary Society, of the First Baptist church, held a successful strawberry and ice cream festival on the lawn adjoining the church, yesterday afternoon and evening. The grounds were attractively decorated with Japanese and Chinese lanterns, while a number of tables were placed about at convenient points for the use of those wishing to patronize the affair. During the afternoon the attendance was quite large, but the evening brought out a host of people.

As an extra attraction a clever pantomime entitled "Courtship Under Difficulties," was given under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Wilson by the following: Misses Violet Van Winkle and Elizabeth Winn, Russell Vail and John Frank.

Miss Ada Fountain, as president of the society, had general supervision of the affair. Those in charge of the cake table were Miss Edith Cairns, Miss Scribner, Mrs. Frank W. Jones, while those at the candy table were Mrs. W. B. Vail, Miss Florence Serrell, Miss Mae Batchelor and Miss Carrie Coombs. At the lemonade well were Miss Elizabeth Wilson and Miss Helen Robbins. Those who served as waitresses were the Misses Pauline Denton, Hattie French, Ada Fountain, Carroll Bird, Minnie Serrell, Ella Serrell, Mabel Smith, Bessie TenEyck, Grace TenEyck and Flora Horton.

Those who had charge of the serving of the ice cream, cake and strawberries were Mrs. G. H. Robbins, Mrs. E. B. Denton, Mrs. Walter C. Dobbins and Mrs. R. W. Barnes. Long before the hour of closing the affair everything was disposed of, in fact, it was necessary to replenish with ice cream several times during the evening.

MILDLY INSANE.

Miss Belle Stevenson Examined by Physicians and Sent to State Hospital at Morris Plains.

Miss Belle Stevenson, of North avenue, was taken in charge this morning by the police, complaints having been made of her acting in a peculiar manner. She was examined yesterday by Dr. C. B. Lufburrow, the city physician, and Dr. George W. Endicott, and found mildly insane.

Miss Stevenson's neighbors have long regarded her as being somewhat unbalanced. She has been perfectly harmless, although acting queerly and constantly laboring under the misapprehension that men are pursuing her. She was taken to the State Hospital at Morris Plains this morning by the police.

Miss Stevenson has been living alone for about eight years since her mother died, and has been under the legal guardianship of Former Judge William R. Coddington.

Funeral of Pythian.

A large representation from Perseverance Lodge, No. 74, K. of P., attended the funeral services of Gustav Hess yesterday afternoon at 2:30 at the deceased's late home on Jackson avenue. Rev. L. R. Howard, of Hope chapel, was in charge. The bearers were Morgon Turton, Joseph Cooney, Theodore Bruchman, J. M. B. Pyatt, C. Heugler and George Morehouse. The floral offerings included a beautiful pillar contributed by the lodge. The burial was at Hillside, Thomas Muir reading the service at the grave.

Inspecting Site.

President J. F. Buckle, of the Common Council, and Manager C. W. Runyon, of the local telephone office, entertained Mr. Buckle's brother, of Camden, and Dr. Jones, of Philadelphia, yesterday. Dr. Jones, who is a throat specialist, in company with Mr. Buckle had been inspecting the site for the home for consumptives to be erected in Hunterdon county, and they visited Plainfield on a pleasure trip.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Henry, of Whitehouse, have been visiting relatives in Plainfield for a time.

AMATEURS IN CIRCUS ARENA

Grand and Glorious Was the Opening Performance of the I. C. T. Club Circus.

PROFESSIONALS THERE

Stunts by Local Young Men and Professional Talent Were Highly Entertaining and Very Clever—Mayor Smalley Made a Great Ringmaster.

Local young men in the saw dust arena as clowns, jockeys and star entertainers kept five hundred people amused last evening at the opening of the I. C. T. Club circus on St. Mary's baseball field, West Fourth street and Darrow avenue.

Barkers fresh from Coney Island announced from tall pedestals that it was the greatest aggregation of trapeze performers, tight-rope walkers, acrobats and clowns that ever came down the pike. And the performance bore out the truth of their words. From the time Mayor Newton B. Smalley, of the borough, clad in a pair of gorgeous, skin tight trousers, with dress coat and vest and tall silk hat, appeared, whip in hand, in the sawdust ring and announced that the big show would now commence, until the last act of the grand concert following, the audience realized that they were up against the real thing.

In the big exhibition parade, wherein the entire troupe of performers, professional and amateur, did stunts around the ring, there were many Plainfield youths hardly recognizable in their cleverly comical make-ups. They were a circus in themselves and kept the assemblage in "one continuous round of laughter." The feats performed by the professional talent inspired the audience with wonderment and admiration.

The side show was one of the main attractions, and before the big show commenced, large numbers accepted the invitations extended them by Thomas M. Muir and Matthew D. Sweeney, who were the leading lights as barkers for "the greatest and most gigantic exhibition on earth." Freaks of every shape and condition excited the enthusiasm of hundreds, who rejoiced in the aggregation of wonders represented in the fat man and the skeleton, the giant and the dwarf, and the stupendous curiosities as seen exemplified in the dog-faced boy and the bearded lady.

Mat Sweeney and Tom Muir were themselves well worth the price of admission. As barkers their flow of eloquence went the limit of professional skill, and they talked it up like old timers, with a vocabulary of astonishing size and richness. In the galaxy of human wonders constituting the side show, no one feature can be specially mentioned. All the freaks were the "original and only" as witness the following list: Living skeleton, Lewis Vroom; tiger, Wallie Arnold; Chinese giant, Howard Drake; bearded lady, Charles Hurdle; dog-faced boy, Teddy Howes; Albino lady, Jerry Griffen; leopard boy, William Hicky; fat man, C. H. Bilyeu; human bull frog, Grover Marsh. The fat man, Chinese giant and dog-faced boy were particular subjects of awe. The clowns, who performed in the big show itself, were Tom. Muir, Mat. Sweeney, William Harsell and Don. Bechtelle, and their antics kept the spectators in roars of merriment.

The local cast, of which all the members were able to inspire "the smile that won't come off," consisted of the following artists: Bare back rider, Mlle. Leonce Texier; lecturer, Matthew D. Sweeney; rubes, H. Blimm and George Cose; strong man, W. L. Holbert; Buffalo Bill, E. J. Texier; Happy Hooligan, J. Robinson; Alkali Mike, Charles Heartle; Foxy Grandpa, A. Springer; jockeys, J. Sweeney, Paul Overbaugh, A. Caleen, A. Marsh, William Firstbrook, M. Squier. The ushers were C. M. Dolliver and Allen E. Beals. Holbert's toying with the weights, as Signor Dublin Stout, and his wonderful shape brought down the house.

The professional side of the performance was unusually good. The horseback riding of Victor Bedini, Mlle. Flora and Mlle. Onang is not surpassed even in Barnum & Bailey's "greater show on earth." George Barnard has a jaw that would do credit to a populist orator or an outraged mother-in-law, and he used it

NO MORE SPECULATING IN FEATHERED STOCK

On the Promise to Offend No More, Sentence is Suspended on Hayes and Morecraft.

IN SOMERVILLE COURT

ERNER MURDER TRIAL WILL BEGIN AT SOMERVILLE MONDAY MORNING.

Several Other Cases to Come Before Judge Schenck in the Somerset County Courts Next Week.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, May 23—In the Somerset county criminal courts here yesterday, before Judge Schenck, Harry Hayes and John Morecraft, of North Plainfield, indicted by the Grand Jury for unlawful speculation in chickens, were arraigned for sentence. Both young men had previously pleaded non vult.

Eloquent pleas for clemency were made by Samuel S. Swackhamer, of Plainfield, counsel for Hayes, and James J. Meehan, of this place, who represented the other. Owing to the fact that the prisoners had saved the county the expense of a trial the court suspended sentence, providing they abstain from further deals of the kind.

Considerable business was done in the Orphans' Court, but little of it was of an interesting nature to outsiders. The hearing on the citation for the administrator, Howard M. VanCleef, to account in the Richard H. VanCleef estate was continued until June 26. The one next of kin to the late Mr. VanCleef is Cornelius T. E. Cox.

An application for an order for money to maintain the wards in the estate of Mary F. Toombs was laid over until June 5. The applicant is Augustus C. Hodge and he is represented by Nelson Y. Dungan, of this place.

The trial of Joseph Erner, indicted for the murder of John Drift at Bound Brook on Christmas morning, will be taken up Monday morning at 10:15 o'clock, by Justice Garretson. Dungan & Reger will defend the prisoner.

BOTH SIDES RELIEVED.

Feelings Were Expressed, 'Tis Said, in Ways Contrary to Law.

Unhappy relations seem to prevail between the Eskerson and McWiggin families of South Second street. Alexander, the head of the McWiggin faction, charged Edward Eskerson with having relieved his feelings by blows upon the persons of himself and wife, and of having cast aspersions upon their joint character in strong and unseemly language.

Eskerson, before City Judge Runyon, this morning, replied with counter charges, the fact becoming apparent that both families were considerably at fault. "Tanglefoot" entered largely into their troubles as a matter of course. His Honor discharged Eskerson, finding him no more to blame than his opponent.

James Clausen, arrested by Patrolman Higgins for being drunk and disorderly, was released on promise on good conduct.

TO ACCEPT NON-RESIDENTS.

Alis Club Will Allow Them to Play on Its Ball Team.

The Alis Club last evening, at an important meeting, discussed the advisability of allowing out-of-town players to become members of its ball nine. In consequence of injuries to several members of the nine, and from the fact that others are unable to devote sufficient time to practice, it was decided to accept membership applications from non-resident players.

It is understood that the management of the Alis Club have secured the services of four crack-a-jack players from different parts of the State. From now on, teams of strong standing only will be met, beginning with Westfield, on the morning of Memorial Day, and the Brooklyn Field Club at the oval in the afternoon.

Captured Ground Hog.

Herman Klinsman, the baker of Harrison avenue, caught a ground hog on the mountains yesterday, and his capture is now on exhibition at Henry Windham's Hotel Waldorf. The animal was brought low by a blow on the head, and made a sharp fight for its liberty after it regained consciousness.

—For tomorrow's dinner order your cream at Tier's.

FINGER IN WRINGER.

Little Dorothy Keller Nearly Lost a Finger by Accident.

Dorothy, the two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Keller, of Harrison avenue, had the end of her finger badly crushed Wednesday afternoon while romping about the yard. In some way she got her finger between the cogwheels of a clothes wringer while it was being operated by another person. The child's finger was lacerated terribly and Dr. Pittis was called upon to dress the wound. He assured the child's parents that it would not be necessary to amputate the member.

VALUABLE HORSE INJURED

CAUGHT ITS FOOT IN SIDE OF CAR DURING SHIPMENT.

Blooded Equine, Shipped to a Local Dealer, Badly Hurt in the Car.

A carload of horses arrived in this city Wednesday afternoon consigned from the west to Stonewall Jackson, of the borough. There were twenty horses in the car, which was a large one but somehow the horses got loose on the way up.

When the car arrived one horse was found to have been crowded into one corner and in some manner managed to kick a small portion of the side of the car out and one of its feet and a leg was protruding from the side of the car about two feet. How long the horse was a prisoner in that manner will not be known but when the animal was released it was found that the flesh on that leg had been torn off in some places almost to the bone. Dr. Herbert, the veterinary surgeon, was called in and bandaged the injured limb. Mr. Jackson says that the horse will recover although it will be permanently injured.

The animal was a blooded horse and was brought here for a local horse fancier who saw the animal in a horse show in Philadelphia and had it sent here on trial, Mr. Jackson having had the animal consigned to him by its owners in Philadelphia.

JUSTICE NASH'S COURT.

Summons Issued and Several Cases Came Up for Hearing.

In Justice Nash's court, papers are returnable May 29 in the contract case of Fleming against Hartman. The case in contract of Fleming against Smith has the same date for the return of papers. The landlord and tenant case of Staats against Warnock will be considered May 27. Two cases were considered by Justice Nash yesterday, and both were adjourned. One case was that of Yates against Staats on contract, and the other, that of the Plainfield Real Estate Company against Foster, was adjourned to May 29.

Sailing Party.

A pleasant sailing party was given yesterday by Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Guilford, of Washington Park, a trip being made in and about the vicinity of New York. Those in the party were Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Guilford, Miss Anna Murphy, Miss Cornelia Hyatt, Miss Baldwin, of Plainfield; Miss Perkins, of Brooklyn; Laurens H. VanBuren, Elston M. French and Hugh Pierce.

New Plans for the Summer.

Many people are now arranging for their summer outing, and one of the important matters to be considered is the disposal of silverware and other valuable articles. The City National Bank will receive for storage, trunks, boxes or packages of any description. The vaults in this bank are large and well protected.

Picnic at Wetumpka.

The Girls' Sewing Circle, of the borough, are enjoying a picnic at Wetumpka Falls, today. There are about twenty in the party, the members of the Park A. C. having been invited.

May Walk.

The members of the Independent Shooting Club, who will enjoy the May walk, tomorrow, will assemble at the corner of Somerset street and Greenbrook road at 5:30 o'clock in the morning.

May Ride.

The Crescent Social Club, of Elizabeth, of which Charles F. McCann, of West Fourth street, is the only Plainfield member, will hold a May ride, tomorrow.

Initiated Six.

At the meeting of Benevolent Council, No. 256, Jr. O. U. A. M., last evening, six candidates were initiated and three propositions were received.

Afternoon Service Discontinued.

The Sunday afternoon service in the Church of the Heavenly Rest has been discontinued until the fall.

LOCAL BAKER'S CART MEETS ICE WAGON

Boy in Baker's Wagon Jumps in Time to Save Himself From Serious Injury.

THE HORSE RUNS AWAY

BRISK DASH ON SOMERSET STREET EARLY THIS MORNING.

Many Vehicles on That Thoroughfare—Horse Pulls Bridle Off Its Head and Becomes Frightened—Only Small Boy in Wagon.

David Allen, Jr., son of David Allen, of Harrison avenue, had a narrow escape this morning from being killed in a runaway on Somerset street when a horse belonging to Herman Klinsman, the baker, bolted in front of Graceley's Manhattan Hotel and dashed at a made gallop down that thoroughfare to Lincoln place where a collision occurred between the baker's wagon and an ice cart.

The accident happened at about 8:30 when the street was filled with fashionable equipages. The horse was left hitched to the post in front of the hotel by the driver, a son of Herman Klinsman. The horse in some manner got the bridle off and becoming frightened at the sight of the wagon behind it started on a run. The boy in the wagon tried to check the horse but was not able to control it. When the collision with the ice wagon seemed unavoidable, the lad jumped from the vehicle and although he was rolled over and over on the street he escaped serious injury.

Pies, cake and bread were strewn about the street for blocks and the people along that street gathered them up in trays and took them in their stores and houses to keep for the baker.

The baker's wagon was demolished but the ice wagon was not injured. The horse continued his mad run down Somerset street and was finally caught at the corner of East Front street and Watchung avenue.

"CIVIC LIBERTY."

After Hearing Assemblyman Swackhamer Talk on That Subject, the Men's Assembly Elected Officers.

The last meeting of the Men's Assembly of Grace M. E. church for this season was held last evening when a talk was given by Assemblyman S. S. Swackhamer on "Civic Liberty." The talk was an interesting one and was followed by an informal discussion in which the pastor, Rev. Dr. E. L. Eard, John Valiant and William J. Conroy took part. An election of officers followed. They are: President, Charles M. Warren; vice president, C. W. Harden; secretary and treasurer, Raymond Stevens. The executive committee appointed comprises: Charles Huyl and Dyckman Winkler. Refreshments and a social time followed the meeting and special music was rendered.

WED AT BRUNSWICK.

One of New Market's Well-Known Citizens is Married.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

New Brunswick, May 23—A very quiet wedding was celebrated here on Wednesday evening, when Miss Katherina Seyfried, of Buffalo, and George J. Leibel, Jr., the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. George Leibel, of New Market, were married. The bride was attended by Mrs. Richard D. Scott, a sister of the groom, and August Leibel, a brother of the groom, acted as best man. After the ceremony a wedding supper was served at the home of the groom's father in New Market. Dancing was the feature of the evening.

THEATRICAL.

Grace George's performance of "Pretty Peggy" has provided the chief sensation of the dramatic season in New York. Miss George's success is such that when the Herald Square Theatre, at which she is appearing, passes into other hands in May the run will be continued elsewhere on Broadway. Grace George will confine her next season's tour in "Pretty Peggy" to Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington and Pittsburg. Return engagements will be played in Chicago and New York, where the actress is now appearing at the Herald Square Theatre.

"The Earl of Pawtucket" at the Manhattan Theatre, New York, is nearing the fifth month of its run with attendance just as heavy and the indications for its continuance just as strong as during the early weeks of its career. This comedy has been the talk of the town from its beginning. Theatre parties comprising the very best class of people and ranging anywhere in numbers from ten to one hundred have grown to be the custom at the Manhattan. The merits of the comedy require no better indorsement than the fact that some of the most noble statesmen, literateurs and artists as well as the throng of fashion have seen it and continue among its audiences.

After its preliminary sprint of two weeks, "The Runaway" at the cool, pretty and popular Casino, has set a pace which will be hard for all succeeding musical plays to follow. The two weeks have been just enough to show the enterprising management where the elaborate production would be still further improved and enlivened and this has been done to such an extent that the show is going livelier and more tunefully than ever. Arthur Dunn, Alexander Clark, Van Rennsselaer Wheeler, William Gould, Al. Fields, William Wolf, Miss Dorothy Dorr, Miss Amelia Stone, Miss Helen Lord, Miss May Hengler, Miss Flora Hengler, Miss Suzanne Halpren, Miss Mabel Carrier, Miss Florence Worden, Miss Miriam Falconer, Miss Margaret Rohe and the others in the big company of 160 are doing their share to deserve the vast amount of praise being accorded to them from all sides for clever and conscientious work.

The Herald Square Theatre Monday evening, and undoubtedly for many weeks to follow, will be the mecca for all lovers of stage fun who live in New York, or who visit that city. Klaw & Erlanger will then present for the first time in New York the new American farce by George V. Hobart and Edward E. Rose, founded on the former's comic stories of "John Henry," in which Dan Daly plays the title role, supported by a large company of the most talented artists in farcical comedy on the American stage. The story of "John Henry" is told in three acts with scenes representing the rotunda of one of the most fashionable hotels in New York, Dove's Nest Villa at Ruraldene, a suburb of New York, and the railroad station at that place. It is unusually well developed in its humorous interest, the situations are very effective from the comic standpoint, the dialogue is bright and fairly teams with piquant originality of expression, especially in the lines of "John Henry," and it is told with a snap that makes it very entertaining.

Decoration Day Jaunts.

Memorial Day seems to be the ideal day for launching the excursion season, and with the fine weather which usually prevails one is only too glad for the opportunity for a day's enjoyment. Perhaps no one resort is more eagerly chosen than Mauch Chunk, than which there is no more charming resort in this section. To reach Mauch Chunk there is a delightful railroad journey through the hills of New Jersey and the mountains of Pennsylvania, and when Mauch Chunk is reached there is a burst of glorious scenic beauty. Then the switch-back railroad trip of 14 miles over a gravity road o'er mountain and through dale is a treat once experienced never forgotten, and another side trip into the mountain depths of Glen Onoko where are cascades, caverns and like attractions. On Decoration Day the New Jersey Central is going to run an excursion to Mauch Chunk, the round trip to cost $1.50, children 75 cents, and a fast special express train will leave Plainfield at 9:22 a. m., and arriving at Mauch Chunk about noon; and as the return trip does not leave the mountain city until 5:49, there will be ample time for a good time. GORKI ON MASSACRE

Russian Writer Condemns Cultivated Society.

A CROWD OF COWARDLY SLAVES.

Russia Has Been Disgraced by Atrocious Acts Which Have Awakened Horror and Indignation Throughout the World.

BERLIN, May 23.—Maxim Gorki, the Russian novelist, recently wrote an article on the Kishineff massacres for a Nijni Novgorod newspaper, but the censor refused to allow its publication. Gorki then sent the article to the St. Petersburg correspondent of the Frankfurt Kleine Presse, which prints it as follows:

"Russia has been disgraced more and more frequently of recent years by dark deeds, but the most disgraceful of all is the horrible Jewish massacre at Kishineff, which has awakened horror, shame and indignation. People who regard themselves as Christians, who claim to believe in God's mercy and sympathy, these people on the day consecrated to the resurrection of their God from the dead occupy the time in murdering children and aged people, ravishing the women and martyring the men of the race which gave them Christ.

"Who bears the blame of this base crime which will remain on us like a bloody blot for ages? We shall be unable to wash this blot from the sad history of our dark country. It would be unjust and too simple to condemn the mob. The latter was merely the hand which was guided by a corrupt conscience, driving it to murder and robbery, for it is well known that the mob at Kishineff was led by men of cultivated society. But cultivated society in Russia is really much worse than the people, who are goaded by their sad life and blinded and enthralled by the artificial darkness created around them. The cultivated classes are a crowd of cowardly slaves, without feeling of personal dignity, ready to accept every lie to save their ease and comfort, a weak and lawless element without conscience and without shame in spite of its elegant exterior.

"Cultivated society is not less guilty of the disgraceful and horrible deeds committed at Kishineff than the actual murderers and ravishers. Its members' guilt consists in that not merely they did not protect the victims, but that they rejoiced over the murders; it consists chiefly in committing themselves for long years to be corrupted by man haters and persons who have long enjoyed the disgusting glory of being the lackeys of power and the glorifiers of lies like the editor of the Bessarayetz of Kishineff and other publicists. These are the real authors of the disgraceful and awful crime of Kishineff.

"To all the shameful names hitherto given to these repulsive men must be added another and the well deserved one of 'instigators of village murder.' These hypocrites with the name of God on their lips who preach in Russian society hatred of the Jews, Armenians and Finns today heap base and cowardly calumnies upon the corpses of those killed through their influence, and they shamelessly continue their hateful work of poisoning the mind and feeling of the weak willed Russian society.

"Shame upon their wicked heads! May the fire of conscience consume their decayed hearts, covetous only of lackeylike honors and slavishly obsequious to power!

"It is now the duty of Russian society that is not yet wholly ruined by these bandits to prove that it is not identified with these instigators of pillage and murder. Russian society must clear its conscience of part of the shame and disgrace by helping the orphaned and desolated Jews and assisting these members of the race which has given to the world many really great men and which still continues to produce teachers of truth and beauty in spite of its oppressed condition in the world.

"Come, therefore, all who do not want themselves to be regarded as the lackeys of the lackeys and who still retain their self respect—come and help the Jews."

The Goebel Murder.

FRANKFORT, Ky., May 23.—The court of appeals sustained the motion made by Commonwealth Attorney Franklin that Circuit Judge Cantrill vacate the bench in the trial of the case of the Commonwealth against Caleb Powers, charged with being an accessory to the murder of William Goebel. Governor Beckham is expected to appoint a special trial judge.

Strikes Only as a Last Resort.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 23.—At a session of the switchmen's union it was decided to reduce the number of vice grand masters and to divide the country into three districts. One of the most warmly applauded resolutions adopted condemned sympathetic strikes and embodied the expressions that the organization believes in strikes only as a last resort.

Hoppers and Snow in Montana.

BOZEMAN, Mont., May 23.—One section of Montana is eaten up by grasshoppers, while another is under three feet of snow. From the first district, forty miles square, east of Forsyth, cattle have had to be removed, as there is nothing left for them to feed on.

LONDON, May 23.—A dispatch from Tokyo states that Korea insists on the Russians recrossing the Yalu river. The request is couched in vigorous language.

IN EVERGREEN STATE

President Enters Washington at Kalama.

CHEHALIS AND OLYMPIA'S WELCOME

His Excellency Praises the Output of Lumber and Mines, but Most of All Washington's Crop of Children.

KALAMA, Wash., May 23.—President Roosevelt entered the state of Washington at Kalama. He was met here by Governor McBride, who welcomed him to the state. The president responded in a brief address. The engine that pushed the president's car on the ferryboat Tacoma, on which it crossed the Columbia river from Oregon, had a live bear cub attached to a pole on the tender. The president was greatly interested in the little fellow and, boarding the engine, patted his head. The bear failed to appreciate the honor paid him, however, and while the train was being shunted on the ferry signified his disapproval by growling.

President Roosevelt's special arrived at Chehalis promptly on schedule time. Ten thousand people had assembled, and as the train pulled into the station the president was greeted with cheers. Mayor Donahue met the president and escorted him to the McKinley stump, a mammoth fir stump, which had been beautifully adorned and which stands near the station. The president was greeted by members of the local committee, including Mr. and Mrs. William Hazzard, parents of one of the lieutenants who were with General Funston at the capture of Aguinaldo. The president spoke to the crowd for fifteen minutes. He said in part:

"It is no wonder the people of Washington have shown themselves true to the practices and principles of the men who fought in the great war. I have just been introduced to two of your fellow citizens, the father and mother of one of the gallant young fellows who in the Philippines captured Aguinaldo. With men such as you and with two of your citizens, the father and mother of a boy like that, of course you are expansionists. If you were not I would want to know what was the matter with you.

"I congratulate Washington on its agriculture, its lumber, its mines, upon all that it produces, but most of all upon its crop of children."

President Roosevelt had his first glimpse of Puget sound at Olympia, the capital of Washington. Although stops had been made in Washington, it was in that city that official welcome to the state was accorded the president.

The governor's staff, ex-governors of the state, state officers and reception committees appointed by the legislature, in addition to 5,000 people from out of the city, were gathered to greet the president. From the station to the capitol building a long line of troops of the national guard were deployed, and the president and party were driven to the office of Governor McBride. Governor McBride and Mayor Lord occupied seats in the president's carriage, which had been decorated with the state flower—the rhododendron—and evergreens. At the office of Governor McBride a brief informal reception was held. From the main entrance of the capitol building a platform had been constructed, and from it the president addressed briefly the people gathered in Capital park. At the close of the president's address the party was driven for ten minutes through the residence portion of the city to the Masonic temple, which was built more than fifty years ago.

Rainfall Too Light to Benefit.

HOOSICK FALLS, N. Y., May 23.—The rain which has fallen in this vicinity has not been sufficient to make any material change in the drought situation. Local river observers report that the fall was only .02 of an inch. Many farmers have abandoned the idea of plowing because of the hard condition of the soil, and they think the season will be very late. All crops are suffering badly. Dairymen state that the daily supply of milk is growing smaller because of the lack of proper pasturage.

KODOL Digests What You Eat.

Weak Hearts

Are due to indigestion. Ninety-nine of every one hundred people who have heart trouble can remember when it was simple indigestion. It is a scientific fact that all cases of heart disease, not organic, are not only traceable to, but are the direct result of indigestion. All food taken into the stomach which fails of perfect digestion ferments and swells the stomach, puffing it up against the heart. This interferes with the action of the heart, and in the course of time that delicate but vital organ becomes diseased.

Kodol

Digests What You Eat

Mrs. Loring Nichols of Penn Yan, N. Y., writes: After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured.

Kodol cures indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach disorders, and gives the heart a full, free and untrammeled action.

Bottles only. $1.00 Size holding 2½ times the trial size, which sells for 50c.

Surmise Smashed Track Record.

NEW YORK, May 23.—Dovecote, with Gannon up, won the Gayety stakes at Morris park. Eight high class fillies faced the starter for this event, with Julia M. favorite and Dovecote second choice. Contentious showed the way to the dip, where Gannon sent Dovecote to the front and in a driving finish won by a length. Contentious lasted long enough to beat Tepee for the place. Surmise, carrying ninety-six pounds, smashed the track record for a mile and a sixteenth over the hill by covering the distance in 1:45½.

Linguist Won In Desperate Drive.

CHICAGO, May 23.—The card at Worth was marred by numerous scratches. The feature event was the handicap at a mile and seventy yards, in which Rankin and Flying Torpedo were the choices, with Linguist, an American Derby candidate, a close third. Linguist won the race in a desperate drive with Rankin, only a neck separating them at the wire.

Mrs. Grannan Won.

CINCINNATI, May 23.—The first steeple chase of the meeting was run at Latonia and resulted in the suspension of Jockey Mattier, who rode Mike Rice, one of the favorites. While apparently the boy did his best to win, Judge Price did not think the horse ran up to his California form and set down the jockey indefinitely. The race was won by Mrs. Grannan.

Lady Strathmore First.

ST. LOUIS, May 23.—Lady Strathmore, after a brief drive down the stretch, won the fourth race at a mile and a sixteenth, the feature of the card at the fair grounds. She trailed to the head of the stretch, then came on and challenged Maister and won going away. Deutschland, at 1 to 2, had his hands full beating Bas D'Or in the third.

CONSTITUTION IN IT

Great Trial Race Today on the Sound.

THREE DEFENDERS WILL COMPETE

Remarkable Showing of Reliance In Initial Contest Lends Great Zest to Speculation as to Results.

NEW YORK, May 23.—It is officially announced by the New York Yacht club that the Constitution will be a starter in today's race of the ninety footers on Long Island sound, the second contest of the present series.

As soon as the mechanics of the Morse Iron works completed their repairs the craft was towed up the sound to Glen Cove from Bay Ridge. The plates that were dented last Monday in an effort to haul the boat out at City Island have been straightened, and the sailors of the racer, with workmen from the Morse works, have been burnishing and otherwise preparing the under section of the craft for the trial race.

The remarkable showing of the Reliance in the initial contest, in which the new boat defeated the supposedly invincible Columbia, has lent zest to the speculation as to what she will do with the Constitution. The latter is a wonder in light airs, but the test of the newer boat demonstrated her ability to be quite as ghostlike as the Constitution under those conditions.

There was a general celebration at New Rochelle over the Reliance's splendid showing. There is so much enthusiasm among the townsfolk that the sailors are not allowed shore liberty. The air seems filled with a desire to treat the crew with the overflowing spirits that abound. Everybody seemed as much elated over the craft's victory as if she had defeated Shamrock III.

Buried Under Tons of Coal.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 23.—Four coal shovelers were buried under tons of coal yesterday afternoon by the collapse of a bulkhead in the Excelsior Coal company's scow Harry Hudson Smith, moored under a coal pocket at Belle dock. The workmen had nearly emptied the forward bin in the scow when the bulkhead between that bin and an adjoining one gave way, letting about 100 tons of coal fall upon the shovelers. Charles E. Anderson was killed, probably instantly, while three others, James Garvey, Martin McCarthy and Michael Dwyer, were seriously injured. It was an hour later when the body of Anderson, which was deeply buried, was taken out of the scow.

NEW JERSEY'S BEACH SAVED.

The jury's decision on Wednesday at Freehold, N. J., in the damage suit brought by Miss W. D. Atterbury, of Seabright, against Edward and Veronica Pannaci for the removal of 26,000 yards of beach sand from a point near her property, will save New Jersey's beach. According to this decision not even an individual owning the property abutting the beach can remove the sand.

The case has been hotly contested by five lawyers on each side. The jury brought in a verdict of $800 in favor of the plaintiff after hearing the testimony of several witnesses.

Judge J. Franklin Fort said no similar case had ever been tried in the New Jersey courts and the decision would stop the disfigurement of the beach. In arguing the question of the sea making inroads into the abutting grounds from the removal of the sand, an effort was made to prove by experts that the action of the ocean caused the damage. Judge Fort ruled out all such testimony, holding that "there could no be experts in the works of the Almighty."

Today completes what might be termed the preliminary season on the local baseball diamonds. Beginning with Decoration Day, which falls on next Saturday, the City League will begin its schedule. The Association League has already started and the second of its contests take place this afternoon. The Alis Club promises to continue its independent schedule with the pick of the teams from the metropolitan district.

All sorts of glory has come to the young men of the I. C. T. performance. The young men had the assistance of some good professional talent and the addition of the local performers made a taking combination. Large attendances should mark the matinee and evening performances today.

SLIGHT DAMAGE.

Shed and Part of Fence Destroyed on West Third Street.

A still alarm was rung in at 2:30 o'clock, yesterday afternoon, for a fire on the grounds at 428 West Third street, owned by Daniel Hogan, of 223 New street. A pile of logs and a rubbish heap caught fire in the rear of a brick barn on the premises and part of a fence and a wooden shed were consumed. The damage was slight, the barn itself being untouched. No. 2 hose and chemical put out the flames.

Photographed Guests.

Bradford Willard, son of Gates Willard, of 944 West Seventh Street, celebrated the ninth anniversary of his birthday last Saturday afternoon. Games were played and refreshments served to all the young people present, and while seven of the young guests were seated at a table on the veranda, a snapshot picture of them was taken by George Fountain. It is an excellent photo and will prove a valuable memento to those who were present.

SOME ARGUMENTS IN FAVOR OF SUNDAY GOLF.

Harold Serrell Believes That Sunday Golf is No Worse Than Many Other Things.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—I have read with interest the articles that have recently appeared in our city papers on this topic. The athletic side of the Sabbath appears to be now-a-days attracting considerable attention. I notice that Rev. J. L. Scudder, of Jersey City, is very outspoken as an exponent of athletic Christianity. I also notice that there is a deporable amount of ignorance, prejudice and biased discrimination in the matter of the observance of the Sabbath. I do not wish to be understood as an exponent of Sunday golf, but consistency is a jewel that few people even in this liberal enlightened age appear to possess.

There are those who cry out against Sunday golf who think nothing of carriage or bicycle riding or racing the country over on their autos and there are others who like X, in Thursday's edition of your paper, compare golf to baseball and football. This whole business is a matter of every man's conscience and none of us have any right to sit in judgment on what others many consider right for themselves. Our function ceases when we have explained the dangers of surrounding pitfalls.

There is a vast difference between Sunday baseball or football on the one hand and Sunday golf on the other hand, a difference that requires no amount of intelligence to perceive, viz., baseball and football are both boisterous contests between two opposing groups of players; a crowd is always in attendance; there is much shouting by the factions for the favorite sides; the noise can be heard quite a distance and is bound to disturb the peace and quiet of every Sabbath observer—in fact such disturbance is amenable to the law upon complaint. Golf is quiet and noiseless; it attracts no one; no coterie is in attendance; it disturbs no one and the Hillside Club is only proposing to open the links in the afternoon and their use will not tempt anyone who would and should attend divine service in the morning or evening

I am against anything in the nature of a contest, record-making or medal play in golf on the Sabbath and am sure so are even those who favor Sunday golf in the Hillside Club.

We have our household servants, grooms, stablemen and others work for us on the Sabbath, and almost as hard as on any day of the week, but raise our hands in holy horror at those who find fresh air, sunshine and light recreation on Sunday, knocking a golf ball over the turf.

We strain at the gnat and swallow the camel. We see a mote on our brother's eye but forget the great beam that is in our own. A well balanced consistent conscience is largely a matter of education; a dwarfed or warped one requires education for these are not as the former days.

We can use the good things that the good Lord has given us; we can also abuse them, and harm attends on any abuse.

Personally I have not and probably never shall play golf on Sunday but I believe that any unprejudiced person will have on their hands a large contract when they endeavor to conscientiously draw the line between Sunday driving, wheeling and tramping for pleasure, fresh air and sunshine and Sunday golf for the same purpose.

The jewel of consistency is worth securing. Harold Serrell.

Mr. Hess was well known in the village, being for years a resident of Washington Valley and for several years past has been employed at Hetfield & Welden's stone crusher in the valley.

The local fans are satisfied that Plainfield teams are not fast enough for Manager Johnston's colts. The games have been played with the best teams. In the three games the visitors have only been enabled to score four runs while the locals have piled up a total of twenty-nine. The scores being 5 to 1, 18 to 0 and 3 to 6.

Now that the village has city water, it would cost but little to have the street sprinkled in the heart of town anyway. No rain for the past month has made from two to three inches of dust upon the streets which is raised in the air every time an automobile passes.

CUBAN TREATY SIGNED.

By Secretary of State Zaldo and Minister Squiers.

HAVANA, May 23.—The permanent treaty was signed at the office of the secretary of state instead of at the palace, as was the case with former treaties. The signers were Secretary of State Zaldo and United States Minister Squiers, who were constituted special plenipotentiaries for that purpose by their respective governments. The proceeding was devoid of all formalities, and even frock coats, usual on such an occasion, were not worn.

Senor Zaldo and Mr. Squiers simply met, accompanied by their secretaries, and the signing was accomplished and copies of the treaty exchanged within a few minutes.

The permanent treaty incorporates the entire Platt amendment into the form of a treaty. The length of time consumed by the negotiations was principally due to the fact that the Cuban government desired to include in the treaty various extraneous conditions, especially one to the effect that there should be no intervention in Cuban affairs by the United States except through the initiative of the president of Cuba. All these conditions were rejected.

COOLIE LABOR ABROAD.

Transvaal and Mexico Want Their Help For Railroads.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 23.—A report has reached here from London to the effect that Chinese laborers were to be sent into South Africa. The Chinese consul general here knows nothing of the matter, and at the consulate it was stated that any such agreement or shipment of laborers would be made at Hongkong and not at this port. There is said to be no surplus of Chinese labor in California, and the transportation rate is much greater than from Hongkong.

The steamer Atholl, which has reached here from the orient, left 400 Chinese at Manzanillo, Mexico, these being the first installment of 4,000 engaged to work on the Mexican Central railway. The steamer Ching Wo will soon reach Manzanillo with 835 more of these laborers. So far as known no reports have been received from the commissioners who recently passed through here with the avowed intention of securing Chinese coolies to work in the South African mines.

Mrs. Kent Much Better.

BUFFALO, May 23.—There has been a decided change for the better in the condition of Mrs. Leland Dorr Kent, who became afflicted with acute dementia last Saturday when she learned that her husband had been convicted in Rochester of manslaughter. Mrs. Kent is now able to recognize the persons in attendance upon her, but she has no recollection of what transpired in Rochester. Her mind is an absolute blank on that point. It is possible she may never recollect it.

Howe Not In Trust.

CHICAGO, May 23.—Investigation of charges made against Thaddeus H. Howe, president of the Cigar Dealers' Association of America, has resulted in a finding in favor of Mr. Howe. The charges were that Mr. Howe's own tobacco company had for stockholders a number of men who are closely identified with the so called trust, but the association's executive committee, which conducted the inquiry, reported that such was not the case.

Returned a Hundred Pound Note.

BOSTON, May 23.—Becoming conscience stricken when he found he had robbed a poor man, a pickpocket mailed to the postal superintendent at Charlestown substation a £100 note on the Bank of England and a return ticket to Queenstown on the steamship Mayflower. The things were picked from the pocket of Michael Reardon just before he sailed for England on the Mayflower.

Carrier Allgood's Appointment.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—By request of the postmaster general the civil service commission investigated the appointment of John C. Allgood as rural carrier at Gallatin, Tenn., the purpose being to determine whether one Reuben D. Brown, also an applicant for the position, passed the examination one point higher than Allgood and was therefore entitled to the appointment.

Military Guard For Marcum Trial.

FRANKFORT, Ky., May 23.—Governor Beckham will send thirty members of Company C of Lexington, thirty members of the Shelbyville company and forty members of the Louisville battery, with one Gatling gun, to do duty in Jackson during the grand jury investigation of the Marcum assassination.

Elephant Kills Showman.

ATCHISON, Kan., May 23.—William Geary, an employee of a wild west show, was attacked by an elephant which he was urging to draw a heavy load and was fatally injured. The elephant knocked Geary down and was belaboring him with its trunk when other members of the show rescued him.

Press Humorists at Capital.

WASHINGTON, May 23. — The American Press Humorists, who have been holding their first annual convention in Baltimore, spent a day in sightseeing in and around Washington, the places visited including Cabin John Bridge, Mount Vernon, Arlington and the Congressional library.

Chicago Helps Jew Victims.

CHICAGO, May 23. — Samuel J. Kline, treasurer of the Chicago Jewish massacre relief committee, has cabled $10,000 to Banker Permutter at Kishineff, Russia, as the first installment of Chicago's contribution to the relief of the victims of the Jewish massacre.

TRADE CONDITIONS.

Dun & Co. Say Hot Weather Stimulates Trade.

NEW YORK, May 23.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

Weather conditions and labor situations are the dominant influences in the business world. Unseasonably high temperature at many points, especially in the east, stimulated retail trade in wearing apparel and other summer merchandise to an unusual degree, but had a most unsatisfactory effect upon vegetation, which was promptly reflected in diminished orders for supplies and in some cases there were cancellations.

On the whole there are fewer wage earners voluntarily idle, yet the spirit of unrest has caused the abandonment of some new enterprises and postponement of others, which means less demand for structural materials and labor. Payments are also less prompt, time often being asked where formerly cash transactions for a slight discount were the rule. Aside from these two adverse factors the trade situation is favorable, and with average weather and industrial peace there is every prospect of continued prosperity throughout the country.

Traffic on the railway is heavy, earnings thus far reported for May exceeding last year's by 13.6 per cent and surpassing 1901 by 25.7 per cent.

Readjustment in prices of iron and steel continues, the market gradually resuming normal conditions.

There is no sign of reaction in the footwear industry, shipments from Boston for the year thus far exceeding the movement in 1902 by 200,000 cases, and prices are fully maintained. New England shops are sending salesmen to southern and western jobbers with spring samples and also to secure supplementary orders for fall shoes.

Advances of about 5 per cent in wide sheetings indicate that the cotton goods market is beginning to respond to the higher raw material. A still more encouraging sign is the greater interest displayed by purchasers.

Cotton has made more new high prices for this season, spot middling uplands surpassing the twelve cent record touched during the manipulation in January, 1901. Statistics of supplies, receipts and exports are no longer considered, nor do the prospects for the new crop receive attention. All these factors favor a fairly firm position for the staple, provided consumption is not interrupted, but the recent inflation through speculation is not conducive to activity among spinners.

Wheat is marketed at the interior less freely than a year ago, 1,208,341 bushels comparing with 1,498,404, while exports from all ports of the United States were 4,672,980 bushels against 3,863,568 a year ago.

Liabilities of commercial failures thus far reported for May aggregate $4,833,087, of which $1,832,756 were in manufacturing, $1,982,702 in trading.

Coolie Labor For Transvaal.

JOHANNESBURG, May 23. — The chamber of mines adopted a resolution urging the government to import indentured coolie labor for the construction of the proposed new railways. Sir Percy Fitzpatrick, the president of the chamber, in supporting the resolution urged that this course was preferable to bringing into the country unskilled white labor which would be thrown on the community at the completion of the railway work, causing competition and distress.

Shakespeare's Plays on the Campus.

PRINCETON, N. J., May 23.—Ben Greet, manager of the English morality play "Everyman," will give on the university campus today two open air performances of Shakespearean plays. In the afternoon "As You Like It" will be given and in the evening "The Comedy of Errors."

AN IDEAL LOCATION.

BEAUTIFUL AND ACCESSIBLE.
2 Miles from Elizabeth. 7 Miles from Newark
14 Miles from New York.
Linden, New Jersey.
ON MAIN LINE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries
Largest Burial Parks in the State.
Transportation Facilities superior to those of any other cemetery, as to number of trains, railroad fare, time and distance.
These New Cemeteries, now being developed on the modern park plan, are attracting universal attention.
By Reason of Location Alone they are destined, in a very short time, to become the best-known Cemeteries in the country and, with their natural advantages, the most beautiful and desirable in which to purchase lots.
They are Accessible from every quarter and within easy reach of over 4,000,000 people, and, considering the steady and rapidly increasing growth of Greater New York and its tributary cities and towns, it is only the question of a short time before plots in Rosedale and Linden Park will equal in value those of our most noted cemeteries.
Popular Favor has already been shown to a marked degree in the sale of lots, several hundred having been sold to residents in Elizabeth, Linden, Rahway, Cranford, Jersey City, Orange, Paterson, Westfield, Newark and New York City, and a large number of interments have been made.
In the Days of Happiness we do not know what is to befall us or when the inevitable will occur; therefore, it is a wiser precaution to make provision for a final resting place during health and life than to force the painful duty on one's friends or relatives after death. A place of burial will be needed sooner or later by every one, and no one should neglect selecting a suitable and proper place until future postponement is impossible.
Linden Lodge is the largest, most modern and best equipped Cemetery Lodge in the country, and is provided with every requisite for the comfort and convenience of visitors who come to inspect the properties.

WHAT IS WORN.

Afternoon Frocks of Muslin—Attempt to Revive the Bonnet.

A fascinating little afternoon frock seen recently was of pompadour muslin on a groundwork of pale green. It had a layer of pale green chiffon underneath over a foundation of still deeper green silk. This skirt was finished with a deep hem and no flounces, but was caught up slightly on the hips with some suggestion of fullness which reminded one of a pannier. It was cut slightly decollete at the neck with a vest of point d'alencon and a fichu of net edged with same lace. The sleeves were fairly tight to the elbow, whence came a deep turned back gauntlet of lace. With this were worn a pointed band of narrow black velvet and an odd enameled clasp.

There is an effort made to revive the bonnet, but this is not proving popular, because no woman can afford to add years to her age, and this is the effect even of the prettiest bonnet.

For young girls there are dainty ball gowns in white china silk made up with shirrings and gaugings to give curves to the otherwise angular forms of many debutantes.

The rage is all for beige colored costumes with a pelerine covered with coarse guipure dyed to match.

The tailor made of the summer will clear the ground and will be made in fancy soft effects such as blouses with tucks and collars of embroidery. One of these suits seen recently was of deep blue cheviot trimmed with a collar of Persian work in red, blue and yellow. The sleeves and body were tucked and the skirt was made into a yoke with a becoming plaited flare.

Linens of all kinds are much used with macrame lace or coarse embroidery.

Abroad they are very enthusiastic over the sun plaited skirt, which looks charming with a big collar and a blouse bodice.

The illustration shows a coffee coat of cream lace over pale blue chiffon.

SMART WRAPS.

Pelerines and Shawl Shaped Collars of Silk and Lace.

The pelerine is a decorative feature which forms a useful adjunct to summer frocks. This can be made by the amateur who has only to arrange a fichu-like piece composed of a lace foundation with loops of wide pompadour taffeta ribbon edged with black, finished with stole-like ends of lace and taffeta, clasping them at the waist with an odd buckle.

Shawl shaped collars are much in vogue. Those people who possess by nature sloping shoulders should square the sleeve beneath those collars. The cunning of tailors and dressmakers nowadays makes these things easy.

Some charming afternoon gowns are made in spotted voile. Very smart was one in a dull shade of red with a great silk spot thereon, the bodice finished with a shawl-like collar of Irish crochet lace held together with red and gray taffeta strappings and tiny tags.

Muslins and painted chiffons will be much used for dainty evening gowns. Beads in the new silky weaves are used and mingled with lace appliques and embroideries.

The cut shows a white blouse of china silk and lace. It buttons down the back.

CHAPTER X.

It is now proper to touch upon a different element in this story. It may seem strange to the reader that Warde should have developed so ardent an interest in the case which we have been considering, and the writer would not be quite frank if he did not admit that the young reporter's activity was not purely professional. From the very moment that he beheld Miriam Wright, the mystery had possessed for him a fascination that would not be put aside. So far as Herbert Wright was concerned, it cannot be said that Irving was absorbingly interested in his affairs; and it was at first more an instinct than anything else which caused him to believe that the young fellow was innocent. It was the intangible influence of Miriam Wright that enlisted him ardently in the case, and that intensified his eagerness over each new development. There was something about her loneliness that appealed to him, and from the very first her beauty had stirred him as he had never been stirred before. His interest in the case gave him an excuse for seeing her frequently, and as he was a man of intelligence and of many attractive qualities, his visits were always acceptable. There were features in the Wright case which were rather repulsive to him. The character of the murdered man was such that he would have felt very much like saying that his taking off was hardly worth investigating with a view of punishing the murderer. But it seemed at first to involve the punishment of an innocent man, and that appealed to Irving's sense of fair play. In the next place it introduced into his life the elment that transfigured and transforms the world.

A friendship soon became cemented between himself and Miriam. Perhaps at first each was a novelty to the other, and therein lay the charm. Miriam's life had been narrow and introspective. She knew the world only through the medium of books. She seldom received or paid visits, and she had obtained her education at the hands of a governess; and had she been cast upon a desert isle her idle life could hardly have been more restricted. She was so unlike the other women whom Irving knew that he was attracted to her from the start.

At first his visits were taken up with the latest news about Herbert's case, the value of the testimony, the probable action of the jury, the evidence that could be introduced for Herbert, and various other features of the case. But there came a time when this topic was pretty nearly exhausted. All the events in Herbert's life had been reviewed, his disposition had been analyzed and every probable possibility and possible probability in connection with the case had been canvassed. Up to this time their acquaintance had been based on their joint concern for Miriam's brother, but when everything had been said about him and his affairs that could be said, they began to talk about themselves; and like the timid skater venturing rather warily upon the new ice, they were decidedly shy at first; but when they found that the ice would hold them, as it were, they became braver and more daring. Confidence begat confidence. The acquaintance ripened apace, and it was not very long before each of them was aware of the tender touch of an unseen influence.

When Christmas came, Irving spent a good deal of his time at the Wright place. He was received on a footing of a friend, and he did much in a quiet, unobtrusive way to make the holidays less sad for Miriam and her mother.

CHAPTER XI.

Some time after New Year's Nilus was busy entertaining an eastern capitalist by the name of Frederick Merivale. Just why it did so, perhaps, Nilus would have been puzzled to explain if an explanation had been asked; for nobody seemed to know the object of his visit or in what way all this wining and dining could assist the prospects of the city. But Nilus was naturally hospitable and when Mr. Merivale's presence was made known it was surmised in a general way that he was seeking an outlet for eastern capital. Perhaps he might be induced to take up an important railroad project that had been abandoned for lack of funds, and which would open up a splendid new territory to the trade of Nilus. Or perhaps he was looking for a place to establish manufactures of some kind, and Nilus had a well-defined idea that without manufactures she could never hope to be a great city. But whatever Mr. Merivale's projects were he kept them largely to himself. Some of the wealthy cotton men may have been in his confidence; the assiduity of their attentions to him favored this idea; but nothing definite got into the papers except the fact that Mr. Merivale had been entertained by the clubs and banqueted by some of the business men.

Merivale was the sensation of the day, and the appetizing odor of mystery that clung about him added to the interest which his visit had excited.

Yet there was absolutely nothing interesting in the man's personality except the fact that he permitted no one to understand him. That which is unintelligible seldom fails to awaken an interest, and it was so with Frederick Merivale. In appearance he was anything but remarkable. He was cold and dull-looking, with a fishy eye, a neatly trimmed beard, a flushed face, and sparse hair on the top of his head. His yellowish brown beard was parted with great precision. His manners were nice but not affable. He seldom laughed, and when he did the intention was not mirthful.

People knew that this man had made a great deal of money, but they could not guess how. His manner gave no indication whatever of his methods, and there was no way to determine the process of his thoughts from his conversation, which was dry as parchment. Merivale had very little to say, and what he did say was not worth remembering either for its brilliancy, its depth or its perspicuity. But whatever may have been his deficiencies in the conversational line, there could be no doubt that he was a gourmet of marked ability, and that he gave his tailor carte blanche. Every detail of his toilet was carefully considered, and he would have been pronounced a well-dressed man in the most fashionable city of Christendom.

Nilus knew there was something in Merivale, even though she could not define it, because he had been known to squeeze Wall street pretty hard several times to his own profit and glory; and it is hardly necessary to say that the man who is a success, but does not disclose his secret, possesses a charm for the curious that no merely fortunate man could have.

Naturally, Irving Warde, as a wide-awake newspaper man, was interested in finding out the object of Merivale's visit, and soon after his arrival secured an introduction. As a member of some of the leading clubs of the city, he contrived to see a great deal of Merivale, and though he made several adroit attempts to learn from him the business which brought him to the city, he found himself baffled at every point by that apparently dense and unsuspecting person. Then he turned his attention to the rich cotton men who were most frequently in Merivale's society, but they were evidently as much in the dark as Irving, although they assumed an air of mystery and pretended to be in the secret. Irving was not deceived by the show of mystery, however, and he dropped his investigations in this

NEAR TO SOUTH POLE

Borchgrevink's Record Broken by "Discovery" Expedition.

Commander Scott Succeeded in Getting Three and One-Half Degrees Further South Than Norwegian Explorer.

The Morning, the relief vessel to the British antarctic ship Discovery, has returned to Lyttelton, New Zealand, and reports that she found the Discovery on January 23 in McMurdo bay, Victoria Land. From the record of the expedition brought back it appears that the Discovery, which left Lyttelton about Christmas, 1901, made Cape Adare on January 9, and coasted along the great ice barrier which runs eastward from Cape Crozier as far as longitude 152.30, where an extensive glacial land with lofty peaks was discovered. Returning westward, good winter quarters were found near Mounts Erebus and Terror, and the ship was frozen in on March 24. When winter had passed, sleighing began on September 2, 1902, and a number of sledge journeys were undertaken in various directions, the most important being made by Commander Scott, Dr. Wilson and Lieut. Shackleton, who traveled south until they reached latitude 82.17 and longitude 163 west, and established a world's record for the furthest point south. The trip was made under very trying conditions, and the party had to drag the sledges back to the ship, the dogs having died on the the outward journey. Lieut Shackleton burst a blood vessel in one of his lungs, and almost died from exposure. He returned on board the Morning. Another party, which included Lieut. Royds and Mr. Skelton, visited Mount Terror, and traveled along the ice barrier, which is believed to be afloat, though fed from the land ice. Lieut. Armitage made a sledge journey to the westward, and attained an altitude of 9,000 feet. On the return journey he fell into a crevasse, and if he had not been roped to the others would have fallen 2,000 feet. Symptoms of scurvy appeared among the men on the sledge journeys, but disappeared on their return to the ship. Though looking aged by the hard life and having experienced some privation, owing to part of the supplies being bad, the officers and crew of the Discovery looked well and cheerful, and they have determined to spend another winter among the ice. The most important geographical discovery made by the expedition is that Victoria Land has been found to extend at least as far as latitude 83.20 south, and it is thought that the greater part of that region is a vast continent which stretches away to the pole in a series of lofty mountains. The lowest temperature recorded by the expedition was 62 degrees below zero.

Almost nothing was known of the south polar regions until 130 years ago, when Capt. Cook circumnavigated the earth in latitude 50 degrees, and proved the absence of the "great southern continent" which, until then, had been supposed to exist. The antarctic circle was crossed for the first time by Cook in 1773, when he succeeded in penetrating to latitude 71 degrees ten minutes, a record which was not broken until 1822, when Weddell attained to latitude 74.15. In 1842 Sir James Ross penetrated to latitude 78.10, and this remained the highest southern point ever reached until 1900, when Borchgrevink pushed his way to latitude 78.40, and constituted another record, which has now been broken by Commander Scott, who succeeded in getting three and a half degrees further south, or to a point only 250 miles more distant from the south pole than Nansen's furthest point was from the north pole.

Woman Has Money to Burn.

Mrs. Ann Law, of Spring street, Trenton, N. J., cooked a 30-cent steak the other morning with a roll of greenbacks worth $300. Mrs. Law was going to Philadelphia on a shopping tour and drew $300 from the bank. She laid the money, which was inclosed in an envelope, on a table in the sitting room. She decided to breakfast on steak before leaving home, and, gathering a handful of paper, kindled a fire in the kitchen stove. When the steak was cooked it dawned on Mrs. Law's mind that she had used the greenbacks for kindling. She gathered the ashes and took them to the mint in Philadelphia to find out if she could get her money back.

Fresh Air in Tablet Form.

Fresh air tablets are a preparation discovered by a French scientist. While experimenting in his laboratory he discovered that he could combine certain chemicals into a tablet, which, on being dropped into water, dissolved and gave forth pure oxygen. These tablets will be exceedingly useful in a closed carriage, a submarine boat, a mine or anywhere else where the air has become vitiated.

DID NOT SIGN IT.

Rector of Grace Episcopal Church Did Not Know of Ministers' Letter.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—I have read with interest and with pleasure the article of that memorial which has recently been addressed to the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club by the members of the Ministers' Association of Plainfield. It is desirable that, in a matter such as the present issue, which appears to be one of more than ordinary concern, to the community, a perfectly frank expression of opinion should be enjoyed and encouraged.

I am, however, very reluctant to accept an honor or assume a responsibility which does not properly belong to me. And therefore without entering into the merits of this question in the least degree, I hope you will permit me to say that I am one member of the Ministers' Association who had no part in framing or forwarding the memorial referred to. Your paper alone conveyed to me the announcement that any concerted action had been taken by the ministers.

E. Vicars Stevenson.

Class to be Confirmed.

Special sermons will be preached tomorrow at the German Reformed church on Grove street. In the evening the examination for the class in confirmation will be held and on the following Sunday the confirmation of the candidates will take place when they will partake of their first communion.

To Exhibit Work.

The date for the public exhibition of the work at the St. Gabriel Academy, in the borough has been set for June 21 and 22. The exhibition will be better than any before as the pupils during the past year shown marked proficiency in nearly all studies, particularly in drawing.

Cannot Preach Tomorrow.

Rev. John Justin, who has been recently called to take charge of the German Reformed church, will not be able to preach tomorrow. He will preach Sunday, May 31, at 10:30 o'clock in German and in the evening at 7:30.

A Little Loss

of flesh and strength, little barking, obstinate cough and a little pain in the chest may not mean galloping consumption, but they are signs that prudence will not neglect. A few doses of Allen's Lung Balsam cause a free discharge of mucus and so loosens the cough. It heals the inflamed air passages and all its beneficent work is accomplished without a grain of opium.

to perform feats of strength that were seemingly impossible. The acrobatic feats of the Bedini family and the three Bartellis were out of the ordinary, and the funny act of Johnny Purvis and his donkey, together with the gyrations on the wire of Mlle. Adele added variety. The most novel act of all was that of Divo, the monkey, who looped the loop in an automobile.

Greatest credit for the success of the undertaking belongs to the manager and chairman of the I. C. T. committee, V. W. Nash, Jr. Mr. Nash labored long and at considerable self-sacrifice in the interests of the show, and was well supported by the following, who composed the rest of the committee: Leonce Texier, George L. Apgar, William Waters, John Kelly, Charles Suhr, Joseph Robinson, Irving Mills, Edward Texier and Charles Hurtle.

The performance will be repeated this afternoon and evening, with the wonderful baloon ascension of Divo, the monkey, as a leading feature in the afternoon. The baloon ascension is scheduled for 2:30.

PARK GOLF CLUB.

T. U. Dudley, Jr., now leads for the President's cup at the Park Golf Club as a result of Saturday afternoon's regular competition for that trophy. Although a stiff breeze interferred with the play somewhat, the day was a grand one for outdoor sports and the course was consequently crowded.

First honors went to T. W. Morris, Jr., a newcomer, while Dudley and Morgan T. Townsend divided the other points.

The standing for the President's cup is now as follows:

CIVIL WAR VETERANS AT DIVINE SERVICE

Members of Winfield Scott Post, G. A. R. and Woman's Relief Corps Attend.

AT ST. JOSEPH'S CHURCH

REV. FATHER MILLER DELIVERS A PATRIOTIC ADDRESS.

Candles on Altar Arranged to Represent G. A. R. Badge—A Programme of Special Music Was Given During the Service.

In accordance with the annual custom, Winfield Scott Post, No. 78, G. A. R., and the Woman's Relief Corps, attended divine services, last evening at St. Joseph's church in the borough, when the pastor, Rev. Father Miller, delivered a patriotic discourse and there was a programme of special music. A unique feature of the service was the arrangement of the candles on the altar. When lighted they plainly represented the G. A. R. badge. Nearly seventy veterans, in charge of Commander H. C. Smith, and a large number of members from the Women's Relief Corps attended and the church was filled to the limit.

Mrs. A. E. LaPorte, organist, presided and rendered the opening selection, "Entrance March," Militaire. After the singing of "Columbia the Gem of the Ocean," there was a very pretty trio, Veni Creator, "Come Holy Ghost," by Miss Justina Smith, A. E. LaPorte and John Bailey, with Mrs. LaPorte at the organ.

Rev. Father Miller briefly reviewed past history as regards the Civil War, in which he referred to the patriotism, sacrifice and devotion to country shown by the grand old veterans. He praised the veterans for the loyal way in which they fought to preserve the country and its institutions and the glorious flag and said that he was glad to realize that peace reigns once more throughout the country and he hoped it would continue.

In the benediction which followed, Rev. Father Egan, of St. Mary's church, took charge, assisted by Father Miller and the altar boys. In connection with this the hymns, "O Salutaris," "Tantum Ergo," and "Holy God, We Praise Thy Name," were sung by the choir and congregation.

Uncle Tom's Cabin.

That ever welcome play, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," will be given at Plainfield tomorrow upon a celebrated scale, under the management of Leon Washburn. Among the novel specialties introduced will be the buck dancing of Tom Kelly, the superb vocal numbers of the "Ladies Creole Quartette" and the "Lone Star Male Quintette." The scenery of this production is said to be entirely new and truly magnificent. The transformation scene and wonderful vision being marvelously effective. A street parade will be given.

For Support of Chapels.

At the Crescent Avenue church yesterday, the annual subscriptions for the support of the chapels were received. The sum of $5,000 was asked for and $4,668.56, was given, which is $1,000 ahead of last year. It is believed that the amount asked for will be contributed as all the members have not yet been heard from. Rev. Dr. W. R. Richards occupied the pulpit morning and evening and his presence attracted a large congregation to both services.

Bitten by Monkey.

Miss Clara Webber, the ten-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Webber, of Liberty street, was bitten by Divo, the monkey at the I. C. T. Club circus Saturday afternoon. The child with others had been teasing the animal and in a rage the animal flew at the little girl sinking its teeth twice in her leg. Blood poison is feared.

Mr. Barrows Resigns.

Elliot T. Barrows has resigned his place as chairman of the greens committee of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club and will retire from the board of trustees July 1. He will be succeeded on the greens committee by Walter Peterson. His retirement has nothing to do with the question of Sunday golf.

Lawn Fete.

The Benevolent Band, of King's Daughters, will hold a fete on the lawn of Mrs. Frank Sprague Martin, of Hillside avenue, Wednesday afternoon.

NO PLAYING ON SUNDAYS

The Hillside Tennis and Golf Club Defeats Amendment for Sunday Golf.

AT A LIVELY MEETING

Considerable Feeling Evidenced on Both Sides in Speeches Which Preceded Vote on Question—The Vote Stood 91 to 93 Against

There is to be no Sunday golf on the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club course for the present. That was the decision at a very large meeting of the club held in the Casino, Saturday evening. The amendment to open the course Sunday afternoon from 2 o'clock on was lost by a vote of 93 to 91. A two-thirds vote was required to pass it. As the vote shows there were 184 active members present who cast a vote for or against the amendment. In addition there were a number of associate and honorary members present, while not a few women, active members, were present and voted. The meeting was one of the most exciting ever held and the arguments for and against the amendment were forcibly presented.

George P. Mellick, president of the club, occupied the chair. After the president stated the object of the meeting and it was decided by a vote to have a secret ballot, O. T. Waring introduced the proposed amendment, which was that the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club and course should be closed until 2 o'clock on Sunday. The fact that this did not specify morning or afternoon led C. C. Burke to take exception and through his efforts, the letters "P. M." were inserted after the hour.

George A. Chapman, former president of the club, was the first speaker against the proposition. He presented a strong argument in behalf of the moral effect of such a proposition, claiming that if the course should be open on Sunday it would lower the moral and religious standing of the community and this he did not believe to be wise in view of the high standing of the club.

William G. Wright followed with remarks in favor of the amendment. He did not believe that Plainfield contained all the piety and religious principles of the State and he did not believe that the city would be greatly damaged if the course should be opened. He expressed regret that those who favored the opening should have so ruthlessly disturbed the feelings of those who have conscientious scruples on the subject, but declared emphatically that so sure as the sun would rise on the morrow the golf course would be opened on Sunday. He said that the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club is the only club of importance in the State that does not permit Sunday play and he thought it time that the club go forward and become more progressive.

Craig A. Marsh, coporation counsel of Plainfield, was the next speaker. He dwelt at some length on the moral and legal aspect of the proposition. He cited the fact that Sunday golf is a violation of the State laws and there would be every reason to believe that the authorities of Middlesex county would make arrests if the members played on Sunday. He referred to the possibility of arraigning class against class, that is, if the members played golf on Sunday and those of a poorer class desired to play baseball on Sunday and could not, it would make bitter feeling and it would at once raise a feeling of class legislation. Mr. Marsh said that he did not argue against the proposition in his own behalf, but in behalf of those who have a right to have conscientious scruples on the matter. He believed that Sunday play would lower the morals generally of the city and would tend to a breaking of the other Ten Commandments.

A. H. Atterbury talked at great length for the amendment. He did not believe it to be any worse to play golf on Sunday than to spend the time riding horseback, in an automobile, on a bicycle or reading a Sunday newspaper. As a matter of fact, he said that he had heard that the most liberal supporters of the club were opposed to the opening. To offset this he cited that last year the club closed the season with a deficit of $800. This would have to be made up this year.

SHOT BECAUSE SHE CRIED

Serious Ending of Runaway Trip By Four Little Tots From the Borough.

MISSING TWO DAYS

Little Theresa Watson Brought Home Shot in Stomach and Hand by Small Willie James—Disappeared Saturday—Were Found This Morning.

Four children in the borough mysteriously disappeared Saturday morning. A thorough search of the city was made and not until this morning was their whereabouts discovered.

The missing children were Theresa Watson, the ten-year-old daughter of Henry S. Watson, of 92 Manning avenue, and Willie, Ethel and Orville James, whose parents reside on Belmont avenue. The last seen of the children Saturday was when they were going toward Liberty Corner by a man fishing in the pond near Watchung.

Mrs. James said that she supposed that they had gone to the home of a Mrs. Baldwin, who, she said, lived one mile this side of Liberty Corner. Willie at one time worked there and has been up there on several occasions having walked the entire distance. She thought the children had gone there.

Asked last evening if he had any idea as to who could have had any motive in taking the children Mr. Watson said that his wife disappeared last year with his brother and was living somewhere near Philadelphia. She went away without her six children and he thought that it was barely possible that she might have been the means of spiriting his little child away as the James people were acquainted with his wife.

A number of borough citizens dragged the lake at Watchung this morning thinking they might have accidentally fallen in and been drowned.

No trace of the children was found until this morning when Walter Watson, the eldest son of Mr. Watson, started out for Liberty Corner for the missing children. He found them at the home of Mrs. Sachs, where all four children were eating luncheon. It was noticed that Theresa Watson was injured in the stomach. William Sachs hitched up a carriage and at once brought back the children and the Watson boy who had traveled the entire distance on foot.

The girl was taken to her home and Dr. J. Hervey Buchanan was called He said the child was in a serious condition. The little James boy said that his sister took the gun from Mrs. Baldwin at Liberty Corner and he shot the Watson girl because she cried when he began shooting at the ground. He shot twice at her, striking her once in the stomach and once in the thumb. It was a rifle of small calibre.

The James boy was arrested by Chief Marshal Campbell. The children are all under ten years of age.

JURORS NAMED.

Joseph Erner on Trial for His Life—Case Opened This Morning at Somerset County Court.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, May 25—The trial of Joseph Erner, who is charged with having murdered his godfather, John Driff, at Bound Brook, December 25, 1902, began at 10:15 o'clock this morning before Justice Garretson in the Somerset county court.

After the selection of the jury, Prosecutor Griggs made his opening plea in which he stated that he had a man of the name of Michael Beesoff, who went home to Bound Brook late the night of the murder and this man claims that he saw Urner strike Driff. After the opening plea, the court adjourned till 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Miss Carolyn, of Somerville, has returned home after a visit with Plainfield friends.

SMALL BOY'S FATAL JUMP

Sprang From Swiftly Moving Trolley Car and Received Fatal Injuries.

ON HIS WAY TO CIRCUS

Landed on His Head—Concussion of Brain Followed—Serious Injuries Not Realized at First—Became Worse During Night and Died in the Morning.

While going to the I. C. T. Club circus Saturday evening in company with a number of other companions Louis DeCamp, the ten-year-old son of Franklin DeCamp, of 28 Linden avenue, jumped from a rapidly moving trolley car at the corner of Plainfield avenue and West Front street and received injuries from which he died yesterday morning at 5 o'clock.

The boy had boarded the car in company with Joseph Neuman, Charles Hurst and Claude Hann, playmates, and not having the fare he jumped from the car at the approach of the conductor. He landed on his head and was rendered temporarily unconscious but soon recovered and was able to continue on his way to the circus. While there listening to the men calling out the wonders of the show inside the tents he became dizzy and his companions had to assist him to a near by box where he sat. His brother came along and he took him home.

It was soon apparent to the boy's mother that the boy was injured seriously and put him to bed. He became delirious and Dr. D. C. Adams was called. He worked over the boy for several hours but at 5 o'clock he passed away. Death was said to be due to concussion of the brain.

The lad was a member of the Sunday-school of Grace M. E. church and attended the Somerset street school. The funeral will be held from the home of his parents on Linden avenue Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock and the services will be conducted by Rev. Dr. Edwin L. Earp.

Former Mayor R. J. Swackhamer Passes Away at His Home Sunday.

FROM HEART FAILURE

VALUED EMPLOYE OF JERSEY CENTRAL FOR HALF A CENTURY.

One of Foremost Men of Dunellen—Having Been Mayor and Held Other Important Offices—A Sketch of His Life.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Dunellen, May 25—In the death of Ruliff J. Swackhamer, former mayor of this borough, which occurred from heart failure at his home yesterday morning, following a long illness, one of the best citizens of this place is removed. Mr. Swackhamer was known from one end of the New Jersey Central to the other and every one had the highest respect and esteem for him. He was a valued employe of the New Jersey Central for a half century.

Mr. Swackhamer comes from sturdy Dutch stock, his ancestors coming from Holland. He was born at Whitehouse, Hunterdon county, November 21, 1826, as were his parents, John and Anna Swackhamer. Young Ruliff assisted on his father's farm and during the winter months only was he able to study. He remained on the farm until he was tweny-one years old, when he married Huldah T. Oakes, of Lubeck, Me. They had four children, three of whom are now living, but Mrs. Swackhamer died in 1863. The three living are Mrs. Calvin H. Rugg, of Plainfield; Mrs. J. D. Mr. Swackhamer joined the engineer corps of the New Jersey Central in 1847, then running the line from Somerville to Whitehouse and subsequently was employed by the contractors. From 1853 to 1863, he was in the bridge gang of the road and in the latter year was made superintendent of bridges, remaining until 1899. He lived in Phillipsburg and Somerville, from which place he moved to Dunellen in 1876, where he has resided ever since. In 1864 he was married a second time, to Mrs. Rebecca E. Burr, of Joliet, Ill. By this marriage four children are living, Mrs. John Wehrley, of Somerville; Mrs. Clarence Oakley, of New Brunswick; Harry J. Swackhamer, and Mrs. Wilson S. Fredericks, of this place.

While in Warren county he was a freeholder for four years, from 1871 to 1874, the last three being director of the board. He was one of Dunellen's first borough commissioners and in 1899 was elected mayor of the borough. He was connected with the First Presbyterian church, and served as an elder.

Mr. Swackhamer was a member of Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. and A. M., of Plainfield, and a past master of Delaware Lodge, No. 52, F. and A. M., of Phillipsburg. He lived in this place thirty years.

The funeral services will be held from the Presbyterian church Wednesday evening, at 8 o'clock, and will be attended by members of the Masonic fraternity.

The second games of the season for the Association League were played Saturday afternoon, the winning teams being the Reform Club and the Clinton Avenues. These two teams won the preceding Saturday giving them two victories so far this season.

REFORM A. A., 6; O. F. C., 5.

The Reform A. A.—Orange F. C. game was played Saturday afternoon on the field on South Second street grounds. The game was a close one and showed that the teams were evenly matched and the work on both was as good as any seen in this city this year. It was difficult to say which did the best pitching, Scott or Sherman. Good work was done in the field and on the diamond alike by both teams.

The lineups of the two teams was as follows: Reform Club—J. Scott, p; Brady, 1b; R. Scott, 2b; McGinley, 3b; Taylor, ss; O'Laughlin, c; Parent, rf; Higgins, lf; O'Neal, cf.

Orange Field Club—Emmons, 2b; Sherman, p; McVoy, cf; Brock, 1b; Conover, ss; Herman, c; Hook, lf; Denley, 3b and Swalm, rf.

ALIS, 13; HOPE, 3.

The Alis baseball team redeemed itself, Saturday afternoon, in its second game of the season with the Hope Y. M. A. team, when the latter was defeated by a score of 13 to 3. The game was played on Hope Common before a large crowd.

The Alis management strenthened the team, Hope, a young man from Brooklyn, occupying the box for Alis. His opponents only got two hits off him, while Barnes, who caught him, put up one of his old-time games, injecting plenty of "ginger" into the team. The other new men were Bolsterli at short and Cox, of the Star A. C., of Newark, on third. After the first inning, Alis was invincible, and the three runs secured by Hope in that inning was all that they got. Alis played with snap and special mention should be made of fine playing of George Dupee, William Schoonmaker and Lederer.

In the absence of "Brit" Martin, who is laid up with a sore knee, Enright, of the Safe Works team, played second base on Hope.

On the Clinton avenue grounds the Clinton Avenues and Cuban Giants fought out a one sided battle Saturday afternoon. The Cuban Giants, although working under a disadvantage in lack of practice, put up a plucky fight. They were defeated by a score of 11 to 2. Nelson Davis and Brokaw surpassed themselves but were not strongly supported by their team. Dwyer, as pitcher for the Clinton Avenues, made the star points. He was strong at the bat and his curves kept the Cubans in a constant state of worry. Apgar was especially strong at right field and was later placed at

A HUMORIST ON BASEBALL

CAREER OF PHILADELPHIA NORTH AMERICAN'S STAR SPORTING WRITER.

Gives Destinction to That Department—Has Been Sailor, Angler, Moulder and War Correspondent.

Among the special writers who give The North American sporting department its distinction none is better known than Charles Dryden.

Mr. Dryden has been called the George Ade of baseball. His humor is as fresh and spontaneous as that of the famous author of Fables in Slang. His inimitable reports of baseball games are entirely characteristic. Nobody writes like him, nobody gets the same infectious twists and turns of merriment, and none of his imitators have succeeded in reproducing the entirely unforced effect. For the last thirteen years Dryden has classed by himself in this particular brauch of newspaper writing.

In 1889 he made his first essay as a baseball wit. This was in Chicago. He wrote up a game in imitation of the stilted, archaic phrase of Bible language.

It scored an intense hit, and in a short time all the prominent papers of the west were bidding for his services. For seven years he stayed west, changing between San Francisco and Tacoma. In 1896 when W. R. Hearst bought the New York Journal, he secured the services of Dryden. When he had been less than a year in the metropolis he had his memorable quarrel with Andrew Freedman. He was shut out of the New York grounds, but kept up a long-distance fire or raillery on the eccentric owner ot the Giants and kept not only New York but the entire country convulsed by his clever quips.

In 1900 The North American took a notion that it wanted Dryden to round out the strong staff. Hearst was averse to parting with his crack sporting writer, and made him exceptional offers to stay.

But the proprietor of the Journal was outbid, and Dryden came to Philadelphia. He came back in 1901, and is now under contract for the present season of 1903.

Mr. Dryden is a newspaper writer of wide experience. He has had a varied career, having from time to time been a sailor, an iron moulder, fisherman and war correspondent. He represented a SanFrancisco paper in Samoa when the rival kings were fighting for the throne.

The other branches of sport are looked after by an able corps of specialists. A particular effort is made to get the fullest reports of amateur baseball games.

On opening days and important events staff writers and photographers are sent from the office, and the contests are covered with the same care that is given to reports of major league games.

AUTOMOBILES RACE

First Stage In Paris to Madrid Contest.

MANY ACCIDENTS AND FATALITIES.

Barrows' Chauffeur Is Killed and He and Renault Rendered Unconscious—Government Forbids Further Racing In France.

PARIS, May 25.—The first stage in the Paris-Madrid automobile race from Versailles to Bordeaux, 343 miles was finished at noon Sunday when Louis Renault dashed at a furious pace into Bordeaux, having made a record run of 8h. 27m.

An hour later M. Gabriel arrived, with a still better record of 8h. 7m.

It is estimated from the times made that these automobiles covered sixty-two miles an hour on the road outside the cities.

These victories, however, were clouded by a series of accidents, having in one case at least a fatal result. At least two cars were wrecked, and Marcel Renault, the winner of the Paris-Vienna race last year; Lorraine Barrows, a very well known automobilist, and Renault's chauffeur were seriously and, it is believed, fatally injured, while Barrow's chauffeur was killed.

Moreover, an unconfirmed report says a serious accident occurred near Angouleme, in which the two occupants of an automobile, the owner of which is not yet known, were seriously injured and two spectators were killed. This number of accidents has not caused any great surprise here in view of the number of contestants in the race and the great speed and power of their machines.

The name of W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., disappeared from the reports along the route after Rambouillet, where he passed twenty-eighth in order at a quarter to 5 this morning going in fine form. The omission of his name from the dispatches from Chartres, the next town on the road, caused some anxiety and brought forth a number of inquiries. It was learned later that he, Henry Fournier and Baron de Forest withdrew from the race together before reaching Chartres. All of them suffered breakdowns, and, having lost three hours, they decided that it was useless to continue.

Mr. Vanderbilt and Baron de Forest returned to the Hotel Ritz at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. They laughed and made light of their withdrawals. Foxhall Keene, Tod Sloane and W. J. Dannat, the American artist, did not appear at the starting line when their turn was reached and consequently did not take part in the race. C. Gray Dinsmore is thus the only American left in.

Versailles passed a night of wild excitement. It is estimated that a hundred thousand persons crowded into the little town to witness the start of the race. Soldiers with fixed bayonets lined the track for some distance from Versailles.

A bomb was exploded at 3:35 a. m. as a signal to get ready, and immediately Charles Jarrott's car drew into place. Another bomb was fired at a quarter to 4 for the start, and then the enormous machine shot forward amid the shouts of the thousands of spectators. The other cars followed in quick succession.

Mme. de Gast, the sole female competitor in last year's Paris-Berlin race, was again the only woman to participate in the present contest. Her machine was decked with flowers, and her departure was the signal for a great ovation. She made a splendid run, passing five of her competitors before reaching Chartres.

The crowd around Mr. Vanderbilt's machine prevented him from reaching the starting line in time, and he was further delayed by a controversy with the judges, finally starting two minutes late. The last departure was at a quarter to 7 Sunday morning.

The reports along the route soon showed that Louis Renault was making a great race, and before Chartres he had overtaken and passed Charles Jarrott and M. Rene de Knyff and gained a lead which he never after lost. Dispatches from Vendome, Tours and Poletiers told of his passing through ahead, and Bordeaux sent the announcement of his arrival first at 12:14:45. He had beaten Heri Fournier's record of 8h. 44m.

Charles Jarrott finished second at 12:30, having covered the course in 8h. 44m. M. Gabriel arrived third at 1:08, his time being 8h. 7m. The other contestants who made fast time were J. Salleron, 8h. 40m.; Baron de Crawher, 8h. 53m.; J. B. Warden, 8h. 50m., and M. Voight, 8h. 55m.

During the afternoon word of the accidents began to arrive and cast a cloud over the event. A dispatch from Bordeaux announced that Lorraine Barrows had met with a shocking accident near Libourne, seventeen miles from Bordeaux. It appears that Mr. Barrows had tried to avoid a dog which was crossing the track, and his monster car, No. 5 in the race, struck a tree with terrific force. His chauffeur was killed outright. Barrows himself was picked up unconscious, but still breathing, and was taken to a hospital, where his condition was declared to be critical. His car was dashed to pieces.

Shortly afterward news came that Marcel Renault had been overturned in a deep ditch beside the road near Couhe, twenty-one miles from Poletiers, and that he was dangerously injured. The Automobile club of Bordeaux received a dispatch at 4 o'clock saying Renault was unconscious and it was feared, dying. Louis Renault, Marcel's brother, was deeply affected by the news and at once started back to his brother's assistance. Orders were given to withdraw all the Renault cars from the race. Many lesser casualties are reported.

Later an unconfirmed report came from Bordeaux that a serious accident had occurred near Angouleme, two occupants of an automobile being thrown out and injured and two spectators killed. No names or details were given.

The result of the first stage of the race appears to be a draw between the merits of the light and heavy vehicles. Louis Renault drove a light machine weighing 650 pounds and of thirty horse power, while Gabriel drove a heavy machine of seventy horse power weighing 1,000 pounds. The contestants will rest today and resume the race at half past 5 Tuesday morning.

The position of the winners of the first stage is as follows: Gabriel first, 5h. 13m.; Louis Renault second, 5h. 32m.; Salleron third, 5h. 46m.; next in order, Jarrott, Warden, Baron de Crawher, Voigt, Barras, Rougier, and last Mouter, his time being 6h. 17m.

In view of the number of accidents, some fatal, in the first stage of the Paris-Madrid automobile race from Versailles to Bordeaux, Premier Combes has forbidden the continuance of the contest on French territory. The second stage of the race, which was to have been continued on Tuesday, included a run over French territory from Bordeaux to the Spanish frontier. Premier Combes' action will probably lead to the race being abandoned.

The most terrible accident occurred near Bonneval, nineteen miles from Chartres, where machine No. 243, driven by M. Porter, was overturned at a railroad crossing and took fire. The chauffeur was caught beneath the automobile and burned to death, while two soldiers and a child were killed.

A chauffeur was badly injured by an accident to his motor car near Angouleme. A woman crossing the road in the neighborhood of Ablis was run over by one of the competing cars and killed.

Mr. Stead and his chauffeur, who were first reported to have been killed, are still alive. It seems that their automobile collided with another car with which Mr. Stead had been racing for several kilometers wheel to wheel and was completely overturned in a ditch near Montguyon. Mr. Stead was caught under the machine, while his chauffeur was hurled a distance of thirty feet and had his head and body badly cut. Mr. Stead was conscious when he was picked up, but complained of suffering great pain. He was conveyed to the nearest farm.

Louis Renault's automobile attained at Becourdiniere, between Chartres and Bonneval, a maximum speed of 88¾ miles per hour.

PITTSBURG HAS THUNDERSTORM

Killing One Man and Doing Large Damage.

PITTSBURG, May 25. — A terrific thunderstorm, accompanied by a high wind, struck this section Sunday afternoon and besides killing one man did considerable property damage.

Milton W. Robinson, a resident of West Pittsburg, drove to Schenley park with a party of friends for an afternoon enjoyment. When the storm came up Robinson sought shelter from the drenching rain under a big ash tree in Panther hollow. He had been there but a moment when lightning struck the tree, literally tearing it to pieces and killing Robinson instantly. Robinson's four or five friends, who were within twenty-five feet of him at the time, escaped without even a shock from the bolt.

At Braddock lightning struck a street car on the McKeesport branch of the Pittsburg Railroad company and caused a panic among the passengers, many of the men jumping from the car as it sped down the hill. Three of them were pretty badly bruised, and Christopher O'Toole, who fell on his head, is perhaps fatally hurt. The women passengers tried to jump also, but were prevented by some of the cooler headed among the men. Much damage was done to shade trees, many being blown down, and several were split in twain by lightning. The rain storm was followed by a hailstorm.

The battalion left for Jackson on a special train. A hospital corps from this city accompanied the troops. Colonel Roger Williams of the Second Kentucky regiment is commanding the expedition, and Major Embrey Allen of Lexington is the battalion commander.

SOCIETY OF EQUITY

Issues Bulletin to Farmers of the United States.

DEMANDS HIGHER PRICE FOR WHEAT

The Minimum Price Should Be a Dollar a Bushel—Urges the Farmers Not to Sell For Less.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 25.—The American Society of Equity has issued a bulletin to the farmers of the United States demanding an increase in the price of wheat, arguing that the minimum price of wheat should be a dollar a bushel and urging the farmers of the United States not to sell for less than a dollar. The society has been organized, with this city as national headquarters, to maintain higher prices for farm products by co-operation of the farmers of the country, and this is the first formal demand for increase in prices as the result of the combination.

The bulletin sets out the claims that this is an era of unequaled prosperity, demand for commodities is unprecedented, labor is receiving higher wages than ever before and the demand for and consumption of wheat is greater than ever before, with a low visible supply. The bulletin then says:

"It is evident that the American farmers cannot produce more than about twelve bushels per acre on an average, which at 88 cents per bushel represents $10.56 per acre to cover all the work, seed, twine, thrashing, marketing, etc., an amount that scarcely equals the simplest machine that the farmer buys, yet which represents only a small fraction of the factory investment, capital and labor employed.

"Who dare say in the face of these evidences and considering the present higher range of values for nearly every other commodity produced in the country that wheat at this time and for the next crop is not equitably worth a dollar a bushel on the basis of the Chicago market and that other farm crops should be on a corresponding basis?

"Farmers, keep this matter in mind: Keep dollar wheat at a dollar at Chicago before you, and you will get it as sure as the sun rises in the east and sets in the west. Above all, however, we implore you, don't be fools. When you get the equitable price let it go. Sell on the basis of a dollar and no less, but don't hold for more, or you may run up an unwieldy surplus, which must eventually compel lower prices."

To Stop Kentucky Feuds.

LEXINGTON, Ky., May 25.—General O. O. Howard of Bell county, who has undertaken to put a stop to feuds in Kentucky and is riding on horseback through the feud counties, accompanied by Frederick C. Chamberlain of Boston, ridicules the idea of being shot by mistake while on his tour of investigation. He says the feudist seldom makes a mistake; that when he sights down the barrel of his rifle he usually knows who the gun is pointed at. "There is no danger of any mountain man pointing a gun at 'Uncle Oliver,'" he said. "My solution of the feud problem, eliminating all else, is education. Of course this is impossible in many sections of the state except with time and the advancement of civilization."

Locomotive Exploded; One Dead.

ERIE, Pa., May 25.—While passing Mays Siding on the hill about seven miles west of Kane the boiler on one of the locomotives pushing a Philadelphia and Erie freight train exploded, killing one man and injuring four others, three perhaps fatally. The disaster was an unusual one, inasmuch as the train was running at the time and also because the crown sheet of the exploded boiler was blown clear through the caboose, splitting it in two and completely wrecking it, so that it was set on fire and burned up as the quickest way to clear the tracks. The injured, except the engineer and fireman, were in the caboose.

Philadelphia Fire; $1,000,000 Loss.

PHILADELPHIA, May 25.—A fire that is estimated to have caused a loss of upward of $1,000,000 occurred last evening in the building of the Front Street Warehousing company, North Front street. The building was three stories high on Front street and five in the rear and had two subcellars. Merchandise of a general character was stored in the place. The third floor was packed solidly with matting, and besides this there were in the building, among other things, light and heavy machinery of various descriptions, a car load of wines and other liquors and a car load of matches.

CENTRAL'S IMPROVEMENTS.

Another improvement on the part of the Jersey Central is to be noted in the plan to equip the Newark-New York line with the block signals of the latest pattern. This follows comparatively closely on the announcement of plans to extend the system of block signals out the Long Branch division. It shows that the Central is anxious to make its service the safest and best in the country.

While self interest undoubtedly plays an important part in the action of the Central in putting its road and equipment in the best possible condition, it is just as advantageous to Plainfield and its residents as to the railroad itself. There is no doubt that the well-equipped road soon becomes known. Reports concerning its condition travel fast. The result is inevitable. People, who have to travel anyway, would rather travel on the best and safest and so the Jersey Central and the cities and towns along its line get the benefit.

No one can doubt for a moment that Plainfield is one of the most ideal spots in the neighborhood of New York and that it forms an ideal residence for the New York business man of moderate or well-to-do circumstances. The only question is that of transportation. With those palatial ferry-boats which the Central has recently added to its service, and the fast expresses, composed of comfortable cars, Plainfield offers great advantages to the tired New Yorker and he greatly prefers the trip here to fighting for a strap in a crowded elevated or surface car.

NO SUNDAY GOLF.

All Plainfield must view with satisfaction the action taken at the meeting of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club Saturday evening when the project to open the links of that club on Sunday afternoons was voted down. This is the second time that this proposition has met a like fate and it is sincerely to be hoped that this defeat will be the means of routing the project for good.

Clergy and laymen united in denouncing the suggested opening of the golf course. The fact that the club, when established, was strongly supported by many who would not have countenanced it had there been any possibility then of Sunday playing. Out of regard to them and to the community, it was the duty of the club to continue the prohibition against Sunday golf. And it was continued and there is general satisfaction expressed that such was the case.

Some people say that Mayor Smalley's participated in the I. C. T. Club circus, was not his first appearance as "ringmaster." However that may be, it is certain that with Mayor Smalley in command, many municipal "performance" has been carried to a successful issue. As ringmaster or mayor, N. B. Smalley is vigorous, energetic and successful.

There's a lot of things that are scheduled to take place here next Saturday. Memorial Day promises to be an unusually active day for Plainfield. As usual it is the outdoor sports are are the chief attraction although many will undoubtedly assist in the celebration of the day as arranged by the veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic.

It will take a long time to build the new City High School even now the Common Council has appropriated the necessary funds. First it will be nesary to select plans and that is what the City Board of Education is trying to do as rapidlyas possible.

Really the boys of the I. C. T. Club deserve credit for their share in their circus. While they had the assistance of professional talent, there was plenty of hard work about it and the Plainfield boys did not shirk it.

PLANS FOR HIGH SCHOOL

COMPETITION TO BE ARRANGED WITH PRIZES FOR BEST WORK.

Best Architects Are to Try for the Design for the New City High School Building.

At its April meeting, the City Board of Education appointed a committee to arrange for the submission of competitive plans for the new High School. That committee has decided to endeavor to get into the competition the highest talent among the architects that it is possible to enlist, and to that end, it has decided that while the first prize in the competition should be the erection of the building, there should be a second prize of $400 and a third prize of $300 for the second and third best plans. Since the best talent is unwilling to enter an unlimited competition, it was decided that the number of competitors should be limited to fifteen.

The board has engaged Walter Cook, the eminent architect of New York, as consulting architect and the action taken was in accordance with his advice. An advertisement will be placed in the American Architect and Building News and, in the course of three or four weeks, the names obtained will be submitted to Mr. Cook and from them sixteen competitors will be selected, this selection being based largely on the advice of Mr. Cook. The competitors will then be given about two months to prepare plans which will be signed with a fictitious name and left with the Clerk of the board on a designated day. The plans will be examined by the consulting architect and discussed before the board by him.

The board will then select the plans which seem to be the best suited to the needs of the city. The makers of none of the plans will be known by any one until after the selection has been made, since the real name will be submitted in a sealed envelope which will remain unbroken until after the award has been made.

The consulting architect has already prepared the programme for the competition.

DUNELLEN.

The Dunellen A. C. met and decisively defeated the St. Agnes Lyceum team, of New Brunswick, held Saturday afternoon in the presence of a large crowd of enthusiastic rooters. The final score was 21 to 8 and four of the visitors' runs were presented to them out of charity. Matters looked rather dubious in the first inning when the visitors got three singles off Ettinger's delivery and scored four times but in the same inning when, with two men on bases, Ettinger knocked a clean three bagger to deep left field and stole home, the joy of the fans was complete. Ettinger got all the way around the bags later in the game by a single and an error. McQuade again caught in splendid form while Brown went on second. A clever play was in the fifth inning, when, with men on second and third McQuade made a bluff of throwing to second. The man on third started home and was easy to tag out as was also the one on second, who took too great chances. The game was marked by heavy hiting by the locals, all of whom secured one or more hits. Billy" Giles playing a crack game at short making several hair-raising catches. The visitors were way below par in their fielding and the clever fielding of the locals kept their hits down.

The local fire engine company was called out last evening to put out a blaze at the east end of the town. The fire was in the house in Dewey Park just back of Gallagher's and was put out before the engine arrived. The engine was taken up behind the Bound Brook trolley and made the fastest run on record.

OPPOSE THE CANAL

Ministerial Crisis In Colombia May Affect Big Ditch.

PRESIDENT MIGHT RATIFY TREATY.

Marroquin Would Not Consent to Sign by Powers Vested In Him as Commander Under Martial Law.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Whether the ministerial crisis in Colombia as reported by United States Minister Beaupre will have any important bearing on the ratification of the isthmian canal treaty is not known here. Fernandez, the minister of government (more specifically known locally as the minister of the interior), who resigned, was virtually the premier of the government. The office filled by him corresponds in many respects to that of secretary of state of the United States.

Statements have been made to the effect that he was opposed to the official declaration of peace in Colombia, holding that it was still under martial law. If Colombia were under martial law her president could exercise the dictatorial powers vested in him by the constitution and if he chose ratify the canal treaty by his own act without submitting it to the consideration of congress, whose position on the subject is still doubtful.

The opinion here, however, is that President Marroquin would not consent to any such arrangement. Fernandez was said to be an advocate of the ratification of the canal treaty.

General Pinto, the newly appointed minister of government (or interior), is, as stated in Minister Beaupre's dispatch, the governor of the province of Cauca, which province borders on the Pacific ocean, and more than any other portion of Colombia would profit materially by the construction of the water way. General Pinto is said to favor the construction of the canal.

Such unofficial and incomplete information as reaches Washington shows continued opposition on the part of many influential Colombians to the canal treaty, but whether this will be sufficient to defeat ratification cannot be stated at this time.

All Quiet at Bridgeport.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., May 25.—There is not the slightest sign of disturbance in Bridgeport, and trolley cars are running, although they are very poorly patronized. The number of people on the streets is abnormally small. This fact was no doubt brought about by the fact that Sheriff Hawley had 200 deputy sheriffs on hand in the city who had instructions to make arrests at the first sign of violence. Then, too, it was rumored about the city that the policemen had riot guns within easy reach, and this, more than anything else, kept the people off the streets. The entire police force was within easy call, the men who were not on duty on the streets being held in reserve at police headquarters. Some of the men had not been home in thirty hours.

New Assistant Treasury Secretary.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—The appointment of Charles Hallam Keep as assistant secretary of the treasury to succeed Milton E. Ailes, who recently resigned to accept the vice presidency of the Riggs National bank, is announced at the treasury department office. Mr. Keep is a resident of Buffalo and was graduated by Harvard university in the collegiate and law courses. He is forty years old. Since graduation from Harvard Mr. Keep has been a practicing lawyer in the city of Buffalo. The president has approved the appointment. Mr. Keep is expected to take the oath and assume the duties of his office on Wednesday next.

To Help Massacre Victims.

HAVERHILL, Mass., May 25.—At a mass meeting of Hebrews and their sympathizers here several hundred dollars was subscribed for the relief of the sufferers at Kishineff. About $100 already had been raised for the same purpose. An appeal was adopted asking President Roosevelt to take some action in the matter. Thousands of copies of this appeal in the form of a petition will be printed and distributed among the various Jewish societies of the United States, with the request that as many signatures as possible be obtained to each and the whole forwarded to the president.

Sunday Law Enforced.

DANBURY, Conn., May 25.—The old Connecticut blue law relating to Sunday closing of stores was rigidly enforced here. Fruit stores and ice cream parlors were unable to do business because of a warning sent out by the police during the week that an attempt to open such stores would result in arrests. The persons affected by the order threaten that they will insist that every place of business in the city be closed hereafter if the present order is continued in force.

Victim of Ferryboat Disaster.

GLENS FALLS, N. Y., May 25.—Another body of a victim of the Spier Falls ferryboat disaster of April 7 was found floating among the pulp logs in a little bay a few miles below the scene of the accident. It was identified as that of Antonio Paccini of New York. This makes the seventh body which has been found.

Flanigan Execution Postponed.

OSSINING, N. Y., May 25.—Warden Johnson of Sing Sing prison has been notified from Albany that the execution of Arthur Flanigan has been indefinitely postponed by Governor Odell. Beyond the bare notification not to proceed with the execution Warden Johnson received no information.

AN IDEAL LOCATION.

Linden, New Jersey.

ON MAIN LINE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

Largest Burial Parks in the State.

Transportation Facilities superior to those of any other cemetery, as to number of trains, railroad fare, time and distance.

These New Cemeteries, now being developed on the modern park plan, are attracting universal attention.

By Reason of Location Alone they are destined, in a very short time, to become the best-known Cemeteries in the country and, with their natural advantages, the most beautiful and desirable in which to purchase lots.

They are Accessible from every quarter and within easy reach of over 4,000,000 people, and, considering the steady and rapidly increasing growth of Greater New York and its tributary cities and towns, it is only the question of a short time before plots in Rosedale and Linden Park will equal in value those of our most noted cemeteries.

Popular Favor has already been shown to a marked degree in the sale of lots, several hundred having been sold to residents in Elizabeth, Linden, Rahway, Cranford, Jersey City, Orange, Paterson, Westfield, Newark and New York City, and a large number of interments have been made.

In the Days of Happiness we do not know what is to befall us or when the inevitable will occur; therefore, it is a wiser precaution to make provision for a final resting place during health and life than to force the painful duty on one's friends or relatives after death. A place of burial will be needed sooner or later by every one, and no one should neglect selecting a suitable and proper place until future postponement is impossible.

Linden Lodge is the largest, most modern and best equipped Cemetery Lodge in the country and is provided with every requisite for the comfort and convenience of visitors who come to inspect the properties.

DAINTY EFFECTS.

Louis XVI. Styles Popular In This Summer Gowns.

Shadowy effects are much sought after, these being frequently obtained by means of china silks veiled in transparencies, or a more emphatically patterned muslin will be tempered by a similar veiling.

The prevailing styles tend toward the Louis XVI. order with draped flounces and twisted garlands of ribbon. The corsage is principally fichu and a deep pointed corselet.

Scotch straw is the leading millinery fad of the moment. This, as its name implies, is plaided with a predominating tone of blue, green or red, intermingled with a dozen secondary shades. The straw is treated with exceptional lightness and, on close inspection, reveals a series of tiny loops, while the arrangement of the many colors is very tasteful.

Fuchsia flowers and fuchsia shades are all the vogue and are seen both on gowns and on hats.

The straight front corset still prevails, worn looser than ever. It is made in as many instances as possible of fine, flexible material.

A chic gown of dotted veiling is shown in the illustration. It is of deep red over silk of a lighter shade.

The Kilted Skirt—Grass Lawn Is Being Revived.

The kilted skirt is rapidly gaining ground, especially in figured fabrics, and linen, both plain and spotted, is extremely effective when treated in this wise.

Grass lawn is also being revived. Last season an effort was made to put it in vogue, but it never succeeded. Now, however, Parisians have copied all sorts of beautiful oriental embroideries on grass lawn foundations, and this relief to the somewhat somber hues of the latter fabric has produced the desired smart effect. Grass lawn trimmed with eastern embroideries will therefore be a decided feature of the season.

Taffeta tags and bobs are also much used in close proximity to the old fashioned silken chenille fringe. In fact, trimmings alone offer a fair field to the amateur.

There is a distinct fancy for hems of embroidery on frocks—that is to say, embroidery bought by the yard or woven into the material.

Hats with cherries are very smart when the straw is of a light cream color.

Many hats are trimmed only on the underside.

The flat sailor trimmed with wings laid on flat or loops of ribbon brought up from under the brim is always smart and in good taste. Such hats are prettiest in pure white, with an edge of color in velvet.

The little toque bearing the single aigret is seen so much on all sides that it has fallen from popularity with smartly dressed women.

It seems to be one of the necessary conditions of the summer hat of 1903 that it shall tilt up in the front. These shapes are very simply trimmed with a quill and a loop of ribbon or a couple of wings.

The use of all black and all white costumes is increasing.

The cut shows a picturesque hat of black straw. JUDIC CHOLLET.

By WALKER KENNEDY.

Copyright, 1903, by A. N. Kellogg Newspaper Co.

There was one person in the city upon whom Merivale called frequently, and this was Col. James Franklin. As has already been intimated in this story, Col. Franklin was a man who dabbled in a great many enterprises, but he had considerable reputation as a chancery lawyer. He was a man whom it was worth while to consult about real estate investments, questions involving titles and intricate issues connected with the settlement of estates and the rights of ownership. Frequent consultations with Franklin could only be explained on the ground that business of considerable importance was contemplated, business requiring the services of an astute lawyer. Warde knew that it would be useless to try to elicit any information from Franklin, but Hillsman might be induced to become garrulous and tell what he knew. The colonel's clerk was a person to keep his ears open, and who had an inordinate fondness for gossip. Dissipated and unscrupulous, he had a certain natural cunning which had developed in him the peculiar mania of collecting all the discreditable things he could find against those with whom he was acquainted or likely to come in contact. If he could secure the evidence of anything crooked in the life of an apparently respectable man, something that had been hushed up or forgotten, he was as happy as a stamp collector or an autograph fiend over a fresh find. A clipping from an old newspaper narrating a long-forgotten scandal in the life of some prominent officer or respected citizen, a letter in which some finically proper person had "given himself away," a copy of a paper which was never intended to see the light of day, a gambling I. O. U. that had never been paid, or the notes in the suppressed divorce case were objects as valuable in Hillsman's eyes as rare bric-a-brac to a virtuoso. He first began this collection with the idea that perhaps some day he might need these odd bits of information for his own self-protection, and if any of the people on his list undertook to impose on him or to hold him to account for any of his vagaries or irregularities, why, he had the edge on them. No one knew anything of Hillsman's strange collection, but people did know that he had a wonderfully inquiring mind, and a memory of other men's lapses and peccadillos which was both appalling and embarrassing.

Warde at first surmised that the consultations between Merivale and Franklin had not taken place in the latter's office without Hillsman's learning something of them, and so he began quietly to cultivate that individual's society.

The clerk did not prove very communicative, and Warde came to the conclusion that it was because he knew but little. Hillsman's idea was that a big land purchase of some kind was in contemplation, but for what purpose he could not say.

While Warde was still hoping that he would be able to learn something from this source, Hillsman was discharged from Col. Franklin's employment on the ground of too frequent drunkenness, and because he had collected a considerable sum of money for his employer and while under the the influence of liquor had gambled it away. When Warde heard this he abandoned any hope of getting any trustworthy information from Hillsman.

But a singular thing happened that very night. Warde's habit was to take a light lunch about midnight, and he usually got it at a restaurant which was then a great resort in the city. This hostelry kept open all night, and sold everything in the line of liquors and food, from a glass of beer to a crisply cooked pompano. There was scarcely an hour of the night when it was not filled with guests. It was a great rendezvous for actors and persons who had been to the theater. The fast young men about town and the gentlemen gamblers made it their midnight meeting-place. Here well-known politicians who had been at work under cover of darkness usually topped off their labors with a plate of oysters or a bottle of champagne. The place was always cheerful and inviting, and gave a bright side to the night life of the city.

When Warde entered nearly all the tables were occupied by the guests. In a distant corner, however, he saw Hillsman sitting alone.

The clerk saw him at the same time and rather hilariously beckoned to him. Irving accordingly seated himself at Hillsman's table. He soon discovered that Hillsman was in a weaving way; his face was flushed, his eye had an artificial lustre, and it was evident that he had imbibed not wisely, but too much. He was in a maudlin good humor. He had been "fired" that morning, and he was glad of it. He had a sense of relief, which he easily persuaded himself was delightful. There was really some fun in getting fired, and he was determined to celebrate in a thorough and painstaking manner. And so with malice aforethought he was rapidly approaching a state of complete alcoholic Nirvana.

He had welcomed Warde effusively and told him recklessly to order what he wanted. The invitation was accepted, and, as he was hungry and through work for the night, he ordered a substantial supper. While they were waiting, Hillsman insisted on their taking a drink together, and the liquor was soon forthcoming.

"I suppose you heard about my being fired by the governor this morning," said Hillsman, tossing off a large drink of whisky.

"Yes," said Warde, "what was the matter?"

"Why, he complained about my drinking, and accused me of getting drunk. I told him pretty plain that I didn't see any reason why he should do the entire drinking for the office."

"What did he say to that?"

"Why, he cussed me, but lemme tell you, Irv Warde, just between you and me, the governor made a big mistake when he cussed me and fired me out. I know a blamed sight more than he gives me credit for. I'll make him knuckle to me yet; just put that in your note book and write her up in big type. I've got something in my pocket here," tapping his breast, "which Col. Franklin would like to have. He don't know I've got it, either."

Irving's curiosity was now aroused, and he made up his mind to find out what it was that Hillsman had. His thoughts wavered between the Wright case and the mysterious Merivale, and he felt intuitively that the paper to which Hillsman referred had some connection with the matter in which he was deeply interested. It was easy to see that the clerk would in the course of an hour or two be densely intoxicated, and Warde concluded that he would cling to him and wrest the secret from him if it took all night. He accordingly called for another round, and they ate and talked and drank so freely that Warde himself gave every evidence of being intoxicated. It was two o'clock when they arose from the table and settled their score. Then Irving, rather uncertainly, but with commendable firmness, assisted his more unbalanced companion out, and they locked arms with the intention of going to Hillsman's room. On the way they became very affectionate and confidential, and Warde in broken accents, swore that Franklin had treated Hillsman like a brute.

"Thish paper 'll fix him," said Hillsman thickly.

"What paper?" said Irving, no less thickly.

"Thish paper in my pocket. I bet he'll give me $5,000 for it."

"Hope you'll make him pay every cent of it."

"See here, Irv, you're my fren,' ain't you? Well, now, I want you to look over this paper, and tell me how much to ask for it. Look at it when you'sh shober."

He handed the coveted paper over to Warde, who placed it with drunken deliberation in his inside pocket and then buttoned up his coat.

They pursued their zigzag way up the street until they were suddenly stopped by a dark, stalwart man in a heavy cloak. It was Col. Franklin.

"You're the very man I want to see," said Franklin roughly.

"Hello, Colonel, how are you?" said Frank, gayly.

"Colonel who?" said Irving. "Oh, yesh; it's Col. Frank Benjamin. Lesh all go and take a drink."

"You're both drunk enough, now," said the colonel sharply, "and I refuse to participate in your beastly revels. But I want to see this drunkard here," indicating Frank, "if you can spare him."

"All right." And Irving leaned heavily, but gratefully, against the door of a store, while Franklin rather loudly demanded of Hillsman:

"What have you done with the paper Morris gave you for me?"

SEND OFF FOR LIPTON'S FLEET.

Two Shamrocks Leave Thursday For New York.

GLASGOW, May 25.—The preparations completed promise an enthusiastic send off for Sir Thomas Lipton's fleet, which will leave for America next Thursday at 1 p. m. Both the Shamrocks and Sir Thomas' steam yacht Erin are now docked preparatory to their departure. A flotilla of turbine and other steamers, tugs and yachts have been engaged to escort the fleet down the Clyde.

Many prominent men have accepted invitations to be present at the banquet which will be given to Sir Thomas Lipton by the corporation of Greenock tomorrow. Sir Thomas expects that the yachts will make the passage under three weeks.

The French Derby.

PARIS, May 25.—The French Derby (le Prix du Jockey club) was run at Chantilly Sunday afternoon in the presence of a fashionable gathering, including many Americans, who crowded the inclosure and stands. The race resulted in a victory for M. de Pourtales' horse, Ex Voto, at 20 to 1. Edmond Blanc's Quo Vadis was a close second, almost winning by a superb burst of speed at the finish. The favorite, Vinicius, 4 to 7, did not secure a place. No American horses participated in the racing.

New Yorks Won at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, May 25.—New York won the second game of the series yesterday from St. Louis by opportune hitting. New York's batting streak came when most needed. One of the St. Louis errors proved costly. The features were a home run drive over the right field fence by McFarland and the brilliant stops by Wallace and Long. Score: New York, 4; St. Louis, 1.

Raid on Cocking Main.

WESTERLY, R. I., May 25.—The police surprised a party of sixty sports in attendance at a cockfight in progress in a barn at Shannock owned by Mort Gross and arrested forty-seven out of the sixty present. They were brought to this city and arraigned, pleaded guilty and were fined $5 and costs each, except in the case of Gross, who was fined $35 and costs.

Sunday Baseball at Chicago.

CHICAGO, May 25.—Young was at his best yesterday, holding the locals down to four scattered singles and shutting them out. Boston found Flaherty easy and won the game in the first two innings; attendance, 11,300. Score, Boston, 7; Chicago, 0.

BURGLARIES AT NEW HAVEN.

Two Stores Robbed Close to Police Headquarters.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 25.—With only a little more than a city block separating them from police headquarters burglars some time between midnight and 3 o'clock Sunday morning entered the big grocery store of S. S. Adams at the corner of State and Court streets and blew open the safe. They secured about $700 here and then went next door to the store of Knapp & Co. and broke open a small safe. The amount they secured here was quite small, probably $40 or $50.

The robbery was most daring and was the work of experts. The door to a large iron safe containing the proceeds of the day's business was blown off, presumably by dynamite. Their entrance into the Knapp store was made in a similar manner.

The stores which were entered by the burglars are in the center of the business district of the city, and they are scarcely 100 yards away from police headquarters. Patrolmen pass the vicinity frequently during the evening and after midnight try all the doors of the stores.

The burglars left no clew on which the detectives can work, and at the present time the matter is a mystery.

Brave Woman Saves Husband's Life.

DANBURY, Conn., May 25.—That John O'Boy is alive is due to the timely return of his wife, who had been out visiting during the evening. Shortly after Mrs. O'Boy left the house her husband retired for the night. When she returned she discovered that the house was in flames and, seeing no signs of Mr. O'Boy, hurried to his room. The room was filled with smoke, and O'Boy was lying on the bed unconscious. The bedclothing was just beginning to blaze when Mrs. O'Boy rescued him. She half carried, half dragged, her husband outside the building and after some difficulty restored him to consciousness. Mr. O'Boy was slightly burned about the face, and his hair was singed, but he is otherwise none the worse for his experience. The fire was caused by the explosion of a kerosene lamp in Mr. O'Boy's room.

Rockefeller's Generosity.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., May 25.—John D. Rockefeller has offered to increase his donation to the student building fund of Indiana university from $30,000 to $50,000 on condition that a fund of $50,000 be raised from other sources before July 1. Subscriptions to the amount of $35,000 were obtained last year, and the trustees at their next meeting will form plans to secure the required $15,000.

Gompers Talks to Strikers.

LOWELL, Mass., May 25.—President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, addressing an audience of about 4,000 strikers on the South Common, said that to win the strikers must touch the mill men in their pocket books. He made light of the condition of the cotton market. His most significant utterance was as follows: "I believe and I hope that you will win in this fight."

ON THE DIAMOND.

Manager John Steiner, of the Y. M. C. A. team, desires to state that the reason George Bolsterli, of the Scotch Plains team, played with Alis on Saturday was that he did not care to play against the association team, of which he was a former member.

The Holy Terrors defeated the Stelle Avenue A. C. on the Stelle avenue grounds, Saturday afternoon, the score being 18 to 12. This was the first of a series of games between these teams. The Terrors had a superior battery, Mallinson and VanWinkle, and the opposing team had no show. Macbeth and Kirch were the battery for the Stelle Avenue A. C. Another game will be played today and a third on Wednesday.

At the meeting of the Association Baseball League, Saturday evening, at the Reform Club nothing of importance was done beyond changing the umpires. John Madden and Jack Scott were chosen in place of Henry Apgar and William Godown. George Mitchell was retained as substitute. The name of George Whitley was taken from the list of the Orange Field Club and William Kenneth's name was added. The change will take effect June 6.

BROTHERS DIE TOGETHER

DOUBLE DROWNING ACCIDENT NEAR BOUND BROOK YESTERDAY.

Earl Ward Fell Into Lake—Brother John Went After Him—Neither Reappeared.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Bound Brook, May 25—This community was greatly shocked yesterday, when the news of a double drowning accident spread through the town. The victims were the two older sons of John M. Ward, John and Earl, aged seventeen and thirteen respectively.

In company with their younger brother, Thomas, they had planned to spend the afternoon fishing in a lake near their home. While fishing Earl fell into the lake. When he failed to re-appear, at the surface, John dove after him. Neither came up and Thomas ran home with all speed and notified his father who after considerable time brought the boys to the surface. They were locked in each others arms and it is supposed that when the eldest son dove into the water, he was grasped by his brother and thus prevented from raising.

The father is a trusted employe of the Lincoln Waterproof Cloth Company, of Lincoln.

Circus Successful End.

The I. C. T. Club circus came to a close Saturday evening after a successful two nights' run. The performances Saturday were well attended and every body was pleased. The club will net a fair amount from this enterprise.

The Wastes of the Body.

Every seven days the blood, muscles and bones of a man of average size loses two pounds of wornout tissue. This waste cannot be replenished and the health and strength kept up without perfect digestion. When the stomach and digestive organs fail to perform their functions, the strength lets down, health gives way, and disease sets up, Kodol Dyspepsia Cure enables the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all of the wholesome food that may be eaten into the kind of blood that rebuilds the tissues and protects the health and strength of the mind and body. Kodol cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia and all stomach troubles. It is an ideal spring tonic. Sold by L. W. Randolph.

He also said that the club had lost nearly fifty members because the course was not opened on Sunday. He believed that the opening would be a great benefit. He did not believe that any policeman had a right to stop Sunday baseball if permission to use a field was obtained.

After George A. Strong made a strong plea against the opening from a purely religious view. Mr. Chapman read a letter from C. W. McCutchen, in which the latter urged strongly the defeat of the amendment. This concluded the speeches and a vote on the question was called for.

The vote was secretly by ballot, the members walking up to the ballot box as their names were called by the secretary. It did not take long to take the vote and count it and when the result was known, there was general applause. In fact throughout the meeting there was applause first on the part of those for the amendment and then by those against it, while in the private boxes were a number of society women who favored the amendment and applauded every point made in support of it.

MORE BLOCK SIGNALS.

System on Jersey Central Will be Extended to the Newark and New York Branch This Summer.

Plans have been prepared and accepted by the New Jersey Central for equipping the Newark and New York branch with block signals of the latest approved pattern. It is reported that when all improvements are completed the company proposes to operate trains under twelve minutes' headway, during the rush hours between Newark and New York, the expresses covering the distance between Jersey City and Newark in ten minutes.

The New Jersey Central is paying special attention to the signal features of its service. All old-type signals have been taken out and replaced with signals of the latest improved type and today the road is equipped with the most modern and up-to-date style of signal apparatus known.

SAW ERNER STRIKE MAN

Important Testimony Given at Murder Trial by Michael Wiza, Eye Witness.

SAYS HE SAW MURDER

Witnesses for State Were Put on Stand Yesterday Afternoon and Continued Today—Some Very Important Facts Brought Out by Witnesses.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, May 26—In the Somerset County Court of Oyer and Terminer at 2:30 o'clock yesterday morning the case of the State against Joseph Erner was resumed by Justice Garretson. The court room was again crowded by a large number of people, all of whom were anxious to see the man whose life is at stake.

The prisoner is a man about thirty-five years of age, has a wife and three children. He was indicted for the murder of John Driff, his godfather, at Bound Brook on Christmas morning last. Erner was a pallbearer at Driff's funeral and it is said that when he saw the murdered man's body his actions were such as to arouse suspicion.

It is asserted that, just previous to the murder, Erner was near the spot where Driff was found. At the Coroner's inquest it developed that Erner and a Slav butcher quarrelled and that the prisoner chased the latter into Fazeka's saloon, threatening to kill him. Erner was ejected and waited outside for the Slav, who was afraid of Erner and remained in the saloon over night. Driff was killed on the sidewalk about 25 feet from Fazeka's saloon by a blow on the head with a club which was found by his side. This bludgeon was exhibited in court.

Dungan & Reger are representing the defendant and Prosecutor Griggs appears for the State.

The first witnesses called in the afternoon were Joshua Doughty, Jr., and John W. Baldwin, who identified the maps and photographs, respectively. Geo. D. Totten, who helped with the maps and photos, also testified in relation to the same.

John Kimkosky, the man who was Driff's roommate and who had a fight with the murdered man about a year ago, said he was at Stavich's saloon on Christmas eve and that Jos. Erner, John Driff and his brother, Joseph, and Valedega Zelakoski were there. Erner picked a quarrel with the latter and chased him out of the saloon. They went from that one to Fazeka's house up the street. Erner followed Zelakoski there and threatened him. Fazekas, the proprietor, cleared all the men out of his saloon, excepting the one who was pursued by Erner. Erner was seen afterward outside waiting for his man.

Valedega Zelakoski was sworn and told of his being in Stavich's saloon Erner came in and told him he worked for 50 cents a day; he (Erner) said he worked where he got his $2 and lived like a man. They quarreled and the witness would not fight. He says he went to Fazekas' and staid all night.

Charles Zevata testified that Erner came into Fazekas' saloon and asked for Joseph, John Driff's brother. Later he came back and approached Zelakoski and wanted to renew the fight begun at Stavich's. Then Fazekas cleared them all out and kept Zelakoski for protection. The witness saw Erner in his dooryard, near where the murdered man was found. Called out to him and he went into the house and slammed the door.

Michael Wiza, who has lived in Bound Brook some time and is in the employ of the Standard Paint Works, said he was going home, up Talmage avenue, at an early hour on Christmas morning. He did not know the time, as his watch had stopped. He says he saw Driff going from Stavich's saloon toward Fazekas', one block away. He was going the same way Driff was. Driff passed Erner's place. He saw Erner come from his gate and immediately strike Driff over the head with a club. The witness saw Driff fall and was so scared that he turned back the other way and ran home.

Wiza resumed his testimony this morning.

Nelson Y. Dungan, of the firm of Dungan & Reger, who are defending the prisoner, threw a scare into the

TO WHITEWASH THE ROCK

AFTER SUBSCRIPTIONS TO PAY THE EXPENSE OF IT.

The Residents of Borough Want to Give Rock a Coat Before Memorial Day.

William N. Pangborn, of the borough, is quietly at work getting subscriptions among the people of this city which a number of citizens in the borough will use to re-whitewash Washington Rock before Decoration Day. The rocks are badly in need of a coat of lime as it is now nearly two years since they have received any attention in that line, and what lime still clings to the rocks is only in protected niches.

A permit has been secured by Mr. Pangborn from property onwers near the rocks to chop down some of the trees which hide the face of the stones from Dunellen and Plainfield. About $12 is necessary to carry out the work and already small contributions have been received. Money for this purpose may be left at this office.

When John W. Laing was proprietor of the Laing Hotel at the corner of Madison avenue and West Front street, where the Babcock building now stands, he used to look after this work every year at his own expense but since his death no one has done the work and the rocks have been neglected.

The report of the treasurer showed that the receipts and expenditures for the year were the same, $17,000, which is a trifle more than the year before.

Contrary to expectations, there was no discussion regarding the new hospital, but much time was spent in discussing matters pertaining to hospital matters in general.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETS PUBLICLY AT SCHOOL

Borough School Board Includes That in the Revised Rules Approved Last Night.

THE ROUTINE BUSINESS

RICHARD M'DONALD REAPPOINTED JANITOR ON OLD SALARY.

Coal Supply Ordered to Save Money—Some New Teachers—School Reopens for the Fall Term September 8.

Besides revising the rules draughted by the committee on rules which comprises Samuel Townsend and John Valiant, nothing else of importance excepting routine business was transacted at last night's meeting of the Borough Board of Education when all the members were present.

Many essential changes were made in the rules relating to the purchase of supplies, and many other matters including the words in the first rule changing the place of meeting, as stated in the old rules, to the Somerset Street School building instead of "in the supervising principal's room;" and making the meeting public excepting in cases where the board desires to go into executive session or when the board decides to hold a private session.

In the routine business which came up before the board there were several matters of moment.

It was stated by the President that Miss French has been re-engaged as assistant teacher at the Watchung School. Dr. Cooley, as chairman of the building and grounds committee, reported that he has ordered the supply of coal for the coming year. One hundred tons have been ordered which will mean a saving of a dollar a ton in the coal bill.

After considerable discussion it was decided to re-appoint the janitor, Richard McDonald, for another year at the same salary as heretofore beginning July 1, but with the understanding that if his work is not satisfactory upon notice of thirty days he shall be removed. Henry DeMott, of Somerset street, made a proposition to the board, offering to keep a man at the school continually for the sum of $75 a month and offered his services whenever they were needed. His proposition was laid upon the table.

Chairman, Dr. Cooley, of the building and grounds committee, reported that he had received a communication from the committee in charge of the commencement day exercises of the senior class asking that that class be permitted to hold its exercises in the chapel. The matter was not considered as the board, at a previous meeting, decided that it would necessitate the removal of the seats in the room causing damage to the flooring.

Chairman Woodruff, of the supplies committee, reported that the cost of supplies this year would amount to $1,095.58 with $384.31 for manual training, making the total cost $1,479.89. The appropriation for expenses outside of the manual training department, provided at the last election was $1,200. A bid was received by Mr. Woodruff from a publishing house bidding on the work of supplying the books etc., which will mean a saving of from $150 to $200 on the bill with a discount if the order is placed before June 15 and a further discount if the bill is paid in cash. The chairman was authorized to purchase the supplies at an amount not to exceed the amount stated.

Samuel Townsend, as chairman of the truancy committee, reported that that work was well in hand and he was able to report very favorably. The attendance at the school as a result of the crusade was much better.

President of the Board James R. Joy announced that Miss E. M. VerPlank and Miss E. M. Richards have accepted positions as teachers for the coming year. This completes the list of teachers for the opening term.

On motion of Chairman John Valiant, of the finance and auditing committee, the president and clerk were authorized to issue warrants for $2,498.53 for which $2,274.39 is for the general fund and $224.14 is for the manual training department.

Superintendent Homer J. Wightman made a suggestion that the school term open on September 8, which was agreed upon by the members. Mr. Valiant stated that the insurance on the school building would expire in July. The policy will be renewed at 40 cents. $15 were voted by the board

A DIFFERENCE.

The Sporting Propensities of W. S. Chase Land Him in Difficulties—Boys Broke Window.

Winfield Scott Chase, arrested by Patrolman Higgins, for drunkenness, found there was considerable difference in the morning when he faced City Judge Runyon today. His little escapade set him back in this world's goods to the extent of just $3.

George Austin and James McCrea, colored boys, played hide-and-go-seek last evening through the plate glass window of Daly Brothers' grocery store. Judge Runyon reproached them this morning for their too strenuous activity, and held the case over pending further investigation into the extent of the damages.

Name Omitted.

Through some error the name of Miss Florence B. Conroy, one of the four year pupils of the North Plainfield High School, was omitted from the invitations prepared by the committee in charge of the Senior class day exercises. There were only a few of the invitations issued and these will be recalled and others will be printed.

Local Women Will Go.

AUTHORITY ON BIRDS TALKS TO WORKERS

Audobon Society Holds Its Annual Meeting in Crescent Ave. Church—New Officers.

DR. W. DUTCHER SPOKE

DETAILS OF PROGRESS OF THE SOCIETY IN OTHER STATES.

Discussion of Ways and Means of Protecting Feathered Flocks—Agreement With Milliners' Association for Bird Protection.

The annual meeting of the Audobon Society of New Jersey, at the Crescent Avenue church last evening, was addressed by Dr. William Dutcher, of New York City, the treasurer of the American Ornithological Society, and the highest authority in the world on the birds of Long Island. President Alexander Gilbert presided.

Dr. Dutcher spoke of the work of the association during the past year, referring to the agreement with the Millinery Merchants Protective Association as the most important achievement. By this agreement, made with the New York Audobon Society, the Milliners Association bound itself not to deal in or import a specified number of song birds and other harmless and useful birds. Eight States, during the past year, have added to their statutes laws prohibiting the slaughter of birds, and progress in safeguarding their preservation is reported in nearly every State of the Union.

Dr. Dutcher spoke of the necessity of insisting upon a legislature and a governor in New Jersey who should be pledged to favor laws encouraging the preservation of birds. He concluded by references to the educational work of the Audobon Society, which is preparing a series of pamphlets designed to inculcate a love for birds and a knowledge of their habits.

The society adopted resolutions concurring in the agreement with the Milliners' Association. The following officers were re-elected to serve for another year:

President, Alexander Gilbert; honorary vice presidents, Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, of Plainfield; Mrs. Sophie Bledsoe Herrick, of Bayonne; Mrs. Pierre Malli, of Plainfield; Mrs. Charles B. THE PROSPECTS ARE BRIGHT

FOR BAND CONCERTS DURING THE SUMMER MONTHS.

Ben LaVere and Bert Harold Collected $45 in a Short Time Last Evening.

The prospects of band concerts in Plainfield this summer are very bright, if the excellent start made by Ben. LaVere and Bert Harold, last evening, is a criterion. In a short time these two men succeeded in securing subscriptions to the amount of $45 as follows:

Mr. LaVere, who is to have charge of the concerts and will direct the band, is planning to give ten concerts during the season and he will get together musicians of exceptional ability. Every man will be a soloist and Mr. LaVere will present programmes of unusual merit. As yet it has not been decided just where the concerts will be given, but Mr. LaVere hopes to secure a place convenient for all. Any person desiring to contribute toward the concerts can communicate with either Mr. LaVere or Mr. Harold or they can leave their contribution at The Daily Press office.

D., of Toronto, who arrived in New York, Sunday, after a tour of Australia in the interest of the order, will be given a grand reception by the New Jersey Foresters this evening in Kruger Auditorium, Newark. Dr. H. H. Lowrie, High Chief Ranger, of New Jersey, will preside and Hon. Elliot Stevensen, of Chicago, Supreme Counsellor, of the order, will also be present. A fine musical and literary entertainment is promised, and Foresters who neglect to attend will miss a treat. There will be large delegations present from the local courts as well as those from Westfield, South Plainfield and Dunellen.

Found Its Parents.

A large number of Saturday night shoppers on West Front street were attracted by a small boy crying loudly at the corner of Front and Somerset streets. When Officer Vanderweg came along the people turned the lad over to the officer who learned that the little fellow had become lost from his parents. The child was found by his father at the police station later.

Building Summer House.

Lester B. Harris, of Mt. Pleasant, is having a fine summer house built on his property. It is 12x12 feet square and it is expected that it will be finished by June 1. A large flag pole has been placed in front of the house and yesterday for the first a flag was floated to the breeze.

Troubled His Hens.

LIES AT THE POINT OF DEATH

Little Theressa Watson Was Operated on at Muhlenberg Hospital Last Evening.

THE BULLET FOUND

Willie James Still Being Held by the Borough Police Pending Result of Injuries—Photographed in His Prison Cell This Morning.

The borough stands aghast at the sad shooting of little Theressa Watson by ten-year-old Willie James yesterday morning, and all last evening and this morning it was the one topic of discussion. The boy who did the shooting is still in the custody of the borough police while his little victim, who was shot because she cried to be taken home, lies at the point of death at Muhlenberg Hospital.

An operation was performed on the child last evening by Drs. Buchanan and Pittis with the result that the bullet, a 22 calibre missile, was found buried in the lower part of the abdomen. A telephone call at the hospital this noon brought the news that the child was in a very critical condition. The father of the little girl is almost heart broken over the affair and as he has been without sleep since Friday night his friends fear a collapse under the terrific strain. He has a family of six children to support the oldest of whom is but 17 years of age.

Mrs. James does not seem very much concerned over the arrest of her son. She is a poor woman with a large family of little ones, the youngest being but an infant in arms. She is under the care of the Overseer of the Poor of North Plainfield township. She admits that her son Willie has been incorrigible for several years. He will not go to school and has made much trouble for his mother. He is an inveterate dime novel reader.

This morning the child was photographed in his prison cell by a photographer from a New York newspaper. No hearing was given him last evening by the recorder and the child is being held pending the result of the injuries to the Watson girl in the hospital. Unless the James boy demands a hearing he will be committed to await the action of the Grand Jury at Somerville. In view of his tender age it is probable that Judge Schenck will take up the matter at once and take some action to have him sent to the Reform School.

This afternoon the lad was taken before Justice Mattison where Chief Marshal William B. Campbell brought him before Harry S. Watson, father of the little child who lies at the hospital in a dangerous condition. He entered a complaint against the lad and later this afternoon he was taken to Somerville by Chief Campbell.

While the boy has been confined in the prison he has been deserted by all. Even his mother has not been to see him and even his brothers and sisters have held aloof from him. The poor little fellow has been alone with the entire community staring at him. This is one of the very worse cases of juvenile degeneracy which has come before the borough police.

BOUGHT AND SOLD.

Several Properties Change Owners Through D. Foster Updike.

D. Foster Updike, the insurance and real estate agent of Front street, is kept busy attending to real estate sales and transfers. A farm near Flagtown, forty-one acres brought $5,000; a house and lot at 63 Summit avenue was sold to William H. Morehouse, of East Orange, for $6,000; a farm of ninety-eight acres at Englishtown, N. J., was purchased by a Plainfield party for $2,100; and George E. Fell, of Trenton, N. J., bought a house and lot at 1637 West Front street, for $1,800.

SOME OF ATTRACTIONS TO BE FOUND AT LOCAL STORES.

A Few Interesting Items Concerning Greater Plainfield's Merchants

Boys' and youths' Oxford ties, in patent leather and vici kid are specialties in M. C. VanArsdale's shoe store this week.

There are not many stores in town where tender meats and fresh vegetables are purchaseable. Fred. Endress' place on West Front street is one, and his prices are the lowest possible for good goods.

Untrimmed millinery is being made a specialty of this week at I. H. Boehm's store. There everything that can be secured cheap in New York can be secured cheaper at Boehm's and what is more the goods can be wholly relied upon.

If you are a patron of S. Scheuer & Company, the grocers, you know how reasonably you can buy the best quality of groceries and meats. This firm takes a back seat for no other concern in the business and they guarantee satisfaction and prompt delivery.

Dudley S. Miller, the Park avenue druggist, still continues to give his patrons the best of service, as well as the best of medicines and drugs. His prescription department is second to none in the city. Mr. Miller also handles a superior line of confection and cigars.

Have you seen the souvenir spoons at Charles E. Vail's jewelry store in Park avenue? In the bowl of the spoon are excellent pictures of the various city churches and attractive places about the city. The quality of the goods is the best and they make an excellent present for any person interested in Plainfield.

Silbert Brothers have the finest line of silverware and jewelry of any place in this city. It is the finest stock because it comprises the largest assortments. Their store is on Somerset street, near Front, and those contemplating taking the marriage vows or making wedding presents the coming month will do well to visit that store.

If it were possible for sound to be transmitted from the sun to the earth, an explosion on the sun would be heard by inhabitants of this earthly sphere fourteen years after its occurrence. It doesn't take that long for people to hear the news that Hodge's Pharmacy is the best place in town to get their cold drinks. One trial is enough.

THEATRICAL.

At the Broadway Theatre where "The Prince of Pilsen" is proving a most popular attraction, the management has put the house in summer shape. Electric fans are in every niche and corner and the entire ground floor has been reseated with cane chairs.

The 481st week of continuous vaudeville at B. F. Keith's Union Square Theatre, which will be celebrated during the coming week, shows no abatement of interest on the part of the public or any falling off of the character of the entertainment offered. Headliners are as thick as ordinary acts at other houses and it is a hard matter to know just which ones to put forth as the leaders. Lillian Burkhart, vaudeville's daintiest actress of comedy, will present for the first time here her latest success "A Strenuous Daisy." She will be assisted by an able company and should score well. Press Eldridge, well named "The Commander-in-Chief of the Army of Fun," will render some of his popular songs and witty sayings. The famous singers and unique comedians, "The Yankee Four" will be seen in their skit, "A Rube Hotel."

Nasal Catarrh quickly yields to treatment by Ely's Cream Balm, which is agreeably aromatic. It is received through the nostrils, cleanses and heals the whole surface over which it diffuses itself. A cold in the head immediately disappears when Cream Balm is used. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren street, New York.

ACROSS WASHINGTON

President Reaches the Beautiful Yakima Valley.

GARDEN OF EDEN WAS BARREN WASTE

Irrigation the Great Benefactor—National Reservoirs Will Be Constructed to Tap the Columbia and Snake Rivers.

PASCO, Wash., May 26.—The president's train, which left Seattle last night over the Northern Pacific railway, glided down the beautiful Yakima valley into Cleilum, where the first speech of the day was made to a thousand coal miners who had come down from Roslyn. At North Yakima the president spoke on irrigation to a large audience. He dwelt here on the importance of irrigating and of the approval of the acts of the last session of congress. A feature of the crowd here was the presence of thousands of Indians from the Yakima reservation. At Ellensburg the president spoke fifteen minutes on good citizenship to 5,000 people. First of all he said:

"Let me greet those whom I know others will not grudge my specially greeting, men of the Grand Army and the representatives of those who did even more than the men of the civil war, the women, for, while the men went to battle, to the women fell the hardest task of seeing husband or lover, father or brother, going to the war, she herself having to stay behind with the load of doubt, anxiety and uncertainty and often the difficulty of making both ends meet in the household while the breadwinner was away."

The president asked that Captain Steinman of the First Washington regiment be presented to him at the close of the speech. While speaking he referred to Steinman's company having been the severest sufferer among the volunteers in the Philippine campaign. When Steinman was introduced the president grasped his hand and said warmly:

"Captain, I know all about you and your company. Your company was a crackajack, and I am mighty glad to meet you and to know you."

The presidential party arrived in Pasco at 2:05 p. m. and were greeted by a crowd of about 750. The president made a general talk on irrigation, stating that through the assistance of the national irrigation act all the so called barren wastes, including that surrounding Pasco, would undoubtedly be irrigated, that national reservoirs would be constructed to conserve the supply of water now going to waste in the Columbia and Snake rivers and the barren waste would be changed to a veritable garden of Eden.

To the president was given a box of assorted fruits grown about four miles from Pasco as a testimonial of what Pasco land would do under irrigation. The president spoke for a little over ten minutes. The eastward journey was then resumed.

About 500 people, including many school children, met the presidential train at Wallula. The president made a brief address, directed largely to the school children, in which he encouraged them to keep on striving to secure an education. He spoke in complimentary terms of the resources of the country and its possibilities if irrigation could be secured.

Flowers were presented to him by the school children. After a stop of about ten minutes the journey to Walla Walla was resumed.

Saloons and Gambling Dens to Go.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Until he is satisfied with conditions at Bremerton, Wash., in the vicinity of the navy yard, Acting Secretary Darling will direct that no more ships be ordered there for repair or docking. MATCHLESSLY BEAUTIFUL ASSORTMENTS—The worthiest, daintiest and most exquisitely trimmed productions from the best of French and American makers, gathered with a view to fairly outrivaling the greatest of all past similar sales. Sharp advances in both the price of material and labor have increased the cost of manufacture, but by placing large orders when makers were neither pressed for time nor overwhelmed with ready money, we made many extremely advantageous purchases, resulting in offerings of a never equaled kind. Materials are right, workmanship up to that standard of excellence always demanded by us, and skimped or poorly fashioned garments are never, under any circumstances, admitted to a stock that is absolutely without a counterpart in the city or State. Other departments have been encroached upon for additional space, and numerous lots will be found on main floor aisle tables. Comparison will demonstate superiority at every point.

A WAY OPEN.

Many a Plainfield Reader Knows It Well.

There is a way open to convince the greatest skeptic. Scores of Plainfield people have made it possible. The public statement of their experience is proof the like of which has never been produced before in Plainfield. Read this case of it given by a citizen:

Mrs. W. W. Mills, of No. 86 Summit avenue, says: "I suffered at times with a severe pain across the small of my back and in my hips. If I did any lifting or stooping my back became lame and sore and though I used plasters they only helped me for the time being. I was feeling very badly when I had my attention called to Doan's Kidney Pills. They were so highly recommended for troubles like mine that I got a box at L. W. Randolph's drug store. I felt their good effects in a few days. When I had finished the treatment my back was better and stronger and I had much more energy to attend household duties."

NEBRASKA DISASTER

Tornadoes Sweep the Blackwater State.

IN CLAY, FRANKLIN AND KEARNEY.

Fifteen Persons Lost Their Lives, and Over a Score Suffer More or Less Serious Injury—Property Loss $60,000.

HASTINGS, Neb., May 26.—A series of heavy storms, two of which developed into the worst tornadoes that have visited southern Nebraska for years, have passed over portions of Clay, Franklin and Kearney counties. Fifteen persons are known to have lost their lives, and over a score of persons were more or less seriously injured.

Near Norman, at the home of Daniel McCurdy, a number of relatives and friends were spending the day, and not one in the house escaped death or serious injury. Two miles south of Upland German Lutheran services were being held in a schoolhouse when the storm struck and demolished it, killing four of the occupants, including the minister, and injuring a number of others.

The storm was equally destructive at Fairfield, but the people were warned of its coming and sought cellars for safety. Six dwellings were blown to pieces at that place, but their occupants escaped injury, with a few exceptions. Every dwelling and outbuilding in the path of the tornado was blown to pieces, and the financial loss thus far accounted for will reach about $60,000.

The family of Peter Hockinson, nine in number, living near Norman, were separated by the storm, but afterward reunited, it being feared at first that most of them had been killed.

There were two tornadoes, both originating within a mile of Fairfield. The first one moved to the northwest and the second off to the southwest. The one to the northwest did the greater damage, and all the fatalities seem to have been in its path. The greatest loss of property was sustained by farmers. The heaviest individual loss reported is that suffered by Charles Taylor, who places the damage to his stock farm, including cattle and horses killed, at $21,000.

Soldier Killed by a Negro.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., May 26.—George Engels, a private in Company A, First United States infantry, stationed at Fort Brady, is dead from a stab wound inflicted by Larry Oliver, a colored citizen of this city. Oliver, who has a white wife, was walking home with her, when several soldiers from the fort followed them, making remarks about the couple. Oliver claims that finally three of them jumped on him. In the fight that followed Oliver says he saw Engels put his hand in his pocket as if to draw a revolver, and he thereupon drew out a knife and stabbed the soldier several times. Public sympathy is with Oliver, who has a good reputation.

French Duel With Usual Result.

PARIS, May 26.—A duel with pistols was fought at Villebon, near Paris, between Prince Radziwill, an attache of the Russian embassy in London, and Count Edward Sizzo of Noris, an Austrian nobleman and a well known London clubman. The duel was the outcome of a quarrel over cards, and Count Sizzo was the challenger. Shots were three times exchanged at fifteen paces, but neither of the duelists were injured. The principals were reconciled on the ground. Besides the four seconds, who all came from London, a doctor was the only person to witness the duel.

Three Shots In Street Affray.

FREEDOM, Pa., May 26.—In a shooting affray on the street three men were shot, one fatally. They were: Leo Oranzo, shot above the heart, through the right shoulder and through the left arm; cannot recover. Tony Oranzo, shot in the right shoulder; Angelo Tureinzo, shot in the back. The men, all Italians, were intoxicated and quarreled over some trivial matter. There were many narrow escapes of pedestrians.

Glass Blowers Want More Pay.

PITTSBURG, May 26.—At a conference of the executive board of the Glass Bottle Blowers' association and representatives of the manufacturers held here the bottle blowers asked for an increase in the wages of the stopper makers. They also asked for a half holiday on Saturdays. These propositions will be considered by the manufacturers.

Chicago Building Collapsed.

CHICAGO, May 26.—One man was killed and another seriously injured by the collapse of a building under construction at West Forty-eighth and North avenue. Both men were laborers employed upon the structure. The cause of the disaster is not known. It occurred in the height of a severe thunderstorm.

Three More Bodies Found.

GLENS FALLS, N. Y., May 26.—Three more bodies of victims of the Spier Falls disaster of April 7 have been found, all of them in the log booms a few miles from the scene of the disaster. Those identified are Paolo Capestrani and De Rosa Michele. Ten bodies have thus far been recovered.

Carnegie Has Another Library.

KINGSTON, N. Y., May 26.—The corner stone of the Carnegie library in this city was laid yesterday. The library will cost $30,000. It forms one of an imposing group of public buildings of which the city hall is the center.

NO ROWDYISM.

In the wild excitement over baseball last summer, there was one deplorable feature of the games which was noted at a number of games and commented on by The Daily Press. That was the inclination of a number of the rooters to indulge in personalities about players and officials which were disgusting and ungentlemanly and which should not be allowed on any well-regulated baseball field.

In one of last Saturday's games, this feature again appeared. All sorts of slurs and undignified remarks were shouted at players and men who had taken women with them were ashamed of the exhibition. While it was not as bad, perhaps, as in some of last year's games, there was a decided tendency to continue those same tactics.

Good, clean "rooting" is one of the exciting parts of a baseball game. There isn't one of us who doesn't like to applaud or ever shout when a good play is made and the game grows exciting. Such bursts of enthusiasm are expected. But no conditions call for personal remarks about the players and their appearance. There is no possible reason for any of the spectators indulging in personalities. While we feel certain that none of the managers are in sympathy with such efforts, we hope that all the local teams will unite in stopping every suggestion of such despicable tactics, that offenders will be promptly dealt with so that there can be no question as to the stand taken by all the local managements on the question.

Yesterday's Daily Press told of a series of accidents to children in or near Plainfield, several of which resulted fatally and others seriously. Not for a long time has such a chapter of them appeared at one time. One in particular brought to public notice a custom which had prevailed among many of the boys of the community for some time. It has been thought good fun to catch rides on trolley cars, particularly the open ones. It is next to impossible for the conductors to keep the boys off the cars when there is a crowd of passengers, and only the sorrowful lesson to be drawn from the death of that little boy of the borough, can serve as a sad warning to others to keep off the cars except as regular passengers and in the regular way.

Probably one of the best object lessons on the subject of Sunday golf was the Westfield Golf Club. One can truthfully say that Westfield is not proud of its golf club, as far as the Sunday happenings are concerned. Plainfield can now hold up its head with the knowledge that Sunday golf is not to come here for some time to come, at least.

As Saturday will be Memorial Day and a legal holiday, The Daily Press will not be published that day. The regular column of church notices will appear in Friday's issue. It is therefore desirable that notices for that column should reach this office Thursday afternoon or not later than 9 o'clock Friday morning.

Following out the usual custom the local members of the G. A. R. attended divine service on the Sunday evening preceding Memorial Day. Now they are preparing for the exercises to be held on Memorial Day itself when the graves of those who have gone before will be decorated with flowers.

The Hillside Tennis and Golf Club loses a valuable man by the resignation of Elliot T. Barrows from the chairmanship of the greens committee and as a member of the board of trustees. He has done a great deal for that club since he has held the office at the head of the greens committee.

Somerset county is having another murder trial. Despite the fact that it is one of the smallest counties in the State in point of population, Somerset manages to have more thrilling experiences than many of the large counties.

The Association League is making a good start. Its second series of game Saturday were highly satisfactory to the management of the new league.

for the senior class day exercises as has been the custom of the board for a number of years. It was announced that the class day speaker would be Rev. Dr. Jesse Lyman Hurlbut.

A report from the district collector was read showing that there was $8,354.30 in the treasury.

Before the meeting adjourned it was decided to approve the revised rules and the committee on rules was authorized to have 250 copies printed in book form.

A matter was brought up outside of the regular business of the meeting of the board when the question as to whether or not to allow a fair to be held on the school grounds was discussed. It was stated that the class of '04 was in no way connected with the bazaar and the use of the grounds was denied Henry C. Brose, who arranged the affair.

CAUSE OF TRAGEDY.

Mrs. DeF. Blames the Saloons for Ross' Downfall.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—The brave Councilman (all honor to him) who last February refused to be pursuaded to vote to license the Plainfield barrooms, can congratulate himself today and be thankful that he is not an accessory after the fact as every other voting Councilman is in the Ross tragedy. And now as Ross and other poor inebriates have been spending their money for years in the barrooms and year after year the city has taken that money for license, why, according to the law of civil damage, should not the city provide for the proper support of the families thus robbed, and what right has any one to call them paupers when they would only be getting back a small part of what belongs to them. By the way, why is it that the liquor dealers who of all others, do the most damages are not called upon to pay for the trouble they caused and as these men are daily violating the city ordinance which forbids selling their poison to drunkards and minors, why are they never punished? Though their patrons are time after time before the City Judge does he or the policemen make any effort to learn who sells them the drink. Did they make any inquiries as to where William Ross got his last drink?

Mrs. DeF.

PERSONAL.

M. Sauber, of North avenue, has returned from a four months' business trip through the west.

Miss Hattie Dunlap, of Somerset street, has been taken to the hospital to be treated for typhoid pneumonia. Dr. Lufburrow is in charge.

Mr. and Mrs. George P. Mellick have closed their residence on East Seventh street and are now residing at their bungalow near the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club.

Mrs. Foster's Luncheon.

An informal luncheon was given yesterday at the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club by Mrs. John Gray Foster for Miss Ethel Pratt, of New York, the fiancee of her nephew, Howard Foster, of New York. The affair was given to introduce Miss Pratt in Plainfield. Covers were laid for twenty-four guests and the event was a charming one in every respect.

Pine Brush Burned.

A still alarm rung in shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon was for the burning of some pine brush on the Magie property on East Front street, owned by Tony Morro. The hose wagon disclosed five lengths of hose and disposed of the difficulty without much ado.

Next Preacher.

Rev. Dr. James G. Inglis, of Bay City, Michigan, will have charge of the prayer meeting at the Crescent Avenue church, tomorrow evening. He will also preach at the church next Sunday morning and evening.

DUNELLEN.

Tomorrow afternoon a team composed largely of players on the Dunellen A. C. will play the All-Plainfield team on Hope Common. The team will play under the name of the West End A. C., of New York. The regular infield of the local team will play, the only changes being in the outfield. A large number of local fans will witness the contest.

"Dave" Smith, captain and manager of the locals, is undoubtedly the fastest base runner in this vicinity. Smith was formerly a sprinter of some repute and his training thus helps him in getting around the bases in quick time. Ettinger is another good base stealer.

A trolley car is a rather novel conveyance to go to a fire in, but that is what the local firemen did Sunday evening, with their engine on behind. The fire was out before they reached it, however.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

That the village intends to support the baseball management in putting up a good article of baseball was shown after the game with the Y. M. C. A. on Saturday. The team lost money on the game. As soon as one of the rooters from the borough heard of it he came forward with a nice donation and offered to make it more if necessary. Such ready response is very encouraging to those who have worked hard to put as strong a team upon the field is it has been possible to get together.

Manager Johnston has booked Newark's strongest team, the Celluloids, for Saturday afternoon. The visitors played one of the cleanest and best games of ball seen here last season. This season's team is said to be even stronger and a close and exciting game is assured.

DANIEL V. MILLER'S ARREST.

Payne Says He Is Charged With Accepting Bribe.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Postmaster General Payne made the announcement of the latest development in the post office investigation in a formal brief statement as follows:

"Daniel V. Miller, assistant attorney in the office of the assistant attorney general for the post office department, is charged with accepting a bribe for a decision in connection with a case before the department involving the fraudulent use of the mails by John J. Ryan & Co. The case has been in the hands of Inspectors W. J. Vickery of Cincinnati and R. M. Fulton of St. Louis for some days. Complaint was made by Inspector Fulton before a United States commissioner in Cincinnati, and a warrant was issued.

Another warrant has been issued for the arrest of a man who is charged with being the partner or a go between in the transaction. A post office inspector has gone west from Cincinnati to effect the arrest, which is expected to occur today. The bribe is alleged to have been accepted at Cincinnati last December.

Miller has waived examination and was released on $1,500 bonds for appearance next autumn. The warrant, it was learned, charges conspiracy instead of bribery, as first reported. A warrant on the same charge has been issued for the arrest of Joseph M. Johns, a lawyer of Rockville, Parke county, Ind. It was intended to have both arrests made at the same time, but no report has been received yet of Johns' apprehension.

EMIGRANTS FROM EUROPE.

Marcus Braum's Tour of Inspection. Thinks Emigration Will Increase.

VIENNA, May 26.—Marcus Braum, a United States emigrant inspector who was specially detailed by President Roosevelt to investigate the emigrant situation in Europe, has just completed an exhaustive tour through the towns and country districts of Austria and Hungary.

Mr. Braum finds every indication that the present heavy emigration movement from the Austro-Hungarian monarchy to the United States and Canada will continue and even increase. He says this situation arises from three main sources—the encouragement afforded by emigrants who have already gone to America, the poverty and unsatisfactory labor conditions here and lastly the efforts of the unscrupulous local emigration agents, whose employment is carried on in defiance of the laws of both Austro-Hungary and the United States.

BOWEN ARRIVES AT CARACAS.

Many Notables Are Ready to Attend Mixed Tribunal.

CARACAS, Venezuela, May 26.—United States Minister Bowen has arrived at La Guayra, where he was received enthusiastically by the population and the local authorities. Learning that a popular demonstration would take place on his arrival in Caracas, Minister Bowen signified to the authorities his desire to be received quietly. On his arrival in Caracas, however, he was met at the station by President Castro, the members of the cabinet and all the leading foreign residents.

W. C. Bainbridge, the United States representative, and Senor Duref, M Ruhl, Senor Ryanos and Signor Ologni, respectively the Mexican, Dutch, Spanish and Italian representatives on the mixed tribunal which is to adjust the claims of foreigners against Venezuela, have also arrived.

Funeral of Naval Captain.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—After brief funeral services at St. John's church over the remains of Captain William Bainbridge-Hoff of the United States navy the body was borne, with military escort, to the Pennsylvania station and conveyed thence to Annapolis, Md. It was interred with full military honors in the Naval cemetery.

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

Largest Burial Parks IN THE State.

Transportation Facilities superior to those of any other cemetery, as to number of trains, railroad fare, time and distance.

These New Cemeteries, now being developed on the modern park plan, are attracting universal attention.

By Reason of Location Alone they are destined, in a very short time, to become the best-known Cemeteries in the country and, with their natural advantages, the most beautiful and desirable in which to purchase lots.

They are Accessible from every quarter and within easy reach of over 4,000,000 people, and, considering the steady and rapidly increasing growth of Greater New York and its tributary cities and towns, it is only the question of a short time before plots in Rosedale and Linden Park will equal in value those of our most noted cemeteries.

Popular Favor has already been shown to a marked degree in the sale of lots, several hundred having been sold to residents in Elizabeth, Linden, Rahway, Cranford, Jersey City, Orange, Paterson, Westfield, Newark and New York City, and a large number of interments have been made.

In the Days of Happiness we do not know what is to befall us or when the inevitable will occur; therefore, it is a wiser precaution to make provision for a final resting place during health and life than to force the painful duty on one's friends or relatives after death. A place of burial will be needed sooner or later by every one, and no one should neglect selecting a suitable and proper place until future postponement is impossible.

Linden Lodge is the largest, most modern and best equipped Cemetery Lodge in the country, and is provided with every requisite for the comfort and convenience of visitors who come to inspect the properties.

LEADING FABRICS.

Voile Is Very Popular—Spots and Stripes All the Rage.

Voile takes the leading place in fabrics, for it is now produced in all kinds of different makes, and, above all, it is no longer stiff and wiry. The voile of the moment is distinctly of a silky texture and very transparent, lending itself admirably to the manipulation of folds, gaugings and tucks.

Spots and stripes are all the rage in Paris, and they seem to be particularly charming in thin summery materials. Some of these spots are shaded and suggestive of two or three tones.

Then there are muslins, mousseline de soie, crepe de chines and new soft satins of many kinds, all of which are used for accordion plaited skirts, for the plaited skirt has again become the fashion, as was predicted some months ago.

Taffeta is as much used as ever, and the old striped taffeta has been revived.

All the new nets will be pressed into the service of this plaited skirt.

The costume in the cut is of all over lace, with an automobile coat of silk trimmed with lace and fringe.

MODES OF THE MOMENT.

Pale Green Voile With White Applique All the Rage.

There is a pretty shade of pale green voile which looks well made up with embroideries of white taffeta.

A charming model seen recently was of this pale green voile. It had a gauged skirt, with strappings down each side of white taffeta held together with gilt filigree buttons and a simple baby bodice treated in the same way and further decorated with a collar of taffeta and gold thread. The chemisette and neck were softened with some plaited india muslin and some old d'alencon lace.

The white tulle bow at the neck is always a dainty fashion, if an expensive one, for it must be renewed almost every time it is worn.

Pale gray with taffeta appliques is very smart when combined with cream white lace and dashes of burnt orange.

The thing of the moment is the cape collar worn to take the place of the bolero, and on cool days it is very useful. It is made of the same cloth as the goods of the dress, and it is trimmed handsomely with lace and applique.

The illustration shows a suit of white canvas trimmed with scarlet silk.

By WALKER KENNEDY.

"What paper, colonel?" said Frank, sobered and frightened at the suddenness of the question.

"You know what paper I mean. I have heard from him to-day by letter from China, and he writes me that he gave the paper to you, and I propose to have it!"

Irving broke in here: "Come, gentlemen, don't quarrel here. Lesh all have a friendly drink."

"Oh, go to grass!" said the colonel angrily.

"Colonel, I won't do it," said Irving with dignity. "I've got to take Frank home."

"Never mind Frank. I'll take him home. You've got a big enough job to take yourself home."

"All right, Colonel. I'll hold you personally responsible when you sober up. Goodby. I'll see you later."

And he reeled away, leaving Frank and the colonel to fight it out. As soon as he reached a cross street he turned into it, straightened himself up, and walked briskly to a hotel; for he did not care to be found in his room that night. The clerk gave him a room without entering his name on the register, and he retired at once to read the paper which he had obtained from Frank Hillsman.

Warde's intoxication that night was of course all a trick. Though he had ostensibly disposed of several drinks of whisky, he had as a matter of fact simply ejected the liquor into the glass of water which accompanies each drink. So when he reached his room at the hotel he was as sober as he had been when he met Hillsman.

CHAPTER XII.

Early the next morning when Warde went to his room the landlady informed him that Franklin and a companion had been there at three o'clock in the morning seeking him. He quieted her evident fears for his safety and then admired his sagacity in taking a room at the hotel that night.

Now he began to find the possession of that paper a nightmare. He knew that tremendous pressure and resources, which he could not anticipate, would be brought to bear to wrest it from him, and thus prevent its being used to save the Wright estate; for the perusal of the paper which Hillsman had handed him satisfied him that he held a safeguard against the plot that had been laid to steal a fortune. He began to have an inkling of the nature of the combination which had been formed, and he was much concerned lest the paper which was worth so much to the Wrights should be in some way filched from him. He felt that he was making this fight for Miriam, and he was doubly concerned over the result. He knew that the paper meant home and fortune to her; it meant also perhaps the happiness that had been so long denied her; and it would secure the triumph of justice over deliberate villainy.

Of course plans would be at once laid to recover the paper, and Irving divined the necessity of putting it immediately out of reach of the conspirators.

It was eight o'clock, and Mr. Everett was just sitting down to his breakfast.

Irving reached the house just at this time, and when he was announced the lawyer finished his meal in a hurry and at once led the way to the library. Here the story was soon told and the paper handed over to the lawyer, who locked it up in his safe.

"Now," said he, "I must leave for the courthouse, as I have a case at nine o'clock. Can you come here to-night?"

"Yes."

"Well, come about eight o'clock. And during the day avoid Hillsman if you can, and if you run across Franklin bluff him out. I don't want to see you about my office, either."

"Suppose they should ask me for that paper?"

"Why, remember that you were on a spree last night, and your recollection of anything that happened is very indistinct. You will not be much annoyed by Hillsman to-day, for it will take him some time to sleep off last night's experience. Be on your guard against Franklin, and do not give him any satisfaction."

As a matter of precaution, the two men separated at the gate to prevent if possible anyone from knowing that they had met. Irving took a roundabout way, and as he passed a corner not far from Mr. Everett's residence he observed a man leaning idly against a lamp post. The man's appearance was strangely familiar, even though he wore a patch over his eye. Irving could not stop to dissect his make-up, and it was not until he had got three or four blocks away that his memory responded, bringing back that dreadful experience on the river, and he recalled the powerful physique and cat-like tread of Old Tom. As soon as he made that discovery he retraced his steps, but his antagonist of the river had gone.

At the office he found a note from Franklin requesting him to call upon him as soon as he received it. To this Irving at first concluded that he would pay no attention, but he thought better of it and went directly to Franklin. He found that gentleman engaged with Merivale at the time, but he was cordially invited in.

"What I wanted to see you about," said Franklin, "was a paper which that fool Hillsman stole from this office. Last night when I met you——"

"Met me?" said Irving, in blank amazement.

"Well, perhaps you don't remember it," said the colonel, smiling, "for I must confess you were very happy last night when I saw you. But, at any rate, I demanded the paper of Hillsman. He denied having it at first, but I think I scared him pretty badly, and after you had gone he said he had given it to you. Have you got the paper?"

"I have not. What was the nature of it?"

"It is of no importance, the nature of it. You have not seen the paper?"

"Possibly I have seen it, but as you have not told me what it is——"

"I thought at the time that fellow was lying, and that he thought of you as a shield for himself."

"Is this all you wanted to see me about?" said Irving, with apparent disappointment.

"Oh, by the way, you did not spend the night at your rooms?"

"No," said Irving, indifferently.

"How was that?"

"See here, colonel, doesn't it occur to you that you are taking a vast deal of interest in my affairs?"

"Well, you see, I like you, Warde."

"Thanks."

"And you might find it to your interest to know something about the paper."

"It is valuable, then?"

"Are you sure you don't know anything about the paper?"

"Bother the paper! Why, if I had it in my pocket now, do you suppose that I would give it to you without having a description of it?"

"I'm sorry that you can't help me about it, as it is of great importance to some friends of mine."

"By the way," said Irving, "is there any news in the Wright case?"

The colonel looked at him penetratingly for a moment and then replied: "Why do you ask? I am out of the case."

"I thought you took a deep interest in it on account of the family."

"I think I ought to ask you the news about it."

"It's a trifle stale, now, but I suppose the people will wake up when the trial begins. Have you any idea what the line of defense will be?"

"None whatever. In fact other business of a very important character has occupied all my attention of late."

During this conversation Merivale yawned repeatedly and looked immensely bored, as if he wished Warde would go and give him an opportunity to resume business with Franklin. He toyed with a newspaper for a while impatiently, and somehow Irving received the impression that this impatience was largely assumed for the occasion.

At last Warde left the two men alone. They looked at each other in silence. Then Merivale spoke with a sneering laugh: "That young man has outwitted you completely, Franklin. He has your paper put away safe; probably it is in Everett's possession. And there is another thing that is perfectly apparent— that young fellow was as sober last night as you are this minute. It is now ten o'clock. We know that he was in his room at eight, and at Everett's shortly after, and there is not the faintest sign of dissipation about him. I'm surprised that you have allowed yourself to be so easily deceived. Well, I have advanced considerable money to you to carry out this enterprise, and have asked no questions regarding the way it was expended; but I tell you now I must have some results."

"But we are on the very brink of success, and if you throw it up now you will lose everything. Nothing but a series of unfortunate events could have prevented the accomplishments of our designs. If you desert me now I am simply ruined."

"Well, I'll stick to you a few months longer, not because I care anything about you. I have no time for sympathy with individuals; besides it isn't business. I only care for the success of movements. If your scheme could be carried through it would save me several millions; that would be a clear pick-up. If you fail I shall try a scheme of my own. One thing is sure: Warde must be got away from here. I'll try and get him an opening in New York."

Late that afternoon Warde ran across Hillsman, who had just got up. The debauch of the night before had told plainly upon him, his flushed face and bloodshot eyes bearing conclusive evidence against him. He did not allude at all to the meeting of the previous evening, and it was evident that dissipation had drawn a veil over all that had happened and left in his mind merely a blank. Warde was considerably relieved on this score, for at present he did not care to complicate matters by having to consider Frank as an element in the—

THE FATAL AUTO RACE.

Further Particulars of Accidents in French Contest.

PARIS, May 26.—M. Terry's machine was burned at Coignieres, but he and his machinist were uninjured.

M. Rodolphe Darzens and his machinist were thrown out near Bordeaux and were practically unhurt, though the car was destroyed.

Louis Renault telegraphed as follows:

"Marcel is better. Bringing him to Paris. Deny report of his death officially."

Bordeaux reports that many of the competitors, including MM. Charron, Theilier and Passy, desired to abandon the race, but others insisted that their honor required them to resume it at the Spanish frontier if possible, but the Spanish government later forbade the race and thus compelled its complete abandonment. Leading American and French automobilists all expressed horror at the series of accidents and added that in their opinion it would end speed races in France and at other points on the continent.

Mme. Chayssas, accompanied by her husband, both riding bicycles, were watching the passing automobiles at St. Andre de Cubzac, twelve miles from Bordeaux, when a horse frightened by the noise bolted and overturned the lady, who fell under a racing automobile. Both her legs were cut off, and the hopes of saving her life are slight.

WANT OF FOOD IN ALASKA.

Indians and Eskimos Starving—General Funston Will Report.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—The war department was informed some time ago that the native Indians and Eskimos in Alaska were in a starving condition and at once instructed General Funston, commanding the department of the Columbia, to report on the conditions in the islands.

The reports of suffering came particularly from Nome. General Funston contemplates visiting Alaska, when he will make further inquiry. He says that he spent considerable time there and asserts that before there was a mining camp in the Yukon country there were cases of destitution and starvation among the natives. Some twenty years ago on St. Lawrence island the entire population, some 1,400 people, starved to death in one winter.

General Funston says conditions in Alaska are not similar to those in the United States, where the white people have deprived the Indians of their hunting grounds.

General Funston recommends that an army officer of a special agent of the government from one of the other departments be placed in general control of the Eskimos in Alaska to hold a relation to them similar to that of Indian agents to Indians in the United States. The war department will take up this suggestion with other departments.

Mrs. Kemp Gets Divorce.

NEWPORT, R. I., May 26.—After a brief hearing in the appellate division of the supreme court a divorce was granted Mary Isabel Kemp from Arthur T. Kemp. Mrs. Kemp is a daughter of Mrs. Frederick Neilson and a sister to Mrs. Reginald C. Vanderbilt. Neither of the principals appeared in court, the case being heard entirely on depositions. Three documents were read. Mrs. Kemp charged neglect and failure to provide the necessities of life.

Her Last Words.

"Yes," said the sad-eyed waiter, "she has gone away. I don't think anybody will miss her much more than I do. She had the sweetest voice I ever heard—and it never sounded sweeter than it did the last time she addressed me."

He paused and the head waiter eyed him sympathetically.

"What did she say?" he inquired.

"She said 'Keep the change.'"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

SPORTING NEWS

ON THE DIAMOND.

Teams with members averaging 13 or 14 years wishing to arrange games with the Excelsior team are requested to communicate with Wm. Klein, 321 East Second street.

In the second game of the Holy Terrors and the Stelle Avenue A. A., the latter were defeated by a score of 13 to 10 yesterday. It was an exciting game from start to finish.

The Y. M. C. A. baseball nine will meet for practice this evening on Hope Common at 6 o'clock. All the members are requested to be present. Thursday evening the team will practice on St. Mary's field.

The class of 1903 of the City High School defeated the class of 1904 Friday afternoon by a score of 12 to 5. The game was played on Crescent Oval. The batteries were Conant and Miner for 1903, and Anderson and Bock for 1904.

The Potter A. C. team defeated the South Plainfield A. C. on Saturday afternoon by a score of 15 to 9. The game was played on Potter's grounds at Mt. Pleasant. The Potter A. C. expect to have their new uniforms before the next game with the Roselle A. C.

The baseball team from Watchung Council, Knights of Columbus, will play a game with a team from Cecil Calvert Council, of New York city, at the annual outing to be held in June. "Doc" Doyle will pitch for Watchung Council, while Doheny, the celebrated pitcher of the Pittsburg team, will occupy the box for the opposing team. Doheny is a member of Cecil Calvert Council.

Hope, the new pitcher for the Alis team, occupied the box for the Brooklyn Field Club, Sunday, in the game against the strong Ridgewood team. He struck out nine men and his team won by a score of 13 to 6. The New York papers speak in high praise of Hope's pitching. Hope will probably pitch for Alis against Westfield, Saturday morning, at Westfield. The Alis team will likely be strengthened still more before Saturday's games.

The next game of the All Plainfield baseball nine will be played Wednesday afternoon with the West End team of New York. This team is one of the strongest teams which has visited this city this year. The game on Wednesday will inaugurate a new time for opening the games. They will start hereafter at 4:15 sharp. Dupee will pitch and Enright will play at shortstop instead of Shortman. Bert Moore is the captain of the New York team and among the players will be Ettinger and McQuaid, of Dunellen.

The management of the Alis Club is making preparations for the baseball game with Westfield Saturday morning. From present indications a close and exciting contest will be witnessed. The Alis team wil make a determined effort to win the game. Hope and Barnes will probably be the battery, while Montross may pitch for Westfield. The Alis team will likely be the same as on last Saturday. In the afternoon on Crescent Oval Alis will meet the Brooklyn Field Club, one of the strongest semi-professional teams in the Metropolitan district.

A number of the members of the Warren Engine Company went to Somerville last evening in their uniforms to attend the circus given by the engine company members of that place. Mrs. Bedford's Confession.

By the confession of Mrs. Gunning S. Bedford that the child she had brought forward as the heiress to her husband's property was not her own child but was adopted, the Bedford estates valued at between $300,000 and $400,000, will be distributed among the heirs, of which there are five, Mrs. Zarega, of this city, being one of them. The property consists of the most part of the real estate in New York City, on Washington Heights and the lower Greenwich street. Mrs. Bedford was fined $750, but if she had failed to confess and the case had been carried to the higher courts, a penalty of seven years imprisonment could have been inflicted.

TO CLOSE SATURDAY.

Grocers Decide to Keep Open Until Noon—Other Merchants to be Closed All Day.

An effort on the part of many local merchants toward closing their stores on Memorial Day is meeting with considerable success. It is understood that the dry goods merchants and clothiers have agreed to keep their stores open Friday evening until 11 o'clock and then close all day Saturday. As for the grocers, they will close at noon on Saturday. It is argued that inasmuch as there is so much going on that day it will be better to generally observe the day than to try and keep open, as usual.

The following article appeared in this morning's New York World. The persons mentioned are well-known in this city, Mrs. Giebelhouse being a resident on West Front street:

"'Too much mother-in-law,' sighed Mrs. Dona Zoo Blume, an attractive young woman, who was an actress before her marriage, as she affixed her signature to the papers in a suit which she has begun in the Supreme Court to recover $25,000 damages from her mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary Giebelhouse, a wealthy resident [of New Rochelle.

"Mr. and Mrs. Blume were married at the Church of St. Mary the Virgin, this city, on July 31, 1899, both being but little more than twenty-one years of age. They lived happily with the bridegroom's mother at New Rochelle for two years. In the winter of 1901, Mrs. Blume went on a visit to a friend in the West and on her return Mrs. Giebelhouse not alone refused her admission to the house, but also declined to tell her the whereabouts of her husband."

MORE PROOF IN ANALYSIS

Daily Press' Statements Substantiated by Analysis Made by H. P. Reynolds.

REGARDING THE DRAIN

Former Mayor Wm. L. Saunders Took Sample and Had Analysis Made—Sent Same to Board With Pertinent Letter—What Board Claims.

Considerable interest has been taken in the facts made public in The Daily Press several weeks ago concerning the existence of a drain on the lowlands in the rear of the residence of E. S. Hooley, of Rockview avenue. Although the North Plainfield Board of Health did not appear to give credence to the facts, as told in The Daily Press, that an ill-smelling liquid resembling sewerage flowed from it, many boroughites were impressed with the reliability of the statements made in The Daily Press. As a result, the Board of Health has received several communications from residents of that portion of the borough relative to the subject.

Of particular importance was the communication of Former Mayor William L. Saunders, a resident of the borough for many years and one who has shown himself particularly interested in its welfare. Finding no facts to substantiate the flat denials of the board, he has investigated a little on his own account in order to ascertain just how near right the claims of The Daily Press were. Securing a sample of the liquid from the drain in question one day when the catch basin and the street about it were perfectly dry, and had been for some time, Mr. Saunders submitted it to H. P. Reynolds, of Washington avenue, whose ability as a chemist is unquestioned. This sample was analyzed by Mr. Reynolds and the following report made:

Report Upon Sample of Water Received From W. L. Saunder, Esq., May 9, 1903.

The sample was delivered in an ordinary dark wine bottle having a cork stopper.

A portion of the water was set aside in a test-tube for examination as to physical characteristics and general appearance; and thus noted, was seen to be quite turbid with ropy and flocculent matter, and of a grayish-green cast. After standing quietly twenty-four hours, the body of this sample became almost clear, bearing at the surface a considerable "scum," shown by its low specific gravity and its (so-called) "greasy" appearance, to be of animal and vegetable origin. At the bottom of the glass was found a sediment of moderate amount, consisting of earthy and silicious particles, such as may occur in water from any natural source. The "scum" first mentioned, however, is significant of actual foulness, consisting of insoluble foreign substance of wholly organic derivation, which might be closely determined by microscopic examination, if that be desired.

Chemical Examination.

The following chemical tests were applied: (The test an oxidizing agent).

First—For miscellaneous organic matter:

The reaction was prompt and emphatic, showing a very large proportion of organic matter of both animal and vegetable origin, a proportion far in excess of that which may be found in water from natural sources, such as springs or streams other than those contaminated by sewage or similar waste discharges (or even in pond or still water).

Second—For ammonia: Again the reaction was almost immediate; ammonia—free and combined—being present in abundance. (The test sol. was iodo-mercurial "Messlers").

Third—For nitrites: As before, the result was decisive and showed a large percentage of nitrogen derivatives.

Fourth—For chlorides and chlorine derivatives: (The Chrome - Silver Test): This reaction was chemically interesting because of its energy, demonstrating the presence of chlorine compounds in quite unusual proportions, such as might be due to the admixture of urine or other excrement carrying chlorine salts.

It was thought unnecessary to apply further tests, since these described above, taken together with the physical characteristics first noted, plainly indicate a kind and degree of contamination that can hardly be accounted for otherwise than by the presence of animal excrement.

The inflow and accumulation of such water would soon render a quiet pond a public nuisance and danger; while its effect in a running stream would be injurious only in less degree.

Very respectfully yours,
(Signed) Howard P. Reynolds.

A copy of this report was sent to Andrew Love, president of the Borough Board of Health, with the accompanying letter:

North Plainfield, N. J.,
May 19, 1903.

The Board of Health,
Mr. Andrew Love, Sr., Pres.,
North Plainfield, N. J.

Dear Sirs:—I have noted with interest the recent newspaper controversy involving the action of the Board of Health in respect to the discharge of noxious matter into Stony brook. This brook being entirely within the limits of the borough is subject, so far as its contamination is concerned, to the control of the local Board of Health. The water has been supposed to be potable, and as it passes through considerable pasture land the cows drink it and at times in the summer it serves as a bathing pool for children. Edwin S. Hooley recently called my attention to two conduits above my property through which liquid matter was being discharged into the brook. Your attention was evidently called to the case, as I notice in the newspapers that you visited the points referred to and communicated with the newspapers in respect to the matter, claiming, as I understand it, that nothing hurtful was discharged through these pipes, and seeking to defend yourselves against the charge of neiect. I am not aware of the fact that you have taken any steps to analyze this discharge, but that you apparently satisfied your own minds by a personal inspection. The published report of your conclusions seemed to me to be so incongruous and at variance with the facts that I have taken upon myself the duty of having this liquid discharge analyzed. You are credited in the newspapers with the claim that the large pipe in the McCutchen lot discharges only street surface water and that from your personal inspection you find nothing obnoxious about it. I find the facts quite to the contrary. The discharge in the McCutchen lot is obnoxious to the smell, is apparently foul to the sight, and when looking into the orifice of the pipe the effect is quite the same as that when looking into a common cesspool. Furthermore there has not been a rain in the borough of North Plainfield for some weeks and yet there is a discharge from this pipe amounting to apparently one gallon per minute. On May 9 last, a clear, dry day, with no water in the streets, I collected some of this liquid in a clean bottle and requested Dr. Reynolds to analyze it for me. He has done so and his report you will please find herewith enclosed. Dr. Reynolds in his letter to me accompanying this report uses the following words:

"Your sample of May 9 is such as might be expected if taken from the outflow of a common sewer pipe under common conditions."

You, gentlemen, are charged with the responsibility of the health of this borough, a more serious duty than that which rests upon the shoulders of any other official Through your neglect human lives might be sacrificed. In the summer of the year 1899 my cow pastured in this McCutchen lot and I was stricken with typhoid fever. That you should permit a discharge of sewage matter to be led through a street drain into Stony brook within the borough limits, and that after visiting the spot you should take no action to stop it, and, as far as I know, make no analysis of the discharge, but that you should indulge in newspaper controversies, attacking a neighboring city which is seeking to provide health and prosperity to its people by a system of sewers; that you should stand before the public as experts in reference to what the city of Plainfield discharges into Green brook, when right here at our doors Dr. Reynolds' analysis proves that there is being discharged into Stony brook that which "might be expected if taken from the outflow of a common sewer pipe," all this forms an impeachment of your fitness to hold the office of custodian of the public health.

Yours truly,
(Signed) W. L. Saunders.

Mr. Love, president of the board, and Dr. W. E. Honeyman, secretary of it, were interviewed by a Press reporter concerning the report and the letters they had received regarding the subject. They did not care to give out these communications at the present time. Dr. Honeyman explained that they had taken a sample of the

ARMED WITH PENKNIFE FACED THE MONSTER

Thrilling Experience of Three Plainfield Fishermen With a Live Bear.

IN A TROUT STREAM

BUT THE ANIMAL FINALLY DEPARTED WITHOUT EATING THEM.

Plainfielders Were Fishing in the Neighborhood of Denning, Ulster County, New York—Fred Sandford Saved the Day.

It is seldom that Plainfielders ever encounter a real live bear in their travels, but such an experience of three men from this city will linger quite long in their memory as the most exciting in their short lives. Three men—Fred Sandford, Fred Metcalf and J. A. Staats, all true followers of Izaak Walton, left Plainfield Sunday night, May 17, for an outing at a place called Denning, Ulster county, New York. The place is thirty-five miles inland from the station on the New York, Ontario and Western Railroad, and the country is very wild and rugged. The trio found a genial host in Joseph H. Erne, who keeps a hotel and who is an expert guide for trout fishermen.

After fishing on Tuesday and Wednesday with great success, the party catching many speckled beauties, the members started out Thursday morning for a beautiful trout stream at the foot of Slide Mountain, located on the east branch of the Naversink. After arriving at their destination the party commenced fishing. The trio, with Mr. Metcalf in the lead, started down stream. They had gone but a short distance, when the advance guard returned at a two-forty gait. His eyes were as large as saucers and he was waving his hands hysterically.

"By the great horn spoon," said Mr. Staats, "what is the trouble?"

"For gracious sake," replied Mr. Metcalf, "get out of the stream." Just at that moment the three looked up and there sat a large bear quietly resting himself on a stump. Mr. Metcalf and Mr. Staats wanted to come home right away. They could feel their hair gradually ascending, while they were not quite sure that they were standing on their feet or their heads. Mr. Sandford, who has frequently met bears, used his utmost powers to calm his colleagues, but it was all he could do to persuade them to remain. The point of vantage occupied by the bear had to be passed and the stream was so rapid that to turn back was impossible.

It was finally agreed that Mr. Sandford should take the lead for the others knew that if Bruno should swallow him up he would certainly have a square meal for one day, at least. Mr. Sandford very boldly advanced and in deep tones gave a call which would frighten most any sort of a wild animal. The bear recognizing his peril took to the woods and disappeared. It was some time afterward when the fears of two members of the party were quieted and they were willing to continue fishing. The woods at that point are frequented by deer and the slighest rustle or crackling of wood caused a return of genuine fear.

The party's only weapon of defence was a small jack-knife and the thoughts of a tussel with live bears were anything but pleasant. Both Mr. Metcalf and Mr. Staats admitted that they had experienced enough of Slide Mountain for one season, and when Mr. Staats was called home on account of business, the other members of the party sought more quiet quarters at DeBruce, Sullivan county, where they are still angling for the wily trout.

Mr. Staats returned home Saturday evening, well posted on the subject of bear and how to escape them. It might be well to add that the country visited by the trio is known for bear, these animals being attracted to the maple sugar camps. They are quite tame and are seldom known to trouble any one.

ERNER DENIES KILLING DRIFF

The Defendant in Somerset County Murder Trial Goes on the Witness Stand.

TELLS STRAIGHT STORY

Claims He Was Home and Asleep When Murder Was Committed—Michael Wiza, Who Claimed to Have Seen Murder, Is Under Cross-Examination.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, May 27—Michael Wiza, the star witness for the State in the trial of Joseph Erner for the murder of John Driff at Bound Brook on December 25 last, was put on the rack for about two hours yesterday morning by Nelson Y. Dungan, counsel for the defense, and the witness was forced to admit that what he had told the lawyers shortly after the crime was committed, was partly false. Wiza said he had at that time made the statements he did then for a purpose and that no one coached him so to do. He declared the story that he had just told on the stand about seeing Erner strike Drift and the latter falling was perfectly true. "I am telling the truth now," he asserted.

As Wiza and many of his ilk could not understand English, an intrepreter was used and Edwin Sell was selected to do the work. Both the State and defense became suspicious about the putting of the questions and soon each had intrepreters of their own to watch the proceedings.

The case is a long-drawn out one, but is being done in apple-pie order. There are six or eight stenographers and typewriters and as soon as several pages of evidence are taken they are translated and typewritten so that the justice and lawyers on both sides can have them for reference.

Joseph Belitzki, who is employed as a trackwalker by the Lehigh Valley Railroad at Bound Brook told of his starting to walk as usual on Christmas morning last at 5 o'clock. He went past Joseph Erner's house and saw a man lying on the sidewalk. He went to Erner's and woke him up. They took a lamp and went out to see the man. When the light was reflected in his face Erner at once said: "John Driff is killed." They then stood about fifteen inches away from the body. He told Erner to notify Driff's friends. Erner did not display any particular emotion.

County Detective Totten, who arrested Erner, testified that when he was at Bound Brook trying to get a clue as to the murder and was working up the case Erner followed him all around. He could not keep out of Erner's sight so vigilant was Erner's watchfulness.

Several other witnesses then gave testimony of a more or less important nature and at about noon yesterday the State rested its case.

Mr. Dungan then opened his side, the defense. He related the facts about the crime being committed, told where the man had been found, etc. He said he did not mean to deny that Erner had shown much sentiment at Driff's funeral. That was no more than natural since they had been close friends and Driff was Erner's godfather.

Joseph Erner then took the witness chair in his own behalf. Erner, unlike a good many of his countrymen, could speak the English language fluently, and he made a capital witness. He told a straightforward story of his doings on the night in question, and it is the opinion of many that he cut a big swath for himself.

He testified that he had been in this country twenty-one years. On Christmas eve last he was at Stavich's saloon in company of John Driff and a number of his friends. He had a wordy battle with Valedega Zelakoski over their respective incomes, but did not strike him. Zelakoski started to leave the house and pinched his finger in the crack of the door. Later on the men all met at Fazekas and having heard that Zelakoski was blaming him for his injured digit he approached him about the matter, but they did not quarrel. The whole crowd had a good time, after which Erner alleged that he went home and went to bed. He did not know anything about Driff being dead until he was called out of bed and told of the affair.

The prisoner denied in toto the story Wiza told about his striking Driff with the club, which he said he had never seen until after the body was found.

Erner was not troubled much by the cross-examination.

Several other witnesses were examined and then court closed for the day.

ANNUAL RECEPTION OF MISS JACKSON'S CLASS

Clever Programme Presented at the Casino Before Audience of Parents and Friends.

WERE WELL PLEASED

PROGRAMME INCLUDED DRILLS, RECITATIONS, SKETCHES AND FARCE.

Those Who Took Part in the Several Numbers on the Programme—A Gift to Miss Jackson From Members of Her Classes.

Miss Addie Parker Jackson' s classes in physical culture and rendering gave a reception last evening at the Casino, manifesting a high degree of skill both in elocution and calisthenics. The programme consisted of drills, monologues, recitations, character sketches and a cleverly enacted farce. The hall at the Casino was crowded.

The first number on the list was a flower drill, "Spring Garlands," a most fascinating set of exercises, performed by fourteen beautifully costumed, rose-garlanded young women as follows: The Misses Lucie Budlong, Gertrude Abbott, Aimee Conant, Fannie Carr, Ella Case, Hazel Grant, Anna Conant, Alice Conant, Janet Carter, Mildred Spicer, Dorothy Hoar, Gladys Biglow, Helen Adams and Stephanie Krom. Following this, a series of five physical culture drills illustrated correct methods of carying and developing the body. The exercises were performed with an easy grace that attested a careful training. They were led by the Misses Carolyn Welles and Marion Taylor, and Edward Abbott, Charles Orth and Arthur Robinson.

Miss Hazel Grant's monologue. "A Musicale," revealed no little talent on the part of the performer and was received with much approval. Miss Fannie Carr recited "The Family Clock" and won deserved applause. Miss Gladys Biglow had an excellent opportunity for displaying her histrionic ability in a monologue entitled "A Before Dinner Scene at the House of the Montagues," and she used it to the best advantage.

The Misses Helen Robinson and Janet Carter recited entertaining numbers with an eye to their dramatic possibilities, and Arthur Robinson's monologue was delivered with a skillful touch that proclaimed him a ready pupil. The first half of the programme was brought to a close by a charmingly rendered musical recitation, "I Dream," by Miss Stephanie Krom.

An amusing monologue, "Bargain Day in a Modern Department Store" by Miss Alice Conant opened the second part of the entertainment, and the clever presentation was thoroughly appreciated. "The Queen of Fairyland" was beautifully pictured by Miss Marian Robinson, and "The Book Canvasser," a monologue by Miss Anna L. Conant, elicited shouts of laughter. Two delightful character parts were taken by the Misses Ella Case and Mildred Spicer. The last selection on the list was a farce with a number of laughable situations centered in a fashionable boarding school near New York City. The performers, considering their youth, did remarkable work. The characters were taken by the following: Misses Helen Adams, Margery Dohrman, Marion Taylor, Gertrude Abbott, Aimee Conant and Dorothy Hoar, and Masters Edward Abbott and Charles Orth. Miss Louise Davis was the accompanist and the ushers were Gordon Abbott, William Schoonmaker, Harold Dollner and Lucius H. Biglow, 3d.

Following the performance, Miss Jackson was presented with a large and beautiful painting of a Venetian scene, contributed by the pupils. The presentation speech was made by Miss Stephanie Krom and Miss Jackson, in reply expressed her gratitude in a charming speech.

FISTS VERSUS STILETTO

UNSEEMLY FRACAS WHICH ENDED IN ARREST OF TWO.

Michael Readington and Tony Barletto Arraigned in City Court Today.

Michael Readington and Tony Barletto, representatives respectively of Erin and the land of sunshine and stilettoes, engaged in an unseemly fracas last evening at 6:10 o'clock, which resulted in Tony's knifing the Irishman in the jaw. The men were waiting for a car at the end of the Plainfield trolley line just this side of Dunellen. Mike said that he remonstrated with the Italian for stepping upon his toe. Tony asserted through the interpreter that Readington annoyed him persistently without cause, and the rest of the testimony bore out the truth of Tony's words. City Judge Runyon charged Barletto $3 for carrying concealed weapons, the Italian preferring this to laying off for ten days in jail. Readington, found guilty of being drunk and disorderly, couldn't produce $10 and was remanded to the county jail for twenty days.

Santillo Ballerello paid the court $3 for surreptitiously abstracting a bag of coal from a freight car. Sergeant Frederickson discovered the man.

TO SPRINKLE THE STREETS

THE STREET COMMITTEE DECIDES TO START WORK JULY 1.

Will Purchase Six Wagons and Cover as Much Territory as Possible.

Municipal street sprinkling will soon be a fact. At a meeting of the street committee from the Common Council, last evening, it was decided to buy six Studebaker sprinkling carts at an expense of $325 each and it is believed that the sprinkling will be started by July 1. The committee will hire teams and drivers to do the work.

It is the purpose of the committee to cover as much territory as possible with the six wagons and there will be no discrimination in the work, that is the fashionable part of the city will not be treated any better than other portions. In arriving at the above decision, the committee considered the question of preserving the streets and this, together with the question of general health, entered largely into the matter of sprinkling by the city.

MANY PRIZES.

Seventy-Eight Contested for at Big Euchre of St. Joseph's Church Last Evening.

Seventy-eight prizes were won last evening at the euchre given by the members of the St. Joseph's R. C. church in Saengerbund Hall. The euchre was very successful. there being 400 people present and the church will clear as a result over $300. The principal prize winners were Mrs. Robert Green, John P. Owens, Miss Mamie Callahan and John Fitzpatrick. The consolation prizes were won by William Hammond and Miss Catherine Daly.

Charles Suhr's full orchestra provided the music for dancing which followed the card playing and refreshments were served. The committee, A. E. LaPorte, chairman, assisted by the members of the choir and ushers as follows: James F. Daly, William Daly, James Hurley, William and John McCullough, J. E. Bailey, Jerry Callahan, Miss Tina Smith, Miss Helen Gill, Miss Kate Duffey, Misses Mary and Katherine Leahey, Miss Agnes Bailley and Mrs. Lillian Staff.

WOULDN'T LEAVE.

Spirit Level, It Is Said, Was Used With Effect on John Leahy by D. J. Galbraith.

John Leahy is nursing a badly injured head because he refused to go out of the store of Daniel J. Galbraith yesterday when ordered. Leahy, it is said, demanded back wages which he claimed were due him. An argument followed, Galbraith finally telling Leahy to leave the store. When the latter declined, Galbraith, it is alleged, struck him over the head with a spirit level and inflicted a severe scalp wound.

Justice Hand heard the case this morning, and held Galbraith in $100 bonds to await action by the Grand Jury. Galbraith was his own bondsman. S. S. Swackhamer appeared for the plaintiff.

—August 13 is the date set for the annual excursion of Benevolent Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., to Atlantic City.

BULLET ENDS LITTLE LIFE

Theressa Watson Finally Succumbs at Muhlenberg Hospital to Fatal Injuries.

SHE DIES AT MIDNIGHT

Hazardous Operation Performed As Only Possible Means of Saving Her Life—Her Father Reaches Bedside in Time to Say Good-Bye—The Details.

Neither skilled medical attendance nor the careful work of the surgeon could save the life of little Theressa Watson who all day yesterday lay at Muhlenberg Hospital struggling for life against great odds. She is the little girl who was shot in the abdomen by Willie James while tramping through the woods Monday morning. Physicians held out little hope of saving the little one's life as the child had almost bled to death internally before she reached the hospital. The little spark of life that yet remained when her father was called out of his bed late last night sufficed to give her strength to smile at her parent ere she closed her eyelids in the sleep that brings eternal rest. The end came at 11:45 last evening.

The operation, which was performed by Drs. Buchanan and Endicott, assisted by Dr. Pittis, was done only as a last resort. The physicians saw that there had been eleven perforations in the intestines which could be reached to be sewed. After penetrating the intestines the bullet found lodgement in the lower part of the abdomen. Owing to her condition when she was placed under the influence of anaesthetics it was almost certain that operation would be unsuccessful in saving her life but it was one chance in a thousand against certain death and the skilful surgeons took that chance.

Yesterday the child rested very comfortably but at about 9 o'clock she began to fail. As a last resort a saline composition was injected into the veins but death conquered at last just after the father arrived at the bedside.

The funeral will be held Friday morning at 8:30 o'clock from the house and at 9 o'clock from St. Joseph's church where Rev. Father Miller will officiate. The pallbearers will be little playmates of the dead child: Joseph Neuman, Vincent Meaney, Frank Casline and Chrispother Mobus.

PIANO RECITAL.

Given by Pupils of Miss Minnie S. Marsh at Her Madison Avenue Home.

A piano recital given by the pupils of Miss Minnie S. Marsh at her home, 915 Madison avenue, yesterday afternoon, attracted a large number of guests, including the parents and friends of the pupils. The programme as one of special merit and the performance of the pupils called forth hearty applause, while Miss Marsh received many flattering compliments for her excellent work with the young people.

Special mention should be made of a piano solo by Miss Saidee Mae Howell and a duet by Miss Howell and Miss Marian H. McCutcheon. Miss Howell was a former pupil of Miss Marsh and her work yesterday was of the highest order.

The pupils who appeared on the programme were the Misses Anna Scott Yerkes, Madeline Reed, Katherine H. McCutcheon, Alice Elizabeth McGee, Gladys Peck, Marguerite Lee, May F. Cogan, Margaret Townsend, Marian H. McCutcheon, Helen W. Stevens and George B. Yerkes.

Harry Dreier, West Front street, carries the best line of fishing tackle in town. He is also a specialist on the subject of baseball goods and Imperial bicycles.

Don't think for a moment that because Woodhull & Martin will soon move to their new building on East Front street, they are not now prepared to look after their patrons. On the contrary they will be glad to see their friends and help them to get many of the bargains offered. All goods are this season's make and are reasonable in price.

Every grocer aims to make one point in his business predominate. Some strive for good service, others for high grade of goods, while still others make a specialty of quick sales and small profits. W. Dr. Honeyman said it was merely the drain from a catch basin and that its character was similar to the flow from any other such basin. He did not appear to attach much importance to the report of the analysis made by Mr. Reynolds. The results of the further investigations of the board would be given out later.

Those who have not seen this attractive and melodious opera, should take advantage of its short stay in New York to witness the most talked of production of the year. The music of "The Mocking Bird" has been adjudged everywhere as the most catchiest heard in years.

Who would suppose that a lion was any more difficult an animal part to play than that of any other quadruped? And yet Arthur Hill, who so capitally impersonates the lion in the "Wizard of Oz" at the Majestic Theatre, New York, tells a tale of endeavor that is most surprising as well as entertaining. In the first place although monkeys and dogs are frequently played by pantomimists, but rarely or ever has the role of the lion been essayed. In order to familiarize himself with the ways of the lion he went to the Zoo in Chicago and studied how they leap, walk, spring, lie down, and stretch themselves. Visitors to "The Wizard of Oz" should observe carefully this admirably represented role.

WORLD METROPOLIS

Birthday of New York Receives Eloquent Tributes.

TEN MILLIONS OF LIGHTS BLAZE.

Two Hundred and Fiftieth Anniversary Celebrated In Regal Style. Greater New York Covered With Flags and Bunting.

NEW YORK, May 27.—Eloquent tributes to the city of New York were paid by men prominent in the nation at the celebration of the city's two hundred and fiftieth anniversary held at the city hall, and much was said about the future of the place destined to become the metropolis of the world.

The aldermanic chamber, where the celebration was held, was crowded with distinguished citizens who showed their patriotism by eagerly applauding the words which told of the city's greatness and its growth outrivaling that of any city in the history of the world. Festoons of national colors and the city emblem gave a holiday appearance to the chamber, and the city hall outside was in gay attire of flags and bunting.

It was 5 o'clock when the celebration was closed with the benediction by Archbishop John M. Farley. Before this an address was given by the Rev. H. Pereira Mendes.

Mayor Low, General James Grant Wilson, who delivered the oration; Secretary of War Elihu Root, Governor Odell and Judge John Clinton Gray were the principal speakers, and the impressive occasion also included the presence of many notable clergymen.

School exercises and concerts were held, and in the evening stereopticon views were displayed, and there were lectures and band concerts in City Hall park, Mount Morris park, Manhattan square and Crotona park and similar exhibitions in the boroughs of Queens, Brooklyn and Richmond.

Windows in houses, public and national buildings, hotels, department stores and other buildings, in accordance with Mayor Low's proclamation, were brilliantly illuminated at night, and it is estimated that at least 10,000,000 gas and electric lights were blazing brightly in the greater city. The view from the Brooklyn bridge and from the decks of ferryboats was a spectacular one. Never before has the general lighting up of all the sky scraping structures been suggested as a fitting wind up to a grand patriotic display. The general post office for the first time in its history was aglow from cellar to done. This was done by orders from the federal authorities in Washington.

Expedition Into Mindoro.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Manila newspapers which have just reached the war department contain an interesting account of an expedition that has gone into Mindoro, "ostensibly," one paper puts it, "to explore the country, but in reality to search for a white colony which it has long been claimed lives in the interior of the island." According to this same account, "numerous statements have been made by reliable persons, most of whom are officers in the service, that the white colony exists, and they declare that they have evidence to prove the same." They are characterized further as a roving band which does not remain in one place. The expedition is headed by Governor Offley and is accompanied by a detachment of constabulary. A previous expedition failed to penetrate the interior of Mindoro and was obliged to turn back.

Cuba to Have Isle of Pines.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Although Minister Squiers is extremely anxious to complete the negotiations to give effect to the Platt amendment, these have come to a standstill through the absence from Havana of Senor Zaldo, the Cuban minister for foreign affairs, who was summoned to New York by the serious illness of his daughter. Mr. Squiers had prepared the way for a treaty defining the status of the Isle of Pines, and this would have completed the work of treaty making. It is believed that this last treaty will confirm the right of Cuba to the Isle of Pines, although it will provide ample safeguards for the considerable American interests there.

Severe Gale on Grand Banks.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., May 27.—The severe gale which swept the coast here last Sunday did much damage to the fishing vessels on the Grand banks. One vessel, the Peerless of Lunenburg, N. S., has run into this port and reports having lost twelve men during the storm. Other fishing boats report smaller losses. It is feared that the fatalities will reach a large total.

Frank Kennedy's Body Found.

GLENS FALLS, N. Y., May 27.—The body of Frank Kennedy, the only American workman who lost his life in the Speir Falls disaster of April 7, was recovered in Little bay. Kennedy came from Proctor, Vt., and was a skilled stone mason. This is the eleventh body to be recovered.

Heavy Frost and Drought.

HOOSICK FALLS, N. Y., May 27.—Hoosick Falls has had another heavy frost. The drought continues. The Hoosick river is at the lowest point in many years, and many tributaries are entirely dried up.

Heavy Rain at Last.

BUFFALO, May 27.—The drought which has prevailed in western New York for a month was broken by a heavy rain. The downpour continued for over an hour and covered a large area.

Weather Probabilities.

Showers; fresh southeast winds.

LAKEPORT IN RUINS

Suburb of Laconia, N. H., Swept by Fire.

THE GREATEST EVER EXPERIENCED.

Covers About One Hundred and Fifty Acres—Loss Estimated at $350,000 to $400,000—Fire Brigade Lost Control.

LACONIA, N. H., May 27.—Nearly 100 buildings burned, 350 persons made homeless and a loss of between $350,000 and $400,000 is the story in short of the greatest fire this city ever experienced, if not the state of New Hampshire.

The burned district in the Lakeport section covers about 150 acres. The fire caught from an insignificant blaze in the boiler room of the H. H. Wood Hosiery mill in the afternoon. In fifteen minutes the flames had got beyond control of the men who had started to extinguish them, and in a very short time, under the influence of a brisk southeast wind, the entire structure was wrapped in the destroying element. Next it went to the finished lumber plant of the Boulia & Gorrell company and then to the works of the Laconia Electric Light company.

In less than an hour both these plants were flat. The city fire department not only was unable to check the flames at this point, but could do nothing to put out small fires which had begun to show themselves on buildings on the west side of the Winnipesaukee river. The result was that as burning brands began to fall on houses even some distance away street after street became a locality for bad fires. By 4 o'clock the conflagration was acres in extent.

The work of destruction went on until the fire actually burned itself out for want of material, having reached the outside of what is known as the fire district.

Help had been summoned from Concord, Franklin and Meredith, but the combined forces of apparatus and firemen were absolutely powerless.

One reason for the quick spread of the fire over such an area was the dryness of all woodwork, for only half an inch of rain has fallen over this section in the last forty days.

It is unnecessary to state that the scenes as the fire jumped from building to building were harrowing in the extreme. Householders did their best to save their effects and in a great many cases had removed a portion of their goods out of what they supposed would be the fire zone, but the flames came down upon them and licked up the articles as they were piled in the city streets. Some people would have saved their goods had there been transportation facilities, but men with horses did not dare to venture into the storm of sparks and brands.

Although the city has an abundance of water, the drain on it was so heavy that it decreased the pressure until it reached that point where it became of very little help. The heat was intense, and without pressure in the hose the firemen were unable to fight at close quarters.

Mayor Melcher early took steps to provide food and lodging for the homeless, and his efforts were ably seconded by the entire population, shelter being provided in Odd Fellows' hall and in several churches, private citizens also opening their houses and caring for people.

Salina's Greatest Flood.

SALINA, Kan., May 27.—This city is the scene of the worst flood in its history. Fully 100 families have been driven from their homes, and the extent of the damage is estimated at hundreds of thousands of dollars. There has been four inches of rain within the last twenty-four hours. The northwestern portion of the city is entirely submerged, and women and children were rescued from their homes in boats. The Missouri Pacific grade on the west is holding back a large and threatening body of water. If the water crosses the tracks the entire western portion of the town will be under water.

MORE PROOF.

Despite the claims of the North Plainfield Board of Health, The Daily Press feels that its original contention was correct and that the drain on the low land in the rear of the residence of E. S. Hooley, of Rockview avenue, has been emptying foul matter which can eventually find its way into the brook. Personal observation first gave that impression and the evidence submitted by the Board of Health has never successfully contracted it. This impression has since been confirmed by indisputable evidence, which is made public in this issue.

In another column of this issue will be found a communication from a prominent citizen of the borough who lives in the neighborhood of the terminus of the drain in question. He asks some pertinent questions. In order to settle the question definitely, he has had an analysis made of water flowing from the drain at the time. There can be no question about the character of the flow after the analysis has been considered. It will do well to bear in mind that this sample was taken when the streets were dry and there was no flow into the catch basin on Rockview terrace and had not been for some time past and yet the water was flowing steadily out of the drain at this time.

The Daily Press did not first call attention to the existence of the drain with the idea of starting any controversy with the Borough Board of Health. Such was furtherest from its wish. An undesirable condition existed and attention was drawn to it with the idea of securing a prompt remedy. The Borough Board saw fit to deny the truth of it and we have simply taken steps to prove the truth of our original assertions. They were not announced until a proper investigation had been made and now comes renewed proof of the truth of our statements.

BUSINESS COLLEGE SOCIAL.

Pleasant Affair Given for Students Last Evening.

A social was given at the Plainfield Business College, last evening, for the students and the affair was an enjoyable one. Games, music from phonograph and piano, and refreshments were features of the evening, while the students had the most fun in a hat trimming contest by the young men. The zeal and originality displayed would lead one to believe that they were real rivals in the millinery field. A grand march before the judges stand took place, each woman wearing her own hat, accompanied by the young man who trimmed it. Benjamin Schuck won the prize for the best trimmed hat.

FOR A SPECIAL ELECTION

UNION COUNT FREEHOLDERS PREPARING FOR ONE IN SEPTEMBER.

Makes Increase of $10,000 In County Appropriation Necessary —Other Reasons.

The appropriation committee of the Union County Board of Freeholders met yesterday afternoon in the offices of the counsel, Former Judge William R. Codington in this city when the appropriations for the coming year were fixed. The appropriation this year will be $10,000 higher than last year owing to a special election and the new primary law which necessitates securing new ballot boxes for each party.

The members of the committee are: John Farrell, chairman; Henry Krause, Noah Woodruff, William Westphal and Jacob Brucklacher.

The special election is to be held for the purpose of voting on the amendments to the constition made a year ago. The election will be held on September 22. Where one ballot box is now used at each poll for all parties the new primary law will make it necessary to have one for each party which will necessitate purchasing several additional ballot boxes which are to be used by each party separately. This will take up a large part of the additional appropriation.

Flying Torpedo's Feat.

CHICAGO, May 27.—Flying Torpedo, favorite in the fourth race at Hawthorne, performed one of the most remarkable feats ever seen on a race track. While scoring at the post the big horse unseated his jockey and then ran away nearly a mile and a half at top speed over a track which was deep in mud. He was finally stopped and returned to the post. Although a good field was opposed to him, Flying Torpedo won the race, which was at a mile, as he pleased. The second race furnished the upset of the day when Muresca, at 15 to 1, galloped home five lengths in front of her field, with Mimo, at 7 to 1, second, and Tom Maybin, the favorite, third. Sam Fullen, the well backed second choice, was left at the post.

Derby Candidate Wins at Latonia.

CINCINNATI, O., May 27.—Dick Welles, the American Derby candidate from the stable of Rome Respass, won the Brewers' handicap at Latonia in a gallop. It was the colt's first start of the year, and as the bookmakers did not believe him quite fit for a race they laid the liberal odds of 2½ to 1 against him. Dick Welles got off in front and breezed the entire distance of six furlongs in 1:13⅕. Only three of the original seven carded to start in the stake accepted the issue. Jack Ratlin and Bardolph as the Gorman entry and W. Stueve's Harlem Lane were added. Woodlake, winner of the Latonia Derby, finished fifth.

Morris Park Racing.

NEW YORK, May. 27.—The Jockey club weight for age race, the feature of the card at Morris park, was won in a driving finish by Injunction. Frank Farrell's erratic Blues was an odds on favorite and flattered his backers by jumping off and racing out in front. Going down the back stretch he was four lengths in the lead. In the stretch he sulked, and Injunction and Girdle both passed him, Injunction finally winning by one length, with Girdle second and Blues last.

Elastic Won at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, May 27.—The close finish of the third race created considerable excitement, only a head separating the first four horses in the last six strides. They finished Cast Iron, Pathos and Never Such. Elastic, at 16 to 5, won the feature of the card. He got off in the lead, fell back a little at the half, then came strong in the stretch and won galloping by three lengths.

Robert Washington Not Guilty.

CAMDEN, N. J., May 27.—In the case of Robert Washington, the negro constable who is charged with the murder of Joe Goddard, the pugilist, the jury rendered a verdict of not guilty. Goddard was shot by Washington during a fight at the Republican primary election last July at Dogs Corners, in Pensauken township.

Chilean Congress Opens.

SANTIAGO, Chile, May 27.—Vice President Barros Luco, who has been acting president since April 4 owing to the serious illness of President Riesco, will open congress. President Riesco, who has now recovered, will afterward take over the presidential functions again.

IN CHANCERY OF NEW JERSEY.

TO JOHN O'CONNER.

By virtue of an order of the Court of Chancery of New Jersey, made on the day of the date hereof in a cause wherein Catharine D. Woodruff is complainant, and Mathias Silos, et al, (including yourself), are defendants, you are required to appear, plead, answer or demur to the complainant's bill on or before the Eleventh day of July next, or in default thereof such decree will be made against you as the Chancellor shall think equitable and just.

The said bill is filed to foreclose a mortgage given by Mathias Silos and Mary Silos, his wife, to Catharine D. Woodruff, said mortgage dated November 20, 1876, and recorded in Union County Clerk's office in Book 42 of Mortgages for said county on pages 46, etc., on lands in the Township of Westfield, in the County of Union and State of New Jersey.

And you, John O'Conner, are made defendant because you obtained a judgment against Mathias Silos, one of the defendants herein, and may thereby claim to have some lien upon or other interest in said mortgaged premises.

AN IDEAL LOCATION

BEAUTIFUL AND ACCESSIBLE.
2 Miles from Elizabeth. 7 Miles from Newark
14 Miles from New York.
Linden, New Jersey.
ON MAIN LINE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries
Largest Burial Parks IN THE State.

Transportation Facilities superior to those of any other cemetery, as to number of trains, railroad fare, time and distance.

These New Cemeteries, now being developed on the modern park plan, are attracting universal attention.

By Reason of Location Alone they are destined, in a very short time, to become the best-known Cemeteries in the country and, with their natural advantages, the most beautiful and desirable in which to purchase lots.

They are Accessible from every quarter and within easy reach of over 4,000,000 people, and, considering the steady and rapidly increasing growth of Greater New York and its tributary cities and towns, it is only the question of a short time before plots in Rosedale and Linden Park will equal in value those of our most noted cemeteries.

Popular Favor has already been shown to a marked degree in the sale of lots, several hundred having been sold to residents in Elizabeth, Linden, Rahway, Cranford, Jersey City, Orange, Paterson, Westfield, Newark and New York City, and a large number of interments have been made.

In the Days of Happiness we do not know what is to befall us or when the inevitable will occur; therefore, it is a wiser precaution to make provision for a final resting place during health and life than to force the painful duty on one's friends or relatives after death. A place of burial will be needed sooner or later by every one, and no one should neglect selecting a suitable and proper place until future postponement is impossible.

Linden Lodge is the largest, most modern and best equipped Cemetery Lodge in the country and is provided with every requisite for the comfort and convenience of visitors who come to inspect the properties.

The Chief Feature of the Short Skirt. The Plain Parasol.

The chief feature of the short skirt of the moment is that the back is shorter than the front, and the tendency is still toward a very short waist at the back and a long pointed one in front.

Some of the prettiest hats are very simple, and, despite all efforts to the contrary, they are very flat, but this appearance is somewhat modified by the wide bandeau, and the way in which they are worn off the face is a distinct innovation with Parisians.

The parasol of the moment is very plain, with an abnormally long handle, the shade often decorated with spots or a wide border.

Somehow all the smart morning frocks seem to be worn without ruffles or even boas, but with a very neat turn over muslin collar. This style is becoming to some and certainly suitable for the short skirts, but for smarter gowns certainly the softening ruffle at the neck is more becoming.

White linen shirt waists are made with skirts to match.

Shirred effects are quite the mode and very becoming to tall people. Skirts and jackets are made in this fashion of thin veiling and have linings of lustrous silk, sometimes of a contrasting shade.

Gowns of white d'esprit are smart for young girls. These are always pretty trimmed with ribbon shirred or lace medallions.

The illustration shows a simple and at the same time picturesque evening gown of white silk.

PRETTY COSTUMES.

Rose Pink and Pale Green Linen Gowns—Sack Coats.

Rose pink and pale green are leading shades for linen gowns, and these are always dainty and cool looking in summer.

A smart fashion is that of little waistcoats of kid embroidery or old brocade for morning wear over blue or black serge skirts in company of a short sack coat or bolero. These are cut low to admit of a folded scarf or chemisette of soft plaited muslin or chiffon, which comes right up to the neck. The softening effect at the neck takes off any idea of hardness from the brocade or cloth underneath.

The attractive little loose sack or bolero in black net and taffeta has not disappeared. It is such a welcome addition in town for wearing over blouses with ordinary black skirts that few of us with a limited number of toilets can afford to dispense with this smart and useful garment.

Very dressy hats are made of satin straw, trimmed with ostrich feathers. Tulle and chiffon hats are not so much used, but are mingled with straw.

Foulard dresses are useful as well as pretty if made in a simple blouse and skirt fashion with fagoting for sole trimming or a little embroidery. The extremely ornate, fussy foulard has given way to the veiling or crepe de chine dress and the foulard is now considered a material for the general utility gown.

Elbow sleeves will not be seen for street wear this season, but will still be popular for dressy occasions.

The turban in the sketch is of rough straw trimmed with red flounces.

By WALKER KENNEDY.

Copyright, 1903, by A. N. Kellogg Newspaper Co.

At eight o'clock Warde and Mr. Everett were again closeted together, and the paper that had caused such a vast amount of trouble was taken from the safe and carefully read. It was dated 20 years before the time of this story. The handwriting was bold and plain. The following were the contents in full:

AGREEMENT BETWEEN JOHN T. WRIGHT AND JAMES FRANKLIN.

John T. Wright has this day made the following transfers of property with the subjoined understanding with James Franklin: The Wright homestead, 500 acres, all improvements. The Magnolia plantation, 2,000 acres, in —— parish, Louisiana. The Coahoma plantation, 8,670 acres, in Mississippi. The Queen City plantation, 11,980 acres, in Arkansas. A lot on Maine and Boulevard in the city of Nilus, 50 by 150 feet. A lot on Linden street, near the Bayou, 100 by 200 feet. A lot on Front row, near Madison, 40 by 150 feet, with improvements. All to the Shelby Real Estate and Investment company. A tract of land in Young county, Texas, 6,967 acres, to the Shelby County Real Estate and Investment company. A tract of land in —— county, Colorado, 5,000 acres. To the Diamond Mining company of Denver, Col.

These transfers are made to protect the said John T. Wright from sundry suits at law, which threaten to grow out of the difficulty that terminated in the death of Jeremiah Baxter at the hands of the said Wright. Regretting as he does the necessity of taking human life, the said Wright is not willing that his estate shall be sacrificed and the welfare of his family jeopardied; and these transfers are made with the distinct understanding that whenever the said Wright desires to revest these various properties in his own name the said James Franklin will take steps to at once turn over all the papers with which he is intrusted, and that he will at once secure said Wright in the possession of his property. The consideration alleged in these various deeds was never paid over. James Franklin binds himself as a man of honor and a friend of John T. Wright to faithfully fulfill the terms of this agreement whenever the said Wright so desires. JOHN T. WRIGHT.

JAMES FRANKLIN.

"That is certainly one of the most remarkable documents that it has ever been my fortune to consider," said the lawyer, his keen eyes snapping with relish for a novelty in legal literature. "Have you any idea what the paper is worth?"

"I should say two or three hundred thousand dollars," said Irving.

"It is nearer ten or twelve millions," declared the lawyer.

Irving's eyes betrayed a dazed surprise as he gaspingly repeated the words after Mr. Everett. The latter smiled and said: "I haven't the slightest doubt that Frederick Merivale would give at least $1,000,000 for the rights secured in the Wright estate by this paper."

"But—how can it be?" asked Irving in a whisper.

"Before I explain this part, let me tell you this; that the Shelby County Real Estate & Investment company and the Diamond Mining company of Colorado are virtually and practically James Franklin. These facts were discovered by Fenton, who at my suggestion has examined the records in the register's office, and learned the exact state of the case. It was easy sailing about the real estate company, but the facts concerning the mining company were harder to get at. It became necessary to have a thorough investigation, and with this end in view Fenton went to Colorado and there he soon learned that the local incorporators in the Diamond Mining company were dummies, and that James Franklin owned a large proportion of the stock. These two companies were evidently created by Wright and Franklin for the purpose of more thoroughly concealing the real nature of the transfers made. Fenton paid a visit to the Colorado tract of land, and it proved to be in the heart of a rich mining section. Originally Wright had bought it for a song and had looked upon it as a very indifferent speculation; but in 20 years great changes have been wrought, mines of vast richness have been worked, and now it turns out that the eyes of all the gold diggers in Colorado are turned greedily toward this tract of land situated among the hills. To the northeast of the tract a very successful mine has been conducted for a number of years. Recently the vein of ore became richer and richer until finally it ran dead against a tremendous wall of solid sandstone, which some upheaval of nature had thrust into the precious vein. For days and days the miners sought to discover the broken thread, but in vain, until an old fellow who owned a "dog" came along. The "dog" is some kind of mystic apparatus which will indicate the whereabouts of gold, just as the witch-hazel is said to point out a subterranean stream of water. Well, this old fellow climbed over the great wall of sandstone into a rocky reach of land; and as he was going about with his "dog" he soon discovered violent symptoms, as it were, of gold. The vein was continued with apparently double richness on the other side of the intervening sandstone. Fenton was fortunate enough to meet an old fellow out there who had gone west from this section of the country and who had bought that tract of land for Wright; and as soon as he learned of its possibilities he wrote to Wright telling him that he probably had a large fortune in it, if he had continued to hold it. Wright wrote back that the land was still his, and that the taxes had been paid upon it regularly. This letter has [illegible]. Of course the news of the discovery of this valuable vein on Wright's land created intense excitement, and Frederick Merivale, the largest stockholder in the adjacent mine, at once placed himself in correspondence with James Franklin. Just what has taken place between them is merely a matter of surmise, but this is doubtless the cause of Merivale's visit to Nilus."

"No wonder they were willing and ready to spend money, and to employ all sorts of means to thwart the investigation of the truth. It is now only too plain that the murder of John T. Wright was simply a part of a great conspiracy to get possession of the mines."

"Not a doubt of it; and there is no reason to suppose that the conspirators will quietly allow this paper to remain out of their possession. They will do some dark scheming to get hold of it. I think, therefore, that we had better take a copy of it."

The lawyer got from his desk a piece of paper, old and somewhat soiled, which could very easily be taken for the paper on which the original agreement had been written, and then he instructed Warde to make a copy just as much like it as deft penmanship could contrive. Irving was expert enough to make one that could hardly have been told from its prototype. This was held before the fire so as to dry the ink and draw out its blackness. It was then folded and backed with the words, "John T. Wright's Copy of the Agreement," just as the original had been.

Hardly had this task been accomplished when the door bell rang and soon afterward the servant announced that Col. Franklin desired an audience with Mr. Everett. The lawyer saw that it would arouse Franklin's suspicions if he declined an interview, and he was not averse to a contest of wits with that astute individual. At first he was puzzled to know what to do with Irving. It would not do for him to go out in the hall and risk being seen by the colonel.

The left side of Mr. Everett's library was covered with book shelves, but one of the cases was a revolving door and bookcase combined. A slight push turned it sideways and permitted entrance to the next apartment, which was a sort of lounging room for the lawyer. There were a great many easy chairs therein, a lounge, and all the facilities for the dreamy recreation of reading. When the lawyer wanted to work he occupied the library; when he wanted to read he sought the luxurious chair in the lounging room.

ROOSEVELT IN IDAHO.

Despite Heavy Rain Ten Thousand Citizens Welcome President.

SPOKANE, Wash., May 27.—The Roosevelt train arrived from the south and was met in the eastern suburbs by a committee of twenty-five citizens headed by ex-Senator Turner and a crowd estimated at 6,000 people. After a brief greeting the party took carriages for a two hours' drive through the most attractive part of the city. In the first carriage with the president were Secretary Loeb, ex-Senator Turner and Mayor Boyd. An escort of mounted veterans of the Spanish war in uniform accompanied the carriages.

President Roosevelt arrived at Wallace, Ida., in a heavy rain storm. Despite the weather conditions 10,000 persons thronged the streets. After a reception at Senator Heyburn's residence the party was driven to the City park. There Senator Heyburn introduced the president, who spoke for half an hour on good citizenship.

The president stood on the rear platform of the train acknowledging cheers until the train had pulled around the curve on its way to Spokane.

President Roosevelt's rest was disturbed by a noisy demonstration at Starbuck when his train pulled into that place. The president and all the members of his party had retired, but they were awakened by the discharge of firearms, the blowing of horns and the shouting of people. The secret service officer on duty did all he could to stop the racket, but the people refused to be quiet, even going to the length of knocking on the windows of the cars. The demonstration was kept up until the train left. The president did not show himself.

President Roosevelt stopped at Harrison, Ida., for five minutes and was greeted by a large crowd. He made a brief address from the rear platform of his car.

CROP FAMINE FEARED.

New England Farms Suffer From Drought.

BOSTON, May 27.—The farmers are fearing a crop failure in New England this year owing to the lack of rain. Reports have come from all sections of the district in the last two or three days, and they are summarized as follows in the climatic and crop bulletin issued yesterday by J. W. Smith, director of the New England section of the weather bureau, United States department of agriculture:

"The droughty conditions that have prevailed throughout New England for the past few weeks have been greatly intensified by the weather conditions of the week just passed. An abundance of moderately high, exceptionally drying winds, abnormally high temperatures and an almost total absence of precipitation have brought things to a pass that seldom exists at this season of the year. There is universal complaint from all sections of the district, and the prophecies of the farmers are most pessimistic."

Will Guard Irish Auto Race Course.

LONDON, May 27.—Regulations for the race for the James Gordon Bennett cup which is to take place in Ireland have been issued. The whole course will be closed from 6 o'clock in the morning until the race is finished, and the other regulations reduce the possibility of accidents to a minimum. It is believed that the Irish administration is considering still further precautions to insure the safety of the public. King Edward, who is taking great interest in the contest, has talked over the matter with Premier Balfour.

CALLED PASTOR LAST EVENING

Unanimous Call Was Extended to Rev. John Sheridan Zelie.

CRESCENT AVE. CHURCH

Comes From Schenectady, N. Y.—Salary $5,000 a Year, Including Use of Parsonage—Want Him As Soon After Sept. 1st As Possible.

The members of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church and congregation, at a meeting held last evening, extended a unanimous call to Rev. John Sheridan Zelie, of Schenectady, N. Y., to become pastor of the church, succeeding Rev. Dr. William R. Richards, at a salary of $5,000 a year, including the use of a parsonage. The action was taken, following the report of the committee of fifteen appointed a year ago for the purpose of securing a pastor for the church, and the committee as well as the church was unanimous in the matter.

Rev. J. O. McKelvey, of Warren chapel, as moderator of the Session, was in charge of the meeting, and the first business was the presentation of the report of the committee of fifteen by Charles Place, a member of it. This report stated that the committee had been deliberate in performing its duties, had visited a number of States and had sent out sub-committees to hear various preachers. It further set forth that entire harmony prevailed in the work of the committee, that the idea of getting a preacher and pastor was uppermost. In the choice of Mr. Zelie, the report stated that eleven members of the committee had had personal interviews with him, and last Tuesday evening, Dr. E. W. Hedges, W. D. Murray and Henry C. Squires visited Mr. Zelie at his home to inform him of the action of the committee. They received assurances that if a formal call should be extended to him that he would give it very serious consideration. The committee then recommended that a call be extended to Rev. John Sheridan Zelie at once.

A resolution was then offered by Phillip Swain and adopted unanimously, that the report of the committee be accepted and that a call be extended to Mr. Zelie to become the pastor of the church at a salary of $5,000 a year, including the use of the parsonage, and that he arrange to assume the pastorate of the church as soon after September 1 as convenient for him.

Rev. John Sheridan Zelie is a native of Maine and is thirty-six years of age. He is married and has two children. He was recommended to the committee of fifteen by Rev. G. Kennedy Newell, formerly of Hope chapel, he and Mr. Newell having been classmates in college. They are exactly the same age, both being born on the same day in the same year. At present Mr. Zelie is the pastor of the First Reformed church at Schenectady, N. Y., having held that pastorate for four years. He was graduated from Williams College, after which he spent two years at Union Theological Seminary and one year in Yale Theological Seminary.

After leaving Yale he accepted his first call to a small church in Connecticut, remaining there two years. From there he took charge of a Presbyterian mission church at Cleveland, Ohio, remaining there seven years. From Cleveland he went to Schenectady, where he has been ever since. He is spoken of as a fine speaker of pleasing voice and distinctly a preacher. His sermons are delivered from notes. The committee heard Mr. Zelie preach ten sermons and every member was unanimous in the selection. He is a warm personal friend of Rev. Dr. A. V. V. Raymond, president of Union Theological Seminary.

The committee of fifteen is composed of the following men from the various departments of the church. Session—L. N. Lovell, John Leal, Dr. E. W. Hedges, Henry C. Squires; trustees—Charles Place, I. W. Rushmore; deacons—W. H. Whitney, J. D. Miller; congregation—W. D. Murray, C. F. Abbott, John F. Harman and T. F. Budlong.

After the adoption of the resolution offered by Mr. Swain there was a unanimous vote electing Mr. Zelie pastor of the church and in accordance with a suggestion by Mr. McKelvey, a motion was offered and adopted that the committee sign the call which was extended. The church seems to be exceedingly well pleased with the work of the committee and a vote of thanks was given to that body.

GAVE STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL

SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR GIVEN BY HOLY CROSS CHURCH WOMEN.

An Effort to Raise Interest on the Mortgage on Rectory—Supper in the Evening.

In an effort to raise the interest on the mortgage on the rectory of the Church of the Holy Cross the women of the Guild of that church gave a strawberry festival yesterday afternoon and a New England supper in the evening. Both were a great success as the patronage was large at both functions.

The affair in the afternoon was given for the benefit of the children, when the little people conducted a fair. Between the hours of 6 and 8 o'clock the supper was served and a better supper was never served in the guild room of that church. It is estimated that 120 suppers were served.

The committee in charge of the arrangements comprised: Mrs. A. E. Faber, chairman; Mrs. W. Montgomery Downey, Mrs. John H. Carman, Mrs. J. O. Stevens, Miss Nettie Davis, Mrs. Hannigan, Mrs. William Westphal and Mrs. Berry. Those who had charge of the various tables were Mrs. Berry, lemonade; Miss Helen Phillips, stocks table; Mrs. Samuel Townsend, salad table, and Mrs. Irene Murray, cake table. The young women of the church assisted in waiting upon the tables.

CHOICE FOR PRESIDENCY

L. V. F. RANDOLPH NAMED TO HEAD CONSOLIDATED EXCHANGE.

New Honor for Plainfielder Who Recently Retired From Atlantic Trust Company.

The nominating committee of the New York Consolidated Exchange today presented the name of Lewis V. F. Randolph for the presidency of this Exchange. Each year a nominating committee is selected at the annual election whose duty it is to present to the Exchange the names of the officers to be elected to serve during the following year. At the last annual meeting these members were elected as this nominating committee: George W. Hoagland, chairman; D. K. Young, G. H. Cornwall, A. E. Parker, C. E. King, David J. Gould and Thomas J. Doremus. The presentation of Mr. Randolph's name practically assures his election. This takes place Monday, June 8.

January 1, Mr. Randolph retired from the presidency of the Atlantic Trust Company, of New York, after serving in that capacity for eight years. The trust company directors then made a handsome testimonial of their regard, presenting him with resolutions of high praise, handsomely engrossed, and accompanied by a check of generous figures. Previous to his connection with the Atlantic Trust Company, Mr. Randolph was a trustee in several large estates.

He was for about a dozen years treasurer of the Illinois Central Railroad, and held this position of trust in various enterprises. That he is best fitted for the presidency of the Consolidated Exchange seems to be the unanimous opinion of the Exchange.

FOR CITY UNION KING'S DAUGHTERS

Lawn Fete Given at the Home of Mrs. Frank Sprague Martin.

THE PROFITS OVER $100

UNDER AUSPICES OF BENEVOLENT BAND, KING'S DAUGHTERS.

Lawn and Porch Unusually Attractive—Ping-Pong and Croquet An Extra Attraction—The New Officers.

One of the most successful social affairs of the season was the lawn fete given yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frank Sprague Martin, of Hillside avenue, under the auspices of Benevolent Band, of King's Daughters. The event was given for the purpose of raising the amount of money pledged by the Band toward the support of the City Union King's Daughters' nurse. The sum realized as profit will be over $100 and the members of the Band are delighted with the success attending their efforts.

The lawn and front porch at Mrs. Martin's home presented a scene of unusual attractiveness. The cake, candy and fancy goods table were placed on the wide veranda in front of the house, while a decidedly unique feature was a flower table, sixteen feet long, placed on the lawn. This table was completely covered with beautiful flowers and proved a centre of attraction for all. The lemonade well, as well as the strawberry and ice cream tables, were also on the lawn. In the decorations, there was a profusion of flowers.

Throughout the afternoon the lawn and porch were crowded with patrons and they were all generous in their expenditures. Everything on sale was disposed of at good prices, thus enabling the members of the Band to make a satisfactory sum of money. As extra attractions, ping-pong and croquet proved just the right thing for the young folks, and some older ones, too.

The officers of the Band, recently elected, are: President, Mrs. Frank Sprague Martin; vice president, Mrs. Electa S. Craft; secretary and treasurer, Miss Mary Storrs. These officers, together with all the members of the Band, took charge of the affair and assisted at the various tables. With this successful commencement, the members will have no trouble whatever in meeting its obligation.

PUPIL SUSPENDED.

Trouble Over Fair Which Borough School Boy Wanted Under Class Auspices.

Henry C. Brose, one of the pupils of the North Plainfield High School, has been suspended from that school. The trouble has arisen over his action in having posters printed advertising a fair which was to have been held by the pupils of the class of '04 of the school which class, it seems, had nothing to do with the affair.

A hearing was to have been given him by the school board Monday evening but he did not put in an appearance. Brose was a special pupil and not a member of the class of '04.

To Hold Lawn Fete.

The members of the Silver Cross Circle, King's Daughters, young women residing in Washington Park, will hold a lawn fete on the Haviland property, Rockview avenue, opposite Washington avenue, tomorrow afternoon and evening. The proceeds will be used for the City Union King's Daughters' work this summer, including the work at the baby camp on the mountains. Cake and candy, as well as summer washable stocks, will be sold.

First Baptist Business Meeting.

At a business meeting of the First Baptist church last evening, several persons came before the church for membership. It was decided to hold service Sunday morning in the church, but owing to the cutting out of the electric light wires, there will probably be no evening service. The right-hand-of-fellowship was withdrawn from one member.

MASTER MECHANICS' ANNUAL BANQUET

Plates Were Laid for Seventy-Five Guests at Hotel Rosell Last Evening.

AN ELABORATE MENU

LEMUEL B. WOOLSTON WAS THE MASTER OF CEREMONIES.

Tables Handsomely Decorated—Health Inspector Wm. Addis Read Original Poem—What Some of the Other Guests Said.

Plates were laid for seventy-five guests at the Hotel Rosell last evening for the annual banquet of the Master Mechanics Association. The tables were handsomely decorated and an elaborate menu was discussed. At the head of the table was seated the master of ceremonies, Lemuel B. Woolston, who was also the toastmaster. On his right was Mayor Newton B. Smalley, of North Plainfield, and on his other hand President J. F. Buckle of the City Council, acting mayor.

When the cigars were aglow and the punch bowl flowing, the toastmaster introduced the speakers of the evening with a few well chosen remarks. President Buckle and Mayor Smalley made witty speeches and William Smith, of the board of mechanics, explained the reasons for organizing the association and the work that it is accomplishing. He laid stress upon the importance of insisting that workmen on strike should seek for employment in their own towns rather than look for it elsewhere. Health Inspector William Addis read an original poem in which the names of local plumbers were wittily introduced. Mr. Hennesey, of New York City, detailed the history of his connection with trade unions in New York.

James E. Martine spoke at some length in favor of trade unions, stating that the continual clashing between capital and labor was due to the discontent resulting from a condition of unfairness fostered by a lack of proper regulation of trusts. The inordinate fortunes made through the trusts and protected by legislation make the fight between capital and labor unequal. The remedy, which should be considered from an economic rather than a political standpoint, lies in the abolition of protective tariffs.

Reception Tendered to Alex. Muir at Hope Chapel Last Evening.

WISHED HIM GODSPEED

FINE PROGRAMME RENDERED AND REFRESHMENTS SERVED.

Will Leave Plainfield Saturday for Waterbury, Conn., to Accept a Position With a Large Brass Rolling Mill.

As a mark of appreciation of the faithful work of Alexander Muir, who leaves for Waterbury, Conn., Saturday, where he has accepted a position with a large manufacturing concern, the members of the Christian Endeavor Society, of Hope chapel, tendered him a farewell reception in the lecture room of the chapel last evening, when there were fully fifty young people present.

The social was held after the regular Wednesday evening prayer meeting and a most enjoyable evening was spent in playing games and in social intercourse. A repast was served, consisting of ice cream and cake, by the committee, after which the pastor, Rev. L. R. Howard, made a few remarks in which he spoke of the regret felt by all at the departure of Mr. Muir, who has been one of the foremost workers of the chapel. He wished the young man Godspeed on his new venture on behalf of the members of the society and of the chapel and assured him that if at any time he should return to this city a welcome would always be waiting for him. The remarks of the pastor were loudly applauded.

The committee in charge of the arrangements comprised: Miss Mabel Firstbrook, chairman; Miss Mary Duvier, Mrs. A. B. Lewis, Miss Laura Hanglighter, Matthew D. Sweeney, Theodore Shortman and Edward Young.

Music was a feature of the evening and those who took part in this part of the programme were Edward Young, cornet solos; City Judge William N. Runyon and Allan Squires, piano selections.

Mr. Muir leaves his position with the Manganese Steel Safe Works, where he has been employed ever since that concern started up its factory here, for Waterbury, Conn., where he has secured a position with the Randolph-Clowes Company, brass rolling mills. The concern is the largest in the country and Mr. Muir will be foreman over a large number of men. The position comes as a promotion to the young man who has made his mark here.

RACE NOT ON PROGRAMME

IRATE MOTHER CHASED DAUGHTER ABOUT SHOW TENT.

Much Excitement at "Uncle Tom's Cabin" Performance Tuesday Evening.

There was an act at "Uncle Tom's Cabin" Tuesday evening that was not down on the programme. Annie Campbell, a colored girl of about fourteen, who works on Sherman avenue, wanted to see the show, and she absented herself from work all day Tuesday in order to feast her eyes upon its marvels.

When the evening performance came around, unluckily for the girl she was seen by her mother, and the irate colored woman promptly chased her offending offspring all around the tent with the commendable idea of correcting her child for her idleness and disobedience. The race was fast and exciting and was viewed with delight by the assembled concourse, who shouted encouragement and then derision now to one and now to the other of the competitors.

Amid an indescribable uproar, the girl was finally captured and soundly pummeled by her wrathful parent, the punishment being inflicted with no soft hearted notions evident of sparing the child. The pair were finally quieted by Patrolman McCarthy and sent home. Mrs. Campbell threatens to send the child to the Reform School.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, May 28—Society was ago here yesterday over the wedding of Miss Ada Sergeant, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Sergeant, of this place, to Frederick Green Smith, formerly of Plainfield but now of New York. The wedding took place at 7:30 o'clock when the officiating clergymen were Rev. E. Oscar Jarvis, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, of Westfield, and Rev. Harry Gilchrist, of Roselle, a cousin of the groom. There were fully 150 guests present at the reception which followed the wedding although the wedding itself was private, there being only the immediate members of the family present.

The bride was attired in a gown of white tanne crepe with duchesse foularde with trimmings of Brussels white glace. A veil of the same material was caught at the hair with a cluster of orange blossoms. She was attended by a maid-of-honor, Miss Jeane F. Clark, of Brooklyn, and two attendants, the Misses Marjorie and Elsie Phillips, nieces of the bride. Both the maid-of-honor and attendants were attired in gowns of white liberty silk. The best man was George Smith, a brother of the groom.

JURY SAID NOT GUILTY

Joseph Erner, Charged With Murder of John Driff, Was Dsicharged.

VICTORY FOR DUNGAN

Justice Garretson's Charge to Jury Was Impartial—Jury Out Only Two Hours—Wife and Three Children in Court—Prisoner Was Very Nervous.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, May 28—After being out only about two hours the jury in the case of Joseph Erner, charged with the murder of John Driff at Bound Brook on Christmas morning last, came in at 7 o'clock last night with a verdict in favor of the defendant. "Not guilty," the jurors said. Justice Garretson received the result.

The prisoner was in court and he was very nervous. His wife and three little children were also there. She was almost overcome. Erner shook hands with the jurymen and left the court room soon after, catching the 7:45 trolley for his home in Bound Brook. This is a great victory for his able counsel, Nelson Y. Dungan.

It is understood that the jury discredited the story of Wiza, who swore that he saw Erner deal the fatal blow. He admitted, however, that a story he had told the lawyer for the defense before the trial was false.

The trial yesterday dragged along slowly. Nearly all the time was taken in rebuttal by the State. The lawyers made their pleas and then the Judge charged the jury. He was quite impartial.

The verdict meets the general opinion of those who heard the trial.

Funeral of Mrs. Williams.

Funeral of J. D. Donaldson.

John D. Donaldson, of Highland avenue, who died Tuesday, was buried yesterday afternoon from his late home. The funeral was simply observed. Rev. E. M. Rodman, rector emeritus of the Grace Episcopal church, read the service. The interment was at Hillside.

IS A GREAT ANNOYANCE

PUBLIC DUMP ON WEST FRONT STREET IS BEING COMPLAINED OF.

Officer L. R. Thurlow Investigated and Some Improvement is Noted—To Pump Water on It.

The public dump on West Front street and Giraud avenue has been a source of great annoyance to the families living in the immediate vicinity for the past few months and numerous complaints have been made regarding it. For several weeks in the early spring, the rubbish in the dump was burning continuously, and the constant smoke and odor was anything but a delight to those who were forced to endure it. After the smoke nuisance was abated, the situation became, if anything, worse than before. The rubbish, retaining its heat from the long continued fires, began to ferment and became a menace to health.

As a result of complaints, Health Officer L. R. Thurlow investigated the matter and, through his conscientious labors, much has been done in the way of improvement. It has been decided to have the fire department play upon the rubbish heaps for several hours within a day or two, with the idea of drowning out the odor resulting from the fermentation. If this does nor result successfully, it is promised that further and more drastic measures will be taken. The property is owned by Mrs. Mary E. Harberger, of West Front street.

ON THE DIAMOND.

Decoration Day morning the Alis Club will journey to Westfield and try to defeat Westfield's pride.

The catching by Barnes and the field work and batting of Pond, Lederer and Wm. Schoonmaker in last Saturday's game of the Alis Club, was of the highest order and delighted the "fans."

George Dupee is expected to do some great pitching with the Alis team back of him during the present season. Dupee is undoubtedly one of the strongest amateur pitchers in this vicinity.

Wiley, the new player on the Alis team, has already become very popular with lovers of baseball. He is in the game from first to last and seldom loses an opportunity. As a batter and base-runner he has few equals in his class.

Robertson, a former Yale pitcher, may be seen wearing an Alis uniform this season. Cox, who played third base last Saturday for Alis, will hereafter play short-stop regularly. He is a nice clean fielder and his batting is of the best.

The card at Westfield Decoration Day is: Alis at 10 o'clock and Rahway at 3:30 o'clock. Montross will pitch in the morning game and Walsh in the afternoon.

The June schedule at Westfield:
June 6—Roselle A. C.
June 13—Pearsall A. C.
June 20—North End A. C. (at Phillipsburg).
June 27—Brooklyn Field Club.

Last Saturday morning on the Arlington avenue grounds, the National Juniors, with Ayers and Stanbury for a battery, defeated the Park Avenue A. C. by a score of 22 to 7. Reighton and Fuller formed the battery for the latter team.

The Lincoln Athletic Club would like to hear of any baseball team averaging fifteen years of age for home and return game for Saturday afternoons and holidays. A game is desired with Westfield. Communicate with Secretary William L. Mattox, Lincoln, N. J. The team lines up as follows: T. Marren, p; E. Mattox, c; W. Hansen, 1b; W. Mattox, 2b; P. Olers, 3b; J. Gobel, ss; H. Hansen, rf; P. Lung, cf, and W. Elliott, lf.

The Brooklyn Field Club, one of Brooklyn's strongest semi-professional teams will cross bats with the Alis team on Crescent Oval, Decoration Day afternoon. The game will be called at 3:30 o'clock. The Brooklyn F. C. defeated the Aeolians this season 4 to 2 and the Aeolians recently defeated Westfield 3 to 0. A great game may be expected as the Alis Club has strengthened its team so as to be in the class with the best teams in the Metropolitan district.

Manager Cliney, of the Clinton Avenue team, is shaking hands with himself over the neat record of his team. Two wins and no losses so far this season in the Association League! Now he is anxious for the time to come when he will meet the Reform Club nine. Both teams having the same record in the league the chances of a good hard game are good with lots of close brushes. The strength of the Clinton Avenue team is mostly in the field work where at each game this season so far the real star work has been done.

Manager Ed. Smith, of the Reform Club, is highly elated over the showing made so far this year by his team. With two wins for the first two games of the Association League season nothing better could be asked. The members of the Reform Club nine are active in their practice work. They receive their coaching readily and "catch on" to new stunts in "jig time." That club has now one of the strongest teams in the city.

Manager Walters, of the Cuban Giants nine, is somewhat discouraged over the result of the games played by the members of that team so far this season. He believes the two defeats in succession are due entirely to lack of interest in practice. This is a most important part of the game and the team that pays the most attention to practice is the one that can hope for victory. The practice nights are Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. More concentration in practice and less misplaced confidence among the members in the field would work wonders.

The management of the Whittier School baseball nine has prepared a list of records of the games played so far this season and their scores. Twelve victories and three defeats make a record to be proud of and it speaks well for the management and for the members of the team. The scores follows: Whittier School with a scrub team, 6 to 3; Underwoods, 9 to 6; a scrub team, 12 to 1; Underwoods, 15 to 12; Randolph A. C., 10 to 4; St. Mary's Jrs., 13 to 7; N. P. H. S., 9 to 0; Underwoods, 1 to 11; St. Mary's Jr, 5 to 2; High School, (practice) 4 to 3, (fourteen innings); Westfield G. S., 9 to 0; Y. M. C. A. Jrs., 24 to 8; St. Mary's Jr., 10 to 15; Dunellen Jrs., 16 to 9. Games are wanted with the St. Mary's Jrs. or with the Dunellen Jrs., on May 28 and June 15.

It is expected that the Alis Club will leave Plainfield Saturday morning on the trolley departing from the Watchung avenue station at 9 o'clock. This will bring the team at Westfield in plenty time for the game.

AMONG THE STEPPERS

One of the greatest events in this locality for Decoration Day will be the blood horse races which will be held at the Raritan Driving Park in Highland Park, near New Brunswick. There are many local horses entered in the races. Some of them are: Edgar C, bg; J. B. Osborn, of this city, Arnola, ch. m., or Maude C. bm., W. H. Covills, Westfield, owner, Jessie Dine, b m., J. S. Irving, Westfield, owner, and Wildress, blk. m., W. H. Coville, Westfield, owner, in the 2:20 and 2:22 class; and Jerry Red, b s, J. H. Green, Jr., Plainfield, owner, Mabel Gray, ch m., Grossman and Irving, Plainfield, owners, Fred V., b g., J. S. Irving, Westfield, owner, in the 2:27 class; and Jerry Red, b s., J. H. Greene, Jr., Plainfield, owner, and Arnola, ch m., W. H. Scoville, Westfield, owner, in the 2:35 class. For each of these events a purse has been put up of $150, divided into four moneys. There are six entries each in the 2:20, 2:22, 2:27 and 2:35 class events.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

John Howe Hall, of this city, won for Harvard the third place in the trial two-mile run, Colwell, the Kansas flyer, winning the first place for Harvard, in the same race, Franchot, of Yale, taking second place, in the trial games at New Haven on Saturday. As this was a very swift and hotly contested race, Mr. Hall's friends congratulated him on winning a place in it, thus adding one point to the score in the two-mile run (Harvard 6; Yale, 2) and winning the next for himself to wear the coveted "H." on his jersey.

GOLF.

The mixed foursomes scheduled at the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, Saturday, were postponed to a future date.

CAPTAIN MARTIN'S RECORD

ON ALL-AMERICAN RIFLE TEAM FOR THREE SUCCESSIVE YEARS.

Shooting at Sea Girt Last Week Was Best That Has Been Done in Twenty Years.

Shooting last week in practice at Sea Girt for place on the American team was the best that has been done in twenty years by an American team, according to the records. International matches, with the much praised match rifle, never came up to last week's records. The shooting is now done with the military rifle and is little short of remarkable. Major Guilfoyle says the American team which has been selected to go to England after the Palma prize were better shots than any he had ever seen with any kind of rifle. Some individual scores have been better, but nothing as good in team shooting.

The Palma prize is a trophy that was put up for international competition during the centennial of 1876, to represent the championship of the world. It is inscribed, "United States of America to riflemen of the world." It was in annual competition up to 1882, when competition for it dropped. America has always held it until 1901, when the Canadian team defeated the Americans and took it home. Last year the American team went after it, but was again defeated. The trophy went to England, and thither the recently-picked team will go after it next month. If the twelve who form the team this year shoot in England as they did at Sea Girt in practice, there will be no question about bringing back the trophy.

Captain W. B. Martin, of Company K, this city, is the only one of this year's team who has been on the team the past three years.

Purchased Team of Trotters.

Henry DeMott, the borough undertaker, has recently purchased two fine horses which have a record of 2:30. The horses will be used by Mr. DeMott in his business.

Case Adjourned.

The case between Silas Leonard and James and Edward Conway, florists, in the borough, has been adjourned until June 1 in Justice Smalley's court in the borough.

To Initiate Mayor.

It is expected that Mayor Newton B. Smalley will be initiated into the mysteries of Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., this evening.

—Maurice Brokaw, of West Front street, has accepted a position in New York City.

—Miss Dottie Smalley, of the borough, has accepted a position at Brookside Sanitarium.

Plainfield, N. J., May 28, 1903.

BETTER TROLLEY SERVICE?

It looks as if there was something better in view for the local trolley service. With a little boosting from the local Board of Trade, this promise may be brought to a successful fulfillment. Elizabeth sent a delegation from its Board of Trade to see President Thomas N. McCarter, of the Public Service Corporation, which has taken over the control of the Elizabeth, Plainfield and Central Jersey Street Railway Company, together with a number of other trolley and gas companies. A definite promise of improvements was given to the citizens from the county seat.

Among the things that the Elizabethans asked for was sprinkling of the city streets. Plainfield has that already. Another request was for a uniform set of transfers good on all lines in the city. Plainfield already has that as all its trolley lines have always been controlled by one company which is not the case in Elizabeth. What Plainfield does want, however, is a number of new and properly equipped cars. Then it wants better service on the Arlington avenue line. There are a number of minor changes that would greatly improve the local service.

But greatest of all the needs of Plainfield, as far as its trolley service is concerned, is a proper transfer station on private property. No matter what arrangements are made, it will never be satisfactory as long as the trolley company appropriates the middle of one of the principal thoroughfares and compels its passengers to either plow through the dust or wade through mud and water. No matter whether the cars meet every five minutes or every fifteen, the usefulness of Watchung avenue as a public thoroughfare is materially injured as long as they use the roadway for a waiting station. By running a loop in on private property and erecting a platform and waiting shed, the interests of the company's patrons and those of the city as well would be far better looked after.

As Saturday will be Memorial Day and a legal holiday, The Daily Press will not be published that day. Notices for the church column should reach this office tonight in order to ensure publication tomorrow.

DEATH OF MRS. SMITH.

Passed Away at Home of Her Daughter, Mrs. Philpitt.

Mrs. Smith, wife of the late Roland Smith, died Tuesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Kate C. Philpitt, of Plainfield avenue. She had suffered for the past two years with an incurable disease and she was patient to the end. Monday she wished to see her two little grandchildren and one little niece christened by her bedside. This rite was performed by Rev. William Montgomery Downey, of the Church of the Holy Cross. This brought great satisfaction to her. She leaves five daughters and two sons, besides her mother and four sisters and one brother.

A Big Show Coming Shortly.

Advance car No. 1 of Welsh Bros. newest great shows, carrying twenty-one bill posters, commenced billing here recently. Judging the show from the appearance of their fine car and the rapidly moving men on it doing the work, it indicates something evidently of great magnitude following. The printing now on the boards and in the surrounding country, is all of special design, very elaborate and undoubtedly expensive. They will show here Wednesday, June 3.

Cantata of "Queen Esther."

The cantata of "Queen Esther," will be given by the Choral Society of the First M. E. church, under the auspices of Charles L. Lewis, on Thursday evening, June 11, and not this evening as previously announced. It will be given in Vincent chapel.

Another Festival.

The Ladies' Aid Society, of St. Peter's German Lutheran church, will hold a strawberry and ice cream festival Wednesday evening, June 3, in the Sunday-school rooms on Grove street and Mercer avenue. Everybody is invited.

Loaned $11,000.

The Home Building and Loan Association, at its last meeting, loaned $11,000 to different applicants.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning May 31—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Topic.—Missions in the island world.—Isa. xlii, 10-17; lx, 8, 9.

In connection with his prophecies concerning the extension of Christianity throughout the world Isaiah makes frequent reference to the island world. In the topical references he calls upon "the isles and the inhabitants thereof" to "sing unto the Lord a new song" and declares "surely the isles shall wait for me and the ships of Tarshish first to bring thy sons from far, their silver and their gold with them, unto the name of the Lord thy God and to the Holy One of Israel, because He hath glorified thee." These and similar passages illustrate the fact that in the Christianization of the world its islands were to bear an important part.

The history of Christian missions has fulfilled the predictions of the prophet. Island missions have been prominent from the beginning. Christianity obtained its earliest and most enduring triumphs on the islands of the Mediterranean and all through its history island missions have been conspicuous. Paul's first stopping place on his first great missionary journey was on the island of Cyprus, and here he won his first distinguished convert to Christianity, Sergius Paulus, a Roman deputy. Since then Christian missions have extended throughout the island world, to the British isles, where they have been such a factor in the world's history; to "Greenland's icy mountains," to the East Indies, the West Indies, to Japan, to the New Hebrides, the Sandwich Islands, the Philippines, Madagascar, and the isles of every sea.

Missions in the island world have been unusually successful. They have had much to contend with. Nowhere have men become more degenerate than in the islands of the world. Here superstition, idolatry and very often cannibalism have existed. Morality has scarcely been known, and the standard of living has been the lowest, yet in spite of such conditions conspicuous success has been achieved. "The isles and the inhabitants thereof" seem to have been waiting for Christianity. The Christian missionary went to England and transformed the islands that have played such a part in the world's history. In less than fifty years Christian missions completely transformed the Sandwich Islands. From a barbarous, superstitious, idolatrous people, without any of the blessings and comforts of civilization, they were developed into a people with a Christian civilization to be proud of. The entire population was won for Christ, and mission work in the islands today is among the foreign and not the native population, and among the oriental nations none has so readily responded to the call of Christianity as the island empire of Japan. Looking back through the centuries of the past, we can see how truthfully the prophet spoke when he said, "Surely the isles wait for me."

But mission work in the island world is not all done. All the isles of the sea have not yet learned to sing the new song. They are waiting, they are calling, and to American Christians a part of the island world is calling particularly today. Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippine Islands are looking to us for the true gospel. Millions of islanders are waiting expectantly for us to send them the Saviour. What shall our answer be? It should be Paul's answer to Cyprus, Augustine's to England. We should send them the gospel, so that the isles and the inhabitants thereof can "sing unto the Lord a new song and His praise unto the end of the earth."

Bible Study.

Christian Endeavor has always laid great stress on the necessity of systematic Bible study. The Bible study committee will find the following utterance of Rev. Dr. Chapman a help and an inspiration:

"It has been my privilege during the past nine years to be closely identified with a great company of men, both in evangelistic work and in the regular service of the church. I have in that time been brought in contact with many who, while they were Christians, were living far away from Christ, were not growing and were having an experience with which they were thoroughly dissatisfied, and in every case, when I have investigated the cause, I found that it was due to the fact that they were not students of the word of God. If it should be objected that so much of the time is taken up by business and its attendant responsibilities, my answer would be that those who have been most proficient in their knowledge of the Scriptures have become so because they have made time for communion with God and his word in the early hours of the day, or even the late hours of the night, and it has not infrequently been by the sacrifice of some special pleasure."

A Basis For the Best.

Let us every one work for new members and work for souls and we shall make this the best year Christian Endeavor has ever seen.—Rev. Edwin Forrest Hallenbeck, D. D.

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries
Largest Burial Parks IN THE State.

Transportation Facilities superior to those of any other cemetery, as to number of trains, railroad fare, time and distance.

These New Cemeteries, now being developed on the modern park plan, are attracting universal attention.

By Reason of Location Alone they are destined, in a very short time, to become the best-known Cemeteries in the country and, with their natural advantages, the most beautiful and desirable in which to purchase lots.

They are Accessible from every quarter and within easy reach of over 4,000,000 people, and, considering the steady and rapidly increasing growth of Greater New York and its tributary cities and towns, it is only the question of a short time before plots in Rosedale and Linden Park will equal in value those of our most noted cemeteries.

Popular Favor has already been shown to a marked degree in the sale of lots, several hundred having been sold to residents in Elizabeth, Linden, Rahway, Cranford, Jersey City, Orange, Paterson, Westfield, Newark and New York City, and a large number of interments have been made.

In the Days of Happiness we do not know what is to befall us or when the inevitable will occur; therefore, it is a wiser precaution to make provision for a final resting place during health and life than to force the painful duty on one's friends or relatives after death. A place of burial will be needed sooner or later by every one, and no one should neglect selecting a suitable and proper place until future postponement is impossible.

Linden Lodge is the largest, most modern and best equipped Cemetery Lodge in the country, and is provided with every requisite for the comfort and convenience of visitors who come to inspect the properties.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Topic For the Week Beginning May 31, "Missionary Meeting: Work Among Heathen Women."

The moral character of any people is determined by its estimate of woman.

There is no surer clew in the historical study of human advancement than the regard for womanhood. Christian womanhood stands world-wide apart from and above heathen womanhood in any age or in any nation. The respect in which womankind are now held in Christian lands is not the same among all nationalities, but is alike in this—a far higher place is accorded them than in any pagan or Mohammedan communities.

Probably the lowest place in the scale of womanhood is reached in some parts of Africa on the east coast and back to the interior in the Portuguese possessions. Here her value is computed in cows, if she chances to be daughter of a chief. She is a slave, to be bought and sold at the caprice of her father or husband. She builds the hut, cultivates the soil with hard labor and cooks the meals for the man who owns her and to whom she bears children. The number he may own like her is limited only by his power to purchase. Slavery, polygamy and witchcraft preside in her world and make it a living hell when compared with the lot of Christian women in homes of love and purity.

The condition of woman in more civilized lands has some brighter features and yet is most pathetic in many particulars. Romantic love in those regions has no part in family life, and there is no conception of home as it is understood in Christian lands. There are many details of family life which appear in China and Japan and India and other lands which are valuable and should be preserved and adopted everywhere, but the foundations as a whole are inadequate to the fullest and highest development of womanly virtue and worth. The reverence for parents and influence of motherhood in the Chinese family, the unvarying politeness and patient obedience of Japan, the deep religiousness of the women of India are all admirable.

The work of Christian women for their heathen sisters, though but recently begun in any systematic manner, has made great advancement. It takes several forms. As important as any work is that of the medical missionaries. No such thing as medical science exists in any heathen country except as introduced by Christian physicians. Crudest quackery and superstition prevail among native practitioners. No male doctor is allowed in the orient to visit and examine a female patient. The medical woman missionary, with cures which to native minds seem truly miraculous, finds welcome everywhere and is able with medicines for bodily ills to also carry the good tidings for sin cursed souls.

Next to the curse of disease lies the curse of ignorance and idleness. These prevail in all heathendom. Education gives occupation to the idle mind, fills life with new and higher ideals and incentives. The school of all grades, from kindergarten to college, is lifting heathen womanhood into a new world of being.

Greater than either of these agencies, however, is the direct preaching of the gospel of Jesus Christ, which for the first time in all the ages gives to them an idea of future blessedness for woman and a life of love and happiness on earth. God speed the holy work for purer womanhood!

Christianity.

The thing Christianity is here to do is to make men right in their feelings. It may not always make people wise. It may not give them correct understanding of things nor attempt to. That quality of heart that Christianity aims to induce is something that correct understanding has almost nothing to do with. We know how much a child can love his mother without understanding his mother, without having ever in any way thought nicely and accurately about her. Indeed, it is his love for her that helps him to understand her a great deal more than it is his understanding of her that makes him love her.—Rev. Charles H. Parkhurst, D. D.

Tomorrow.

Tomorrow is not for us to rejoice in or to fear. It may never come to us, and if it comes its bringings may be very different from our thought. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof and the good thereof. However trying today may be it can be endured for today, and tomorrow may be without trials. However joyous may be today, tomorrow may be far better.—Sunday School Times.

When.

When I can do no more,
I always can do this:
I can look upward and implore
Strength for my helplessness.

When shadows cloud my way,
I clasp the hand of One
Who safely leads, by night or day;
I never am alone.

When my own wisdom fails,
I ask and am supplied
With wisdom which avails;
My Saviour is my Guide.

When in some rugged road
I tread with bleeding feet
And falter underneath my load,
My Helper there I meet.

When driven to despair
By wild or sudden grief,
My Comforter is always there
With succor and relief.

When tempted by the lure
Of some seductive sin,
Escape is promised and made sure;
My Keeper is within.

When fade my treasures here,
When gain and loss befall,
Oh, then my Keeper, Comforter,
Shall be my all in all!

—Rev. A. Parke Burgess, D. D.

By WALKER KENNEDY.

Copyright, 1903, by A. N. Kellogg Newspaper Co.

It was the work of a moment to throw back this door, which had been contrived purely as a convenience, and not for the purposes of weird romance, and thrust Irving into the next room.

A moment afterward Col. Franklin and Mr. Everett confronted each other like two intellectual gladiators in the library. The latter was cool, keen and collected. He had his wits well in hand and his emotions firmly in check.

There was a glitter in Franklin's dark eyes, and a suppressed excitement in his manner which placed him at a disadvantage, though he was not aware of it.

Franklin had an intense personality. He was full of the magnetism that repels. Even men of the steadiest nerves and most phlegmatic temperament were surprised to find themselves trembling in his presence, not from fear, but simply from the disturbing atmosphere that seemed to surround the man. The personality of some men is pacifying and soothing, while that of others is irritating and discordant. Franklin's dominating nature came in the latter category. Everett was aware of this quality in his antagonist and he at once forced himself to become familiar with it, in much the same way that the bather inures himself to the cold water by placing first an arm, then a leg and gradually the whole body into it. The chill, once accustomed to, is virtually worn off. In a few minutes Everett had thoroughly neutralized the mesmeric quality radiating from Franklin, and the two men were now on even terms. But Everett was hardly prepared for the reckless audacity of the man, who, without any concealment, went straight to the object of his business.

"I presume," said Franklin in his most overawing manner, "that you are perfectly aware of the object of my visit?"

Mr. Everett came very near being thrown off his guard, but he recovered in a second and replied indifferently: "Not being a mind reader, colonel, I should not undertake to say what the object of your visit was. Be kind enough to explain yourself."

"I came after that paper."

Mr. Everett did not display the slightest emotion of surprise, embarrassment or indignation, but there was a cold defiance in his blue eye and a metallic hardness in his voice as he replied: "Col. Franklin, you will have to adopt some other method if you wish to transact any business with me. I have never allowed any man to take that tone with me and I shall make no exception in your case."

Franklin laughed a nervous, disagreeable laugh and then said: "I meant no offense, sir, and you should have taken none. But it is perfectly apparent to me that you have a paper which belongs to me."

"You are mistaken, I have nothing that belongs to you."

"As you please. If I am informed correctly, a paper which was taken from my possession was this morning brought to this house and turned over to you, or least inspected by you."

"NOW YOU WILL BE KIND ENOUGH, MR. EVERETT, TO HAND ME THAT AGREEMENT BETWEEN WRIGHT AND MYSELF."

"And by what means did Col. Franklin learn all this?"

"From trustworthy sources, depend upon it."

"I haven't the slightest objection to your surmising such a state of facts. Suppose we assume that such a paper was brought to me this morning, and I should insist on Col. Franklin's proving his ownership of the paper?"

"I could tell at once, by an examination, whether it was mine or not."

"But I couldn't."

"Well, I would be willing to pay very handsomely for the restoration of the document."

"There is one very easy way to get this paper, if you are satisfied that it is in my possession, and that is to institute proceedings against me in the courts and thus recover it."

"There is a better way than that, and a quicker one," said Franklin, coolly, taking from his pocket a revolver and covering Mr. Everett's heart. "I made up my mind when I came here that I would have that paper, and I propose to get it. I am a desperate man. I have staked a great deal on this little document, and I can make a fortune out of it. Nothing shall defeat me, you understand, nothing. This little revolver can outwit your clever brains every time. Now you will be kind enough, Mr. Everett, to hand me that agreement between Wright and myself."

Lawyer Everett was naturally a man of nerve, but he realized that it was useless to argue against death; and his coolness under the circumstances was admirable.

"I am a lawyer, Col. Franklin," he said in an abstracted way, looking into the fire unconcernedly, "and am accustomed to giving advice. Let me give you some. I have no desire to take any unfair advantage of you. I propose to fill all my legal engagements, and in such as conflict with your interests I expect to give you the best fight I can; but I hereby warn you that you are making a great mistake in trying to obtain this paper in this manner."

"Not at all. You may tell any story you please about it. I will denounce it as a myth. You have no witnesses, and besides I think it's just as well that you should sell this paper to me and give me a receipt."

"You have guarded yourself admirably," said Mr. Everett, smiling. "Allow me to compliment your dexterity and the thoroughness of your plans, but all the same I shall defeat you utterly. You will find that this paper contains more danger to you than you ever dreamed of. But how much do you propose to pay for it?"

"Ten thousand dollars."

"Very well," said Mr. Everett, sitting down to his writing desk in a business-like manner; "there's your receipt."

"Here's your money," said Franklin, taking out a roll and throwing it on the table. "Count it."

"It's all right. Ten $1,000 notes."

"Now the paper, please."

A WAY OPEN.

Many a Plainfield Reader Knows It Well.

There is a way open to convince the greatest skeptic. Scores of Plainfield people have made it possible. The public statement of their experience is proof the like of which has never been produced before in Plainfield. Read this case of it given by a citizen:

Mrs. W. W. Mills, of No. 86 Summit avenue, says: "I suffered at times with a severe pain across the small of my back and in my hips. If I did any lifting or stooping my back became lame and sore and though I used plasters they only helped me for the time being. I was feeling very badly when I had my attention called to Doan's Kidney Pills. They were so highly recommended for troubles like mine that I got a box at L. W. Randolph's drug store. I felt their good effects in a few days. When I had finished the treatment my back was better and stronger and I had much more energy to attend household duties."

WAS ABSENT THIRTY YEARS

WILLIAM MUELLER RETURNS TO THE SCENES OF HIS BOYHOOD.

Wandered Away From Home When Ten Years of Age, and Had Been Given Up As Dead.

"Ish dot der leedle veelage of Falling Vater?" were the words Rip Van Winkle used when he awakened from his long sleep in the Catskill mountains and such were almost the words used by Wilhelm Mueller, a sailor on the steamship Teutonic of the White Star Line, when he again beheld the borough of North Plainfield, Monday, after his long absence from home.

Mueller lived in North Plainfield at one time. He was a wayward boy and one day when he was only about ten years of age he wandered away from home, leaving a mother and father and two sisters. He was going away to make his fortune. He said he would return, but his parents had long ago given him up as dead. Mueller saw a Daily Press reporter while in town Monday and to him he told his story.

It seemed that when he left the borough he went away to New Brunswick where he boarded a canal boat and worked as galley boy. He finally got as far as Philadelphia and from there he shipped as cabin boy and followed the sea until a year ago when he secured a position with the White Star Line. Sunday he arrived in New York and the day following he came to this city to find his parents. He hardly knew the borough when he saw it as it had been nearly thirty years since he was here.

He said he used to live not far from the brook and from the description he gives it must have been somewhere near the Somerset street bridge. He said that the borough had built up wonderfully. Through the aid of an old resident the young man learned that his parents had moved to Naugatuck, Conn., where his sisters were employed in a rubber mill. He left at once for that place where he expected to find them.

WEST POINT EXCURSION.

Being Arranged by Jersey Central for June 6.

The New Jersey Central will run an excursion up the Hudson to West Point, June 6, on the steamer St. Johns. The scenery throughout the trip is grand and an outing at this time of the year will be delightful as well as beneficial.

After leaving the commercial section of the river you see Grant's Tomb, Riverside Drive and the Palisades, while further along there is Anthony's Nose, the Crow's Nest and West Point.

The visit to the grounds and buildings of the Military Academy at West Point is both interesting and instructive as this is the place the generals are trained and on whom the safety of this beloved country often depends. This will be a first-class family excursion, no intoxicating liquors being offered for sale on the steamer.

There will be music on the steamer and the restaurant will be in charge of a first-class caterer. The train leaves Plainfield station at 8:02 a. m. Round trip tickets, $1. Don't forget this trip. 5 28 td

Decoration Day Jaunts.

Memorial Day seems to be the ideal day for launching the excursion season, and with the fine weather which usually prevails one is only too glad for the opportunity for a day's enjoyment. Perhaps no one resort is more eagerly chosen than Mauch Chunk, than which there is no more charming resort in this section. To reach Mauch Chunk there is a delightful railroad journey through the hills of New Jersey and the mountains of Pennsylvania, and when Mauch Chunk is reached there is a burst of glorious scenic beauty. Then the switch-back railroad trip of 14 miles over a gravity road o'er mountain and through dale is a treat once experienced never forgotten, and another side trip into the mountain depths of Glen Onoko where are cascades, caverns and like attractions. On Decoration Day the New Jersey Central is going to run an excursion to Mauch Chunk, the round trip to cost $1.50, children 75 cents, and a fast special express train will leave Plainfield at 9:22 a. m., and arriving at Mauch Chunk about noon; and as the return trip does not leave the mountain city until 5:49, there will be ample time for a good time. Ask nearest ticket agent for circular.

SOCIETY THRONGS TO BIG CHURCH WEDDING

Marriage of Miss Harriet Efner Strong to Thomas Leighton McCready.

AN AFTERNOON EVENT

FOLLOWED BY RECEPTION AT HOME OF THE BRIDE'S PARENTS.

Beautiful Floral Decorations at Church and House—Those Who Attended Young Couple—Lovely Gowns.

In the presence of a throng of admiring relatives and friends from this city and New York, the marriage of Miss Harriet Efner Strong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Strong, of Central avenue, and Thomas Leighton McCready, of New York, was solemnized in the Crescent Avenue church, yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. It was a society event of the season, attracting those who are prominent in the social circles. The fashionable church was a scene of perfect beauty, the decorations being unusually pretty. There was a profusion of stately palms, peonies and ferns, banked about the pulpit platform.

The bride was richly gowned in lace and chiffon. She wore a tulle veil and carried a shower bouquet. Attending her was her sister, Miss Agnes Strong, who wore a gown of white crepe de chine, trimmed with lace. Her hat was trimmed in pink and she carried pink roses. The bridemaids were Miss Ayune McCready and Miss Cornelia H. Merrill, of New York; Miss Emily P. Letchworth, of Buffalo; Miss Ruth Peckham, of Westfield, and Miss Ethel Bowen, of Plainfield. Their gowns were of nile green liberty silk, trimmed with lace and ribbons. Their hats were white, trimmed with pink roses and they carried pale pink roses. The groom was attended by McCready Sykes, of New York, as best man. The ushers were George G. McCracken, Hervey Studdiford, Jay Clarkson, of New York; Henry C. Wells, James M. Middledith and George T. VanBoskerck, of Plainfield.

As the bridal patry entered the church, the wedding march was played by Frank J. Smith, a former organist of the church. At the altar the party was met by Rev. Dr. William R. Richards, of the Brick Presbyterian church, who performed the ceremony, and Rev. Percy S. Grant, of the Church of Ascension, New York, who assisted. The bride was given away in marriage by her father.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where three hundred guests assembled to extend their best wishes to the popular young couple. The home was beautifully decorated for the reception, white and pink roses and carnations, southern smilax and palms, being used chiefly about the parlors and hallway. During the reception, an elaborate supper was served by an out-of-town caterer, and early in the evening Mr. and Mrs. McCready left Plainfield to enjoy a honeymoon. Their plans for the future have not yet been made and their place of residence for the summer not yet determined upon.

The gifts received by the bride include many costly and beautiful articles, showing the high esteem in which she and her husband are held by a host of friends.

Eagles to Attend Church.

The local Castle of the Knights of the Golden Eagle held a meeting Tuesday evening when four new members were received into the order. A business meeting preceded a smoker and social hour. It was voted to attend in a body the services at the First Presbyterian church on the evening of June 21 at the invitation of Rev. Dr Herring. Albert Lacey and Charles Norris won the prizes in the gold badge contest.

Interesting Talk.

The speaker Sunday at the Y. M. C. A. men's meeting was Rev. Geo. Poole, of Somerville. He delivered a very interesting talk to the young men. Mrs. W. A. W. Bennett sang and Dr. J. F. Berg and Whitney Frazee rendered 'cello and cornet solos. The singing was led by Horace J. Martin, accompanied upon the piano by Dr. J. Hervey Buchanan.

Tug-of-War.

A tug-of-war contest has been arranged between a team representing Plainfield and a team from Westfield. The local manager, John Long, said that the contest will be pulled off tomorrow afternoon. There will be a $25 purse offered for the winner.

DANCED IN NEW BUILDING.

The Clerks of Woodhull & Martin's Store Spent Pleasant Evening.

Very enjoyable was the informal dance given last evening in Woodhull & Martin's new building under the auspices of the clerks in the store. Charles Suhr's Imperial Orchestra furnished excellent music. The dance was given on the second floor in what will be the carpet department. Shortly before midnight ice cream and cake were served by the young men and women, after which the dancing was continued. The company was honored with the presence of F. T. Woodhull and E. C. Martin and their families.

BRIDE FROM THE BOROUGH

PRETTY HOME WEDDING ON MANNING AVENUE LAST NIGHT.

Miss Edith May Finney Becomes Wife of Berton Chapman, of Bound Brook.

In the presence of a few friends and relatives, Miss Edith May Finney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Finney, of Manning avenue, was united in marriage last evening to Berton Chapman, of Bound Brook, at the bride's home on Manning avenue. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. O. McKelvey, pastor of Warren chapel, and took place at 8 o'clock.

The parlors of the house where the nuptial knot was tied were decorated tastefully with flowers, including roses, carnations and greens. The bride was attired in a gown of white Persian lawn with trimmings of silk. She carried a bouquet of roses. The bridemaid, Miss Carrie Krewson, wore a gown of blue of the same material. Westley Sackett, of Bound Brook, was the best man.

After a supper had been served to the bridal party Mr. and Mrs. Chapman left for a short honeymoon and upon their return they will reside in Bound Brook where the groom is employed in the Ideal Cash Register Company.

HOW MEMORIAL DAY PROMISES TO PASS

Grand Army Veterans Will be in Charge of Parade and Exercises.

OUTDOOR ATTRACTIONS

HOLIDAY WILL SEE LOTS OF BASEBALL ON LOCAL DIAMONDS.

League Games Will be Played Morning and Afternoon—Other Interesting Contests—Plenty of Golf and Other Features.

All Plainfield will unite to observe Memorial Day tomorrow and various plans are being made for spending the day more or less profitably. While each year sees fewer and fewer of the veterans of the Civil War in line, those remaining still unite to deck the graves of those who have gone before and arrange appropriate memorial services to serve as a reminder of the gallant services of the braves boys in blue nearly half a century ago. There are other plans for the day in which the real significance of the day is lost. Memorial Day always marks the real beginning of the summer season with its host of outdoor attractions and sports. While most of these are in progress before that day, it is not until Memorial Day that the season really reaches its height.

Winfield Scott Post, G. A. R., has charge of the Memorial Day exercises which begin with the decoration of the graves by details in early morning. At 9:30, the veterans of Winfield Scott Post with the local camp of Sons of Veterans, Company K and the City High Sscool cadets will assemble for parade. The line of march will be as follows:

Form on East Front street, right resting on Watchung avenue, through Watchung avenue to North Plainfield cemetery, where exercises will be held, to Watchung avenue to Fairview avenue to Somerset street to Front street, to Front street, to Park avenue, to Seventh street, to Plainfield avenue cemetery, where exercises will be held, return to Post rooms, where the line will disband.

In the afternoon, exercises will start at Reform Hall at 2:30 when Former Mayor L. V. F. Randolph will make the address. There will be music and other speakers.

Baseball and golf will be the chief attractions out of doors. They are dependent, however, on the weather. For lovers of the National game, there is a galaxy of attractions, more than a Memorial Day has offered for years. To begin with the City Baseball League opens with two games in the morning and two more in the afternoon. The morning games are Hope vs. Y. M. C. A. at Hope Common and Safe Works vs. St. Mary's on the West Fourth street grounds. In the afternoon, Safe Works and Y. M. C. A. meet on the West Fourth street grounds while Hope and St. Mary's fight it out on Hope Common. The Association League also has games schedule for morning and afternoon. The Cuban Giants meet the Orange Field Club on the former's grounds and the Reform A. A. and the Clinton Avenues play on the latter's grounds in the morning. The afternoon games include the Orange Field Club and Clinton Avenue on the Clinton avenue field and the Reform A. A. and Cuban Giants on the South Second street diamond.

But the league games are not the only attractions in the way of baseball. Special interest will be taken in the morning game between the Alis Club and Westfield at Westfield. In the afternoon the Alis Club will be back on its own grounds at Crescent Oval and meet the Brooklyn Field Club. At Scotch Plains, the Xavier Deaf Mutes will be the morning attraction while the Celluloids, of Newark, will put up a fine exhibition in the afternoon.

As the holiday falls on a Saturday, there will be the usual Saturday events at the local golf clubs in addition to a number of special attractions. At Hillside, the Holiday cup in the morning and the Green's Committee tankard will be the special events for the golfers while play at tennis for the Decoration Day cup will start.

Upon the links of the Park Golf Club, a ball sweepstakes will be held in the morning. In the afternoon, play for the Holiday cup, a driving contest and an approaching and putting contest will be the attractions.

BURIES CHILD, THEN ARREST

Serious Charges Made Against Henry Watson, Father of Child Shot by James Boy.

NOW AT HER FUNERAL

He Will be Placed Under Arrest on His Return—County Detective Totten Here on the Case—His Sister Will Make the Complaint.

When Henry Watson, the father of little Theresa Watson who died in Muhlenberg Hospital as a result of a bullet wound inflicted on a lonely country road by her little ten-year-old playmate, Willie James, Monday, returns from the cemetery this afternoon after burying his child, County Detective James Totten, of Somerville, will place him under arrest.

The crime for which the law will place its hand on the man this afternoon is for acting in an improper manner with his sister, a servant in the employ of a family on Fairview avenue, as domestic. The charge, it is stated, will also show that he has been abusing his own children.

Miss Watson will make the complaint against her brother during the funeral services over the remains of his child, and while the father is at the cemetery the papers will be drawn up and he will be taken prisoner immediately upon his return from the cemetery.

The house has been guarded by detectives all morning and the utmost secrecy has been maintained in regard to the movements of the officers of the law.

COUNTY BOARD FIXES ITS APPROPRIATIONS

Establishment of a Sinking Fund and Increased Cost of Elections Raise Them.

THE INCREASE IS $12,000

COUNTY HAS TO PURCHASE NEARLY 250 EXTRA BALLOT BOXES.

Company K Gets $300 for Maintenance of Armory—$17,000 for County Roads — Other Items Fixed.

The Union County Board of Freeholders met yesterday and among other important things transacted, was the fixing of the several amounts which make up the general sum to be raised during the year for the running of the county. The amount will show an increase of about $10,000 or $12,000, due to the fact that a sinking fund of $8,060 was established. It is estimated that by saving this sum each year in forty years, the bonded indebtedness can be liquidated.

Another cause for an increase is the new primary election law, compelling the county to purchase nearly 250 extra ballot boxes at an expense of $25 each. The law provides that at each primary, as well as election, each party must have a separate ballot box. This will necessitate five boxes at each polling place. The increased amount appropriated for this is $14,000. For the maintenance of courts, $2,000 more is appropriated and for the maintenance of the county jail $4,000 additional is appropriated.

The several amounts are as follows:

Company I and Company C, of Elizabeth, each receive an appropriation of $350, and Company K, of Plainfield, $300, for maintenance of armory, etc. courts, $40,000; county jail, $8,000; lunatics, $32,000; compensation and salaries, $18,000; coroner's fees, $650; elections, $28,000; stationery, $2,000; advertising, publishing and printing, $2,000; incidental expenses, schools, burial soldiers and monuments, $18,000; children's guardian account, $1,000; payment principal on bonded debt, $5,000; payment of interest on bonded debt, $37,000; payment temporary loans, $1,000; sinking fund, $8,000; permanent improvement public buildings and grounds, $8,000; erection and repair culverts and bridges, $38,000; repairs county roads, $17,000; hospitals, $10,000; less assets of the county, $40,000.

The County Board of Assessors will meet at Elizabeth on Monday morning, July 20, at 10 o'clock, to fix the county rate.

BADE HIM GOOD-BYE.

Friends of Alex. Muir Gathered at Home of Mutual Friend.

A number of friends of Alex. Muir, who leaves this city for Waterbury, Conn., tomorrow, tendered him a reception last evening at the home of Mr. and John Young, of West Fifth street. A most enjoyable evening was spent.

Cornet solos were rendered by Edward Young, vocal selections by Thomas Keefe and renditions upon the piano were given by Allen Squire. Alexander Muir also favored with selections upon the phonograph. Refreshments were served at a late hour.

THREW WORDS, THEN BRICKS

HIGH TIMES IN WHICH ROBERT KENNEY AND LEE JOHNSON FIGURED.

Their Misunderstanding Followed Dance—Other Hurlers of Adjectives in Court.

A pugnacious spirit seemed to prevail in town last evening, and there was a full house, or rather four of a kind, in the city court this morning in consequence.

Robert Kenney and Lee Johnson, colored, attended the ball at Saengerbund Hall, and partook freely of spirituous stimulants. After the ball was over, they engaged in a wordy dispute, enriching their discourse by adjectives more forceful than elegant. There was a woman in the case as a matter of course. When the two took to throwing bricks at each other by way of emphasizing their arguments, Sergeant Frederickson took them in charge. Kenney was released on suspended sentence, as Judge Runyon thought he did his best to avoid trouble. Johnson had the privilege of deciding between benefitting the State to the extent of $8, and thinking it over for twenty days in the county jail. At last accounts he had been unable to produce the coin and was still reposing in the custody of the law.

John Delaney, white, called Edward Marcellus, colored, unpleasant names last night. They eventually landed in the embrace of Patrolman Messler. Delaney was given $5 or twenty days and Marcellus was found innocent and discharged.

Henry Kelso, arrested by Patrolman Meyer for drunkenness, found the court lenient and was discharged on promise of good behaviour.

BY RED MEN.

Willard; songs, by Master Harold Willard; piano solos, by Mrs. Daniel Dodge; vocal selections by Miss Carrie Dawes and a dialogue, "The Census Taker," by Mrs. Andrew Cox and Albert Perry.

There were also remarks by Wm. A. Westphal and Mrs. Charles L. Holstein, Great Pocohontas of the Degree of Pocohontas.

After the entertainment refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed. The committee in charge consisted of Michael Armstrong, chairman; Robert H. Humphrey, Wm. A. Westphal, Thomas Kolb and Z. Foster.

MUSICAL PROGRAMME WAS RENDERED THERE LAST EVENING.

Varied List of Articles on Sale—Those in Charge of the Different Departments—Other Details of the Affair.

With a large number of people present the two night's strawberry festival, which is being held by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Grace M. E. church, opened last evening. Its object is to raise money to pay the interest on the church mortgage.

It will be held again this evening in the church when a musical programme will be rendered with changes in the numbers rendered last evening. Those who favored with music last evening were John Valiant, Jr., banjo selections, while vocal selections were rendered by Miss Winnie Carroll and piano renditions by Miss Tillie Hopper, of Newark, who is the guest of Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Earp.

Tables were arranged about the church on which ice cream, cake, candy and fancy articles were on sale. At these tables the following members of the society presided: Ice cream and cake, Mrs. George Nelson, Mrs. Andrew Winckler, Mrs. J. W. A. Bauersacks, Mrs. Martha Morton, Miss Lottie Huff, Miss Emma Giddes and Mrs. James Lunger; lemonade, Mrs. Edward Vermeule, Mrs. Charles Lippincott, Mrs. Jennie Huffman and Mrs. E. P. Stevens; fish pond, Mrs. Andrew Vanderbeek, Mrs. John Sheppard, Mrs. William H. Lunger and Mrs. Corra Ryno; fancy, Mrs. Andrew Lutkins, Mrs. Isaac Sheppard, Mrs. William J. Conroy, Miss Bella Lunger and Mrs. William Huyler; candy, Mrs. Anna Most, chairman; Andrew Lutkins, William M. Warren and E. E. Winkler.

The general entertainment committee comprised: Mrs. Edwin L. Earp, Mrs. H. K. Carroll and Miss Alice Carroll. The tickets at the door were taken by Andrew Marsh.

Simmons, Henry Pond, Chester Denton, Harry Gilmore, W. R. Heath, Fred P. Martin, Walter Caldwell, Ray Pugh, Fred McClintock, Byron McClintock, Lester Brokaw, Russel Conroy, Martin Dewey and George Rittenhouse. They will go to the same grounds they had last year.

NEW SWITCH.

Will Permit Easier Operation of Arlington Avenue Line.

The arrangement of switches on the Arlington avenue trolley line has always been a source of annoyance and prevented the operation of cars in a satisfactory manner. Several interested citizens have been making an effort to have the company place a switch on Randolph road. This would make it possible to operate extra cars without any hitch. The street committee from the Council has consented to the extra switch and it is likely that it will be installed soon.

K. of C. to Phillipsburg.

On account of the first, second and third degree ceremonies of the Knights of Columbus, at Phillipsburg on Sunday, a grand tour under the auspices of Newark Council, No. 150, K. of C., will be made over the New Jersey Central. A special vestibuled train will leave Newark at 1:10 Sunday afternoon, stopping at Plainfield at 1:50 for those wishing to go on the trip. The train will leave Phillipsburg on the return trip at 9 o'clock Sunday evening.

Its Annual Festival.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the German Reformed church is planning to hold an ice cream and strawberry festival at the church on the evenings of Wednesday and Thursday, June 10 and 11.

SOME OF ATTRACTIONS TO BE FOUND AT LOCAL STORES.

A Few Interesting Items Concerning Greater Plainfield's Merchants

There is still good time to add beauty to your lawns and gardens for the summer. Remember the Belleview Avenue Nursery Company, off Park avenue near Hillside cemetery.

F. H. Firstbrook will have one of the most complete lines of green goods for Decoration Day of any store in this city. Owing to the great rush of business the Liberty street grocery will be open all day tomorrow.

G. Meissner, the Watchung avenue laundryman, makes a specialty of doing family washing. All the work is done by hand and consequently there is less likelihood of having the garments returned home in a torn condition.

Strawberry shortcake is a seasonable delicacy that appeals to every taste. You will find it doubly delicious if you buy your berries of T. L. Walsh, of North avenue, who also has a fine assortment of fresh vegetables.

Shad are reported very scarce at present, but they still have some fine large specimens for sale at Rogers' fish market on West Second street. You will find their mackerel, porgies, butter fish and flounders the best on the market.

Life is a burden to those who have trouble with their feet and this is often caused by wearing the wrong kind of shoes. John H. Doane makes a specialty of properly fitting the feet with shoes and his stock is so large that he has no trouble in giving satisfaction.

If you enjoy iced tea or coffee, you should try the blend sold at the Oriental Tea Store on West Front street. There is no better quality and the price is reasonable. You will also find many delicacies at this store, just the thing for afternoon teas, receptions, etc., while Oriental draperies are offered in many designs.

With so many bargains offered to the public, the large and commodious dry goods store conducted by Hill & Shupp is the centre of attraction to shoppers. Every department is filled with fresh goods of this season's manufacture. The styles are all right, the quality fine and the prices cannot help but appeal to you. A strong feature of this store is the new furniture department, where a large assortment of the best furniture is shown.

The Wastes of the Body.

Every seven days the blood, muscles and bones of a man of average size loses two pounds of wornout tissue. This waste cannot be replenished and the health and strength kept up without perfect digestion. When the stomach and digestive organs fail to perform their functions, the strength lets down, health gives way, and disease sets up, Kodol Dyspepsia Cure enables the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all of the wholesome food that may be eaten into the kind of blood that rebuilds the tissues and protects the health and strength of the mind and body. Kodol cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia and all stomach troubles. It is an ideal spring tonic. Sold by L. W. Randolph.

Invited to Opening.

Woodhull & Martin, the dry goods merchants, have issued neat invitations to their friends and patrons to attend the opening of the firm's new store on Wednesday, June 3, at which time the firm will be pleased to welcome all of their old friends and many new ones. A more convenient location, more agreeable environments and greatly increased facilities will, it is believed, make the establishment an ideal shopping place.

THEATRICAL.

A doctor once told an ailing postman that what he needed was exercise. One would think that the actors in "The Prince of Pilsen," now at the Broadway Theatre, had their time pretty well occupied with making life pleasant for big audiences eight times a week at the Broadway Theatre in New York. On the contrary they are fond of activity so they have organized a baseball team—a good one—and nearly every afternoon play match games with other strong amateur teams. Their proudest boast is that they have beaten the "Sultan of Sulu" team.

At the Grand Opera House, beginning Monday, Messrs. Nixon and Zimmerman are presenting Francis Wilson in the London Gayety success "The Toreador,," which ran for seventeen weeks at the Knickerbocker Theatre, New York, and is pronounced the greatest hit of the year. "The Toreador" is a musical comedy in two acts, with scenes which represent a flower store in the Grand Hotel, Biarritz, France, and the Plaza of the town Villaya, in Spain. It was first produced at the Gayety Theatre, London, in June, 1901, and held the stage at the Gayety Theatre, London, ever since, proving the greatest hit of all the famous George Edwardes's efforts. Francis Wilson plays the part of Sammy Gigg, an English footman, sometimes called "tiger." The role gives him the best opportunity of his entire stage career for the display of that marvelous talent as a laughmaker which has made him so famous.

—Daniel Farmer, of Raritan, has taken up his residence in Plainfield.

—Randolph Chandler, of Grove street, while riding his wheel in the borough a few days ago, fell and broke his arm.

Our new "Concave" shoulder is the very perfection of tailoring. It is a shoulder with the broad, high effect modeled and tailored right into it, and not built out with wadding and padding. The ordinary padded shoulder will never look right nor hold its shape. Our "Concave" shoulder will keep its shape and form as long as the coat lasts. We have put our "Concave" shoulder into all of our

IRISH LAD WINS THE HANDICAP.

Neck and Neck With Gunfire at the Finish.

NEW YORK, May 29.—Twenty-five thousand spectators, standing on every point of vantage that would afford a foothold, saw Irish Lad win the seventeenth Brooklyn handicap under conditions distinctly favorable to the big field that started. The track was admirable, heavy with dust if anything rather than with mud.

The wind blew steadily from the south, and it was abundantly cool. The horses first felt it on the first turn, were helped by it on the back stretch and faced it head on coming to the finish.

The start was from a straight shoot, the track being squared off at the starting point for the purpose.

The start was made in about seven minutes, with Irish Lad, Oom Paul, Gunfire and Igniter in the van, with the others well bunched.

Irish Lad continued in front all round the first turn, closely attended by Oom Paul, Gunfire and Igniter. On the back stretch there were very few changes in position, excepting that Colonel Bill went up to fourth place with a rattle.

There was a general closing for a moment, but Irish Lad still had a good length advantage. Here Gunfire, Oom Paul and Igniter made their moves to get up to Irish Lad. Gunfire and Igniter seemed to have the most speed and threatened to get up to the leader, but just as they began to turn Burns crucified Igniter by pulling him on the fence.

It was a distinct interference, and by the time the mess was untangled Irish Lad had increased his lead to nearly two lengths. Oom Paul also suffered, as did others, by Igniter falling back. From the head of the stretch home it was a two horse race.

Burns drove Gunfire up to Irish Lad a sixteenth from home. They were several lengths in front of the others.

Irish Lad lowered the record for the race, 2:06¼.

The Expectation stakes for two-year-olds was won in a gallop by Captain S. S. Brown's colt Broomstick. The Ben Brush colt on his good race at Morris park was favorite and after racing Dimple into submission in half a mile won easily by three lengths.

The fight for the place was very close, Tim Sullivan, Dimple and Highball finishing so close that the result was in doubt until the numbers were hoisted. Tim Sullivan took second money and Dimple the short end of the purse.

ACCIDENT SPOILED THE RACE.

Old Defender's Topmast Carried Away, She Was Out of It.

NEW YORK, May 29.—The Constitution's hoodoo almost spoiled the race of the trio of cup defense candidates in Long Island sound, for, after sailing nine miles of the first leg of the race, the Constitution's topmast was carried away in a little puff of wind, and, with her top hamper hanging in a mess, she was out of it for the day. When the accident occurred the Constitution was half a mile behind the Reliance and was leading the Columbia by an equal distance.

Reliance and Columbia finished the race, but it had become a procession, for Columbia was never formidable after the first five miles had been sailed. Reliance crossed the finish line a winner by 8 minutes and 27 seconds over the former favorite.

Constitution had sailed a game race until the accident and had been handled skillfully, but had been unable to hold the slick Reliance.

The regatta committee of the New York Yacht club announced that the three ninety footers will not be entered in the annual regatta of the club on June 11. Columbia and Reliance will sail in the race at Glen Cove tomorrow regardless of whether the Constitution is repaired in time.

Mr. Belmont said he would use his utmost endeavors to get the Constitution ready for tomorrow's race. He ordered a new topmast from Bristol as soon as he got ashore and hopes it will arrive today. He seemed particularly anxious to get into the race, taking personal charge of putting the yacht in shape. Mr. Belmont said he had no regrets over the showing made by the Constitution, as he thought the boat did well.

Only One Favorite Wins.

ST. LOUIS, May 29.—Yesterday was an off day for the favorites at the fair grounds. Frank Bell, at 7 to 10, was the only one to win. Father Wontker, the outsider in the same race, beat Malster for second place. In the sixth race Virgie d'Or must have been in exceptionally good form, for after winning she continued around the course for another mile and three-quarters before she was got under control.

Tennis Tournament at Chicago.

CHICAGO, May 29.—The championship in singles in the western intercollegiate tennis tournament was won by Michigan university. In the semifinals Danforth and St. John, both Michigan players, won their matches. The championship in doubles lies between Michigan and Wisconsin and will be decided today.

Drought May Stop Trolley Lines.

SARATOGA, N. Y., May 29.—The big dam at Mechanicsville is unable to furnish power for the Troy and Albany trolley lines owing to the unprecedentedly low water in the Hudson river. Ominous clouds threatened storms, but after a slight shower last evening the sky became cloudless. The drought is causing much suffering.

Wealthy Coal Man Killed.

EARTHQUAKE'S RUIN

Melazgerd, on the Euphrates, Is Totally Destroyed.

ARMENIANS AND TURKS PERISH.

The Entire Garrison of the Sultan's Troops Is Engulfed—Four Hundred Village Houses Collapse. Herds of Cattle Perish.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 29.—Reports have been received from Van, in Armenia, which state that an earthquake has totally destroyed the town of Melazgerd. The entire population of the town, amounting to 2,000 persons, of whom 700 were Armenians, was killed. The troops in the Turkish garrison also perished.

Four hundred houses in neighboring villages collapsed as a result of the earthquake. Great numbers of cattle were killed.

There was a severe earthquake shock in Constantinople on Tuesday, but no damage resulted from it.

Melazgerd is shown on the maps as a town situated on the Euphrates river not far from the source of that stream in the mountains of Armenia. It is less than 100 miles from Mount Ararat.

Melazgerd is about 400 miles from the site of Shemakha, the town near the Caspian sea which was destroyed a few months ago by an earthquake, with the loss of several thousand lives.

OUTRAGES AT SALONIKA.

Mr. Leishman's Report Praises Turkish Authorities.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Mr. Leishman at Constantinople in reporting to the state department on the outrages committed by the Bulgarian element at Salonika pays a high tribute to the Turkish authorities.

"They have behaved most admirably and held the Mussulman population in check and prevented them from retaliating for the many outrages committed by the Christian population, but if the indiscriminate shooting and dynamite explosions continue it may be difficult to prevent reprisals which might lead to wholesale massacres."

The minister adds that extra precautions are being taken everywhere to prevent surprises and quell any outbreak, although this has involved the massing of 150,000 troops in the disturbed districts and imposed a strain on the Turkish treasury. A curious drawing attached to the report exhibits the details of plans for the destruction of the Ottoman bank and other public buildings in Salonika.

Engine Driver Arrested.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., May 29.—Thomas Byer, who was formerly an engineer in the employ of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, was arrested here on the charge of manslaughter. Byer was the driver of the locomotive which crashed into a work train which was standing at the railroad station at Lenoxdale. The collision resulted in the killing of Dominico Cailloo and in the injury of two other workmen. The government contends that Engineer Byer admitted that he neglected to observe an order to stop at the station.

New York Breaks the Record.

NEW YORK, May 29.—On a technical trial made for the purpose of securing scientific data the steamer New York of the Hudson River Day line was put over the course from New York to Poughkeepsie and made the run in 3 hours 2 minutes and 37 seconds, which breaks all records for this run. The trial was conducted by Professor James E. Denton of Stevens institute, with a corps of students.

THE 'PHONE WAR.

There are signs now that the local telephone war is going to grow more exciting. The Common Council has set its regular June meeting as the time for a public hearing on the application of the Central Jersey Telephone Company for a franchise and then we may expect that the Council will do something with the application in the near future. In the meanwhile, both sides are girding up their loins and preparing for battle.

When the application was first made, the Councilmen expressed a desire to learn how the public viewed the application. Was there a demand for another company? Did the people care to stand the expense of the double service for the improvement they would get? Those and other questions needed answers. The Daily Press opened its columns to its readers to express themselves on the subject and a number of letters have been received and published but not enough to give any satisfactory idea of the stand of public opinion.

If the truth must be told, it looks as if a majority of the people didn't seem to care much one way or the other. Some of the buiness men are deeply interested as was shown at Tuesday night's meeting of the Board of Trade. Their opinions as there voiced, will undoubtedly have some weight with the Council. If there are others who have ought to say, it is to be hoped that they will be on hand at the public hearing to allow the Councilmen to learn their ideas.

A change has been made in the policy of the baseball team of the Alis Club. Instead of confining its membership exclusively to local players, there will be some outside talent on the nine. This will insure a considerably stronger team and will enable the Alis Club to hold its own with the best semi-professional teams of the metropolitan district. There are a number of Plainfielders who will continue to play ball with the team and their presence will lend local interest to the games. It is the intention of the Alis Club to give a good article of ball this summer and to cater to those who like to see good ball playing by crack players.

Dr. P. W. Brakeley is one of Dunellen's most substantial citizens and his appointment to the postmastership, to succeed the late Adam Dealaman, is therefore likely to be generally satisfactory. Dr. Brakeley has filled a number of important municipal offices and has proven himself a valuable as well as a useful citizen.

Letter carriers from all over the country are to gather at Elizabeth Saturday at their annual convention. A holiday is usually selected as the time for their meeting owing to the difficulty in getting away from duty on any other day. There's to be a big parade and other events during the day.

Miss Addie Parker Jackson's recital is an annual event looked forward to with much pleasure by a large number. This year, her reception was an even greater success than before and added to the successful record she has made with her classes here in the past.

New York City observed the 250th anniversary of the granting of its first charter Tuesday evening. That village has made considerable progress during the two-and-a-half centuries, hasn't it?

Saturday will be an important event in local baseball circles. The City Baseball League will begin its schedule and a number of other important games have been scheduled.

Captain Wm. B. Martin, of Company K, is the only member of the All-American rifle team who can boast that this is his third successive year as a member of that team.

The Daily Press will not be issued tomorrow.

DANIEL LODGE'S FIRST.

Gave Successful Reception at Saengerbund Hall Last Evening.

The first annual reception of the Daniel Lodge, No. 16, K. of P., was held last evening in Saengerbund Hall when there were fully two hundred people present. Thomas; V. C., W. W. Scott; E. R. and S., Rev. E. J. Crudup; M. of F., F. DeHart; M. A., O. TenEyke and O. G., E. J. Jordan past chancellors, R. Cruse, James Scott and F. S. Wood. The reception committee comprised: C. N. Small, chairman; E. Jordan, C. Jefferson, F. S. Wood, D. Thompson, O. TenEyke, E. Cuff, H. Thomas and R. Cruse. The floor committee comprised: E. Cuff and E. Martin.

Unveiling of Sherman Monument.

Sherman, that has been erected at the entrance to Central Park, Fifth Avenue Plaza, New York, on Memorial Day. A number of the Plainfield members will attend.

To Institute New Branches.

Mrs. Mary Quinn, of Newark, who instituted St. Mary's branch of the C. L. B., of this city, expects to institute branch No. 876 at Short Hills, and branch No. 880 at Silver Lake, before the first of June. There are now over forty branches in the process of formation.

Advisory Senate to Meet.

The New Jersey Advisory Senate of the L. C. B. A. will meet in the Catholic Institute, Newark, next Monday evening. Delegates from the eighty branches in the State will be present and business of importance will be discussed.

To Organize Branch of L. C. B. A.

On Wednesday evening, June 3, a meeting will be held in Westfield to organize a branch of the Ladies' Catholic Benevolent Association. Miss Maria Quinn, of Newark, supreme vice president of the order, will institute this branch.

Will Preach Anyway.

Although Rev. Dr. Inglis, of Bay City, Mich., was unable to attend the prayer meeting at the Crescent Avenue church, Wednesday evening, he is expected to preach at the church Sunday and probably the following Sunday.

TO TELL FORTUNES.

Gypsy Tent Will be Feature of Fete This Evening.

The Daughters of the Silver Cross will hold a fete and sale this afternoon and evening at 26 Rockview avenue. A feature of the affair will be a gypsy camp with fortune telling. There will also be cake, candy and fancy articles for sale. The proceeds will be used for the support of the City Union King's Daughters' work, including the maintenance of the baby camp on the mountains.

Died in California.

Charles Blume, of Mountain avenue, died Wednesday in southern California, where he went some time ago for his health. Word of Mr. Blume's demise reached Plainfield yesterday. He was the son of Mrs. Giebelhouse, of West Front street. He was thirty years of age, married and had two children. Mrs. Blume was with her husband. The remains will be forwarded to Plainfield at once.

Should Sprinkle Later.

It has been suggested that it would be a good idea if the trolley company could arrange to sprinkle in this city later in the afternoon on its second trip. At present the sprinkling car makes its second trip soon after noon, and by the middle of the afternoon the streets are as dry as a bone.

Erected Patrol Boxes.

The Gamewell Company has completed the work of erecting the police patrol boxes about the city. There are sixteen in all. The work of stringing the wires is nearing completion. It is expected that the system will be in working order in a couple of weeks.

New Pastor to Preach.

Rev. John Justin, who has been called to the pastorate of the German Reformed church in the borough, will preach at that church Sunday morning and evening in German. A large congregation will probably be on hand to hear him preach.

Extra Cars.

The managers of the local trolley are preparing for heavy travel on Memorial Day and extra cars will be put into service so that the crowds wishing to ride may do so in comfort.

ANY CHURCH or parsonage or institution supported by voluntary contribution will be given a liberal quantity of the Longman & Martinez Pure Paints whenever they paint.

NOTE: Have done so for twenty-seven years. Sales: Tens of millions of gallons; painted nearly two million houses under guarantee to repaint if not satisfactory. The paint wears for periods up to eighteen years. Linseed Oil must be added to the paint, (done in two minutes). Actual cost then about $1.25 a gallon. Samples free. Sold by our Agents.

Proceedings of the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders.

[OFFICIAL]

Regular meeting of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the county of Union, N. J., held on Thursday, May 7, 1903, at 2:30 p. m.

Meeting was called to order by the clerk of the Board. Roll call showed the following members present, viz: Freeholders Bonnel, Brucklacher, Cady, Connoly, Farrell, Klu, Krouse, McCandless, Pierson, Robison, Swain, Tillman, Wahl, Westphal and Woodruff—15. Absent, Director Hubbard, Freeholders Adams and King—3.

The clerk stated that owing to the absence of the director it would be necessary to elect a director pro tem and called for nominations.

Freeholder Farrell was nominated and as there were no further nominations he was declared elected as director pro tem by the unanimous vote of the Board.

The minutes of the previous meeting (the reading of bills being omitted) were on motion approved as read.

PETITIONS, ETC.

From John F. Martin, morgue keeper for Elizabeth District, calling attention to the probable saving to the county by having the remains of unknown dead photographed for the purpose of identification by friends in quest of missing ones after interment. The cost of the work would not be over $1 per negative with slight addition for finished photographs to send to such cities and towns where the dead person might be known. The sanction of this Board was asked for to go ahead with the work.

On motion of Freeholder Brucklacher, received and placed on file.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

By the committee to settle with the County Collector:

May 4, 1903.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen—Your committee to settle with the county collector respectfully report that they have examined his books, showing his receipts and disbursements, together with his vouchers, bonds and coupons paid and bank books, and we find that the same agree and are correct in every particular. His total receipts for the beginning of the present fiscal year to date are $749,102.90; total disbursements $538,730.81; balance in bank $210,372.09. Henry Krouse, Benjamin King, Jacob Brucklacher, committee.

On motion of Freeholder Brucklacher, the foregoing report was accepted and placed on file.

NEW BUSINESS.

By Freeholder Klu:

Resolved, That when we adjourn, we adjourn to meet again on Tuesday, May 12, 1903, at 2 o'clock p. m.

On motion of Freeholder Pierson, the foregoing resolution was adopted without dissent.

By Freeholder Brucklacher:

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to act in conjunction with the Court House Committee in making the necessary arrangements for the laying of the corner stone of the new Court House.

On motion of Freeholder Krouse the resolution was adopted without dissent.

Director pro tem Farrell appointed as the said committee, Freeholders King, McCandless and Adams.

By Freeholder Woodruff:

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to examine two bridges in Roselle Park, Aldene section; one on Faitute avenue, the other on Westfield avenue, and report the advisability and necessity and probable cost at the next meeting.

On motion of Freeholder Wahl, the resolution was adopted without dissent.

Director pro tem. Farrell appointed said committee, as Freeholders Woodruff, Connoly and Pierson.

By Freeholder Westphal:

Resolved, That the action of this Board on April 2, 1903, respecting the limitation of the building of an iron girder buckle plain bridge over Green Brook, Giraud avenue, Palinfield, and limiting the cost thereof to this county to $1,700, be rescinded.

On motion of Freeholder Woodruff, the resolution was adopted without dissent.

By Freeholder Westphal:

Resolved, That a bridge at Giraud avenue, Plainfield, be constructed according to plans to be hereafter adopted by the committee in charge, said bridge to have 45 feet span between abutments and 50 feet in width, the cost to this county not to exceed the sum of $3,750.

Freeholder Westphal briefly explained (and in his statement he was supported by Freeholder Woodruff) that the bridge as heretofore authorized was not adequate to the demands which were due to a bridge in said locality, and was not in conformity with the size of bridges built over said brook above Giraud avenue.

The resolution was then, on motion of Freeholder Westphal adopted on roll call by an unanimous vote.

By Freeholder Bonnel:

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed to determine the advisability of repairing an old bridge in Springfield avenue, Springfield, or build a new one.

On motion of Freeholder Krouse, the resolution was adopted without dissent.

Director pro tem. Farrell appointed as the said committee Freeholders Bonnel, Adams, Robison, Woodruff and Tillman.

By Freeholder Wahl:

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed to examine bridge in the borough of New Providence, near Murray Hill R. R. station, and report as to the advisability of building a new bridge, with the probable cost of same.

On motion of Freeholder Robison, the resolution was adopted without dissent.

Director pro tem. Farrell appointed as the said committee, Freeholders Wahl, Swain, Cady, Robison and Bonnel.

The following bills properly audited and approved were read and on roll call ordered paid, viz.:

ON MAIN LINE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries
Largest Burial Parks IN THE State.

Transportation Facilities superior to those of any other cemetery, as to number of trains, railroad fare, time and distance.

These New Cemeteries, now being developed on the modern park plan, are attracting universal attention.

By Reason of Location Alone they are destined, in a very short time, to become the best-known Cemeteries in the country and, with their natural advantages, the most beautiful and desirable in which to purchase lots.

They are Accessible from every quarter and within easy reach of over 4,000,000 people, and, considering the steady and rapidly increasing growth of Greater New York and its tributary cities and towns, it is only the question of a short time before plots in Rosedale and Linden Park will equal in value those of our most noted cemeteries.

Popular Favor has already been shown to a marked degree in the sale of lots, several hundred having been sold to residents in Elizabeth, Linden, Rahway, Cranford, Jersey City, Orange, Paterson, Westfield, Newark and New York City, and a large number of interments have been made.

In the Days of Happiness we do not know what is to befall us or when the inevitable will occur; therefore, it is a wiser precaution to make provision for a final resting place during health and life than to force the painful duty on one's friends or relatives after death. A place of burial will be needed sooner or later by every one, and no one should neglect selecting a suitable and proper place until future postponement is impossible.

Linden Lodge is the largest, most modern and best equipped Cemetery Lodge in the country, and is provided with every requisite for the comfort and convenience of visitors who come to inspect the properties.

WEST POINT EXCURSION.

Being Arranged by Jersey Central for June 6.

The New Jersey Central will run an excursion up the Hudson to West Point, June 6, on the steamer St. Johns. The scenery throughout the trip is grand and an outing at this time of the year will be delightful as well as beneficial.

After leaving the commercial section of the river you see Grant's Tomb, Riverside Drive and the Palisades, while further along there is Anthony's Nose, the Crow's Nest and West Point.

The visit to the grounds and buildings of the Military Academy at West Point is both interesting and instructive as this is the place the generals are trained and on whom the safety of this beloved country often depends. This will be a first-class family excursion, no intoxicating liquors being offered for sale on the steamer.

There will be music on the steamer and the restaurant will be in charge of a first-class caterer. The train leaves Plainfield station at 8:02 a. m. Round trip tickets, $1. Don't forget this trip. 5 28 td

A Little Early Riser
now and then, at bedtime will cure constipation, biliousness and liver troubles. DeWitt's Little Early Risers are the famous little pills that cure by arousing the secretions, moving the bowels gently, yet effectually, and giving such tone and strength to the glands of the stomach and liver that the cause of the trouble is removed entirely, and if their use is continued for a few days, there will be no return of the complaint. Sold by L. W. Randolph.

MYSTERY OF THE BAYOU WOODS

By WALKER KENNEDY.

Copyrighted, 1903, by A. N. Kellogg Newspaper Co.

The lawyer went to his safe, took from the top of a bundle in one of the pigeon-holes a paper and, handing it to Franklin, asked if that was what he wanted.

Franklin looked at it casually, was satisfied with the inspection, thrust it into his pocket and prepared to take his departure.

"Remember, Colonel," said Mr. Everett, politely, "that I warned you against all this."

Franklin stood reflectively for a moment. Everett's manner was unintelligible to him. Then an idea occurred to him.

"Perhaps you made a copy of this."

Everett made a slight movement of self-dissatisfaction as he said: "If I had only thought of that."

"I think I will look at the papers in your safe."

"Well, if you insist, but I give you my word of honor that no copy has been made of the paper now in your possession."

But he took out a huge bundle of papers and rapidly went through them under Franklin's close inspection. The drawers in the safe were taken out and their contents examined. At last Franklin was satisfied. Mr. Everett courteously escorted him to the front door and wished him good night. Then he went back to the library, softly chuckling to himself.

Irving was brought in a moment after, and he was surprised to find Mr. Everett in such a radiant humor.

"Irving," said he, "I have just sold a piece of property belonging to you and me for $10,000."

"What do you mean?"

"I have disposed of the copy of the agreement which you made to-night."

"How did you do it?"

"Col. Franklin insisted on it at the point of his pistol."

"Why didn't you call me?"

"I didn't want you. One of us would have been hurt, and besides, I was glad to get rid of the copy. Franklin is now satisfied that there is no accusing paper out against him, and the original, which I tossed behind the books in the case yonder, is safe. We will have a vacation now from thieveries and assaults, and all sorts of diabolical schemes. I feel immensely relieved. Besides, here is $10,000 made by us in a single evening."

"You can use some of that in conducting the cases you now have on hand. I like the idea of fighting these people with their own money."

"Now, Irving, I am ready to try Herbert Wright's case."

The next day the original agreement was deposited in a sealed envelope in the vault of the bank where Mr. Everett kept his account.

CHAPTER XIII.

Now ensued a few days of relief and serenity for Irving Warde. His footsteps were no longer dogged by reckless ruffians. Old Tom and his companion, as well as the man in the red flannel shirt, had disappeared, and his dreams were not disturbed by visions of deeply dyed villains and resurrected pirates of the Spanish Main. Fenton had been industriously, but quietly, at work, and his reports had been of a highly satisfactory description.

Irving had not forgotten Herbert Wright's wife and her destitute condition. He and Miriam had visited her together, and a part of the money obtained from Franklin had been placed in bank to her credit. For the first time during the year everything had been comfortable in her home; and it was wonderful to see how pretty she became under the brighter skies that spanned her life; for Irving had assured her positively that her husband would be acquitted; and Herbert had been very cheerful about it, too.

"But how do you know he will be acquitted?" persisted the little woman.

"That I cannot tell you now," said Irving, "but I know that your husband had no more to do with the killing of Mr. Wright than I did, and the jury will so declare. And I have more good news for you. Your days of trouble are over. In a year from now your husband will be one of the wealthiest men in the state."

So Warde felt relieved on this score also. He knew that Mrs. Wright was amply provided for and contented, and he devoted himself with a free conscience to Miriam, who every day became dearer to him. They were together a great deal, for love had kindled his spirit flame in Irving's heart, and to make Miriam happy became the guiding motive of his life.

A week after the events narrated in the preceding chapter Irving went out to the Wright homestead and found Miriam in tears.

"What is the matter?" he asked, as he gently took her hand.

"We must give up this place, and it is very hard. It is true we have not been happy here, but we were attached to the place, for it was not to blame."

"How has this come about?"

"Col. Franklin has just notified us that this property had been deeded to a real estate company, and that as a representative of the company he desires possession on the 1st of February."

"So Col. Franklin imagines that he is still alive, does he? Well, he can go and hang himself."

"Yes, he could, but he will not. And that would not help us any."

"Miss Miriam, don't you worry about the colonel's notification," said Irving; "he will never get possession of this place, I promise you that."

"It is very kind of you to try to console us, but I am afraid there can be no help for it."

"But there is help for it. I did not expect to tell you this yet, and you must promise to let no one know of it but your mother, and you must pledge her also to secrecy."

"Well, then, we both swear," said Miriam.

"It is a bit of romance in its way, illustrating, however, the triumph of the good and the just over the evil and the unjust."

"Please do go on with your story. My appetite is sufficiently whetted."

Then Warde told her about the old agreement and its recovery. He gave her the entire story, including Mr. Everett's adventure with Franklin. Miriam was alternately shocked and thrilled; and when he had concluded, she said: "Then Col. Franklin is—"

"A pirate of purest ray serene," interrupted Irving. "For the present we have quieted him by letting him suppose that he has us cornered. The possession of the agreement is known to you, Mr. Everett and myself. And when your mother is told, it will be confined to us four."

"How can we ever show our gratitude to you for what you have done?"

"It was a mere accident that helped me to get that agreement, so you must thank fate this time."

"But you have been devoted to our interests all the time. You have never let an opportunity slip to do a favor for some member of our family, and you have worked as industriously for us as some men work for themselves. I do not care to be wealthy, but my mother has had a great deal of care and unhappiness, and it has been my earnest hope that she would be able to spend the remainder of her life here entirely independent. And now I feel that through you this hope will be realized."

"If I have done anything to bring about the object of your desire, I am perfectly satisfied."

"I think that you must be the good angel of the family."

Then she flew away to tell her mother the news that Warde had brought, leaving him in a trance half way between doubt and happiness.

Irving was not a worshipper of mammon, and he did not propose to allow the substantial deity to come between him and the desire of his heart, which was to win the love of Miriam Wright; he was not a fortune hunter, and he saw no reason why he should stand aghast before a pile of gold if in other ways he could dare aspire to the love of a woman like Miriam. Her gold would be the least thing to make her seem inaccessible to him.

The Wholesome Woman Is a Blessing to Man

"OH, who admires her?" remarked the youthful cynic.

The woman of experience laughed. "That's where you make your mistake, my dear girl," she said.

"Oh, men like girls who are sophisticated," the other retorted, with a wise air. "Girls who don't always say what they think, who are mysterious and elusive and hard to make out and—yes, perhaps a little wicked—it lends such a charm—the subtle air of wickedness."

"The mistake of the very young—appreciated only by the very young man," went on the older woman, with her relentless little smile, "and it usually takes them several years to get over it. It belongs to the age when a girl thinks no one can understand her, when she deals in isms and wonders if she has the making of a genius in her because she is so unlike other girls. I don't know why it is, but the simple, admirable virtues are not appreciated by the very young and ambitious girl who wants to be termed attractive—more than that, fascinating. I dare say it is because she has been having an overdose of them during her recent childhood, just as she now enjoys late hours and highly spiced food because she has been brought up simply. Anyway, it usually takes her from one to two seasons to get over the idea, and during that time she usually loses a good man or two just by way of convincing her that her tactics are wrong."

"But do you mean to say"—

"I mean to say this: Men—the men worth while, the men of the world of experience—don't care for half and half things. They admire a woman who does not pose, who has certain well defined ideas and who sticks to them, who is frank, who will not stoop to trickery and who is wholesome. Those are the women who count for something in the world and who win in the long run, although the others may seem to score for a time."

"Well, but just what do you mean by a wholesome woman—a woman who washes her face with soap and goes about with it shiny?"

"Oh, dear, no! Powder is not inconsistent with wholesomeness if it is not carried to extremes. The wholesome woman, by her walk, by her frank, sunny smile, by her dress even, shows the beauty and truth of her character and makes you glad there are such women in the world."

LOVE OF HOME.

"But how can she show her mental qualities by her dress?"

"Very easily. She avoids loudness and sloppiness; in fact, she can be capable of neither. She doesn't fuss and fret and worry over her dress, because she doesn't need to. It is simple and within her means. Rather than have three gowns over which she must scrimp and save, not to speak of sacrificing other things, she will have one perfect in every detail, useful, smart and appropriate. Her shirt waists will be few and simple, if she cannot afford elaborate ones, but they will be snowy and immaculate. In a word, her very clothes will be proof that she does not live under a pretense or a sham trying to make out that she is other than what she can afford to be. But it is by her sweet, sunny disposition, her patience, her constancy and her love of home that the wholesome woman can be distinguished from her morbid, affected, neurotic sisters. She is a blessing and a constant delight to the man she marries, and she is the woman who is loved and admired by the best kind of man." MAUD ROBINSON.

Waists For Summer.

Some unusually nice waists are made of silk in fine checks and trimmed with a line of trou trou insertion, through which is run narrow black velvet ribbon. Tussore silks and pongees in white, in colors and black make up into elegant waists, and skirts can also be made to match. Taffetas, plain and with stripes made of a heavy cord combining two or three colors, are lovely for these blouses. One had a white ground, with the cords showing green, pink and heliotrope at intervals. This is trimmed with slidings and medallions of lace and a belt of velvet of the darkest shade.

The new woman is never found in an old woman's home.

SPORTING NEWS

ON THE DIAMOND.

The Clinton Avenue A. A. will play a game of ball with the Reform Club tomorrow morning on the Clinton avenue grounds.

Fans should remember that the Association League baseball games tomorrow will be called at 10 o'clock in the morning and 2 in the afternoon.

Westfield's card for tomorrow is—The Alis team, of this city, at 10 o'clock, and Rahway at 3 o'clock. Montross will pitch in the morning game and Walsh in the afternoon.

The Plainfield Amateur Baseball League series will open tomorrow morning. An exceptionally good game is promised between the Y. M. C. A. and Hope Y. M. A. teams. Orra Dodge will pitch for the Y. M. C. A. team, and Kinney will pitch for Hope.

Saums, of the Clinton Avenues, is incapacitated from playing on account of being hit by a ball in the game Saturday. It is expected that he will be able to take his place in the game a week from tomorrow, but in the mean time his place will be taken by one of the subs.

Mague, of the Clinton Avenue team of the Association League, has sprung into prominence lately by his fine playing at left field. With Dodd he has been winning his laurels in such a manner as to excite envy, and if the work he does during the season comes up to what he has done in the past, great things may be expected of the team.

One reason that the Clinton Avenue team has made such an impression with the cranks this season is because of the fine pitching being done by Dwyer. He is in better trim this year than he has been in several years past, and the fact that he has piloted his team through two victories augurs well for the rest of the season for that team.

The Clinton A. A. and the Reform Club will come together tomorrow at the bat when the best game of the season in the Association League will be played. The game will be played in the morning on the Clinton avenue grounds. Both teams have no defeats chalked up against them and a close and exciting contest is sure to be seen. Dwyer and Baker will be the battery for the Clinton Avenues.

An interesting game is promised for tomorrow morning on Crescent Oval. The contestants are the teams from the City High School and Rutgers Preparatory School. These teams have been close rivals in years past, although the Plainfield High School until this year has not won a game. But a decisive victory was taken by the home team on May 16 and a close contest is sure to take place tomorrow.

The Holy Terrors nine were awarded the game with the Alis third team yesterday afternoon by the umpire, 9 to 0. Alis disputed a decision of the umpire in the fifth inning with the score 10 to 7 in their favor and refused to play unless the decision was changed. The game was played on the Stelle avenue grounds, the batteries being Mallinson and VanWinkle for the Terrors, and VanWinkle and Bull for Alis.

An exciting game is promised for tomorrow morning on the Clinton avenue grounds at 10 o'clock, when the Reform A. A. will cross bats with the Clinton Avenue nine. The line-up will be as follows: O'Loughlin, c; D. Scott, p; Diggin, 1b; J. Scott, 2b; B. McBrady, 3b; Taylor, ss; Jos. Barry, lf; Kirkpatrick, cf; Jacot, rf. In the afternoon the Reform A. A. will play the Cuban Giants at 3:30 o'clock on the Reform A. A. grounds.

"LEST WE FORGET."

July 4, 1903, Will be Forty Years From the Fall of Vicksburg.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—The older people who lived through the Civil War should never forget. Possibly many of the younger have not been properly instructed in these events. July 4th, 1903, will be forty years from the day on which the heart of the North was made joyous by the announcement of the fall of Vicksburg and the defeat of Lee. The wonderful campaign about Vicksburg with its experiments and vain attempts, culminating in the Napoleonic sub-campaign of Grant when he crossed the Mississippi river south of Vicksburg, abandoned his base and in a few short weeks met and defeated the enemy in three successive fights and invested Vicksburg, which resulted in its capitulation. Gen. George Meade in command of the Army of the Potomac but three days before the Gettysburg fight commenced, was able to wire the North on the evening of July 3d that the victory was ours. But there were many sad homes, widows orphans, and anxious hearts asking the latest news that they might know of their dear ones at the front. The soil of Gettysburg absorbed the blood of men than whom no better nor braver ever fought. Three thousand Union soldiers lay dead or dying, fifteen thousand were disabled by wounds and this within a hundred and twenty-five miles of Plainfield. Memorial Day will soon be here may the memory of the past stimulate all to noble patriotism and more absolute consecration to God and Country.

W. D. W. Miller.

Little Blaze.

In response to a telephone call, the chemical engine was called this noon to the house in the rear of 313 Plainfield avenue, owned by Patrolman Moses Quass and occupied by several colored families. A fire was discovered in a downstairs room and a considerable quantity of clothing, furnishings, etc., was damaged to the extent of $50. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Shepherds of Bethlehem.

The Shepherds of Bethlehem met last evening at the lodge rooms, East Front street. Routine business was transacted and refreshments were served. Supreme Commander Hall, of Camden, attended, and the supreme prelate from Elizabeth was also present.

Holiday at Library.

The circulation department of the Public Library will be closed tomorrow. The art gallery will be open from 2 to 5 o'clock, and the reading room from 2 to 6 o'clock.

Setting a Prisoner Free.

A man with rheumatism is a prisoner. His fetters are none the less galling because they are invisible. To him Perry Davis' Painkiller comes as a liberator. Rubbed well into the swollen stiffened, joints it not merely drives away the pain, it makes the muscles pliable so that the prisoner becomes a free man. There is but one Painkiller, Perry Davis'. 25 and 50 cts.

Young Hart was riding the wheel and his companion was standing on the step. Approaching them was a team of horses and carriage in charge of a coachman. Just as the boys were about to pass the rig, the seat on the bicycle turned, throwing both lads under the horses' feet. The carriage passed over Hart's back, while young Woodruff sustained several scratches and bruises about the face. Otherwise they were not injured. They do not know the owner of the rig or who was driving the horses.
